TITLE 3—THE PRESIDENT

PROCLAMATION 2731

FLAG DAY, 1947

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS it has become our hallowed custom to observe June 14 of each year as Flag Day by engaging in patriotic exercises and by displaying the American flag proudly in commemoration of its adoption on June 14 in the year 1777; and

WHEREAS this symbol of our national strength, our national unity, and our national integrity now flies with the flags of all the other United Nations as an earnest of newly achieved international strength, unity, and integrity; and

WHEREAS, in the words of President Wilson set forth in his Flag Day proclamation of 1916, the anniversary of the adoption of the Stars and Stripes as our national emblem "should this year and in the years to come be given special significance as a day of renewal and reminder, a day upon which we should direct our minds . . . to thoughts of the ideals and principles of which we have sought to make our great Government the embodiment":

NOW, THEREFORE, I, HARRY S. TRUMAN, President of the United States of America, do hereby designate June 14, 1947, as Flag Day; and I direct the officials of the Federal Government and request the officials of the State and local governments to have our colors displayed on all public buildings on that day.

I also urge the people of the United States to fly the American flag from their homes on June 14, and I suggest that civic groups and individuals arrange, where feasible, for joint displays of the emblems of the United Nations in recognition of our joint dedication to the freedom of mankind.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the City of Washington this 27th day of May in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and forty-seven, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and seventy-first.

[SEAL]

HARRY S. TRUMAN

sions of Order No. 66 (7 CFR, Cum. Supp., 966.1 et seq.) regulating the handling of oranges grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, and upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the Orange Administrative Committee, established under the said order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of the quantity of such oranges which may be handled, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that compliance with the notice, public rule making procedure, and effective date requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act (Pub. Subchapter B—Immigration Regulations

PART 110—PRIMARY INSPECTION AND DETENTION

DESIGNATION OF BOUNDARY, ALASKA, AS CLASS A PORT OF ENTRY

MAY 9, 1947.

Section 110.1 Ports of entry for aliens, Chapter I, Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations is amended by inserting "Boundary, Alaska" before "Eagle, Alaska" in the list of Class A ports of entry in District No. 12.

This order shall become effective on the date of its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The publication of notice, the public procedure, and the delayed effective date prescribed by section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (Pub. Law 404, 79th Cong.; 60 Stat. 238) are found unnecessary and contrary to the public interest for the reasons that (1) interested persons have recently made representations as to the need for a port of entry at Boundary, Alaska; (2) customs facilities have already been established at Boundary, Alaska; and (3) it is found that commerce between Canada and the United States would be hindered by a delay in the opening of that port.

(Sec. 23, 39 Stat. 892, sec. 24, 43 Stat. 166, sec. 37 (a), 54 Stat. 675; 8 U. S. C. 102, 222, 458; sec 1, Reorg. Plan No. V, 3 CFR, Cum. Supp., Ch. IV, 8 CFR, 1943 Supp., 90.1)

Chapter VII—Sugar Rationing Administration, Department of Agriculture

SUGAR

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Third Revised Ration Order 3 is amended in the following respects:

1. The second sentence of section 2.2 (b) is amended to read as follows: "The application must be made on or after the first day of the month preceding the beginning of the allotment period but not more than 5 days after the beginning of the allotment period."

2. Section 2.13 is revoked.

This amendment shall become effective June 1, 1947.

Issued this 28th day of May 1947.

[SEAL] CLINTON P. ANDERSON,
Secretary of Agriculture.

Rationale Accompanying Amendment No. 50 to Third Revised Ration Order 3

The present regulations provide that the application for an allotment by an industrial user must be made on or after the 10th day of the month preceding the beginning of the allotment period but not more than 5 days after the beginning of the allotment period and impose a general limitation on the acquisition of sugar by an industrial user when he has on hand an amount of sugar equal to or more than one-third of his allotment.

This amendment advances the application date from the 10th to the first day of the month preceding the beginning of the allotment period and removes the general limitation on the acquisition of sugar by industrial users.

Advancing the regular application date will result in earlier issuance of allotments to industrial users, thus permitting them to buy sugar in advance of the customary time. Due to the continued depletion of box-car facilities and in anticipation that this year's expected record grain crop will add to the transportation problems just at the time when the heaviest sugar movement generally occurs, it is considered desirable to encourage industrial users to draw upon the existing stocks of their sugar suppliers earlier than would otherwise be possible. Increasing the flow of sugar from warehouses into industrial users' inventories will also release needed warehousing facilities for the incoming sugar crop.

The general limitation on the acquisition of sugar by industrial users is removed in order to enable them to purchase their entire allotment as soon as it is granted.

TITLE 39—POSTAL SERVICE

Chapter I—Post Office Department

PART 21—INTERNATIONAL POSTAL SERVICE

SERVICE TO CERTAIN FOREIGN COUNTRIES

In Subpart B of Part 21 (39 CFR) make the following changes:

1. The regulations under the country "Union of Soviet Socialist Republics" are amended to read as follows:

UNION OF SOVIET SOCIALIST REPUBLICS

Regular mails. See Table No. 1, § 21.116 (39 CFR, Part 21) for classifications, rates, weight limits and dimensions: Small packets not accepted.

Indemnity. Not exceeding $16.33 for Postal Union Registered articles.

Special delivery. No service.

Money-order service. No provision.

Air mail service. Postage rate, 15 cents one-half ounce.

Observations. The postal administration of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics has advised that a large number of newspapers from abrond arrive in that country without address, due to the fact that the wrappers are generally made of paper not strong enough to withstand the long voyage and repeated handlings, and must therefore be sent to the dead letter office by that service; and has requested that publishers use only very strong paper for making address wrappers and that the address be reproduced on the article itself, in order to insure its delivery in case the wrapper is torn off en route.

The following regulations govern the admission of "prints" containing literary publications and fashion journals addressed to private individuals:

Fashion journals sent singly to state enterprises engaged in garment making or the sale of clothing, or to private individuals, are admitted without hindrance: Provided, That the regulations in force relative to printed matter are observed.

Printed articles containing fashion journals addressed to private persons are to be delivered to the addressees only if the respective licenses are presented, regardless of the sender (private person or firm). If such licenses are not submitted, the articles in question will be returned to origin.

Articles of printed matter and any other articles containing periodical or nonperiodical literature, sent by bookstores or other firms to individuals are admitted without a license only if they contain a single copy of each publication (book, magazine, or newspaper).

Packages containing seeds, plants, and parts of plants intended for propagation are subject, after their arrival in the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, to an examination by the Quarantine Inspection Service which shall decide whether or not such shipments are admissible. Shipments which do not conform to the regulations will either be returned to the country of origin or destroyed.

Prohibitions. Dutiable articles (merchandise) in letters and packages prepaid at letter rate.

Values payable to the bearer, coins, manufactured or unmanufactured platinum, gold or silver, precious stones, jewelry and other precious articles.

The importation by mail in the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics of State bank notes of the country named, of Treasury notes and specie of that country, is prohibited.

It is also forbidden to import means of payment (drafts, etc.) made up in money of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, with the exception of checks and other remittances made up in money of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics to the open accounts current in the credit establishments of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics expressly for accounts relative to foreign commerce; checks and other remittances to the accounts of foreign correspondents in the credit establishments of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics ("Loro" accounts), as well as travelers' checks of the State Bank of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

The importation by mail of foreign obligations of public loans, as well as of stocks and obligations of foreign State establishments and enterprises, public and private; and of coupons, is admitted if a permit is presented from the Values Section of the People's Commissariat for Finance of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics at Moscow.

The prohibition against importing Soviet State bank notes and Soviet treasury notes and species, as well as means of payment (drafts, etc.) in Soviet money, does not extend to those which were exported from the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics up until August 1, 1926.

Anyone desiring to send such values by mail is bound to present in advance to the administration of values of the People's Commissariat for Finance of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics the respective proofs as to the date of exportation of the said values, and must obtain the opinion of the said administration that the proofs are sufficient.

The importation by mail of sight drafts drawn in money of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics and exported with the permission of the Values Section of the People's Commissariat for Values is admitted without restriction as to the amounts, and independently of the date of their exportation abroad.

Void paper values, obligations issued by private persons, companies, and cities.

Mail articles of all kinds destined for the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, in which the inclusion of various values and securities has been effected without observing the above conditions, will be confiscated.

The importation from foreign countries of bank notes of the former Polish Bank, as well as bills of the state treasury and coins of the former Government of Poland, is prohibited.

Documents, prints, engravings, photographs, films, manuscripts, drawings, and designs, which may injure the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics politically or economically.

Prints, engravings, photographs, films, manuscripts, drawings, designs, photographs, printing plates, phonograph records, and materials for their manufacture, may be admitted, provided they have been previously authorized by the Soviet Government.

On imported prints it is also temporarily prohibited to correct mistake in printing, or to bring out, by means of point or dashes, traced by hand or machinery, and isolated words or sentences.

Postage stamps, cancelled or not, philatelic collections, bonds, and bills of exchange, no longer valid, when sent by mail to private individuals.

Articles containing match-box labels for collectors may be imported without special license only when they contain but a single specimen of each kind. If more than one specimen of a kind is inclosed, a special permit must be obtained from the People's Commissariat for Foreign Commerce.

The articles prohibited importation are also prohibited transmission through the country.

Also all articles prohibited in the form of parcel post.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD

[14 CFR, Parts 41 and 61]

AIR CARRIER FLIGHT ENGINEERS

MINIMUM RECENT EXPERIENCE REQUIREMENTS

MAY 28, 1947.

The Safety Bureau of the Civil Aeronautics Board is presenting proposed amendments to Parts 41 and 61 of the Civil Air Regulations specifying the minimum recent experience a flight engineer is required to have before he may serve in air carrier operation.

The proposed amendments have not been considered by the Board and are being published to provide an opportunity for those interested to submit any comments, suggestions, or changes which they believe desirable. The Safety Bureau will give careful consideration to all replies received and, after making any changes which appear to be appropriate, will present the proposed amendments to the Board for adoption. Any substantial objections to this proposal will be brought to the attention of the Board.

These amendments, in addition to supplying the requirements specified by ICAO, furnish a means to insure continued competency, and provide the requirements for checkout in a new make or model of aircraft.

The proposed amendments are as follows:

§§ 41.322 and 61.561 Qualification for duty. An airman shall not serve as a flight engineer unless he has:

(a) Within the preceding 12-month period had at least 50 hours of experience as a flight engineer on the make and model aircraft on which he is to serve, or

(b) Familiarized himself with all current information and operating procedures relating to the make and model aircraft to which he is to be assigned and has demonstrated his competency on such aircraft to an authorized representative of the Administrator.

These regulations are proposed under the authority of Title VI of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended.

It is the desire of the Bureau that those interested offer suggestions and comments regarding the proposed amendments. Comments in writing should be addressed to the Safety Bureau, Civil Aeronautics Board, Washington 25, D. C., for receipt within 30 days from the date of this public notice. (52 Stat. 984, 1007; 49 U. [Project No. 1888]

METROPOLITAN EDISON CO.

ORDER ENLARGING ISSUES

Upon consideration of an application filed December 6, 1944, by Metropolitan Edison Company for a rehearing on the Commission's order of November 7, 1944 authorizing the issuance of a license for a constructed power project on the Susquehanna River near York Haven, Pennsylvania, Project No. 1888;

It appearing that:

(a) Among other items applicant objected to the requirement prescribed in paragraph (B) of said order that amortization reserves created pursuant to section 10 (d) of the Federal Power Act should be set aside from earnings "received in any calendar year," whereas applicant says that such reserves should be set aside only from "accumulated" earnings or earnings averaged over a reasonable period;

(b) The amortization reserve is only one of several reserves which are to be deducted from the actual legitimate original cost of a licensed project when the net investment is determined under section 3 (13) of the act and such deductions from cost are to be made if and to the extent that they have been accumulated during the period of the license from earnings in excess of a fair return on the investment in the property;

(c) Consideration should be given to the inclusion of the following special condition in the license for Project No. 1888:

During the entire period of the license, all project earnings in excess of a fair return upon the net investment in said project and which have not been appropriated to amortization, sinking fund, or similar reserves, shall be appropriated annually to a special reserve under Account 258.1, Amortization Reserve—Federal, the credit balance in such special reserve to be applied annually as a deduction from actual legitimate original cost in determining net investment in accordance with section 3 (13) of the act.

The Commission finds that:

The rehearing upon the license for Project No. 1888 should be reopened for the presentation of evidence and arguments with respect to the inclusion in the license of the special condition set forth in paragraph (c) above.

Upon its own motion the Commission orders that:

A public hearing on inclusion of the special condition set forth in paragraph (c) above be held in the Commission's Hearing Room on the 12th Floor of the Hurley-Wright Building, 1800 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D. C., beginning at 10 o'clock a. m. (e. d. s. t.) on July 28, 1947.

Date of issuance: May 28, 1947.

By the Commission.

[Docket No. IT-6056]

SOUTHWESTERN POWER ADMINISTRATION

NOTICE OF REQUEST FOR APPROVAL OF RATES AND CHARGES FOR SALE OF POWER

MAY 26, 1947.

Notice is hereby given that pursuant to the provisions of the Flood Control Act of 1944 (58 Stat. 890) the Administrator of the Southwestern Power Administration filed with the Federal Power Commission, for approval, certain rates and charges for the sale of electric energy generated at the Denison Dam Project on the Red River between the States of Oklahoma and Texas, as set forth in a proposed agreement between Southwestern Power Administration, an agency of the Department of Interior, and Texas Power & Light Company.

The proposed agreement contains in its preamble the following paragraphs, among others:

Whereas, there is now allocated at the Denison Dam Project reservoir storage between elevation 590 feet and 617 feet for power production, and

Whereas, competent engineering studies, based upon the best available records of river flow, indicate that with one generating unit and the utilization of the reservoir capacity now allocated to power there can be produced at the Denison Dam Project 140,000,000 kwh of primary and an average of 78,000,000 kwh of secondary energy per year, with a second generating unit installed there can be produced the same amount of primary and an average of 127,000,000 kwh of secondary energy per year and with a third generating unit installed there can be produced the same amount of primary and an average of 156,000,000 kwh of secondary energy per year, and

Whereas, present estimates of primary and secondary energy that can be produced by the Denison Dam Project will probably be increased through the effects of integrated operation, and

Whereas, the amounts of the primary and secondary energy that can be produced by the Denison Dam Project might be changed by (a) a revision in the operating policy of the War Department, (b) the possible future construction of additional reservoir storage on the Red River above the Denison reservoir or (c) other factors entering into their destination. • • •

The agreement provides that the Government shall furnish the following services, among others, to the Company:

(a) Until the completion of the second generating unit at the Denison Dam, the continuation of the present delivery of 120,000,000 kwh primary energy per year taken at a rate not to exceed the capacity of the unit minus 5,000 kw plus such secondary energy as the Government elects to deliver to the Company.

(b) After the completion of the second generating unit, the delivery of 70,000,000 kwh of primary energy per year taken at a rate not to exceed the capacity of one unit plus half the secondary energy of the project, provided that when the reservoir level is below the top of the power storage allocation, the Company may schedule its receipt of secondary energy but it shall assume the responsibility for any loss by the Company of secondary energy by reason of the discharge of the water representing such stored energy in order to meet the requirements of flood control.

(c) After the completion of the third generating unit, the Government shall make half the capacity of such unit available to the Company except when such unit is required as reserve capacity for the other two units; in addition, the Government shall make the other half available except when needed for service to the Government's other customers, all of which is in addition to the capacity and energy covered by item (b), above.

The proposed agreement further provides that the Government shall have the right to take out of the Company's system, at any points designated by the Government, power and energy in wholesale quantities to serve its own customers, as authorized under section 5 of the Flood Control Act of 1944, subject to the following conditions:

(a) The parties agree that the right of the Government created by the contract to take power and energy out of the Company's system is primarily for the purpose of serving public bodies and cooperatives which have preference as to service under the Flood Control Act of 1944. The Government agrees that it will not dispose of any such power and energy to any customer outside such preferred class until after the expiration of 18 months from the date on which service begins. Should the Government thereafter dispose of such power and energy to a customer outside the preferred class, the Company may at its election terminate the agreement by three years' written notice.

(b) The maximum demand of the Government shall not exceed 20,000 kw until the third generating unit at the Denison Dam is installed and ready for commercial operation and 25,000 kw thereafter.

(c) The Government shall give the Company 30 days' written notice of its intention to take out of the Company's system power and energy and of the date on which such withdrawal shall begin.

(d) The Company shall not be required to deliver power and energy to the Government requiring the installation of new facilities until the Company shall have had reasonable time in which to install such facilities.

(e) The Company shall not be required to deliver power and energy to the Government or its customers for service in any town or municipality in which the Company is now serving or may hereafter serve customers at retail: Provided, That the Company may be required to deliver power and energy from the Company's 138-KV bus at its Payne Substation for delivery by the Government over the Government's own lines to such towns or municipalities now owning and operating their own electric distribution systems, subject to the provisions in the next paragraph.

(f) If the Government serves customers now or hereafter supplied by the Company excluding establishments operated by or for the account of the Government or rural electric cooperatives incorporated under the Texas Electric Cooperative Corporation Act and serving only customers authorized to be served under said act, the Government shall deduct from the Company's monthly payment a credit equal to the difference between the cost of such power and energy computed at the lowest then effective rate of the Government and the cost of such power and energy computed at the lowest then effective rate of the Company applicable to the service to such customers.

(g) The Company shall not be required to deliver power and energy to the Government or its customers for delivery to any customer of any other privately owned utility company having electric facilities directly interconnected with the transmission lines of the Company and purchasing power and energy from, or interchanging the same with, the Company.

The agreement further provides that the Government shall not at any time enter into contracts with customers or render service to its customers to an extent which will result in the maximum demand of the Government exceeding 20,000 kw until the third generating unit is ready for commercial operation, and 25,000 kw thereafter. The Company shall not be obligated to extend its facilities to or establish service to any additional customers or at any additional delivery points if this would result in the maximum demand of the Government exceeding the number of kilowatts specified above. In the event the maximum demand of the Government during any month shall exceed the specified number of kilowatts, the Company shall promptly notify the Government, and the Government shall within 30 days after receipt of such notice direct the Company to discontinue service to specified customers to the extent necessary to reduce the maximum demand of the Government to its specified number of kilowatts. In the event the Government does not so direct the Company within such period, the Company shall have the right to disconnect the necessary number of customers of the Government, and shall disconnect them in the reverse order of the dates of their existing contracts with the Government.

The proposed agreement further provides that the Government, upon request of the Company, shall operate any of the generating units at no load as condensers to the extent that such operation does not unreasonably interfere with the Government's commitments and operating practices.

The agreement further provides that the Company shall pay the Government for power and energy delivered into the Company's system $59,000 per month with one unit in operation and $52,000 per month with two units in operation, less $1.55 per kilowatt per month of the maximum demand of the Government for such month and less 4 mills per kilowatt for all the kilowatt hours of energy taken out of the Company's system by the Government in excess of 250 kilowatt hours per kilowatt of maximum demand of the Government for such month. "Maximum demand of the Government" for any month shall mean the total of the 30-minute demands of individual customers during the past 12 months' period adjusted for a power factor below 85 percent. The Company shall pay to the Government, moreover, for the period after all three generating units are available for commercial operation an additional sum of $6,000 per month. If all three generating units are not available for commercial operation during any month (excluding periods for inspection, maintenance and repairs scheduled in advance by mutual agreement of the parties), the $6,000 payment shall be ratably reduced.

The agreement further provides that in the event the amounts of the various classifications of energy presently determined by the Government to be available from the Denison Dam Project are changed at any time through the integration of the Denison Dam Project with other hydro-electric projects in the area, change in War Department policy in operation of the Denison reservoir, the construction of additional reserve storage in the Red River Basin above the Denison reservoir, or other factors affecting such amounts, the Government shall, not oftener than one a year excepting on its own volition, make a proper redetermination of such amounts and notify the Company promptly of the results thereof. If, after such redetermination, the Government notifies the Company that the primary energy available from the Denison Dam Project has been increased, the commitment of the parties for delivery and receipt of primary energy shall be increased by an amount equivalent to half this increase. Furthermore, if the Government finds that it has additional primary energy available for sale in Texas from the Denison Dam Project it may, at its election, increase the commitment of the parties for the delivery and receipt of primary energy as it may specify to the Company in writing; Provided, That the total of all increases in primary energy shall not exceed 30,000,000 kwh per year without the consent of the Company. In the event the amount of primary energy delivered to the Company is increased, as described above, or 70,000,000 kilowatt hours of primary energy per year are not available from the Denison Dam Project for sale in Texas, the Company's payment to the Government for power and energy shall be adjusted appropriately by 4 mills for each kilowatt hour that the primary energy delivered under this agreement differs from 70,000,000 kilowatt hours.

The agreement further provides that the Company shall take power and energy from the Government at the Company's Payne Substation at such power factor as will best serve the Company's system; Provided, That the Company shall not intentionally impose any power factor on the Government's system which would overload or impair the Government facilities or unreasonably interfere with the Government's commitments. The Government, on the other hand, shall take power and energy from the Company at the power factor which the loads of the Government's customers impose on the Company's system.

The power and energy delivered by the Government into the Company's system shall be delivered as three phase alternating current at 60 cycles at 138-kv to the Company's Payne Substation. The Company shall deliver power and energy to the Government at such points on the Company's system which shall accord with the Company's usual wholesale practice.

The agreement further provides that in the event the Company disposes of any substantial part of its facilities it shall make adequate provision for delivery to the Government and its customers of so much of the power and energy as may be necessary to supply the requirements of the Government and its customers in the area served by these facilities. The Company shall not be obligated to install or construct new transmission or related facilities solely for the purpose of delivering power and energy to the Government or its customers, the cost of which would, in the opinion of the Company, result in an excessive financial burden to the Company and the Company shall not be required to furnish any transmission or related facilities which the Government could not construct or acquire under the authorization of the Flood Control Act of 1944 if funds therefor were provided by the Congress.

The agreement further provides for proper meter readings and adjustments.

The agreement further provides that the power and energy delivered by the Government to the Company's system and the power and energy delivered to the Government for its customers shall be made available continuously except for interruptions due to uncontrollable forces, or for temporary interruptions which in the opinion of the party owning the facilities in which such interruptions occur, may be necessary or desirable for purposes of maintenance, repairs, replacements, installation of equipment, investigations and inspections.

The agreement further provides that the existing contract between the parties dated May 3, 1944, as amended and modified, for the sale of power and energy shall terminate instantaneously with the beginning of service under this agreement.

The agreement further provides that the Company shall terminate any contract it has with any customer entitled to receive service from the Government under this agreement if requested to do so by such customer who has entered into a contract with the Government for the service covered by the Company's contract, but service shall continue under the terms of the Company's contract until service begins under the Government contract.

The agreement further provides that the failure of either party to pay to the other any amount due under this agreement shall entitle such other party to discontinue the delivery of power or energy upon giving 20 days' prior written notice to the defaulting party, unless such payment is made before the discontinuance of such delivery.

The agreement further provides that the performance of the Government's obligations hereunder is contingent upon the Congress making the necessary appropriations for the expenditures incident to the performance of this agreement.

The agreement further provides that it is the purpose of the parties that their system shall be so operated that power and energy shall not flow from the Company's system to points outside the State of Texas or from points outside the State of Texas into the Company's system.

The agreement further provides that it shall become effective upon the date of its execution, and service shall begin on the first day of the month following the date of the confirmation and approval of rates by the Federal Power Commission and shall remain in force and effect for a period of 20 years unless sooner terminated. Either party may terminate this agreement at any time by giving 6 years' written notice to the other party in advance of the effective date of termination thereof.

The agreement further provides that before the Government shall sell for use in the State of Texas, to any party other than the Company, any of the power and energy generated at the Denison Dam Power Plant, other than that delivered to the Company under this agreement, the Company shall have the opportunity to purchase such power and energy under terms and conditions similar to those provided in this agreement.

Any person desiring to make comments or suggestions for Commission consideration with respect to the proposed rates and charges set forth in the contract, the main provisions of which have been set out above, shall on or before June 18, 1947, submit such comments or suggestions in writing to the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C. The proposed contract agreement in its entirety is on file with the Commission and available for inspection.

APPALACHIAN ELECTRIC POWER CO.

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION AND PERMITTING DECLARATION TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 23d day of May A. D. 1947.

Appalachian Electric Power Company ("Appalachian"), an electric utility subsidiary of American Gas and Electric Company ("American Gas"), a registered holding company, having filed an application-declaration and amendments thereto pursuant to sections 6 (b) and 7 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 with respect to the following transactions:

Appalachian has entered into a credit agreement whereby the banks named below will make loans to Appalachian in the amounts shown during the period from the effective date of the agreement to July 1, 1950. Of the aggregate amount of $12,600,000 which the banks are obligated to lend, $5,000,000 will be borrowed and notes will be issued therefor within 10 days after the effective date of the agreement in the amounts shown below:

Name of bank	Amount of commitment	Amount of immediate loan
Guaranty Trust Co. of New York	$2,520,000	$1,000,000
Irving Trust Co	2,520,000	1,000,000
Mellon Bank & Trust Co	1,890,000	750,000
Bankers Trust Co	1,890,000	750,000
Central Hanover Bank & Trust Co	1,260,000	500,000
Chemical Bank & Trust Co	1,260,000	500,000
The Philadelphia National Bank	1,260,000	500,000

The proposed loans will be evidenced by promissory notes maturing December 31, 1950, and are to bear interest from their respective issue dates at the rate of 1½% per annum for a period from from the effective date of the agreement to a date two years from such effective date, and at the rate of 1¾% per annum during the perod commencing two years from the effective date to maturity. Appalachian will pay to each bank a commitment fee of ¼ of 1% per annum until June 30, 1950 on the daily average unused amount which such bank is obligated to lend. Loans shall be made simultaneously from the banks on 10 days' notice and may be prepaid on similar notice, such loans and prepayments to be borne or made ratably to all banks. Appalachian may, on 10 days' notice, terminate or reduce pro-rata in the aggregate amount of $1,000,000 or multiples thereof, the obligations of the banks to make the loans provided for in the agreement.

The application-declaration, as amended, represents that Appalachian will increase its common stock equity by December 31, 1948 by the amount of $5,000,000 over the amount shown on its books of account as of December 31, 1946, said increase in common stock equity to be achieved by either the sale of additional common stock or the retention of earnings. It is further represented that by December 31, 1950 the ratio of common stock equity to total capitalization will be increased to 25%. In the event that Appalachian's equity is not increased in the manner stated above by December 31, 1948, and/or the ratio of common stock equity to total capitalization will be less than 25% at December 31, 1950, a dividend restriction will become operative whereby not more than 75% of the earnings available to the common stock may be paid out as dividends on common stock when the ratio of common stock equity (including surplus) is between 20% and 25% of total capitalization, and not more than 50% of such earnings may be paid out as dividends when the ratio falls below 20%.

Appalachian states that the proposed loans are necessary to provide funds to enable it to proceed with its construction program, and that any plan for long-term financing will provide for payment of the then outstanding notes issued under the credit agreement.

The proposed transactions have been approved by the State Corporation Commission of the State of Virginia, the State in which Appalachian was organized and is doing business, and by the Railroad and Public Utilities Commission of the State of Tennessee, the State in which Appalachian also does business.

The application-declaration having been filed April 18, 1947, and amendments thereto having been filed on May 2, 1947 and May 7, 1947, and notice of said filing, as amended, having been given in the form and manner prescribed by Rule U-23 promulgated pursuant to said act, and the Commission not having received a request for hearing with respect to said application-declaration, as amended, within the period specified in said notice or otherwise, and not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The Commission finding with respect to the application-declaration, as amended, that the requirements of the applicable provisions of the act and rules thereunder are satisfied, that no adverse findings are necessary thereunder, and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that the said application-declaration, as amended, be granted and permitted to become effective, and deeming it appropriate to grant the request of applicant-declarant that the order become effective at the earliest date possible;

It is hereby ordered, Pursuant to said Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of said act and subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24 that said application-declaration, as amended, be, and the same hereby is, granted and permitted to become effective forthwith.

By the Commission.

Kentucky will pay to each bank a commitment fee of ¼ of 1% per annum until June 30, 1950 on the daily average unused amount which such bank is obligated to lend. Loans shall be made simultaneously from the banks on 10 days' notice, and may be prepaid on similar notice, such loans and prepayments to be borne or made ratably to all banks. Kentucky may, on 10 days' notice, terminate or reduce pro rata in the aggregate amount of $1,000,000 or multiples thereof, the obligations of the banks to make the loans provided for in the agreement.

Kentucky now has outstanding $8,499,000 principal amount of First Mortgage Bonds 5% Series due 1956, all of which are owned by American Gas. In connection with the execution of the agreement, American Gas and Kentucky agree to expressly subordinate the $8,499,000 principal amount of such bonds as to payment of the principal of and interest on (but not the lien of) such bonds to the payment of the principal of and interest on the notes to be issued pursuant to the agreement.

It is stated that the proposed loans are necessary to provide funds to enable Kentucky to proceed with its construction program and that any plan for long-term financing will provide for payment of the then outstanding notes issued under the credit agreement. It is represented that after the completion of such permanent financing, or in any event before December 31, 1950, Kentucky's common stock equity will equal at least 35% of its total capitalization.

The application-declaration having been filed April 18, 1947, and an amendment thereto having been filed on May 2, 1947, and notice of said filing, as amended, having been given in the form and manner prescribed by Rule U-23 promulgated pursuant to said act, and the Commission not having received a request for hearing with respect to said application-declaration, as amended, within the period specified or otherwise, and not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The Commission finding with respect to the application-declaration, as amended, that the requirements of the applicable provisions of the act and rules thereunder are satisfied, that no adverse findings are necessary thereunder, and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that the said application-declaration, as amended, be granted and permitted to become effective and deeming it appropriate to grant the request of applicants-declarants that the order become effective at the earliest date possible;

It is hereby ordered, Pursuant to said Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of said act and subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24 that said joint application-declaration, as amended, be, and the same hereby is, granted and permitted to become effective forthwith.

By the Commission.

NORTH PENN GAS CO. AND PENNSYLVANIA GAS AND ELECTRIC CORP.

NOTICE REGARDING FILING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 26th day of May A. D. 1947.

In the matter of North Penn Gas Company and Pennsylvania Gas & Electric Corporation, File No. 70-1536.

Notice is hereby given that an application-declaration has been filed with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 by North Penn Gas Company ("North Penn"), a gas utility company and a registered holding company, and its parent, Pennsylvania Gas & Electric Corporation ("Penn Corp"), also a registered holding company. Applicants-declarants designate sections 9 (a), 10 and 12 (c) of the act and Rule U-42 thereunder as applicable to the proposed transaction.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than June 9, 1947 at 5:30 p. m., e. d. s. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be given on such matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request and the issues, if any, of fact or law raised by said application-declaration proposed to be controverted, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. At any time thereafter, such application-declaration, as filed or as amended, may be permitted to become effective or may be granted as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated pursuant to said act, or the Commission may exempt such transaction as provided in Rules U-20 (a) and U-100 thereof. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia 3, Pennsylvania.

All interested persons are referred to said application-declaration which is on file in the office of the Commission, for a statement of the transaction therein proposed which is summarized below:

North Penn proposes, subject to the approval of the Commission, to redeem all of its presently outstanding $7.00 Prior Preferred Stock, consisting of 6,188 shares, at the redemption price of $107.50 per share and to retire such stock, including 267 shares thereof presently held in North Penn's treasury. North Penn proposes to use treasury cash for this purpose. The application-declaration states that dividends on such preferred stock have been paid regularly since its original issuance.

As a result of such amendment, common stock, all of which is owned by Penn Corp will be the only authorized capital stock of North Penn.

The applicants-declarants request that the Commission's order be issued herein on or before June 10, 1947, and become effective forthwith in order that notice of redemption may be sent to the stockholders on or before June 15, 1947, so as to permit the retirement of the $7.00 Prior Preferred Stock on the next dividend payment date, July 15, 1947.

NORTH AMERICAN LIGHT & POWER CO. ET AL.

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER WITH RESPECT TO FUNDS OR SECURITIES

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 26th day of May 1947.

In the matter of North American Light & Power Company, Holding Company System and The North American Company, File No. 59-39; North American Light & Power Company, File No. 54-50; The North American Company and its subsidiary companies, File No. 59-10; The North American Company, File No. 54-82; Illinois Power Company, File No. 54-147.

On December 28, 1942, we entered an interim order[1] suspending the payment of interest due January 1, 1943 by North American Light & Power Company (Light & Power), a registered holding company, on $5,623,500 principal amount of its debentures[2] owned by its parent, The North American Company (North American), also a registered holding company. Light & Power then deposited in a non-interest bearing special deposit the interest which was due on January 1, 1943. Prior to the next interest date on July 1, 1943, we again considered the question of payment of interest by Light & Power on its debentures. On June 29, 1943, we entered an order:[3] (a) Prohibiting Light & Power from paying interest on its debentures to North American until further order of the Commission; and (b) requiring Light & Power to segregate from its other funds a sum equal to the interest so to be withheld subject to further order of the Commission. We also provided that such segregated funds (including those pursuant to our order of December 28, 1942) were permitted to be invested in obligations of the United States Government.

The reasons which caused us to take the foregoing action are set forth in the opinions accompanying each of the aforementioned orders and are still apposite. The question whether it is fair and equitable for North American to receive either principal or interest on debentures of Light & Power which it holds, is one which we have presently under advisement.

Recently, we approved a portion of a plan (designated as Plan I) pursuant to section 11 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 which provided for a settlement by North American, Light & Power, and their subsidiary, Illinois Power Company (Illinois Power) of all claims and counterclaims affecting Illinois Power.[4] Among other provisions, the plan provides that Light & Power will pay Illinois Power in cash a sum aggregating $11,300,000.[5]

Light & Power now requests that we modify our order of June 29, 1943, to the extent necessary, to permit Light & Power to release its segregated funds representing accrued interest on its debentures so that the funds may be applied toward the payment to be made to Illinois Power as part of the settlement. It appears that the segregated funds presently amount to $1,391,818 which reflects interest payable to and including January 1, 1947. North American has joined in Light & Power's request, subject to the reservation that the requested release be without prejudice to North American's rights to receive full payment for all accrued interest.

Light & Power states that it will continue in the future to segregate from its funds sums equal to interest payments on its debentures as they become due, but that it will not replace in the future the segregated funds which it now seeks to use except with the express consent of this Commission.

It appears to us that under the circumstances it is appropriate to permit Light & Power to use its segregated funds representing accrued interest on its debentures for the purpose announced. The alternatives would be for Light & Power to borrow money or to sell assets in approximately the amount of the segregated funds; neither of the alternatives could be availed of under the present time schedule for consummation of the plan. If permitted to use the segregated funds, it appears that Light & Power will be able to meet its obligations under the plan without recourse to any borrowing. Security holders of Light & Power other than North American do not appear to be adversely affected and North American has specifically assented.

Insofar as Light & Power will not replace in the future the segregated funds which it now will use, North American exchanges its claim to interest on the debentures for the period covered by the segregated funds from one which is secured to one which is unsecured. In view of the present value of Light & Power's assets, it does not appear that North American will be prejudiced if it is subsequently found to be entitled to interest on the debentures.

It is therefore ordered, That North American Light & Power Company be, and it hereby is permitted to apply toward payment of its obligations to Illinois Power Company pursuant to that

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

1. Subchapter F, "Management" in Chapter III of Title 6, Code of Federal Regulations (6 CFR, Cum. Supp., Chapter III, Subchapter F), is redesignated "Project Liquidation"; Part 352, "Easements and Licenses" (ibid.) is redesignated "Public Facilities, Easements, and Rights-of-Way"; and § 352.61 (ibid.) is revised to read as follows:

§ 352.61 Grants and dedications of public facilities, and granting of easements and rights-of-way—(a) General. Public facilities, such as electric light, water and sewage systems, buildings and lands for schools and churches, and land for public roads, streets and alleys, may be granted or dedicated to public or semi-public institutions or granted to public or private organizations only under the conditions specified in this section.

(b) Requirements for approval. State FHA directors will submit to the Administrator, for his approval, all requests for grants or dedications of surplus real and personal property. The submission will contain the following:

(1) The request for dedication, accompanied by a duly adopted resolution or other authorization under which the recipient agrees to operate and maintain the property for public purposes as the type of facility which the property constitutes, or for which it is being granted or dedicated, and to relieve the Government of all responsibility in connection therewith. In the case of grants of public facilities, such as electricity, water and sewage systems, of the nature of a business enterprise, the recipient should further agree that it will not use the facilities in competition with companies or organizations in the area furnishing adequate services to the inhabitants upon reasonable rates and terms.

(2) An opinion of the representative of the office of the Solicitor indicating the following information:

(i) The grantee's authority to accept the transfer of such property subject to the conditions which the Government will impose.

(ii) The authority of the grantee to levy and collect assessments or otherwise raise funds for the proper operation and maintenance of the property to be transferred.

(iii) The effect, if any, of the proposed conveyance on the rights of the inhabitants of the area.

(3) Original and four copies of the quitclaim deed and a copy of the plat, when necessary, approved by the representative of the office of the Solicitor for legal sufficiency.

(4) A statement by the state FHA director containing, and indicating in detail, the basis for:

(i) A finding that the facilities or lands cannot be sold at reasonable prices.

(ii) A finding that similar facilities or lands are not available at reasonable rates and terms to the inhabitants of the particular area.

(iii) Recommendations as to precautions that can be taken to provide that the facilities will not be used in competition with companies or organizations in the area furnishing adequate services to the inhabitants upon reasonable rates and terms.

(iv) A finding that due consideration has been given to all applications for the particular grant or dedication.

(v) A finding that the particular organization or institution recommended as the recipient would be most capable of maintaining and operating the property.

(vi) A finding as to the effect of the proposed conveyance of the facility on the inhabitants of the particular area.

(5) In addition to the above, the following data should be submitted:

(i) A statement as to the present use of the facility.

(ii) Cost of the property and a fair-market value appraisal.

(iii) Possibilities of other disposition, including sale, for cash or on credit.

(iv) A description of the facility, including all improvements, and an inventory of equipment and other personal property, with property or serial numbers, included in the transfer.

(c) Corporation trust property. Grants or dedications of State Rural Rehabilitation Corporation Trust Fund facilities, buildings, or lands will be made in accordance with the conditions and requirements in this section. The data mentioned in paragraph (b) (5) of this section, however, will be augmented by additional information to support a finding that the conveyance will be in furtherance of rural rehabilitation in the particular state in which the property is located.

(d) Approval and distribution of deeds. Upon approval by the Administrator, the deed will be forwarded to the appropriate Area Finance Office, Attention: Administrative Services Division, for the assignment of contract number, distribution of copies, and such action as may be required for clearance of property accountability. The original will be forwarded to the grantee or purchaser, and one conformed copy will be forwarded to each of the following:

(1) General Accounting Office.

(2) Area Finance Office.

(3) State Office.

(4) Communications and Records Management Section of the Administrative Services Division in the National Office.

(e) Easements. (1) Grants of rights-of-way will be made in accordance with the foregoing provisions, with the following exceptions:

(i) In cases in which the purpose of the right-of-way is to supply electricity by means of a primary line, the Federal Power Commission alone has jurisdiction to grant such rights-of-way pursuant to section 4 of the Federal Power Act (16 U. S. C. 797). Under the act, the Commission will insert into the agreement such conditions as the Secretary may designate for the protection of the project. In all cases involving rights-of-way for power lines, the State office will require each applicant to submit a written statement of whether or not the proposed line is to be a primary line within the meaning of the Federal Power Act. If the line is to be a primary line, the State office will refer the request to the Washington office.

(ii) Where a requested right-of-way is determined by the State FHA director to be of benefit to the public in general or to the Government, he may execute, under the authority of section 161 of the Revised Statutes (5 U. S. C. 22), a "Revocable License," as distinguished from a grant of the right-of-way, in form approved by a representative of the office of the Solicitor.

(2) In addition to the applicable information and determinations required in this section, a grant docket should contain the following information:

(i) The name and number of the project in connection with which the right-of-way is requested.

(ii) The name and address of the public agency, corporation or individual requesting the right-of-way, together with a statement regarding the purpose and nature of the right-of-way.

(iii) The tract numbers and the names of the vendors of the land to be affected by the right-of-way, indicating the status of ownership of the land and whether the land was purchased with Federally appropriated funds or with State RR Corporation funds (managed or transferred in trust).

(iv) The project unit number(s) of the land to be affected by the right-of-way, the type of occupancy agreement(s) in force, and the date(s) of expiration of such agreement(s).

(v) The written consent of any occupant of the land which is to be made subject to the right-of-way, if the occupant holds the land or any part thereof under any type of purchase agreement. If the occupant's spouse or some other person or persons joined in the execution of the purchase contract, the consent should be signed by all. Any consideration to be paid to the occupant will be applied in accordance with the terms of a supplemental agreement executed prior to the granting of the right-of-way.

(vi) The quitclaim deed specified in paragraph (b) (3) of this section, should describe the easement or right-of-way by either the center line (together with the width) or metes and bounds, with the point of beginning tied to a permanent reference point. Where necessary, the quitclaim deed should be accompanied by a plat, satisfactory to the state FHA director, showing the exact area to be covered in relation to the remainder of the tract. To the extent appropriate, the Government expressly should reserve the right to use the surface over which the easement or right-of-way is granted, the air space above and the subsurface, for any purpose and in any manner which will not interfere with the rights of the grantee.

(vii) The amount of the financial consideration, if any, to be paid for the right-of-way.

(viii) Written recommendations of the FHA Supervisor regarding the granting of the right-of-way.

(ix) In the case of rights-of-way for the purpose of erecting power lines, a determination of whether or not the line is to be a primary line.

(x) A listing of any other pertinent facts disclosed by the investigation.

2. Part 362, "Purposes" in Chapter III of Title 6, Code of Federal Regulations (6 CFR, Cum. Supp., Chapter III, Subchapter G), including § 362.11 (ibid.), and Part 363, "Applications" (ibid.), including § 363.11 (ibid.), are revoked.

3. Paragraphs (a), (c), and (d) of § 364.11 General Regulations in Chapter III of Title 6, Code of Federal Regulations (6 CFR, Cum. Supp., Chapter III, Subchapter G) are revoked, and §§ 364.1, 364.2, and 364.3 are added as follows:

§ 364.1 General regulations.—(a) General. (1) The word "farm" as used in procedure relating to Farm Ownership loans includes the land, buildings, fences, water appurtenances, and other improvement items generally considered a part of the real estate. Funds for such items, as needed, should be provided in Farm Ownership loans. In some States, certain improvement items or appurtenances which ordinarily would be considered a part of the real estate may, by agreement between the owner of the land and the person furnishing or using such appurtenances, remain personal property. Such an agreement would be binding on a Farm Ownership borrower who purchases the land. In all cases where funds are included in a Farm Ownership loan to purchase such improvements or appurtenances, the FHA Supervisor, with the advice of the representative of the office of the Solicitor, will ascertain that such appurtenances are free from any liens or encumbrances and are covered adequately by the first mortgage or deed of trust to be taken on the real property.

(2) When a Farm Ownership applicant has funds of his own to apply toward the purchase, enlargement, or development of a farm, such funds will be deposited in a supervised bank account as soon as possible but not later than the time the Farm Ownership loan funds are deposited. Such funds will not be held back for making additional and unapproved expenditures.

(3) Any existing liens on a farm which is to be enlarged or developed will be paid off with the proceeds of a Farm Enlargement or Farm Development loan, so that there will be no liens on the farm other than the first mortgage or deed of trust securing the loan.

(4) Except as otherwise authorized by the Administrator, arrangements will not be made with sellers to construct new or repair old buildings in order to comply with the anticipated needs of Farm Ownership applicants. Construction work will be financed with Farm Ownership loan funds and will be subject to established Farm Ownership regulations.

(5) There may be included in each Farm Ownership loan a service fee in an amount sufficient to pay for (i) recordation of the deed and mortgage or deed of trust, (ii) any portion of the expense of title examination and title insurance chargeable to the borrower, (iii) bank charges for handling deposits in connection with the loan, (iv) health examination, if required, and (v) other expenses necessary in connection with the acquisition of the land and the closing of the loan. A sum of five dollars ($5) will be added to the sum of these charges to cover possible underestimates. Any questionable items included in the service fee will be referred to the representative of the office of the Solicitor for advice.

(6) Promptly after completion of the planned expenditures, any remaining balance of a Farm Ownership loan will be applied on the borrower's Farm Ownership loan account as a refund.

(7) No Farm Ownership loan will be made unless it has been determined, after representation by the applicant on Form FHA–5, "Loan Voucher," and certification to such effect by the County FHA Committee on Form FHA–491, "County Committee Certification," that credit sufficient in amount to finance the actual needs of the applicant is not available to him, at a rate of interest not exceeding five per centum per annum and on terms prevailing in the community, in or near which the applicant resides, for loans of similar size and character from commercial banks, cooperative lending agencies, or from any other responsible source.

(b) Restrictions on loans. Farm Ownership loans will not be made:

(1) To any corporation, partnership, or cooperative association.

(2) To carry on any operations in collective farming or cooperative farming.

(3) To carry on any Government land-purchase or land-leasing program, or to organize, promote or manage homestead associations, land-purchasing associations, or cooperative land-purchasing for colonies of rehabilitants and tenant purchasers.

(4) To purchase or refinance indebtedness against machinery, tools, equipment, livestock and similar items not legally considered real property. A Production and Subsistence loan will not be made to pay the principal or interest on a Farm Ownership loan.

(5) To finance any farm development not located on the property covered by the mortgage or deed of trust.

(6) To pay real property insurance premiums.

(7) To purchase a building located on an outside tract to be moved to a Farm Ownership farm, unless an exception is made in a particular case by the state FHA director. Such an exception will be granted by the state FHA director only upon condition that the building purchased is, in the opinion of the representative of the office of the Solicitor, properly released from any liens or mortgages outstanding against the property upon which it is located, and the further condition that it is definitely more advantageous to the borrower to purchase and move a building to a Farm Ownership farm than it is to construct or repair a building on the Farm Ownership farm.

(c) Disabled Veterans. No Farm Ownership loan will be made to a disabled veteran with a pensionable disability to enable him to acquire, enlarge, or improve a farm which is less than an efficient family-type farm unless the unit as acquired, enlarged, or improved is of sufficient size and character to meet the farming capabilities of such a veteran and will afford him an income which, together with his pension, will enable him to meet his living and operating expenses and repay the loan.

(d) Additional limitations for farm enlargement and farm development loans. (1) No Farm Enlargement or Farm Development loan will be made if the indebtedness to be refinanced plus the costs incident to such refinancing exceeds the determination by the County FHA Committee of the value less planned improvements of the applicant's unit.

(2) With the exception of Farm Development loans to disabled veterans as provided in paragraph (c) of this section, no Farm Development loan will be made except for improving a farm of such size that it can be developed into an efficient family-type farm and for refinancing such indebtedness as is necessary against such a farm.

(e) Terms of loans. (1) Farm Ownership loans will be amortized over a period not to exceed forty years.

(2) Interest will be charged at three percent (3%) per annum on the unpaid principal of Farm Ownership loans approved prior to November 1, 1946. Interest will be charged at three and one-half percent (3½%) per annum on the unpaid principal of Farm Ownership loans approved subsequent to October 31, 1946.

(3) Farm Ownership loans will be secured by a first mortgage or deed of trust on the farm. The mortgage or deed of trust securing the debt will specify the terms and conditions under which the funds were advanced to the borrower. In addition to the repayment period and the interest rate, as indicated above, such instruments will provide, among other conditions, that:

(i) The borrower will repay the unpaid balance of the loan, with interest, in installments based upon prescribed amortization schedules.

(ii) The borrower will keep the property insured against loss by fire or other casualty, and will pay taxes, assessments and other charges against the farm to the proper taxing authorities.

(iii) The borrower personally and continuously will use the property as a farm and for no other purpose.

(iv) The farm will be maintained in good condition; waste and exhaustion of the property will be prevented; required repairs will be made; and farming conservation practices as prescribed by the Secretary of Agriculture will be carried out.

(v) Final payment on the loan will not be accepted in less than five years, without written consent of the Farmers Home Administration.

(vi) The entire amount due on the loan, for violation of certain agreements, may be declared immediately due and payable.

(vii) The borrower will apply for and accept a refinancing loan from a Federal land bank, or other responsible cooperative or private credit source, if at any time it shall appear to the Secretary that the borrower is able to obtain such a loan at a rate of interest not in excess of five per centum per annum and on terms for loans for similar periods of time and purposes prevailing in the area in which the loan is made.

§ 364.2 Loan limitations.—(a) General. The Secretary of Agriculture has determined the average values of efficient family-type farm-management units and loan limits for most of the counties and parishes of the United States, Hawaii and Puerto Rico. Farm Ownership loans will not be made in any county, parish, or locality until such determinations have been made for the county, parish or locality. (See paragraph (b) of § 364.11 for average values and loan limits.)

(b) Average value. "Average value" means the average value of efficient family-type farm-management units, as determined by the Secretary, in the county, parish, or locality where the farm is located.

(c) Loan limit. The county or parish loan limit, as determined by the Secretary, is the maximum limit on the total investment of a Farm Ownership applicant in a complete farm unit, computed in accordance with paragraph (e) of this section. Generally, in counties and parishes where the average value is $12,000 or less, the loan limit and the average value are the same. In counties and parishes where the average value is in excess of $12,000, the loan limit is $12,000.

(d) Value certified by County FHA Committee. The fair and reasonable value of a farm is the amount which, in the best judgment of the County FHA Committee, the farm is worth, after taking into consideration Form FHA–596, "Earning-Capacity Report," the improvements to be made and the fair market value, after a personal inspection of the property and the plans for improvements.

(e) Total investment in farm. The total investment of a Farm Ownership applicant in a complete farm unit will consist of the following:

(1) The option price of all land to be acquired.

(2) The amount necessary for all planned repairs and improvements, both immediate and deferred, to be derived from Farm Ownership loan funds or from any other source.

(3) The amount of any necessary expenses of land acquisition, whether included in the Farm Ownership loan as a service fee or paid by the applicant from personal funds.

(4) For Farm Enlargement and Farm Development loans, the value of the applicant's equity, as determined by the County FHA Committee, in land owned by him.

(5) For Farm Enlargement and Farm Development loans, any amount necessary for refinancing purposes.

(f) Application of loan limitations. (1) No Farm Ownership loan will be approved for the acquisition, enlargement, or development of any farm:

(i) If the fair and reasonable value of the farm, as certified by the County FHA Committee on item 6 of Form FHA–491, "County Committee Certification," exceeds the average value, as determined by the Secretary, for the county or parish (see paragraph (b) of § 364.11), or

(ii) If the total investment of the Farm Ownership applicant in the complete farm unit, computed as in paragraph (e) of this section, exceeds either the loan limit for the county or parish, as determined by the Secretary (see paragraph (b) of § 364.11), or the fair and reasonable value of the farm, as certified by the County FHA Committee on item 6 of Form FHA–491.

(2) In some counties and parishes, the average value, as determined by the Secretary, is greater than $12,000. In such counties and parishes, a loan may be made with respect to a farm which has a value, as certified by the County FHA Committee, in excess of $12,000 provided:

(i) The value, as certified by the County FHA Committee, does not exceed the average value, as determined by the Secretary, and

(ii) The total investment of the Farm Ownership applicant in the complete farm unit, computed as in paragraph (e) of this section, does not exceed either $12,000 or the value of the farm, as certified by the County FHA Committee on item 6 of Form FHA–491, whichever is the lesser.

(3) For the purposes of applying the limitations of this paragraph, if a farm lies in more than one county, it will be deemed to be located in the county in which the residence building of the farm is located or is to be constructed.

§ 364.3 Purposes of Farm Ownership Loans—(a) General. The broad purposes of Farm Ownership (FO) loans are to:

(1) Provide credit which is not otherwise available to promote more secure occupancy of farms and farm homes by families who derive the major portion of their income from farming operations.

(2) Correct the economic instability resulting from some present forms of farm tenancy by substituting farm ownership for farm tenancy.

(3) Promote farm ownership by making loans and insuring mortgages to enable qualified farm tenants, farm laborers, sharecroppers, veterans and other individuals to acquire, repair or improve family-size farms or to enlarge, repair, or improve farms which are undersized or underimproved and which can be enlarged, repaired, or improved so as to constitute efficient family-type farm-management units. (See § 366.1 of this chapter.)

(4) Promote farm ownership by making loans and insuring mortgages to enable qualified disabled veterans to acquire, enlarge, repair, or improve farm units of sufficient size to meet their needs and farming capabilities.

(5) Preserve the family-type farm in the continental United States and in Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico by providing the type of real estate credit necessary to permit eligible persons who cannot secure such credit elsewhere to acquire, enlarge, or improve farms so that such farms will constitute family-type farms. (See § 366.1 of this chapter.)

(b) Source of funds—(1) Public. Farm Ownership direct loans are made from funds authorized to be appropriated by Title I of the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act, as amended by the Farmers Home Administration Act of 1946. Such funds are appropriated by Congress in the annual Department of Agriculture Appropriation Acts.

(2) Private. Farm Ownership insured mortgage loans are made from funds furnished by private lenders. The utilization of such funds is authorized by Title I of the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act, as amended by the Farmers Home Administration Act of 1946. Upon appropriation of the sum authorized to be appropriated for the farm tenant mortgage insurance fund, eligible mortgages or deeds of trust securing loans made by private lenders may be insured by the Farmers Home Administration.

(c) Types of loans. There are three types of Farm Ownership loans; Tenant Purchase (TP) loans, Farm Enlargement (FE) loans, and Farm Development (FD) loans.

(1) Tenant Purchase loans are loans made or insured to enable eligible persons who do not own farms to purchase and improve family-type farms. (See § 366.1 of this chapter.) The proceeds of such loans may be used to:

(i) Purchase family-type farms, and in connection therewith to:

(a) Repair and improve family-type farms to meet established standards of health, safety, comfort and convenience, and otherwise put them in livable and operable condition.

(b) Provide for such basic land and soil improvements, as properly do not belong to recurring year-to-year operation of the farms, necessary to make the farms family-type farms.

(c) Provide for necessary water and water facilities.

(d) Pay all authorized fees and expenses incident to the making or insuring of the loans which are required to be paid by the purchaser and which he cannot pay from other funds.

(ii) Purchase, in certain specially defined cases in which it is economically unsound to acquire the land necessary to the farming operation, headquarters units which, when operated with adjacent lands dependably available to the operator for the term of the loan, will constitute family-type farms.

(2) Farm Enlargement loans are loans made or insured to enable eligible persons who own farms which are definitely too small and inadequate to constitute family-type farms, to enlarge, repair, or improve such farms so that they will definitely constitute family-type farms. (See § 366.1 of this chapter.) The proceeds of such loans may be used to purchase sufficient additional land to enlarge undersized farms into family-sized farms, and in connection therewith to:

(i) Repair and improve the enlarged farms to meet established standards of health, safety, comfort and convenience, and otherwise put them in livable and operable condition.

(ii) Provide for such basic land and soil improvements, as properly do not belong to recurring year-to-year operation of the farms, necessary to make the farms family-type farms.

(iii) Provide for necessary water and water facilities.

(iv) Refinance existing debts on farms to be enlarged provided that such refinancing is incidental to the primary purpose of enlargement of undersized farms.

(v) Pay all authorized fees and expenses incident to the making or insuring of the loans which are required to be paid by the purchaser and which he cannot pay from other funds.

(3) Farm Development loans are loans made or insured to enable eligible persons who own farms of adequate acreage to constitute family-size farms, but which, because of under-improvement are definitely not sufficiently productive to constitute family-type farms (see § 366.1 of this chapter), but can definitely be made sufficiently productive by proper repair and improvement to constitute family-type farms. When Farm Development loans are made or insured to finance major land or building improvements, funds for minor repairs or improvements may be included, but such loans will not be made solely for the purpose of minor and incidental repairs and improvements. In observing these principles, Farm Development loans, irrespective of refinancing incidental thereto, rarely will be for improvements costing less than $800 or $1,000. No land will ever be purchased with the proceeds of Farm Development loans. The proceeds of such loans may be used to repair and improve underimproved family-size farms to meet established standards of health, safety, comfort and convenience, and otherwise put them in livable and operable condition, and in connection therewith to:

(i) Provide for such basic land and soil improvements, as do not properly belong to recurring year-to-year operation of the farms, necessary to make the farms family-type farms.

(ii) Provide for necessary water and water facilities.

(iii) Refinance existing debts on underimproved family-size farms; Provided, That such refinancing is incidental to the primary purpose of development of the underimproved farms.

(iv) Pay all authorized fees and expenses incident to the making or insuring of the loans which are required to be paid by the borrower and which he cannot pay out of other funds.

(d) Farm Ownership loans to Disabled Veterans. Tenant Purchase, Farm Enlargement or Farm Development loans may be made or insured to enable eligible veterans drawing disability pensions to acquire, enlarge, or improve farm units of sufficient size to meet the farming capabilities of such veterans and afford them income which, together with their pensions, will enable them to meet living and operating expenses and the amounts due on their loans.

4. Section 366.11 Criteria for selection of farms in Chapter III of Title 6, Code of Federal Regulation (6 CFR, Cum. Supp., Chapter III, Subchapter G), is revoked, and §§ 366.1, 366.2, and 366.3 are added as follows:

§ 366.1 Selection of Farms—(a) General. (1) Farm selection is a fundamental step in making direct or insured Farm Ownership loans. It is essential that applicants, FHA Supervisors and County FHA Committeemen understand thoroughly the standards to be considered in farm selection. After applicants have acquired a property understanding regarding the basic objectives of the Farm Ownership program, they will be given wide latitude in the selection of farms they desire to purchase.

(2) Under the FO program, either efficient family-type farm-management units will be acquired or improved, or undersized or under-improved farms will be enlarged or improved into efficient family-type farm-management units. The one exception to this requirement will be in the case of disabled veterans who, under certain conditions, may acquire, enlarge or improve farms which are less than efficient family-type farm-management units.

(b) Standings for selection of efficient family-type farm-management units. (1) Definition: An efficient family-type farm-management unit is a farm which furnishes full, productive, year-round employment for an average farm family and one which an average farm family can operate successfully without employing outside labor, except during brief peak-load periods at planting or harvest time. Such a farm must have the capacity to yield income on the basis of long-time prices which will maintain an average farm family according to acceptable living standards, pay annual operating expenses, pay for and maintain necessary livestock and farm and home equipment and pay off the loan.

(i) In individual cases, allowances may be made with respect to employing outside labor while children are too young to be of such assistance or after they have grown up and left home.

(ii) A farm on which a tenant family will be expected to reside and supplement the labor of the owner and his family, or on which an average family would require hired help a considerable part of the time, is not an efficient family-type farm-management unit and will not be approved.

(iii) Nonfarm income will not be considered in determining whether a farm, as finally developed, will be an efficient family-type farm-management unit.

(2) As used in Chapter III of Title 6 in the Code of Federal Regulations, the term "family-type farm" will mean an efficient family-type farm-management unit.

(c) Standards for selection of farms which are less than efficient family-type farm-management units in cases of disabled veterans. Farms that are less than efficient family-type farm-management units may be acquired, enlarged or improved by eligible war veterans who are receiving disability pensions, Provided, That:

(1) The size and character of the farm are suitable to the particular needs and capabilities of the disabled veteran.

(2) The farm has the capacity to produce an annual income which, together with the veteran's disability pension, will enable him to meet his normal obligations. These obligations will include family-living expenditures which will maintain acceptable standards of living for the veteran and his family, as well as operating expenses, and amounts due on his loan.

(3) The unit is larger than a mere garden plot or rural residence.

(4) A satisfactory farm plan can be carried out with the available family labor.

(5) The unit is of such character and productivity that it will not be necessary for the disabled veteran to use all or part of his pension to support unprofitable farming operations. In other words, the income from the operation of the unit as a farm, including the value of food produced for home use, should at least offset the actual operating expenses chargeable to farm operations such as seed, fertilizer and repayment of that portion of the loan represented by the farming operations. Such expenses, however, need not include cash family-living costs or maintenance, taxes, insurance and loan costs chargeable to the residence. In determining the loan and other costs chargeable to the residence, the valuation of the residence should be consistent with the depreciated value shown on Form FHA–43, "Appraisal of Buildings for Insurance."

(6) Farm income and disability compensation will constitute the major sources of income. Part-time farms, on which disabled veterans plan to live and devote most of their activity to nonfarm employment, should not be approved.

(d) General criteria for selection of Farm Ownership farms. (1) The making or insuring of a Farm Ownership loan depends upon a satisfactory title to the farm being vested in the borrower in order to secure a first mortgage or deed of trust on the farm. For this reason, a careful inquiry should be made relative to the title, legal description and boundaries of any land to be purchased, as well as any land already owned by the applicant, before time is lost in considering other aspects of the farm.

(2) In selecting farms for Farm Ownership loans, consideration should be given to base acreage allotments and assigned yields or productivity indexes upon which soil conservation payments are made.

(3) If a Farm Ownership farm is to be formed by combining separate tracts of land, the tracts preferably should be contiguous. However, a farm may consist of noncontiguous tracts if they are so situated with respect to each other that the combined unit can be operated conveniently and efficiently as a family-type farm. This is especially important in making Farm Enlargement loans, since the question of operating noncontiguous tracts is more likely to arise in connection with this type of loan.

(4) Farms approved for Farm Enlargement or Farm Development loans, as defined in § 364.3 of this chapter should be definitely undersized or underdeveloped and in their present state constitute definitely less than efficient family-type farm-management units.

(i) Enlargement or development of farms should constitute the primary purpose of Farm Enlargement or Farm Development loans. Refinancing in connection with Farm Enlargement and Farm Development loans must not constitute the primary purpose of the loans. However, since it is necessary to obtain a first mortgage or deed of trust on farms, funds for refinancing purposes may be included in Farm Enlargement and Farm Development loans.

(ii) In connection with Farm Development loans, consideration should be given to all types of improvements that may be needed to make the farm an efficient family-type farm-management unit. This will include such needed land improvements as irrigation, drainage, land clearing, terracing and basic soil treatment, as well as needed construction and repair of buildings. In some cases, a farm may be approved which needs only one type of improvement, such as construction or major repair of a building, in order to make it an efficient family-type farm-management unit. Usually, however, more than one type of improvement will be needed. Farms needing only minor building repairs or minor land improvements which are not essential to making the farm an efficient family-type farm-management unit will not be approved for Farm Development loans.

(5) Farms should not be approved which consist almost wholly of undeveloped land that requires an excessive amount of expense or labor for land improvement, and which will not produce an income sufficient to support the family, meet operating expenses and payments on the loan the first year of operation.

(6) When individual family-type farms are not available in any area, consideration should be given to the subdivision of large tracts.

(7) Farms will not be approved in areas designated for retirement from agriculture by Federal, State or county land use planning agencies, or areas so poor that they are likely to be so designated. Outside of such areas, it will be necessary, in order to assist persons in greatest need of Farm Ownership loans, to make such loans in areas including poor as well as good land. When loans are made for the purchase of poorer grades of land, unusual care must be exercised to see that it is purchased at a price in line with its earning capacity. Land that is worn out, eroded, foul and weedy cannot be restored to productivity quickly or without great effort and expense. This fact should be taken into account in determining the present value of the land.

(8) In farm selection and approval, due consideration should be given to roads, schools, markets, and other community facilities. The tax rate on farms, the bonded indebtedness and other costs incident to irrigation and drainage, or other types of improvements, should also be considered. In irrigation areas, careful consideration should be given to the adequacy of the water supply and water rights.

(9) When a farm is not on a public road, it is essential that there be a satisfactory legal right-of-way from the farm to a public road.

(e) Limitations in selection of Farm Ownership farms because of interest of sellers. (1) No Farm Ownership loan will be made or insured if any member of the County FHA Committee participates in, or attempts to influence, in any manner, the selection, consideration, discussion or certification with respect to a farm in which such member, or any person related to such member within the third degree of consanguinity or affinity, has any pecuniary interest, direct or indirect, or in which any of them had such interest within one year prior to the date of certification.

(2) Unless an exception is made as provided below, a Farm Ownership loan will not be made or insured for the purchase or improvement of land when an FHA employee has an interest, direct or indirect, or when a person related to that employee by blood or marriage has an interest, direct or indirect, in the land to be purchased or improved and when an FHA employee is officially, through his FHA employment, connected with the processing, handling or approval of such loan in a manner as to enable him directly or indirectly to influence FHA decisions with respect to the processing, handling or approval of the loan. The state FHA director may make the exception and give the reasons therefor in writing, unless he is the interested FHA employee, in which case the Administrator will make and sign the exception.

(3) Farms will not be approved for Tenant Purchase or Farm Enlargement loans which involve the purchase of land owned by a parent or other near relative of an applicant, nor will a farm be approved for a Farm Enlargement or Farm Development loan on which a parent or near relative holds a mortgage, unless the state FHA director has determined before approval of the loan:

(i) That the applicant is unlikely to receive an inheritance in a short time either of title to the property or of sufficient funds to make a Farm Ownership loan unnecessary, and

(ii) That the seller's circumstances are such as to make it impracticable for him to sell the property to the applicant or to advance additional funds that would make a Farm Ownership loan unnecessary.

(f) Preliminary farm selection—(1) Listing and studying farms for farm ownership applicants. (i) When it appears that Farm Ownership applicants may have difficulty in locating and selecting desirable farms, the FHA supervisor may prepare a preliminary list of farms which he has learned are for sale. To help in the preparation of this list, a carefully worded press release may be issued. This press release may indicate that Farm Ownership loans will be made or insured in the county to eligible war veterans and other qualified persons for the purchase, enlargement or improvement of farms. It also may suggest that owners having farms for sale which may qualify for the Farm Ownership program may list them with the FHA supervisor. In addition to such press release, the FHA supervisor may learn of farms for sale through contacts with landowners, county agents, banks, insurance companies, secretaries of Federal Land Bank Associations, county recorders' offices, and others. Although tracts of land suitable for subdivision into family-type farms will be considered, large tracts of raw, undeveloped land usually are not acceptable for the Farm Ownership program. The FHA supervisor will not promote the sale of any particular farm or group of farms and will avoid commitments as to price, but he will obtain all information that is available on this subject.

(ii) Upon request of the FHA supervisor, a state Farm Ownership representative will visit a county for the purpose of assisting the County FHA Committee in the study of listed farms. The Farm Ownership representative will explain to the Committee the FHA standards for farms and the use of Form FHA–596, "Earning Capacity Report." If a study of the farms listed indicates that there is not an adequate number of of acceptable farms, the Committee, with the aid of the Farm Ownership representative, may make further efforts to discover desirable farms which are for sale. The Committee will authorize the inclusion of such farms on the tentatively approved list as appear upon preliminary examinations to be acceptable, provided it is reasonable to assume that they may be obtained at justifiable prices. Commitments as to prices should be avoided in this preliminary listing of farms.

(iii) In order to keep requests for appraisal services to a minimum, the FHA supervisor and County FHA Committees should assist and advise applicants in the selection of farms so that such requests will be limited, to the fullest extent practicable, to farms which are reasonably certain to qualify for the Farm Ownership program.

(2) Selection of farms by Farm Ownership applicants. In the course of reaching a proper understanding with applicants, they should be informed of the type, size and general characteristics of farms which are suitable to them and acceptable for the program in the particular area. Applicants may select a farm previously approved by the County FHA Committee, or any other farm which later may be approved by the Committee. County FHA Committeemen, state Farm Ownership representatives and FHA supervisors should render assistance to applicants in this preliminary selection of farms. In this connection, any commitment to sellers regarding price will be avoided.

(g) Preliminary approval of farms. When a Farm Ownership applicant who is viewed with favor has selected a farm, the FHA supervisor will arrange for a preliminary inspection of the farm. Upon preliminary approval of the farm by the County FHA Committee, the FHA supervisor will request the services of the FHA employee authorized to appraise farms for the preparation of Form FHA–596. It is generally advisable to obtain an option before requesting such services.

(h) Preference to war veterans. When both a veteran and a nonveteran have been viewed with favor and are interested in the same farm at the same time, preference will be given to the veteran, provided the seller is willing to sell to either person.

§ 366.2 Optioning of farms—(a) General. (1) An option will be taken in the name of the Tenant Purchase or Farm Enlargement applicant, unless the land to be optioned consists of a tract to be subdivided. In the process of obtaining an option, any qualified person may render assistance.

(2) While the information in Form FHA–596, "Earning Capacity Report," will furnish a basis for arriving at a fair option price, it is generally advisable to obtain an option prior to the preparation of Form FHA–596. This is a safeguard against incurring the expense of appraisal and other work in connection with a farm which it may not be possible to purchase.

(3) Farms should not be optioned at prices that are believed to be in excess of the actual earning capacity values or when it appears that the total investment in the complete farm unit will exceed the loan limit in the county. Even though loans for the purchase of farms so optioned may not be approved, an objectionable precedent may be established that will affect adversely negotiations in connection with other properties in the community. Prior to optioning, the FHA supervisor or one or more members of the County FHA Committee should look over the farm to make certain that there is a reasonable probability that it will "appraise out". The effect on the option price of such factors as mineral rights, Agricultural Conservation Program payments and outstanding leases should be determined as promptly as possible and every effort should be made to secure the option at the lowest cash figure that the seller will accept.

(b) Preparation of option—(1) Use of option forms. (i) Options for individual units will be taken on Form FHA–188A, or Form FHA–188B, "Option for Purchase of Farm." The FHA Supervisor will be advised by the state office whether Form FHA–188A or Form FHA–188B is to be used. When possible, it is desirable to insert in the option the time and conditions under which the applicant will be given possession of the property. It will be noted that Form FHA–188A requires the seller to furnish an abstract of title, and Form FHA–188B requires him to furnish a policy of title insurance. Title insurance will be used when it is available, and the seller will be requested to fill out an application for title insurance at the same time he signs the option. The seller will be given the choice of any title insurance company which has been approved for issuing title insurance policies in the county. In the case of a Farm Enlargement loan, the seller will select the title insurance company and will apply for title insurance on the tract which he is selling; at the same time the applicant will apply for title insurance from the same company on the tract which he owns.

(ii) Options taken by Farm Enlargement applicants will contain the following clause, inserted in the space provided for conditions peculiar to a particular transaction:

> The seller agrees that, irrespective of any other provision in this option, the buyer, or his assignees may, if the option is accepted, without any liability therefor, refuse to accept conveyance of the property described herein if the Government or other prospective Mortgagee fails or refuses to make the aforesaid loan because of defects in the title to land now owned by the buyer.
> The inclusion of this paragraph will relieve the applicant of his obligation to purchase and will absolve him from possible liability for damages whenever incurable defects in the title to the original tract are disclosed, subsequent to the acceptance of the option, which prevent the closing of the loan.

(iii) Options will be prepared in an original and two copies. The seller will sign the original only, and his name will be typed on all copies. The type of loan (Tenant Purchase or Farm Enlargement) will be indicated in the upper left corner of the original and all copies. As soon as the option has been signed by the seller, it will be transmitted by the FHA supervisor to the state office as provided by § 367.1 of this chapter. One copy will be placed in the county office copy of the loan docket, and one copy will be retained by the seller.

(2) Listing complete information on options. Options should contain complete and accurate information on all reservations, easements, leases, water rights, or other conditions peculiar to the transaction. Such items as dates of execution and expiration, names of lessees, lessors, and areas involved, and amounts of compensation should be stated clearly. If the spaces provided on the option are insufficient for such information, extra sheets should be used and stapled to the form. Disclosure of such information at a later date causes undue delay in closing the loan. If the applicant is related to the seller, the relationship should be explained fully on an extra sheet, so that the state FHA director can make the determination required in § 366.1.

(3) Agricultural conservation program payments. Options should not contain assignments of Agricultural Conservation Program payments, since the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act forbids such assignments. However, the cash equivalent of the anticipated Agricultural Conservation Program payment may be taken into account in arriving at the option price, since the amount of such payment and the individuals to whom it will accrue legally can be determined readily.

(c) Mineral rights. (1) It is the general policy of the FHA that borrowers will hold all of the mineral rights in land purchased, improved, or refinanced with the proceeds of Farm Ownership loans. In some instances, however, sellers may refuse to transfer mineral rights, or such rights may be vested wholly or partially in third parties. In such situations, field officials are to be guided by the principle that, with respect to the minerals, the applicant should make as good a bargain as is possible in the circumstances. When an option is submitted to the state office which does not propose to convey all of the mineral rights to the applicant, the representative of the office of the Solicitor will advise the state FHA director of the facts in the case. The state FHA director, after satisfying himself that all practical efforts to obtain 100% of the mineral rights have been made, may approve the option if:

(i) The applicant has obtained, or is able to obtain, a portion of the mineral rights or guaranties of compensation, either of which is deemed adequate protection against loss in the event that the minerals are developed.

(ii) The state FHA director determines that there is little likelihood that the minerals will be developed. (This determination may be made by the state FHA director on a county basis or for a group of counties, provided the situation with respect to minerals is similar or widespread in the county or group of counties.)

(2) If the applicant does not have or cannot obtain either a sufficient portion of the mineral rights or adequate guaranties of compensation, and the state FHA director cannot determine that there is little likelihood of development of the minerals, the option may be approved only if the state FHA director finds:

(i) That the situation with respect to the minerals will not jeopardize the security interest of the mortgagee.

(ii) That it is not practicable for the applicant to select another farm.

(3) Reservations authorized on behalf of the seller should embrace the smallest fraction of the mineral rights and run for the shortest time to which the seller will agree. Where minerals are reserved by the seller, they should be named specifically in the option, and the term "other minerals" should be avoided when possible.

(i) When a family-type farm is subject to mineral reservations, approval of the option will be dependent upon a finding by the state FHA director that the reservation in question will not render the farm less than an efficient family-type farm-management unit.

(ii) When a farm which is less than an efficient family-type farm-management unit has been selected by a disabled veteran and is subject to mineral reservations, the option will not be approved unless the state FHA director finds that such a reservation does not constitute a potential impairment of the income-producing ability of the farm, or will not otherwise render the farm unsuitable for the disabled veteran.

(4) The FHA Supervisor should ascertain whether the option includes all mineral rights or whether the seller or some prior owner of the property has deeded, leased, or otherwise conveyed the whole or a part of the mineral rights. If the seller is in doubt as to whether a conveyance or lease of any part of the mineral rights has been made, or if there is a possibility that a deed, lease, or any other type of conveyance of mineral rights exists, a check will be made of the public records to determine whether there are such outstanding conveyances. If there is an outstanding deed, lease, or other conveyance of the mineral rights, the FHA supervisor will forward to the state office with the option a copy of such instrument, secured either from the seller or from the public records.

(d) Side agreements. (1) Side agreements between applicants and sellers involving a purchase price greater or less than the option price or any additional consideration whatsoever are in violation of the Farmers Home Administration Act. Any party entering into such side agreements or misrepresenting in any way the purchase price is subject, upon conviction, to a $2,000 fine or imprisonment for two years or both, as provided in the act and specified in the option. The FHA supervisor is responsible for informing applicants and sellers regarding these penalties.

(i) If the FHA supervisor or any employee becomes aware of a side agreement before a Farm Ownership loan is closed, the FHA supervisor will suspend processing of the loan and report the facts in the case to the state FHA director.

(ii) If the FHA supervisor or any employee becomes aware of a side agreement after a Farm Ownership loan is closed, a report of the facts in the case will be made to the state FHA director.

(iii) Further action in either case will be governed by advice received from the state FHA director, who will report the facts to the representative of the office of the Solicitor and to the representative of the Examination Division. If the representative of the office of the Solicitor finds that probable financial or criminal liability is involved, he will report his findings to the state FHA director, who will report the facts in the case to the Administrator. If the representative of the office of the Solicitor finds that probable financial or criminal liability is not involved, he will report his findings to the state FHA director who will take appropriate administrative action. Failure on the part of FHA employees to carry out the spirit and intent of these provisions with respect to side agreements will constitute an offense of serious gravity and will be dealt with accordingly.

(2) The following courses of action are among those which may be taken by the State FHA director in cases involving side agreements after careful review of the circumstances involved:

(i) Refuse to make the loan, if it is not closed.

(ii) Return to the borrower any funds paid by or for the borrower as a result of the side agreement.

(iii) Foreclose the loan.

(iv) Recommend to the Administrator proceeding under penalty provisions of the act.

(v) Recommend appropriate disciplinary action with respect to FHA employees in cases in which they have been remiss in discharging their responsibilities or have been implicated personally in the offense committed.

(e) Payment of one dollar consideration. The option requires payment of one dollar ($1) by the applicant, and the money actually should be paid to the seller, since a receipt for the payment of one dollar ($1) is acknowledged specifically in the option.

(f) Recording of option. In some cases, it may be desirable to record the option after State office approval to prevent third parties from acquiring an interest in the optioned property. The FHA supervisor will be informed by the State office of the circumstances under which recordation is advisable. If the option is recorded, the fee will be paid by the applicant.

(g) Assignment of option. If paragraph 10 of Form FHA–188A or FHA–188B has not been stricken by the seller, Form FHA–188H, "Assignment of option," will be used when it is desirable to assign the option to a new Farm Ownership applicant. If the option is assigned, the FHA supervisor should send a copy of Form FHA–188H to the seller when it is completed.

(h) Expiration of option. (1) If in unusual circumstances the FHA supervisor is unable to send the option to the state office three weeks before the irrevocable period expires, he should send it as promptly as possible and request that it be given preferential consideration.

(2) If it becomes necessary to extend the time of expiration of the original option beyond one year, a new option will be secured by the applicant.

(3) If an option is in the state office and the seller gives ten days' written notice of termination, in accordance with the terms of the option, the FHA supervisor will wire the state office promptly so that special consideration may be given to such an option.

§ 366.3 Certification of farms—(a) General. The FHA supervisor will arrange for a meeting of the County FHA Committee to consider Form FHA–596, "Earning-Capacity Report," Form FHA–14, "Our Farm and Home Plan for 19--," Form FHA–14C, "Long-time Farm and Home Plan," and Form FHA–643, "Farm Development Plan." After they have made an examination of the farm and have given proper consideration to these forms, the Committee is ready to prepare Form FHA–491, "County Committee Certification," with respect to the certification of the farm.

(b) Certification of farm by County FHA Committee.

(1) The County FHA Committee legally is responsible for determining that each farm to be financed with the proceeds of a Farm Ownership loan or of a loan insured under Title I of the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act, as amended, is of such character that there is reasonable likelihood that the making or insuring of the loan with respect to the farm will carry out the purposes of the act. The County FHA Committee also is responsible for determining the amount which it finds to be the fair and reasonable value of the farm based upon its normal earning capacity, after contemplated improvements or enlargements are made. In addition, the County FHA Committee is responsible for recommending the amount and purposes of the loan and for determining that the value of the farm, as acquired, enlarged, or improved will not be in excess of the average value of efficient family-type farm-management units in the county. The County FHA Committee will certify to the above determinations on Form FHA–491.

(i) When a farm proposed for purchase by a Tenant Purchase borrower consists of separate tracts, the County FHA Committee will certify as to the fair and reasonable value of the complete farm unit, as combined and improved.

(ii) When a farm is to be enlarged by a Farm Enlargement borrower, the County FHA Committee will certify as to the fair and reasonable value of the farm, as enlarged and improved.

(iii) When a farm is to be developed by a Farm Development borrower, the County FHA Committee will certify as to the fair and reasonable value of the farm, as improved.

(2) Efficient family-type farm-management units: The total investment in a farm, as computed in § 364.2 of this chapter, should not be greater than is justified on the basis of its normal earning capacity, after contemplated improvements are made. The following determinations will be made by the County FHA Committee in certifying family-type farms:

(i) Determination of fair and reasonable value (Farm Ownership loans). The County FHA Committee will enter its determination of the fair and reasonable value of the farm based on its normal earning capacity, after contemplated improvements or enlargements are made, on Form FHA–491. The County FHA Committee should give due consideration to the "Earning-Capacity Report" prepared by FHA employees authorized to appraise farms. The normal earning capacity, after contemplated improvements are made, rather than income producing ability of the farm as indicated on Form FHA–14 and Form FHA–14C should be considered in arriving at this determination. The County FHA Committee should not be influenced by the amount of the proposed loan or the average value of efficient family-type farm-management units in the county, as determined by the Secretary, in making their determination, based on the "Earning-Capacity Report," and their examination of the farm. In other words, the County Committee's determination of their fair and reasonable value should represent its actual bona fide determination with respect to the particular farm under consideration.

(ii) Determination of acquisition and refinancing costs (Farm Ownership loans). The County FHA Committee will indicate on Form FHA–491 the amount necessary to acquire the land, free and clear of all encumbrances, to refinance any existing indebtedness on the farm, and to pay necessary fees. When Form FHA–14 and Form FHA–14C show definite possibilities of increased income under good management, the amount that can be paid for the farm or used for refinancing purposes may be slightly higher than the recommended purchase or refinancing price shown on the "Earning-Capacity Report," when necessary to acquire or enlarge a particularly desirable farm. However, the benefits of increased income, in general, should accrue to the borrower and should not be bartered away through excessive price to the seller or through unjustified payment to a lien holder.

(iii) Determination of value less planned improvements (Farm Enlargement and Farm Development loans). The County FHA Committee will enter its determination of "Value Less Planned Improvements" of the "Tract Owned by the Applicant" and the "Tract to be Purchased, if any," on Form FHA–493, "Value of Applicant's Unit," after a review of the recommendations of the FHA employees authorized to appraise farms.

(3) Less than efficient family-type farm-management units for disabled veterans: The total investment in a farm, as computed in § 364.2 of this chapter, for a disabled veteran should not be greater than is justified by the cash income available after farm-operating and family-living expenses are deducted from the sum of farm earnings and pension payments. The following determinations will be made by the County FHA Committee in certifying farms for disabled veterans which are less than efficient family-type farm-management units:

(i) Determination of fair and reasonable value (Farm Ownership loans). The County FHA Committee will enter its determination of the fair and reasonable value of the farm after contemplated improvements or enlargements are made. The County FHA Committee should give due consideration to (a) the "Earning-Capacity Report" prepared by FHA employees authorized to appraise farms, (b) the suitability of the unit to the farming capabilities of the disabled veteran and his family, (c) the normal market value of the farm and (d) other pertinent factors, such as the "Long-Time Farm and Home Plan" and the "Farm Development Plan."

(ii) Determination of acquisition and refinancing costs (Farm Ownership loans). The County FHA Committee will indicate on Form FHA–491 the amount necessary to acquire the land, free and clear of all encumbrances, to refinance any existing indebtedness on the farm and to pay necessary fees. Special caution should be exercised to avoid obligating a disabled veteran beyond his capacity to pay by paying more than the farm is worth or by investing more in improvements than is justified. Exploitation of the disabled veteran's pension by paying too much for the farm should be avoided.

(iii) Determination of value less planned improvements (Farm Enlargement and Farm Development loans). The County FHA Committee will enter its determination of "Value Less Planned Improvements" of the "Tract owned by Applicant" and the "Tract to be purchased, if any," on Form FHA–493, "Value of Applicant's Unit," after a review of the recommendations of the FHA employee authorized to appraise farms.

(c) Distribution of Form FHA–491. Form FHA–491 will be prepared in an original and two copies. The original and one copy will be placed in the original loan docket, and a copy will be filed in the County Office copy of the loan docket. The original will be signed by at least two County FHA Committeemen. The names of the Committeemen who sign Form FHA–491 will be typed on all copies.

(d) Distribution of Form FHA–493. Form FHA–493 will be prepared in an original and one copy. The original will be placed in the original loan docket and a copy will be filed in the County Office copy of the loan docket. The original will be signed by at least two County FHA Committeemen. The names of the Committeemen who sign Form FHA–493 will be typed on the copy.

5. Subchapter G, "Farm Ownership" in Chapter III of Title 6, Code of Federal Regulations (6 CFR, Cum. Supp., Chapter III, Subchapter C), is amended to add the following part, Part 367 "Loan Processing":

§ 367.1 County Office Routine—(a) Preliminary submission of option and title insurance application. Except for Farm Development loans, the original of the option and the signed application for title insurance will be forwarded to the state office, Attention: Farm Ownership, as soon as they have been signed by the seller. When they are returned by the state office, they will be held in the applicant's file, unless corrections are indicated and resubmission is required. The option, together with the letter of approval from the representative of the office of the Solicitor, will be placed in the original loan docket when it is finally assembled. The title insurance application will be transmitted to the company or its local representative when the loan has been approved and the option accepted. (Where title insurance is not available, the title insurance application will be eliminated.) In the case of a Farm Development loan, the signed title insurance application will be held by the FHA supervisor until notification of approval of the loan is received from the district FHA supervisor.

(b) Special items in execution and preparation of forms. On all copies of all forms providing a space for the designation of the state and county, there will be inserted in the upper right corner the names of the state and county in which the farm to be purchased, enlarged or developed, is situated. The case number will be inserted by the county office in the space provided only when the applicant previously has been assigned an FSA or an FHA case number. The words, "Veteran" or "Nonveteran," whichever is applicable, will be typed or stamped above the heading on all copies of all forms. In the case of a disabled veteran purchasing a farm which is less than an efficient family-type farm, the words, "Disabled Veteran," will be used.

(1) Form FHA–5, "Loan Voucher." The type of loan (TP, FE, or FD) will be inserted on the appropriate line. The applicant will sign the original of Form FHA–5 in the space provided, and his name will be typed above his signature. The FHA supervisor will not sign the form.

(2) Form FHA–668, "Loan Agreement and Request for Funds." The applicant, his wife and the FHA supervisor will sign the original and one copy of Form FHA–668. The FHA supervisor will delete the inapplicable paragraph appearing in his certification on the reverse of the form. The same will apply to Form FHA–668, "Loan Agreement and Request for Funds (Deferred Advance)," when deferred construction is involved.

(3) Form FHA–190, "Promissory Note." The date of the promissory note, the amount of the first installment and the year in which the first installment will become due will be left blank. The remainder of the Form will be completed by the FHA supervisor. The amount of each of "the next succeeding thirty-nine installments" to be inserted will be 4.683 percent of the sum inserted as the total loan. Thereafter, the applicant and his wife will sign the original of Form FHA–190. At the time of signing, the FHA supervisor will explain to the applicant that the amount of the first installment will be determined at the time of loan closing. The amount thereof may be less, but not more, than a regular installment.

(4) Form FHA–491, "County Committee Certification." At least two of the three County FHA Committeemen will sign the original of Form FHA–491. The original and all copies of the form will be dated. Under items 5 and 9, the inapplicable language will be deleted. The total amount of the loan will be inserted under item 9A or 9B.

(5) Form FHA–476, "Transmittal and Flow Sheet." Under "Type of Submission" in the upper right corner, a check will be placed in the space provided to identify the loan as initial, subsequent, or deferred advance. If submission is of any other type, it will be specified in the space provided. The loan type will be identified by checking the appropriate type of loan or by specifying the type in the space provided.

(c) Execution of informal agreement. Each new Farm Ownership borrower and his wife will be required to sign Form FHA–317, "Agreement." This informal agreement with the FHA sets forth obligations which the applicant and his wife assume when they accept a Farm Ownership loan. Its purpose is to give the applicant and his wife a clear understanding of what is expected of those who obtain Farm Ownership loans, and it should be signed by them with full knowledge of what it contains. Form FHA–317 will be signed in duplicate not later than the signing of Form FHA–668, "Loan Agreement and Request for Funds." The original will be retained by the applicant, and the copy will be placed in the county office file. The FHA supervisor will sign as representative of the FHA.

(d) Preparation of loan docket. (1) The FHA supervisor will assemble the loan docket when the County FHA Committee has certified on Form FHA–491 to the eligibility of the applicant and the reasonable value of the farm.

(2) The loan docket will be checked thoroughly by a competent person in the county office to determine whether the requirements with respect to mechanical accuracy have been met fully.

(e) Action by district FHA supervisor. (1) Analysis of loan: It is the responsibility of the district FHA supervisor to determine that each Farm Ownership loan is sound and that there is a reasonable likelihood that the family will be successful on the farm. Before approving any Farm Ownership loan, he will make a comprehensive and objective analysis of the loan, utilizing all available information regarding the family, the farm and the plans of operation. Special attention will be necessary with respect to applications for Farm Ownership loans to disabled veterans who desire to purchase less than efficent family-type farm-management units.

(2) Check of loan limits: The district FHA supervisor will ascertain for all Farm Ownership loans that the total proposed investment in the farm does not exceed the county loan limit. He will check also the fair and reasonable value of the farm as certified by the County FHA Committee to ascertain that such certified value does not exceed the average value of efficient family-type farm-management units in the county, as determined by the Secretary of Agriculture.

(3) For all loans to veterans, the district FHA supervisor will check the evidence of discharge or release, and attach it to the loan approval letter provided in subparagraph (4) (ii) of this paragraph, for the county office copy of the loan docket. In the case of a veteran with pensionable disability, he will check also the written evidence from the Veterans' Administration to verify the amount of and the reason for the pension.

(4) Approval of loan and notification to FHA supervisor:

(i) It is intended that approval or disapproval of loans by the district FHA supervisor generally will be based upon an "on-the-ground" review. The ordinary practice, therefore, will be for the district FHA supervisor to pass upon the loan in the county office after visiting the farm and family. There may be circumstances, however, which make it impossible or unnecessary for the district FHA supervisor to pass upon loans in the county office. When justified, State FHA directors may authorize the district FHA supervisor to have Farm Ownership loan dockets mailed to the district office for review.

(ii) If the loan is approved, the district FHA supervisor will sign the original and one copy of Form FHA–643, the original and one copy of Form FHA–668, the original and one copy of Form FHA–668 (Deferred Advance), if any, and will initial Form FHA–476. He will also furnish the FHA supervisor with a letter tentatively approving the loan and, except for a Farm Development loan, authorizing him to notify the applicant to accept the option. The loan docket then will be forwarded to the area finance office for mechanical examination and obligation of funds.

(iii) If the loan is disapproved, the district FHA supervisor will return the loan docket to the FHA supervisor with a letter explaining the reasons for disapproval and giving appropriate suggestions for correction of the loan docket, if possible. The FHA supervisor will notify the applicant of the disapproval of the loan and the reasons therefor.

(f) Corrections of errors. If a loan docket is returned from the area finance office for correction, the FHA supervisor will make such corrections as are indicated and forward the docket as directed.

(g) Accepting option and ordering title insurance. When the FHA supervisor has been notified by the district FHA supervisor of the tentative approval of a Tenant Purchase or Farm Enlargement loan, he will prepare the acceptance of option letter, Form FHA–191, "Acceptance of Option (Vendor to furnish Abstract)," or Form FHA–191B, "Acceptance of Option (Vendor to furnish Title Insurance)," in an original and two copies, as soon as he has ascertained definitely that the applicant intends to proceed with the loan as planned. The original of the option acceptance letter will be signed by the applicant, and by his wife if she is named in the option, and mailed to the seller. One copy will be forwarded to the state office and one copy retained in the county office. If it is necessary that the seller submit a deposit for furnishing an abstract in connection with placing the order for title insurance, information to that effect will be added to the option acceptance letter, and it will be the responsibility of the FHA supervisor to see that the necessary action is taken by the seller. The signed application for title insurance will be removed from the file, where it has been held pending approval of the loan, and transmitted by the FHA supervisor to the local representative of the title insurance company or to the central office of the company, whichever is customary.

(1) On the copy of the option acceptance letter which is forwarded to the state office, the FHA supervisor will indicate:

(i) The total amount of the loan. He will show in parentheses the breakdown of the total amount between the immediate advance and the deferred advance, if any.

(ii) The date of mailing of the title insurance application.

(iii) The name of the title insurance company.

(2) If title insurance is not used, subparagraph (1) (ii) and (iii) of this paragraph will be omitted.

(3) In the case of a Farm Development loan, the signed application for title insurance will be transmitted in the usual manner. The information required by subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, will be forwarded to the State Office by separate letter.

(h) Cancellation of loan. If a borrower requests that his loan be canceled or if it becomes necessary for the state FHA director or his designee to order the cancellation of a loan after approval and prior to closing, every effort will be made to secure the execution of Form FHA–668B, "Cancellation of Loan Agreement." Form FHA–668B will be prepared in an original and three copies. The original will be signed by the borrower and the district FHA supervisor. One copy will be filed in the county office copy of the loan docket and one copy given to the borrower. The original and remaining copy will be sent to the state office, Attention: Farm Ownership. If it is impossible to secure the execution of Form FHA–668B, a letter requesting cancellation of the loan and stating the facts in the case will be sent to the state office, Attention: Farm Ownership. If the check is received subsequently in the county office, it will be returned to the U. S. Treasury Regional Disbursing Office with Treasury Form 1725, "Designation as agent and receipt for checks." A request for cancellation and a definite statement of reasons therefor will be written on Treasury Form 1725. If a check has been received but not cashed, it will be returned to the Disbursing Office with a letter containing a request for cancellation and giving the reasons therefor. A copy of the letter to the Disbursing Office will be forwarded to the state office. If the check has been cashed, the borrower will refund the loan by remitting a check payable to the Treasurer of the United States and countersigned by the FHA supervisor; and the items will be scheduled to the disbursing officer's special deposits account. No interest will be charged in a case of this kind. When the original note stamped "Canceled" is received in the county office, the original note will be returned to the borrower.

(i) Reduction in amount of loan. (1) If the original estimate for any Farm Ownership loan is found to be too high, before the check has been delivered to the borrower, the borrower, his wife, and the district FHA supervisor will execute Form FHA–668A, "Amendment to Loan Agreement." Form FHA–668A will be prepared in the same number of copies and distributed as outlined in paragraph (d) of this section, for Form FHA–668. Form FHA–668A will be transmitted to the state office for forwarding to the area finance office so that the obligation may be reduced. If the check has been issued, it must be returned for cancellation. A new Form FHA–190, Form FHA–5, Form FHA–643, and Form FHA–491 will be submitted for the reduced amount of the loan.

(2) If the check has been deposited in the borrower's supervised bank account, the excess will be refunded by certified check. The amortization schedule may be recalculated if requested by the borrower.

(j) Increase in amount of loan. (1) If the original estimate for any Farm Ownership loan is found to be too low before the check has been deposited in a supervised bank account, and before the fiscal year during which the funds for the original loan were obligated has expired, a request, properly explained, should be sent immediately to the state office for the return of the original docket. The borrower and his wife will execute Form FHA–668B (See paragraph (h) of this section). The check, if it has been issued, should be canceled and a new Form FHA–491, Form FHA–5, Form FHA–668, Form FHA–190, Form FHA–43, and Form FHA–643, should be submitted for the total amount of the loan as increased.

(2) If the original estimate for any Farm Ownership loan is found to be too low and the check has not been received, but the fiscal year during which the funds for the original loan were obligated has expired, a subsequent loan should be requested.

(3) If the original estimate for any Farm Ownership loan is found to be too low, but the check has been received and deposited in a supervised bank account, a subsequent loan should be requested.

(k) Loss by fire between acceptance of option and closing of loan. If there is an unreplaced loss or damage to the optioned property by fire or other casualty between the date of the option and the closing of a Tenant Purchase or Farm Enlargement loan, the following actions may be taken:

(1) The borrower may accept conveyance of title, provided the purchase price is adjusted adequately to compensate for the loss. This adjustment should be in writing and should be submitted to the state director or his designee, who will determine (i) that the farm and home plans are not affected adversely and (ii) that the adjustment is sufficient to enable the borrower by means of the initial loan to purchase the land and to repair or replace the damaged or destroyed buildings in accordance with the minimum standards for construction. In the event the proposed adjustments require a substantial increase in the amount of the loan for repairs and construction and a smaller amount for the purchase price of the land, the state FHA director shall request another certification by the County FHA Committee on Form FHA–491.

(2) When adjustments cannot be made on the above basis, the borrower should refuse to accept conveyance under the terms of Form FHA–188A or Form FHA–188B.

(l) Occupancy of farms by tenant purchase and farm enlargement borrowers. The acceptance of the option makes the sale of the farm conditional upon delivery of satisfactory title by the seller. When the acceptance of option letter Form FHA–191 or Form FHA–191B has been mailed to the seller, the borrower will arrange to occupy and operate the farm as soon as practicable, under either of the following circumstances.

(1) Possession between acceptance of option and closing of loan: When it is desirable for the borrower to start farming operations in the period between acceptance of the option and closing of the loan, he may lease the farm from the seller by using Form FHA–189, "Short-Term Lease of Optioned Land." This lease adjusts the rent to be paid by the borrower to that portion of the crop year during which the seller retains title to the farm, and provides for payment by the seller of maintenance costs during the same period. Provisions for proration of taxes are contained in the option, Form FHA–188A or Form FHA–188B, which also contemplates that any insurance coverage prior to conveyance is a responsibility of the seller.

(2) Possession after closing of loan: In the event the borrower cannot occupy the farm during the crop year in which the loan is closed, an understanding should be reached with the seller regarding rents, right of entry, and other pertinent questions in connection with loan closing. In cases where the seller is to remain on the farm, Form FHA–198, "Short-Term Lease (Between Purchaser and Seller)," shall be executed. In cases where the seller desires to reserve certain rights, Form FHA–129, "Temporary Cropping License," shall be executed. In cases where a tenant is occupying the farm and will not give possession, Form FHA–199, "Agreement (Between Seller, Purchaser and Tenant)," should be executed.

(3) Forms FHA–189, FHA–129, and FHA–198 will be prepared and signed in an original and three copies. The original will be retained by the seller, one copy will be retained by the borrower, one copy will be filed in the county office loan docket, and one copy will be sent to the state office to be filed in the borrower's case file. Form FHA–199 will be prepared and signed in an original and four copies. The original and first three copies will be distributed in the same manner as Form FHA–189 and one copy will be retained by the tenant.

(m) Closing of the loan. (1) No loan will be closed until closing instructions have been received from the representative of the office of the Solicitor and it is ascertained definitely that the borrower intends to live on and operate the farm as planned. No loan will be closed when it is intended to transfer the farm to another applicant nor where it is known that the borrower does not intend to fulfill his loan agreement.

(2) Deposit of check: The check issued to the borrower in care of the FHA supervisor will be deposited in a supervised bank account.

(i) When a Farm Ownership loan check has been issued and for any reason cannot be delivered within 21 days from the date of the check, or there is reasonable doubt as to whether the loan can be closed, the loan check will be returned to the U. S. Treasury Regional Disbursing Office with Treasury Form 1725. If the loan check is to be returned to the county office on a specific date, such date must be stipulated on Treasury Form 1725 and must be within 90 days from the original date of the check. If the loan check is to be held for an indefinite period, a statement to that effect should be written on Treasury Form 1725, and the area finance office should be informed as to the desired disposition of the check within 75 days from its date; otherwise automatic cancellation will be effected.

(ii) When a Farm Ownership loan check, which has been received in the county office, is lost or destroyed before delivery to the payee, the FHA supervisor immediately will notify the appropriate U. S. Treasury Regional Disbursing Officer in writing to stop payment and will request the forms necessary for the issuance of a substitute check. The notification will be forwarded to the regional disbursing officer through the area finance office. Upon receipt of these forms, the FHA supervisor will have them executed and returned to the disbursing office so that a substitute check may be issued. Under no circumstances will the FHA supervisor process a new loan voucher for a substitute check.

(3) In a case where title insurance is used, a check for the amount due the seller on the purchase price will be drawn by the borrower, countersigned by the FHA supervisor, and given to the local title attorney of the insurance company for delivery to the seller at the proper time in the closing of the loan. In a case where title insurance is not available, the closing instructions from the representative of the office of the Solicitor will include advice to the FHA supervisor as to payment to the seller.

(4) In cases in which income is to be derived by the borrower from a mineral lease or other existing agreement pertaining to the property at the time of purchase, the state FHA director will determine the percentage or share of the income which equitably should be paid to the Government as "extra payments" on the loan. Form FHA–253A, "Assignment of Income From Property to be Mortgaged," will be prepared in an original and three copies and executed by the borrower and his wife in an original and one copy at the time of loan closing. The original will be forwarded to the state office and the executed copy and a conformed copy will be sent to the lessee with the request that the conformed copy be signed, and returned to the county office. Upon receipt of the conformed copy signed by the lessee, the FHA supervisor will forward it to the state office. The remaining copy should be retained in the county office loan docket. If he deems it advisable, the state FHA director, upon advice of the representatives of the office of the Solicitor, may require the acknowledgment or recordation of the assignment. Any cost incident thereto shall be borne by the borrower. At the time Form FHA–253A is executed, appropriate notations will be made on Form FHA–473, "Area Guide Card," to insure that the proceeds, or a portion of the proceeds, from the transaction are remitted at the proper time.

(5) The amount of the first installment on the loan and the year in which it will become due will be inserted on Form FHA–497, "Notification of First Payment Date," at the time the borrower and his wife sign the mortgage or deed trust. The amount of the first installment, not to exceed 4.683% of the loan, will be agreed upon mutually by the FHA supervisor and the borrower, taking into consideration the borrower's financial circumstances, and the extent to which he has received income from the farm during the calendar year preceding the date of the first installment. The FHA supervisor should advise the borrower, in the event of disagreement, that it is the duty of the FHA supervisor to determine the amount of the first installment based on the foregoing conditions. The date of the first installment will be the first March 31 following the date of the borrower's loan check, regardless of the date on which the loan is closed. For example, if a loan check is issued in September 1947 and the loan is closed in October 1947, the date of the first payment will be March 31, 1948. However, if a loan check is issued in February 1947 and the loan is not closed until April 1947, the date of the first payment will be March 31, 1947. In this case a nominal first installment such as one dollar would be sufficient, unless the borrower desires to pay more. This first installment will be scheduled to the Treasury at the same time Form FHA–497 is sent to the state office. Form FHA–497 will be completed in an original and one copy both of which will be signed by the borrower, his wife and the FHA supervisor. It is important that the original be transmitted to the state office immediately after the closing of the loan. The copy will be filed in the borrower's county office case file. The amount of the first installment and the year in which it is payable will be inserted on the county office copy of Form FHA–190, "Promissory Note," and the note will also be dated to conform with the date of the check.

(6) When there are insurable buildings on the farm, the FHA supervisor will attach to Form FHA–497 either a standard insurance policy submitted by the borrower, or Form FHA–42, "Valuation Report for Insurance," with the borrower's check for the premium.

(7) When the closing instructions from the representative of the office of the Solicitor include a recommendation that a homestead declaration be filed, the FHA supervisor will inform the borrower accordingly and see that he thoroughly understands the advantages as outlined by the representative of the office of the Solicitor. In the event the borrower elects to file a homestead declaration, the FHA supervisor will assist him in taking the necessary steps.

(8) For purposes of the Farm Ownership program, a Tenant Purchase or a Farm Enlargement loan is considered closed when the deed and mortgage (or deed of trust) are filed for record. A Farm Development loan is considered closed when the mortgage or deed of trust is filed for record. As soon as the recorded mortgage is received in the county office, it will be sent to the representative of the office of the Solicitor.

(n) Notification of borrower's new address. As soon as a Farm Ownership borrower has occupied his farm, the FHA supervisor will complete Form FHA–113, "Advice of Borrower's Change of Address," in an original and three copies; the original and one copy will be transmitted to the area finance office, one copy to the state office, and one copy will be retained in the county office.

AUTHORITY: §§ 942.0 to 942.13, inclusive, issued under 48 Stat. 31, 670, 675, 49 Stat. 750, 50 Stat. 246; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.

§ 942.0 Findings and determinations—(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress (May 12, 1933), as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (hereinafter referred to as the "act"), and the rules of practice and procedure governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR, Cum. Supp., 900.1 et seq.; 10 F. R. 11791; 11 F. R. 7737), a public hearing was held December 19–20, 1946, inclusive, upon certain proposed amendments to the tentatively approved marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the New Orleans, Louisiana, marketing area. It is hereby found upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing, in addition to the other findings made prior to or at the time of the original issuance of said order and of each amendment thereto (which findings are hereby ratified and affirmed, save only as such findings are in conflict with the findings hereinafter set forth), that:

(1) The order regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area, as amended and as hereby amended, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The prices calculated to give milk produced for sale in the said marketing area a purchasing power equivalent to the purchasing power of such milk, as determined pursuant to sections 2 and 8 (e) of the act, are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supplies of and demand for such milk, and the minimum prices set forth in the said order, as amended and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner, and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity, specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

(b) Additional findings. The necessity of the immediate revision of the pricing provisions of this order, as amended, to reflect current marketing conditions is evidenced by the recent disorder in the New Orleans, Louisiana, milk marketing area. Since the publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER, on March 14, 1947 (12 F. R. 1753), of the Acting Assistant Administrator's Report, handlers have been paying the prices proposed therein, which are the same as the prices contained in this part.

In view of the foregoing any delay in the effective date of this order, as amended and as hereby amended, beyond that specified in this part, will seriously threaten the supply of milk for the New Orleans, Louisiana, marketing area and therefore publication of this order not less than 30 days prior to its effective date (see § 4 (c), Administrative Procedure Act, Pub. Law 404, 79th Cong., 60 Stat. 237) is impracticable and contrary to the public interest.

(c) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing, or shipping the milk covered by this order, as amended) of at least 50 percent of the volume of milk covered by this order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, which is marketed within the New Orleans, Louisiana, marketing area, refused or failed to sign the tentatively approved marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area; and it is hereby further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign said tentatively approved marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order, amending the order, as amended, is the only practical means pursuant to the declared policy of the act of advancing the interests of producers of milk which is produced for sale in the said marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order, further amending the aforesaid order, as amended, is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who participated in a referendum on the question of its approval and who, during the determined representative period (February, 1947), were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

It is hereby ordered, That such handling of milk in the New Orleans, Louisiana, marketing area as is in the current of interstate or foreign commerce or as directly burdens, obstructs, or affects such commerce, shall from the effective date hereof be in conformity to, and in compliance with, the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and the aforesaid order, as amended, is hereby further amended to read as follows:

(1) Class I shall be all skim milk and butterfat the utilization of which is not established as Class II or Class III.

(2) Class II shall be all skim milk and butterfat used in cheese other than Cheddar, ice cream, and ice cream mix.

(3) Class III shall be all skim milk and butterfat (i) disposed of other than in the form of milk, skim milk, buttermilk, flavored milk, flavored milk drinks, sweet or sour cream (for consumption as cream, including any mixture of cream and milk or skim milk, in fluid form irrespective of the butterfat content), cheese other than Cheddar, ice cream, and ice cream mix; and (ii) accounted for as actual plant shrinkage, but not in excess of 2 percent respectively of the total receipts of skim milk and butterfat from producers.

(c) Responsibility of handlers and reclassification of milk. (1) In establishing the classification of skim milk and butterfat as required in paragraphs (b) and (d) of this section, the burden rests upon the first handler who receives such skim milk or butterfat to prove to the market administrator that such skim milk or butterfat should not be classified as Class I milk.

(2) Any skim milk or butterfat classified in one class shall be reclassified if such skim milk or butterfat is later used or disposed of (whether in original or other form) by any handler in another class, in accordance with such latter use or disposition.

(d) Transfers. (1) Subject to the conditions set forth in paragraph (c) of this section, and subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, skim milk and butterfat, when transferred in the form of milk, skim milk, or cream from a handler who purchases or receives milk from producers shall be classified (i) in the class in which such skim milk and butterfat was used if transferred to a handler who is not a producer-handler; (ii) as Class I, if transferred to a producer-handler; (iii) as Class I, if transferred to a person, other than a handler, who distributes milk or cream in fluid form for consumption as such; and (iv) in the class in which the market administrator determines such skim milk or butterfat was used, if transferred to a person, other than a handler, who does not distribute milk or cream in fluid form for consumption as such.

(2) No provision relative to transfers provided for in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph shall operate to deter the prior subtraction of skim milk or butterfat from other sources pursuant to paragraph (f) of this section. Any quantity reported for assignment to a particular class but not eligible therefor because of paragraph (f) of this section shall be assigned by the market administrator as Class I skim milk or Class I butterfat pending verification and appropriate allocation.

(e) Computation of the skim milk and butterfat in each class. For each delivery period, the market administrator in the case of each handler shall determine:

(1) The total pounds of skim milk received by adding together the total pounds of milk, skim milk, and cream received, and the pounds of butterfat and skim milk used to produce any milk products received, and subtracting therefrom the total pounds of butterfat determined pursuant to subparagraph (2) of this paragraph.

(2) The total pounds of utterfat received by adding into one sum the pounds of butterfat received from (i) producers; (ii) other handlers; and (iii) other sources.

(3) The total pounds of skim milk in Class I by (i) adding together the pounds of milk, skim milk, and cream disposed of in each of the several products of Class I, (ii) subtracting the result obtained in subparagraph (4) (i) of this paragraph; and (iii) adding together the result obtained in subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph and the result obtained in subparagraph (7) (iii) (b) of this paragraph.

(4) The total pounds of butterfat in Class I by (i) adding together the pounds of butterfat in each of the several products of Class I; and (ii) adding together the result obtained in subdivision (i) of this subparagraph and the result obtained in subparagraph (8) (ii) (b) of this paragraph.

(5) The total pounds of skim milk in Class II by (i) adding together the pounds of milk, skim milk, and cream which are used to produce each of the several products of Class II; and (ii) subtracting the result obtained in subparagraph (6) of this paragraph.

(6) The total pounds of butterfat in Class II by adding together the pounds of butterfat used in each of the several products of Class II.

(7) The total pounds of skim milk in Class III by (i) adding together the pounds of milk, skim milk, and cream which were used to produce each of the several products of Class III; (ii) subtracting the result obtained in subparagraph (8) (i) of this paragraph; (iii) subtracting from the result obtained in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph the results obtained in subparagraphs (3) (ii) and (5) (ii) of this paragraph and subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph, which resulting amount shall be classified as follows: (a) That portion not in excess of 2 percent of total receipts of skim milk from producers shall be considered as plant shrinkage and classified as Class III, and (b) that portion in excess of 2 percent of total receipts of skim milk from producers shall be classified as Class I: Provided, That any skim milk which has been accounted for as having been dumped by a handler shall be classified as Class III; and (iv) adding together the pounds of skim milk obtained in subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph and the pounds of skim milk allocated to Class III pursuant to subdivision (iii) of this subparagraph.

(8) The total pounds of butterfat in Class III by (i) adding together the pounds of butterfat used in each of the several products of Class III; (ii) subtracting from the result obtained in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph the results obtained in subparagraphs (4) (i) and (6) of this paragraph and subdivision (i) of this subparagraph, which resulting amount shall be classified as follows: (a) that portion not in excess of 2 percent of total receipts of butterfat from producers shall be considered as plant shrinkage and classified as Class III, and (b) that portion in excess of 2 percent of total receipts of butterfat from producers shall be classified as Class I; and (iii) adding together the results obtained in subdivisions (i) and (ii) (a) of this subparagraph.

(f) Allocation of skim milk and butterfat classified. (1) The pounds of skim milk remaining in each class, for each handler, after making the following computations shall be the pounds allocated to milk received from producers, and shall be known as the "net pooled skim milk" in such class for such handler:

(i) Subtract from the total pounds of skim milk in Class III the plant shrinkage of skim milk in Class III, computed pursuant to paragraph (e) (7) (iii) (a) of this section;

(ii) Subtract from the remaining pounds of skim milk in each class, in series beginning with the lowest-priced available class, the pounds of skim milk received from other sources;

(iii) Subtract from the remaining pounds of skim milk in each class the pounds of skim milk received from other handlers and used in such class; and

(iv) Add to the remaining pounds of skim milk in Class III the amount subtracted pursuant to subdivision (i) of this subparagraph. If the remaining total pounds of skim milk in all classes exceed the total pounds of skim milk received from producers, subtract such excess from the remaining pounds of skim milk in each class in series beginning with the lowest-priced available class.

(2) Determine the pounds of butterfat to be allocated to milk received from producers in a manner similar to that prescribed in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph for skim milk (except that the reference paragraph (e) (8) (ii) (a) shall be substituted for the designated reference paragraph (e) (7) (iii) (a) set forth in subparagraph (1) (i) of this paragraph). The resulting pounds of butterfat in each class shall be known as the "net pooled butterfat" in such class.

(g) Announcement of utilization of skim milk and butterfat. The market administrator may from time to time as conditions in the market warrant:

(1) Obtain reports in the manner and on forms prescribed by him from handlers with respect to their receipts and utilization of skim milk and butterfat; and

(2) Publicly announce (i) the name of each handler whose receipts of skim milk or butterfat in milk received from producers are more than 105 percent of his utilization of skim milk or butterfat, respectively, in Class I milk, computed in the manner prescribed in subparagraphs (3) and (4) of paragraph (e) of this section, (ii) the name of each handler whose receipts of skim milk or butterfat in milk received from producers is less than 95 percent of his utilization of skim milk or butterfat, respectively, in Class I milk, computed in the manner prescribed in subparagraphs (3) and (4) of paragraph (e) of this section, and (iii) the percent that the total receipts of skim milk and butterfat in milk received from producers is of the utilization of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, by all handlers, in Class I (determined in accordance with subparagraphs (1), (2), and (3) of paragraph (b) of this section).

§ 942.5 Minimum prices—(a) Basic formula price to be used in determining Class I and Class II prices. The basic formula price per hundredweight of milk to be used in determining the Class I and Class II prices set forth in this section shall be the highest of the prices computed pursuant to subparagraphs (1), (2), and (3) of this paragraph.

(1) To the average of the basic (or field) prices per hundredweight reported to have been paid, or to be paid, for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content received during the delivery period at the following plants or places for which prices have been reported to the market administrator or to the United States Department of Agriculture by the companies listed below:

(i) To the basic formula price add $0.85 for the delivery periods of April through July and $1.25 for the delivery periods of August through March: Provided, That from the effective date hereof to and including the delivery period of March, 1948, the amount to be added to the basic formula price shall be $1.25.

More than 110	−8.0

(3) The market administrator shall from time to time determine and publicly announce the freight zone location of each plant of each handler, according to the railroad mileage distance between such country plant and the railroad terminal in New Orleans, or according to the highway mileage distance between such plant and the City Hall in New Orleans, whichever is shorter.

(4) For the purpose of this paragraph, the skim milk and butterfat which was classified as net pooled Class I skim milk and net pooled Class I butterfat during each delivery period shall be considered to have been first that skim milk and butterfat which was received from producers at such handler's plant located in the 0–20 mile zone, then that skim milk and butterfat which was received from producers at such handler's plant in series beginning with plants located in the freight zone nearest to New Orleans.

(c) Class II prices. Each handler shall pay producers, in the manner set forth in § 942.8, for skim milk and butterfat in milk purchased or received from them during each delivery period and classified as net pooled Class II skim milk and net pooled Class II butterfat, not less than the following prices per hundredweight:

(1) To the basic formula price add $0.35 for the delivery periods of April through July and $0.55 for the delivery periods of August through March: Provided, That from the effective date hereof to and including the delivery period of March, 1948, the amount to be added to the basic formula price shall be $0.55.

(d) Class III prices. Each handler shall pay producers, in the manner set forth in § 942.8, for skim milk and butterfat in milk purchased or received from them during each delivery period and classified as net pooled Class III skim milk and net pooled Class III butterfat, not less than the following prices per hundredweight:

(1) The price per hundredweight of skim milk shall be any plus amount resulting from the following computation: From the average of the carlot prices per pound for nonfat dry milk solids (not including that specifically designated animal feed), roller process, delivered at Chicago, as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture during the delivery period preceding that in which such skim milk was received, deduct 7 cents, and then multiply by 7.5.

(2) The price per hundredweight of butterfat shall be computed as follows: Multiply by 100 the average daily wholesale price per pound of 92-score butter in the Chicago market as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture during the delivery period preceding that in which such butterfat was received.

(e) Emergency price provisions. (1) Whenever the provisions hereof require the market administrator to use a specific price (or prices) for milk or any milk product for the purpose of determining class prices or for any other purpose, the market administrator shall add to the specified price the amount of any subsidy, or other similar payment, being made by any Federal agency in connection with the milk, or product, associated with the price specified: Provided, That if for any reason the price specified is not reported or published as indicated, the market administrator shall use the applicable maximum uniform price established by regulations of any Federal agency plus the amount of any such subsidy or other similar payment: Provided further, That if the specified price is not reported or published and there is no applicable maximum uniform price, or if the specified price is not reported or published and the Secretary determines that the market price is below the applicable maximum uniform price, the market administrator shall use a price determined by the Secretary to be equivalent to or comparable with the price specified.

(2) Whenever the Secretary finds and announces that the Class I and Class II prices computed for any delivery period pursuant to paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section are not in the public interest, the Class I and Class II prices for such delivery period shall be the same as the Class I and Class II prices for the previous delivery period.

§ 942.6 Application of provisions—(a) Exceptions. (1) Sections 942.5, 942.7, 942.8, and 942.9 shall not apply to any handler (i) whose sole source of supply is from other handlers (except producer-handlers) or (ii) who is a producer-handler pursuant to § 942.1 (m) as verified in the manner provided in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph.

(2) Producer-handlers shall furnish the market administrator for his verification evidence of their qualifications as such pursuant to § 942.1 (m).

(3) Milk received at the plant of a handler, the handling of which the Secretary determines to be subject to the pricing and payment provisions of any other Federal milk marketing agreement or order issued pursuant to the act for any fluid milk marketing area shall not be subject to the pricing and payment provisions in this part.

(b) Payment for excess skim milk or butterfat. If, after subtracting receipts from other sources, and from other handlers (including receipts in packaged form from producer-handlers), a handler has disposed of skim milk or butterfat in excess of the skim milk or butterfat which, on the basis of his reports, has been credited to his producers as having been purchased or received from them, the market administrator in computing the net pool obligation of such handler, pursuant to § 942.7 (a) shall add an amount equal to the value of such skim milk or butterfat in accordance with its value at the price for the class from which such skim milk or butterfat was subtracted pursuant to § 942.4 (f).

(c) Skim milk and butterfat disposed of by a producer-handler. A producer-handler shall be considered as a producer with respect to skim milk and butterfat disposed of in bulk as milk, skim milk, or cream to a handler (including another producer-handler), but as a handler with respect to skim milk and butterfat disposed of in packaged form to a handler (including another producer-handler).

§ 942.7 Determination of uniform price to producers—(a) Net pool obligation of handlers. The net pool obligation of each handler for skim milk and butterfat received from producers during each delivery period shall be a sum of money computed for such delivery period by the market administrator by: multiplying, respectively, the pounds of "net pooled skim milk" and "net pooled butterfat" in each class by the respective class prices, and adding, respectively, any amount pursuant to § 942.6 (b). The sum of the two amounts shall be such handler's total pool obligation.

(b) Computation of the uniform price. For each delivery period the market administrator shall compute the uniform price per hundredweight of skim milk, butterfat, and milk by:

(1) Combining the net pool obligations, computed pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, for skim milk and butterfat, respectively, of all handlers who reported pursuant to § 942.3 (a) for such delivery period, except those in default of payments pursuant to § 942.8 (a) (3) for the preceding delivery period.

(2) Adding, respectively, the amounts computed by multiplying, respectively, the total hundredweight of skim milk and butterfat received from producers at plants located in each freight zone farther from New Orleans than the 61–70 mile zone by the appropriate zone differential set forth in the schedule pursuant to § 942.5 (b) (2);

(3) Subtracting, respectively, the amounts computed by multiplying, respectively, the total hundredweight of skim milk and butterfat received from producers at plants located in each freight zone nearer New Orleans than the 61–70 mile zone by the appropriate zone differential set forth in the schedule pursuant to § 942.5 (b) (2);

(4) Adding, respectively, an amount equal to one-half the unobligated balance in the producer-settlement fund;

(5) Dividing, respectively, the resulting sums by the hundredweight of "net pooled skim milk" and "net pooled butterfat"; and

(6) Subtracting, respectively, not less than 4 cents nor more than 5 cents. The results shall be known, respectively, as the uniform price per hundredweight for (i) skim milk and (ii) butterfat purchased or received from producers at plants located in the 61–70 mile zone. The uniform price for milk containing 4.0 percent butterfat received from producers at plants located in the 61–70 mile zone shall be the sum of the values of 96 pounds of skim milk and 4 pounds of butterfat at the respective uniform prices.

(c) Butterfat differential. For each delivery period the market administrator shall compute to the nearest one-tenth cent a butterfat differential as follows: subtract from the uniform price per hundredweight of butterfat the uniform price per hundredweight of skim milk and divide the result by 1,000.

(d) Announcement of prices. (1) On or before the 6th day of each delivery period, the market administrator shall notify all handlers and make public announcement of the class prices for skim milk and butterfat received from producers during the current delivery period.

(2) On or before the 10th day of each delivery period the market administrator shall notify all handlers and make public announcement of the computations pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section, of the butterfat differential computed pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section, and of the uniform price per hundredweight of skim milk, butterfat, and milk containing 4.0 percent butterfat received from producers during the preceding delivery period.

(e) Computation of pool debits and pool credits. On or before the 10th day after the end of each delivery period the market administrator shall:

(1) Compute the amount by which the sum of each handler's net pool obligations for skim milk and butterfat is greater or less than the amount computed for payment to producers by such handler pursuant to § 942.8 (a) (1) and (2), including the location adjustment to be made pursuant to § 942.8 (b). This amount shall be known as such handler's pool debit or pool credit, as the case may be, and shall be entered upon such handler's account.

(2) Notify each handler of the amount of such handler's (i) net pool obligation and (ii) pool debit or pool credit.

§ 942.8 Payment for milk—(a) Payments to producers. The amount of each handler's total pool obligation shall be distributed among producers in the following manner:

(1) On or before the last day of each delivery period, each handler shall make payment to each producer at not less than $3 per hundredweight for the milk received from each producer during the first 15 days of such delivery period.

(2) On or before the 15th day of each delivery period, each handler shall make payment to each producer for milk received from such producer during the preceding delivery period at not less than the uniform price for milk containing 4 percent butterfat announced pursuant to § 942.7 (d), adjusted as follows: if the average butterfat content of the milk received from any producer varies from 4 percent subtract for each one-tenth of 1 percent that the average butterfat content of such milk is less than 4 percent, or add for each one-tenth of 1 percent that the average butterfat content of such milk is more than 4 percent, an amount equal to the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 942.7 (c): Provided, That if by such date such handler has not received full payment for such delivery period pursuant to subparagraph (4) of this paragraph, he shall not be deemed to be in violation of this subparagraph if he reduces uniformly for all producers his payment per hundredweight by a total amount not in excess of the reduction in payment from the market administrator; however, the handler shall make such balance of payment to those producers to whom it is due on or before the date for making payments pursuant to this subparagraph next following that on which such balance of payment is received from the market administrator.

(3) On or before the 12th day of each delivery period, each handler shall pay to the market administrator for payment to producers through the producer-settlement fund the amount of such handler's pool debit for the previous delivery period.

(4) On or before the 15th day of each delivery period, the market administrator shall pay from the producer-settlement fund to each handler for payment to producers the amount of such handler's pool credit for the previous delivery period. If at such time the balance in the producer-settlement fund is insufficient to make all payments pursuant to this subparagraph, the market administrator shall reduce uniformly such payments and shall complete such payments as soon as the necessary funds are available: Provided, That the market administrator may offset any such payment due to any handler against payments due from such handler.

(b) Location differentials. Each handler, in making the payments prescribed in paragraph (a) of this section, shall adjust the uniform price with respect to all skim milk and butterfat received from each producer at such handler's plant not located in the 61–70 mile zone by the amount per hundredweight specified in the table pursuant to § 942.5 (b) (2).

(c) Producer-settlement fund. The market administrator shall establish and maintain a separate fund known as the "producer-settlement fund" into which he shall deposit all payments made by handlers pursuant to paragraphs (a) (3) and (d) of this section and out of which he shall make all payments to handlers pursuant to paragraphs (a) (4) and (d) of this section.

(d) Adjustment of errors in payments. Whenever verification by the market administrator of reports or payments of any handler discloses errors in payments to the producer-settlement fund made pursuant to paragraph (a) (3) of this section, the market administrator shall promptly bill such handler for any unpaid amount and such handler shall, within 5 days of such billing, make payment to the market administrator of the amount so billed. Whenever verification discloses that payment is due from the market administrator to any handler pursuant to paragraph (a) (4) of this section, the market administrator shall, within 5 days, make such payment to such handler: Provided, That the market administrator may offset any such payment to any handler against payments due from such handler. Whenever verification by the market administrator of the payment by a handler to any producer discloses payment to such producer of an amount which is less than is required by this section, the handler shall make up such payment to the producer not later than the time of making payment to producers next following such disclosure.

(e) Adjustment of overdue accounts. Any balance due pursuant to this section to or from the market administrator on the 25th day of any month, for which remittance has not been received in, or paid from, his office by the close of business on that day, shall be increased one-half of 1 percent, effective the 26th day of each month.

§ 942.9 Expense of administration. As his pro rata share of the expense of administration hereof, each handler shall pay to the market administrator, on or before the 15th day after the end of each delivery period, 4 cents per hundredweight, or such lesser amount as the Secretary may from time to time prescribe, to be announced by the market administrator on or before the 10th day after the end of such delivery period, with respect to all skim milk and butterfat purchased or received by such handler, during such delivery period, from producers, including that received from such handler's own farm production.

§ 942.10 Effective time, suspension, or termination—(a) Effective time. The provisions in this part, or any amendment hereto, shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may declare and shall continue in force until suspended, or terminated, pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) Suspension or termination. Any or all of the provisions in this part, or any amendment hereto, may be suspended or terminated as to any or all handlers after such reasonable notice as the Secretary shall give and shall, in any event, terminate whenever the provisions of the act cease to be in effect.

(c) Continuing power and duty of the market administrator. (1) If, upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions in this part, are any obligations arising hereunder the final accrual or ascertainment of which requires further acts by any handler, by the market administrator, or by any other person, the power and duty to perform such further acts shall continue notwithstanding such suspension or termination: Provided, That any such acts required to be performed by the market administrator shall, if the Secretary so directs, be performed by such other person, persons, or agency as the Secretary may designate.

(2) The market administrator, or such other person as the Secretary may designate, shall (i) continue in such capacity until removed, (ii) from time to time account for all receipts and disbursements and when so directed by the Secretary deliver all funds on hand, together with the books and records of the market administrator, or such person, to such person as the Secretary shall direct, and (iii) if so directed by the Secretary execute assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to vest in such person full title to all funds, property, and claims vested in the market administrator or such person pursuant thereto.

(d) Liquidation after suspension or termination. Upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions in this part, the market administrator, or such person as the Secretary may designate, shall, if so directed by the Secretary, liquidate the business of the market administrator's office, and dispose of all funds and property then in his possession or under his control, together with claims for any funds which are unpaid or owing at the time of such suspension or termination. Any funds collected pursuant to the provisions in this part, over and above the amounts necessary to meet outstanding obligations and the expenses necessarily incurred by the market administrator or such person in liquidating such funds, shall be distributed to the contributing handlers and producers in an equitable manner.

§ 942.11 Liability of handlers. The liability of the handlers hereunder is several and not joint, and no handler shall be liable for the default of any other handler.

§ 942.12 Agents. The Secretary may, by designation in writing, name any officer or employee of the United States to act as his agent or representative in connection with any of the provisions in this part.

§ 942.13 Separability of provisions. If any provision in this part, or its application to any person or circumstance, is held invalid, the application of such provision and of the remaining provisions in this part to other persons or circumstances shall not be affected thereby.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 22d day of May 1947, to be effective on and after the 1st day of June 1947.

Secretary of Agriculture.

TITLE 9—ANIMALS AND ANIMAL PRODUCTS

Chapter I—Bureau of Animal Industry, Department of Agriculture

PART 131—ANTI-HOG-CHOLERA SERUM AND HOG-CHOLERA VIRUS

DETERMINATION RELATIVE TO BUDGET OF EXPENSES AND FIXING RATES OF ASSESSMENT FOR THE CALENDAR YEAR 1947

On April 30, 1947, a notice of proposed rule making was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (12 F. R. 2809) regarding the budget of expenses and the fixing of the rates of assessment for the calendar year 1947 under the marketing agreement and the marketing order (9 CFR 131.1 et seq.), regulating the handling of anti-hog-cholera serum and hog-cholera virus. This regulatory program is effective pusuant to Public Law No. 320, 74th Congress, approved August 24, 1935 (7 U. S. C. 851 et seq.). After consideration of all relevant matters presented, including the proposals set forth in the aforesaid notice, it is hereby found and determined that:

[1] See F. R. Doc. 47-5314, infra.

§ 131.101 Budget of expenses and rates of assessment for the calendar year 1947—(a) Budget of expenses. The expenses which will necessarily be incurred by the control agency, established pursuant to the provisions of the marketing agreement and of the marketing order (9 CFR 131.1 et seq.), for the maintenance and functioning of said control agency during the calendar year 1947, will amount to $31,525, from which shall be deducted the unexpended balance of $4,269.77 on hand with said control agency on January 1, 1947, from assessments collected during the calendar year 1946, leaving a balance of $27,255.23 to be collected during the calendar year 1947.

(b) Rates of assessment. Of the amount of $27,255.23 to be collected during the calendar year 1947, the sum of $26,255.23 shall be assessed against handlers who are manufacturers, and $1,000 shall be assessed against handlers who, as distributors, market their products principally through veterinarians or other channels. The pro rata share of the expenses of the control agency to be paid for the calendar year 1947 by each handler who is a manufacturer shall be $17.45 per million cubic centimeters (determined by the nearest whole number) of hyperimmune blood collected by such handler during the calendar year 1946; and the pro rata share of such expenses to be paid for the calendar year 1947 by each handler who, as a distributor, markets his products principally through veterinarians or other channels shall be $2.25 per million cubic centimeters (determined by the nearest whole number) of serum sold by such handler during the calendar year 1946. Such assessments shall be paid by each respective handler in accordance with the applicable provisions of the marketing agreement and the marketing order.

(c) Terms. As used in this section, the terms "handler", "manufacturer", "distributor", and "serum" shall have the same meaning as is given to each such term in said marketing agreement and marketing order.

(d) Findings relative to effective date. Compliance with the effective date requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237; Pub. Law 404, 79th Cong., 2d Sess.) is impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest, in that (1) the fiscal year of the control agency established pursuant to the provisions of the marketing agreement and the marketing order corresponds to the calendar year, and the current calendar year 1947 is already well advanced; (2) the expenses of operating this regulatory program since January 1, 1947, have been paid with funds representing assessments collected in excess of expenses incurred during the calendar year 1946; (3) all such funds have already been expended; and (4) in order for the administrative assessments to be collected, it is essential that the specification of the assessment rates be issued immediately so as to enable the control agency to perform its respective duties and functions under the aforesaid marketing agreement and marketing order. (2) The Federal Public Housing Authority (through the Federal Public Housing Commissioner or his designated representatives) is hereby authorized (i) to approve maximum rents for dwellings, in accordance with the Housing Permit Regulation, where that regulation provides that applications to have maximum rents approved may be filed with appropriate Regional Offices of the Federal Public Housing Authority, and (ii) to approve or deny, in accordance with the Housing Permit Regulation, Housing Expediter Priorities Regulation 5, and Priorities Regulation 33, appeals and changes in applications which those regulations authorize to be filed with appropriate Regional Offices of the Federal Public Housing Authority.

(3) The Director of the Technical Office of the Office of the Administrator of the National Housing Agency is hereby authorized to approve or deny, in accordance with the Housing Permit Regulation, Housing Expediter Priorities Regulation 5, and Priorities Regulation 33, appeals and changes in applications which those regulations authorize to be filed with the Technical Office.

(4) The Federal Housing Administration and the Federal Public Housing Authority shall furnish the Housing Expediter with copies of approved applications and with such reports and other information as may be requested. All general instructions and operating procedures to be issued under the delegations in the paragraph shall be submitted to the Housing Expediter for prior approval.

(c) Prior delegations continue in effect. Any delegation heretofore made in connection with Housing Expediter Priorities Regulation 5 or Priorities Regulation 33 shall continue in full force and effect with respect to any civil action or criminal prosecution heretofore initiated pursuant to such prior delegation.

This section, as amended, shall become effective June 1, 1947.

[Priorities Reg. 1, as Amended Mar. 4, 1947, Amdt. 1]

PART 803—PRIORITIES REGULATIONS UNDER VETERANS' EMERGENCY HOUSING ACT OF 1946

Section 803.10 Priorities Regulation 1 (formerly §§ 944.1 through 944.20) is amended in the following respects:

1. Redesignate §§ 944.1 through 944.5 as paragraphs (a) through (f) of § 803.10.

2. After the new paragraph (f), insert new paragraphs (g) and (h) to read as follows:

(g) Status of certain ratings. All AAA, MM and CC ratings expired on March 31, 1947, except where such ratings were for construction items on Schedule A to PR-33 (exclusive of any such construction items indicated under "Steel" on List B to PR-3). Any AAA, MM or CC rated order which had been properly re-rated RR or RRR before April 1, 1947, shall be treated by the person with whom the order was placed as if it had carried the new rating at the time the original rated order was received by him.

(h) Export certificates issued by the Office of Materials Distribution. In carrying out its functions under the First Decontrol Act of 1947, the Office of Materials Distribution of the Department of Commerce may issue "export preference certificates," which permit authorized persons to place "certified orders" for export purposes. As provided in Allocations Regulation 2 of the Office of Materials Distribution, an order bearing an export preference certification is equal in precedence to an order bearing a RR (or CC) preference rating, unless otherwise directed in writing by the Office of Materials Distribution of the Department of Commerce.

3. Redesignate §§ 944.6 through 944.14a as paragraphs (i) through (t) of § 803.10.

4. After the new paragraph (t), insert a new paragraph (u) to read as follows:

(u) Transfers of rights under rated or certified orders. No person may transfer to another a right to place, or receive delivery on, a rated or certified order authorized under OHE regulations or orders.

5. Redesignate §§ 944.15 and 944.16 as paragraphs (v) and (w) of § 803.10.

6. Redesignate § 944.17 as paragraph (x) of § 803.10, and amend it to read as follows:

(x) Reports. Every person shall execute and file with the OHE such reports and questionnaires as it shall from time to time require, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget, pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942. These reports may be required in connection with OHE regulations or orders or may call for information not required under a specific regulation or order.

7. After the new paragraph (x), insert a new paragraph (y) to read as follows:

(y) Reproduction of regulations and forms. Any person may reproduce any OHE regulations or forms. Reproduction may be by any process. Forms reproduced for filing with the Office of the Housing Expediter or its representatives must be exactly like the officially published forms as to paper size, format, and arrangement of paragraphs or tables on each page. The paper color must be approximately the same as the official copy.

8. Redesignate §§ 944.18 through 944.20 as paragraphs (z) through (bb) of § 803.10.

PART 803—PRIORITIES REGULATIONS UNDER VETERANS' EMERGENCY HOUSING ACT OF 1946

Section 803.11 Priorities Regulation 3 (formerly § 944.23) is amended in the following respects:

1. A new paragraph (d-2) is added following paragraph (d-1), to read as follows:

(d-2) Extendability of HH Ratings. HH ratings shall be extended only in accordance with the provisions of Schedule B to Priorities Regulation 33.

2. The introductory text of paragraph (e) starting with "Because of" through "as follows" is deleted.

3. A new paragraph (e) (4) is added following paragraph (e) (3) to read as follows:

(4) Special rules: List B. A preference rating shall not be used to obtain a product in Column I of List B if such use is prohibited by the special rules shown opposite the product in Column II.

4. The following items are added to List A:

Gypsum liner paper
Phenolic resin molding compounds

5. A new List B is added following List A, to read as follows:

LIST B

A preference rating shall not be used to obtain a product in Column I if such use is prohibited by the special rules shown opposite the product in Column II.

Products (I)	Special Rules (II)
Construction machinery of the following types: (i) Construction equipment, tractor mounted. (ii) Construction machinery, specialized. (iii) Construction material mixers, pavers, spreaders and related equipment. (iv) Construction material processing equipment. (v) Power cranes, derricks, draglines, dredges, shovels and related equipment. (vi) Scrapers, maintainers and graders. (vii) Contractors' elevating winches and hoists. (viii) Earth, rock and water well drilling and boring machinery. (ix) Tracklaying tractors.	No dealer, distributor or branch sales office of a producer shall extend an RR rating to a producer. "Producer" means any person to the extent he is engaged in the manufacture of construction machinery; it does not include a branch sales office of a producer. A producer shall treat as unrated any orders bearing RR ratings which he receives from dealers, distributors or branch sales office. Also, any producer who regularly sells a given type or types of construction machinery only through dealers, distributors or branch sales offices, either for all sales or for sales in a particular territory, may reject any RR rated orders for those types. A dealer, distributor or branch sales office must treat an RR rated order according to the rules of Priorities Regulation 1, irrespective of the fact that it may be his practice to have the producer ship an item direct to his customer. No distributor or dealer shall extend an RR rating for trucks. No person shall use an RR rating except to purchase new trucks from a distributor or dealer. Ordinarily, an RR rating for a truck will be assigned only to a producer of a critical building product who is eligible under Priorities Regulation 28.
Trucks (This means any new light, medium, or heavy motor truck, truck-tractor or the chassis therefor, or any chassis on which a bus body is to be mounted and which (1) was designed to be propelled or drawn by mechanical power; (2) was designed for use on or off-the-highway, for transportation of property or persons. This definition includes vehicles of the following types: trucks, truck chassis, truck tractors, off-the-highway motor vehicles, bus chassis, carry-all suburbans, sedan deliveries and cab pickups, but does not include station wagons, coupes fitted with pickup boxes, ambulances, hearses, taxicabs and integral type busses.)
Pig Iron.	No person shall apply or extend a preference rating to obtain pig iron. This does not affect the validity of any certified order placed in accordance with Direction 25 to PR-28. No person shall apply or extend an AAA, RRR, RR, MM or CC rating to obtain any of the forms and shapes of steel shown in Column I. This does not affect the validity of an outstanding HH rated order for any steel item on Schedule A to PR-33.
Steel, in the following forms and shapes: Bars, Cold-Finished. Bars, Hot-Rolled or Forged. Ingots, Billets, Blooms, Slabs, Die Blocks, Tube Rounds, Sheet Bars, Tin Bar, and Skelp. Pipe, including Threaded Couplings of the type normally supplied for Threaded Pipe. Plates, all Plates (including Rolled Armored Plate in the form and shape to which it is rolled by the Steel Mill and prior to any subsequent fabrication), and including Nickel Clad and Stainless Clad. Rail and Track Accessories. Sheet and Strip. Steel Castings (rough as cast). Steel Forgings (rough as forged). Structural Shapes and Piling. Tinplate, Terneplate, and Tin Mill Black Plate. Tubing. Wheels, Tires, and Axles. Wire Rods, Wire and Wire Products.

NOTE: The following regulation and directions are being revoked simultaneously with the issuance of this amendment:

§ 806.1 Automatic authorization for housing—(a) What this section provides. This section of the Code of Federal Regulations, § 806.1, is called the "Housing Permit Regulation." It is issued in accordance with the Veterans' Emergency Housing Program for 1947.

NOTE: When the term "this section" is used in this Housing Permit Regulation, it means this entire regulation and not just a part of it. The regulation is divided into paragraphs marked with small letters; these are divided into subparagraphs marked with numbers.

Anyone who wished to construct housing accommodations was formerly required to file an application under this section and get a construction permit before beginning construction. However, after this amendment of June 1, it is no longer necessary to file an application, and no specific permit is issued. If you are in one of the eligible classes automatically authorized under this section, and wish to construct housing accommodations of the kind permitted under this section, you may begin such construction immediately.

This section explains:

(i) Who is authorized to construct housing accommodations.

(ii) What kind of housing accommodations may be constructed.

(iii) The conditions imposed on a person constructing housing accommodations under this section (and on succeeding owners) as long as this section is in effect.

(iv) How a person who wishes to offer new housing accommodations for rent shall obtain approval of a maximum rent.

This section also applies to persons who wish to repair, make additions to, alter, install fixtures in, improve, or convert housing accommodations.

(b) Effect on previous authorizations. The effect of this section on authorizations already granted for housing construction is explained below:

(1) Effect on approved priority applications. This section does not affect applications or housing accommodations already approved under Priorities Regulation 33 or Housing Expediter Priorities Regulation 5. For this reason, this amendment of June 1 does not authorize you to do any additional construction in connection with housing accommodations already specifically authorized under PR–33 or HEPR–5. If you wish to request any changes in an application approved under one of those regulations, you must make the request in accordance with PR–33 or HEPR–5, whichever is applicable.

(2) Effect of June 1 amendment on permits previously issued under HPR. Any person to whom a construction permit has previously been issued under this section remains subject to the conditions and limitations imposed upon him by the section prior to this amendment of June 1, 1947.

However, if a particular provision of this section as amended June 1 is less restrictive than the corresponding provision before the amendment, the less restrictive provision applies. Thus, if you hold a construction permit issued before June 1, you are now authorized to do any construction, in connection with the dwellings covered by such permits, which would be authorized under the provisions of this section as amended June 1, 1947. This includes increasing the floor area to not more than 2,000 square feet, and installing additional bathroom fixtures (see paragraph (h) of this section). Construction permits previously issued under this section are considered to be amended to the extent necessary to permit such additional construction.

(c) Construction covered. This paragraph lists the kinds of construction, alteration or repair which are covered by this section (unless exempt as explained in paragraph (d) (2) of this section).

This section is the regulation which will tell you in what cases these kinds of work are authorized. They are automatically authorized under this section only if the builder and the construction qualify under paragraphs (e) through (h) of this section. If you have any questions about federal control of these kinds of construction under the Veterans' Emergency Housing Program, you should submit them to the Federal Housing Administration or Federal Public Housing Authority, not to the OHE District Construction Offices.

(1) Construction of residential buildings. The construction of any building in which 75% or more of the floor space involved is to be used for residential purposes (except where the purpose is primarily for the accommodation of transients or overnight guests).

This includes dining halls, and other essential residential accommodations, used entirely as part of single-person accommodations (such as a dormitory) covered by an automatic authorization under this section. It also includes farm houses and other farm living accommodations, and bunkhouses for transitory farm labor.

However, this does not include hotels or tourist camps primarily for transients and overnight guests, nor does it include summer or winter camps. Housing of the War and Navy Departments is also not included.

(2) Construction of subsidiary residential structures. The construction of a subsidiary structure (such as a private garage, tool shed, greenhouse, fence, or the like) used for residential purposes in connection with any building of the kind covered by subparagraph (1) of this paragraph.

(3) Additions, alterations and repairs. Additions, alterations, or repairs to a building of the kind covered by subparagraph (1) or (2) of this paragraph, if 75% or more of the floor area involved in the additions, alterations, or repairs will be used for residential purposes.

(d) Construction not covered. The following rules relate to construction not covered by this section:

(1) Non-housing construction. Applications for specific authorization to begin construction (including alterations or repairs) not covered by this section shall be made in accordance with Veterans' Housing Program Order 1 and its directions and supplements (unless the construction is exempt under the terms of those regulations). Such applications shall be filed with the appropriate OHE District Construction Office.

(2) Exempt construction. Certain small construction jobs are exempt from the restrictions of Veterans' Housing Program Order 1, and therefore are exempt from this section. As provided in Supplement 3 to VHP–1, the small job allowance for any individual house designed for occupancy by five families or less is $1000 per structure. Therefore, even though you do not qualify under this section for an automatic authorization to do a larger construction job, you may begin any job on such an individual house if the cost of the job is not more than $1000.

AUTHORIZATIONS

(e) Automatic authorization for dwellings. Authorization to construct housing accommodations under this section is hereby granted to the persons listed in this paragraph (e). If you fall in one of these classes, you are not required to file an application, and may begin work of the specified kind immediately. However, the work must meet the construction requirements of paragraph (h) of this section.

(1) Veteran. Any veteran may build, complete, alter, or repair a family dwelling (or convert a dwelling or other structure into a family dwelling) for his occupancy as owner.

The total cost of any alteration and repair under this subparagraph (1) and any construction, alteration, and repair of subsidiary structures under paragraph (f) (1) of this section may not exceed $10,000. This limitation does not apply in the case of an additional dwelling resulting from conversion.

(2) Builder for veterans. Any person may build or complete one or more family dwellings (or convert dwellings or other structures into family dwellings) to which veterans will be given preference in selling or renting as provided in this section. Any builder, although not a veteran, may initially occupy a dwelling in two-family or multiple-family housing accommodations owned by him and constructed under this section.

(3) Non-veteran building for own occupancy. Any person may build a family dwelling (or convert a dwelling or other structure into a family dwelling) for his occupancy as owner.

NOTE: A non-veteran may repair an existing dwelling for his own occupancy only in accordance with subparagraph (4) or (5) of this paragraph, or in accordance with the small job allowance of Supplement 3 to VHP–1.

(4) Disaster. Any person may reconstruct (or build on another site, in event of total destruction) or repair a dwelling destroyed or damaged by fire, flood, tornado, or other similar disaster. Such a person is authorized only if the reconstruction or repair is necessary to the continuance of year-round occupancy by him or his tenant. Construction or repair under this subparagraph (4) must be started not later than 6 months after such destruction or damage.

(5) Repairs or alterations to make a dwelling habitable or to provide space for additional persons. Any person may make repairs or alterations to a dwelling necessary in order (i) to maintain it in a habitable condition or to return it to a habitable condition, or (ii) to make a summer home habitable for winter occupancy by a veteran, or (iii) to provide space for additional persons who are either veterans or members of the immediate family of the owner.

If space for additional persons is provided under subdivision (iii) of this subparagraph, the cost of the construction shall not exceed $1500 per person. In the event that such additional space is vacated, the builder or a subsequent owner or other person must not, while this section is in effect, rent it to any person other than a member of his immediate family or a veteran unless it has been publicly offered for rent to veterans for at least 30 days on the same or more favorable terms.

(6) Housing for student veterans. Any educational institution (or any person under its sponsorship) or any public organization may construct, repair, or alter a dormitory or other single-person housing facility (or repair or alter any family dwelling) for student veterans.

No single-person housing facilities or family dwellings may be constructed under this subparagraph (6) if the maximum rent to be charged is more than the amount charged for comparable accommodations in the area.

Before starting construction under this subparagraph (6), a person under the sponsorship of an educational institution must obtain a letter from that institution which (i) requests that the person sponsored construct a certain number of units for student occupancy, (ii) states that there is not a sufficient number of available rooms in the community for its student veterans, and (iii) represents that the institution will refer student veterans to the proposed accommodations as long as this section is in effect. He must keep this letter on file for at least 2 years after construction is begun.

Accommodations provided by persons under the sponsorship of an educational institution must be made available during the institution's school year only to student veterans and their dependents referred by the institution.

NOTE: For the purposes of this section, dwellings constructed, altered or repaired under former paragraph (c) of this section are deemed to be constructed, altered or repaired under the corresponding subparagraph of paragraph (e) of this section as amended June 1, 1947. However, this does not apply to former paragraph (c) (7).

(f) Automatic authorization for subsidiary residential structures. Authorization to construct subsidiary residential structures (such as private garages, fences, etc.) under this section is hereby granted to the persons listed in this paragraph (f).

(1) Veteran. Any veteran may build, complete, alter, or repair the following kinds of subsidiary residential structures in connection with his family dwelling: (i) Sanitary facilities, (ii) private garage, (iii) tool shed, and (iv) walls and fences. The family dwelling may be an existing dwelling or one being newly constructed.

The total cost of any construction, alteration and repair under this subparagraph (1) and any alteration and repair under paragraph (e) (1) of this section may not exceed $10,000. This limitation does not apply in the case of an additional dwelling resulting from conversion.

(2) Non-veteran constructing in connection with new dwelling. Any person authorized under paragraphs (e) (2) through (e) (6) of this section to construct a new dwelling may also construct the following kinds of subsidiary residential structures in connection with the new dwelling: (i) Sanitary facilities, (ii) private garage, (iii) tool shed, and (iv) walls and fences. This does not apply to conversions. In connection with the construction of the new dwelling he may not construct a greenhouse, swimming pool, or any other subsidiary residential structure except these four kinds.

A non-veteran is not given authorization by this section to construct, alter, or repair subsidiary structures of any kind in connection with his existing dwelling. However, if the cost of such work is not over $1000, it may come under the small job allowance referred to in paragraph (d) (2) of this section.

(3) Housing for student veterans. Any person authorized under paragraph (e) (6) of this section to construct a "single-person housing facility" may also construct separate dining halls and other essential residential accommodations to be used entirely as a part of the facility.

(g) May not add small job allowance. No person who is given an authorization under paragraph (e) or (f) of this section may, in connection with the job authorized, do any additional work under the small job allowance provided by Supplement 3 to Veterans' Housing Program Order 1.

For example, if a non-veteran undertakes repairs to his house which are needed to keep it habitable (under paragraph (c) (5) of this section), he is not allowed in connection with that job to do additional work under the $1000 small job allowance.

CONSTRUCTION

(h) Construction limitations. All work done under this section must comply with the following construction limitations:

(1) Suitability for year-round occupancy. No person shall build or convert any housing accommodations under this section except accommodations which are suitable and intended for year-round occupancy.

(2) Maximum floor area. No person shall build or convert any housing accommodations under this section in which the total calculated floor area of any dwelling unit exceeds 2000 square feet.

"Calculated floor area" comprises the square foot area of spaces above basement or foundation including utility rooms, vestibules, halls, closets, stair wells and interior chimneys and fireplaces. However, in the case of a house without a basement, a maximum of 150 square feet of the floor area of a utility room may be excluded from the calculated floor area. Calculated floor area does not include garages, unfinished attics, open porches, attached terraces, balconies and projecting fireplaces or chimneys outside the exterior walls. Measurements are taken to the outside surfaces of exterior walls. In a half story, measurements are taken to the outside surfaces of exterior walls or partitions enclosing the areas, but any area where the ceiling height is less than five feet is not included.

(3) Plans and specifications for rental housing. Any person who has submitted plans and outline specifications on the basis of which a maximum rent or maximum shelter rent was approved under this section must construct the housing accommodations in accordance with those plans and specifications, unless he submits new plans and specifications and has a new maximum rent and maximum shelter rent approved.

(i) Posting of placards or signs. When housing accommodations are constructed under paragraph (e) (2) or (e) (6) of this section, the builder must post either placards or signs as explained in this paragraph:

(1) Placards. Placards indicating that dwellings are being built for sale or rent to veterans under the Veterans' Emergency Housing Program are available at the State or District Offices of the Federal Housing Administration, and at the Regional Offices of the Federal Public Housing Authority. If the builder elects to post a placard or placards, the builder must obtain an appropriate placard (sale or rent, as the case may be) for each building constructed under paragraph (e) (2) or (e) (6) of this section.

He must post such a placard in a conspicuous location in front of each separate residential building within five days after the time construction is begun, and must continue to post the placard at least until completion of the building. In addition, unless all the accommodations in the building have been sold or rented to veterans, the builder must continue to post the placard for 60 days after completion of the building in the case of offer for sale, or 30 days afterwards in the case of offer for rent.

Rent placards contain a space for the maximum rent. In the case of dwellings offered for rent, the builder must legibly and permanently insert in this space the appropriate rent, not to exceed the maximum permitted under paragraphs (j) through (n) of this section. He must do this not later than the date on which construction of the dwellings is completed.

(2) Signs. If the builder elects to post a project sign in lieu of the placards, he must post a sign having the approximate dimensions of three by five feet (or greater) in a conspicuous location on the site of each project. In the case of a project comprised of only one dwelling, the sign need not meet these dimension requirements. Such a sign must contain the same information and be posted during the same period as is required under subparagraph (1) of this paragraph in the case of placards.

RENTS

(j) Applicability of rules on maximum rents. The restrictions on rents contained in paragraphs (j) through (n) of this section apply to all newly constructed dwellings built under this section for which a proposed maximum rent or maximum shelter rent must be stated under paragraph (k) of this section. They also apply to all newly constructed dwellings for which a proposed maximum rent or maximum shelter rent was required to be stated in an application upon which a construction permit was issued before June 1, 1947. These restrictions must be observed as long as this section is in effect.

(k) Maximum rents must be approved. If any person wishes to rent any newly constructed dwelling built under this section (except a dwelling built under paragraph (e) (4) of this section), he must have a maximum rent and maximum shelter rent approved for the dwelling as provided in this paragraph (k). (See paragraph (q) of this section for definitions of "dwelling," "maximum rent," and "maximum shelter rent.") In addition to dwellings built for rent, this applies to dwellings built for owner occupancy or for sale, if such dwellings are offered for rent without having been previously occupied.

(1) What to file. In order to get his rents approved, the person wishing to rent must submit plans and outline specifications, and a letter in triplicate stating his proposed maximum rent and maximum shelter rent for each new dwelling. In the case of family dwellings, he must state the proposed amounts for each family unit. In the case of single-person housing accommodations, he must state the proposed amounts to be charged each person. Any tenant services, and any garage space, for which a charge is proposed must be described separately.

NOTE: Newly constructed dwellings and dwellings resulting from conversions located in defense rental areas must be registered with the appropriate Area Rent Office in accordance with the rent regulations issued under the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. Maximum rents for dwellings resulting from conversions are not approved under this section, but will be established under those rent regulations.

(2) Where to file. This information must be filed with the appropriate State or District Office of the Federal Housing Administration, except that in the case of construction (whether under paragraph (e) (6) or other paragraph of this section) by educational institutions, persons under their sponsorship, or public organizations, the information must be filed with the appropriate Regional Office of the Federal Public Housing Authority. If the person who wishes to rent a new dwelling constructed under this section has already submitted the information required by this paragraph (k) in connection with an application for FHA mortgage insurance, he need not resubmit the information.

(3) When to file. Since a builder must know his maximum rent in order to comply with paragraph (i) of this section and to start the 30-day offering period running under paragraph (o) of this section, he should submit the required information at least 30 days before the estimated time of completion of the dwellings he is constructing.

(4) Notification by FHA or FPHA. Based on the information submitted, FHA or FPHA will notify the person in writing as to the maximum rent and maximum shelter rent which may be charged. In case the information was filed in connection with a mortgage insurance application, notification of the approved amounts will be sent to the builder by FHA at the same time that he is notified of the action taken on his application for mortgage insurance.

(5) Rents previously approved. Maximum rents and maximum shelter rents approved in connection with construction permits issued before June 1, 1947, shall be deemed to have been approved under this paragraph (k).

(l) Amounts which may be approved. No maximum shelter rent exceeding $80 per month may be approved for a dwelling under this section unless the average of all maximum shelter rents approved for dwellings in the project in which the dwelling is located is $80 per month or less.

As provided in paragraph (q) (3) of this section, the maximum rent for a dwelling may include, in addition to the maximum shelter rent, a charge for tenant services and a charge for garage space. However, the total charge for tenant services will not be approved if more than $3 per room per month. The charge for garage space will not be approved if more than $10 per month, and will be allowed only for dwellings in multiple-family housing accommodations.

Maximum rents and maximum shelter rents may be approved under this section only if they are reasonably related to the housing accommodations, the tenant services, and the garage space involved. However, approval of a proposed maximum rent or maximum shelter rent should not be considered as a representation by the processing agency that the rent represents the value of the dwelling for other purposes.

(m) Maximum rent not to be exceeded. No person shall rent any dwelling for which a maximum rent or maximum shelter rent has been approved under this section for more than the approved maximum rent or maximum shelter rent, respectively.

(n) Requests for increases. The following are the rules governing requests for increases in maximum rents or maximum shelter rents approved under this section:

(1) Because of increased costs. Before a dwelling is initially rented, a person may request an increase in his maximum rent or maximum shelter rent (whether approved before or after this amendment of June 1, 1947) on the grounds of an increase in his costs. Such request should be made by sending a letter in triplicate to the agency that originally established the maximum rent or maximum shelter rent.

The increase will not be approved unless it can be shown (i) that the owner has incurred additional or increased costs in the construction over which he had no control, and which could not reasonably have been anticipated by him at the time of the initial request for approval, or (ii) that he will incur additional or increased costs in operation over which he has no control. He must also show that these additional or increased costs of construction or operation will make it unreasonable to require him to rent at the amount previously approved. No increase in rent will be granted unless reasonably related to the increase in construction costs or the increase in operating costs.

PREFERENCE FOR VETERANS

(o) Veterans' preference for family dwellings. If a family dwelling built or converted under this section is being offered for sale or rent, the owner (whether the builder or any subsequent owner) or any other person must not sell, rent or otherwise dispose of it to any person other than a veteran unless he has publicly offered it for sale or rent, as the case may be, to veterans for their own occupancy.

In the case of sale, this offer must be made to veterans for at least 60 days (or during construction and for 60 days afterwards in the case of a builder under paragraph (e) (2) of this section). In the case of rent, this offer must be made to veterans for at least 30 days at not more than the maximum rent approved under paragraph (k) of this section (or during construction and for 30 days afterwards at not more than such approved maximum rent, in the case of a builder under paragraph (e) (2) or paragraph (e) (6) of this section).

A person who has built or converted a family dwelling for rent or sale under this section must, for these periods of time, publicly offer it for sale or for rent to veterans for their own occupancy.

No person may sell or rent or otherwise dispose of a dwelling built or converted under this section to a person other than a veteran on terms or at a price more favorable than offered to veterans during the time a public offering must be made to veterans under this paragraph (o).

However, this paragraph (o) does not apply to:

(i) Dwellings built in disaster cases under paragraph (e) (4) of this section;

(ii) The initial occupancy of a dwelling built or converted under this section for the occupancy of the builder or the continued occupancy of his tenant;

(iii) The occupancy of a dwelling in two-family or multiple-family housing accommodations by the owner of the entire structure;

(iv) Sales in the course of judicial or statutory proceedings in connection with foreclosures (sales subsequent to such judicial or statutory sales are subject to the provisions of this paragraph (o));

(v) Sales of multiple-family housing accommodations for investment purposes rather than for occupancy by the purchaser; or

(vi) The occupancy of a dwelling by a building service employee which does not exceed 15 percent of the residential floor space of the structure or project.

(p) Veterans preference for dormitories or other single-person housing facilities. A person who has built or converted a dormitory or other single-person housing facility under this section must make the accommodations available exclusively for veterans and their dependents otherwise eligible to occupy the housing accommodations. However, if an educational institution builds a dormitory under this section, it may make 40% of the accommodations in the dormitory available to non-veterans if it makes available to veterans an equivalent number of similar or better accommodations in other dormitories at rents not higher than the rents to be charged for the new dormitory accommodations. It may also make not more than 15 percent of the residential floor space of any dormitory or dormitory project available to building service employees.

DEFINITIONS

(q) Definitions. As used in this section:

An appeal shall be in the form of a letter in duplicate and should be filed with the appropriate local office of the Federal Housing Administration or the Federal Public Housing Authority, as indicated in paragraph (k) of this section. The letter must state clearly the specific provision of the section appealed from and the grounds for claiming an exceptional and unreasonable hardship.

It shall also be unlawful for any such person to condition a rental of any dwelling upon the purchase of, or agreement to purchase, any commodity, service or property interest, except tenant services and garage space included in the approved maximum rent, the rental of furniture or an investment interest in the housing accommodations.

The restrictions in paragraphs (o) and (p) of this section apply to the builder and subsequent owners of all housing accommodations constructed in violation of VHP–1. However, this does not relieve the builder of any penalty to which he may be subject by reason of the violation of VHP–1.

(2) Penalties. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this section and any person who knowingly makes any statement to any department or agency of the United States, false in any material respect, or who willfully conceals a material fact, in any description or statement required to be filed under this section, shall upon conviction thereof be subject to fine or imprisonment, or both. PART 809—VETERANS' HOUSING PROGRAM ORDERS

GENERAL RESTRICTIONS ON CONSTRUCTION AND REPAIRS

The Veterans' Emergency Housing Program calls for the construction of a large number of housing accommodations to meet the needs of returning veterans. There is a shortage in the supply of materials and facilities suitable for the construction and/or completion of housing accommodations in rural and urban areas and for the construction and repair of essential farm buildings. It will be impossible to carry out the Veterans' Emergency Housing Program without diverting these critical materials from deferrable or less essential construction. The following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to effectuate the purposes of the Veterans' Emergency Housing Act of 1946.

§ 809.1 Veterans' Housing Program Order 1—(a) What this order does. In order to carry out the Veterans' Emergency Housing Program, this order forbids the beginning of construction and repair work on buildings and certain other structures without specific authorization under paragraph (h) of the order or automatic authorization under the Housing Permit Regulation (12 F. R. 1082, 2027, 2120), with the exception of certain small jobs and other work covered by paragraphs (d), (e), and (f) of this order. The restrictions of the order apply whether or not the materials needed are on hand or are available without priorities assistance.

(b) Structures and work covered by this order—(1) Kind of structures. The restrictions of this order apply to certain kinds of work on structures.

As used in the order, "structure" means any of the following, whether of a temporary or permanent nature (See Interpretation 3 as to portable structures):

A building.
An arena, stadium or grandstand, including bleachers or similar seating arrangements.
A commercial amusement pier.
A boardwalk (not including wooden walks used in winter or bad weather).
A moving picture set.
A roller coaster or similar device of a kind ordinarily used in amusement parks.
A swimming pool.
A wall or fence built principally of wood.

The erection of stands or other structures which have been used before and are being erected only for a temporary purpose and are to be taken down after the temporary purpose is served is not covered by the order.

The term "structure" does not include any kind of equipment or furniture that is not attached to a building or other structure, whether or not it is inside a structure. Supplement 4 to VHP–1 contains examples of things which do not fall within the term "structure" as defined above.

(2) Kinds of work. The restrictions of this order apply to constructing, repairing, making additions or alterations (including alterations incidental to installing any kind of equipment), improving or converting structures, or installing or relocating fixtures or mechanical equipment in structures. These terms include any kind of work on a structure which involves the putting up or putting together of processed materials, products, fixtures or mechanical equipment, if the processed materials, products, fixtures or mechanical equipment are attached to a structure and used as a functional part of the structure, or are attached so firmly to the structure that removal would injure the material, product, fixture or mechanical equipment or the structure. However, the following kinds of work are not covered by the order:

Greasing, overhauling or repairing existing mechanical equipment or installing repair or replacement parts in existing mechanical equipment.
Sanding floors and sand blasting buildings.
Painting or papering an existing structure or applying waterproofing to an existing structure by painting or spraying where no work covered by the order is done in connection with the painting, papering or waterproofing.
Pointing bricks, sparkling plaster and caulking windows.
Installing loose fill, blanket, or batt insulation in existing buildings or installing insulation on existing equipment or piping.
Laying asphalt or other floor tile or linoleum or installing cork block insulation, in existing buildings (whether or not cemented to the building).

NOTE: The exemptions given above for work done in existing buildings does not apply to work done in connection with the original construction of the building or to work done in order to complete a building immediately after its original construction.

(3) Fixtures and mechanical equipment. In general the term "fixture" means any article attached to a building or structure and used as part of it and the term "mechanical equipment" means plumbing, heating, ventilating and lighting equipment which is attached to the building and used to operate it. Supplement 1 to VHP–1 contains lists of articles which are considered fixtures or mechanical equipment when attached to a structure in the manner described in that supplement and a list of other articles which are never considered fixtures or mechanical equipment.

(c) Prohibition on construction and repairs. (1) No person shall begin to construct, to repair, to make additions or alterations to, to improve, to convert from one purpose to another, or to install or to relocate fixtures or mechanical equipment in any structure, public or private, in the forty-eight States, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands or the Territory of Hawaii, except to the extent permitted under paragraphs (d), (e) and (f), or when and to the extent specifically authorized under paragraph (h) or automatically authorized under the Housing Permit Regulation. No person shall carry on or participate in any construction, repair work, addition, improvement, conversion, alteration, installation or relocation of fixtures or mechanical equipment prohibited by this order. The prohibitions of this paragraph apply to a person who does his own construction work, to a person who gets a contractor to do the work, to contractors, sub-contractors, architects and engineers working on a job which is being carried on in violation of this order or getting others to work on it or to supply materials for it.

(2) This order forbids the beginning of certain kinds of work. To "begin" work on a structure means to incorporate into a structure on the site materials which are to be an integral part of the structure in question. Demolition, excavation and similar site preparation do not constitute beginning construction. The order does not apply to work which was begun before the order became effective and which was being carried on on that date and which is carried on normally after that date. However, this rule only applies to the particular building or other structure begun at that time. It does not apply to any other building or structure which had not itself been begun by that date even though the two are closely related. Supplement 2 to this order contains further provisions concerning the effective date of the order and concerning the beginning of construction. It also contains examples of work which constitute beginning construction, and examples of other work which do not constitute beginning construction.

(d) Small job allowances. This order does not prohibit the performance of any separate construction, repair, alteration or installation job, the cost of which does not exceed the allowance given in Supplement 3 to VHP–1 for the particular kind of structure or job involved. Supplement 3 lists various kinds of structures and states what the small job allowance is for each kind of structure or job. Supplement 3 also contains provisions as to the method of calculating the cost of a job for the purpose of this exemption, and also provides when a job is a separate job.

(e) Exemption for repair and maintenance work in industrial, utility and transportation structures. The prohibitions of this order do not apply to maintenance and repair work in structures listed in paragraph (b) (3) of Supplement 3 to this order. For the purpose of the exemption given by this paragraph, "maintenance" means the minimum upkeep necessary to keep a structure in sound working condition and "repair" means the restoration of a structure to sound working condition when the structure has been rendered unsafe or unfit for service by wear and tear, damage, failure of parts, or the like. However, neither maintenance nor repair includes the improvement of any structure by replacing material which is still usable with material of a better kind, quality or design. Alterations to a building or other structure covered by paragraph (b) (3) of Supplement 3, including alterations incidental to installation of equipment, are not exempted by this paragraph, and may only be done when and to the extent permitted under Supplement 3 or when specifically authorized.

(f) Other exemptions—(1) Disasters. (i) The prohibitions of this order do not apply to the minimum work necessary to prevent more damage to a building or structure (or its contents) which has been damaged by flood, fire, tornado, or similar disaster. This does not include the restoration of the structure to its former condition.

(ii) The prohibitions of this order do not apply to the repair, rebuilding or reconstruction of any house (including a farmhouse) or any farm building which was destroyed or damaged by fire, flood, tornado or similar disaster, if the total cost of the repairs, rebuilding or reconstruction does not exceed $6,000 and if the reconstruction is started within sixty days of the occurrence of the disaster.

(2) Military construction. The prohibitions of this order do not apply to work by or for the account of the U. S. Army or Navy.

(3) Veterans' Administration. The prohibitions of this order do not apply to work on construction projects of the Veterans' Administration, including projects being built by the Corps of Engineers for the Veterans' Administration, or to the remodeling of a building or any part of a building which has been leased to the Veterans' Administration or to Public Buildings Administration for occupancy or use by the Veterans' Administration.

(g) Prohibited receipts and deliveries. No person shall accept an order for, sell, deliver or cause to be delivered materials which he knows or has reason to believe will be used in work prohibited by this order. Paragraph (d) (3) of Priorities Regulation 32 provides that no person may receive any material listed in Table I of that regulation for use in a construction project for which an authorization under VHP–1 is necessary unless an authorization for the project has already been obtained. Paragraph (c) of PR–32 contains a prohibition on deliveries made by a person who knows or has reason to believe that the receipt would be a violation of PR 32.

(h) Specific authorization. Persons who wish to begin housing construction work of the kind prohibited by this order should read the Housing Permit Regulation to determine whether they are eligible for automatic authorization under that regulation. Persons who wish to begin construction work of the kind prohibited by this order but not covered by the Housing Permit Regulation may apply for specific authorization as provided in Supplement 5 to this order. Supplement 5 states what forms should be used and where the applications should be filed. Applications for non-housing construction will be reviewed to determine whether they meet the standards set forth in Direction 3 to VHP–1.

The assignment of priorities assistance or the approval of housing accommodations under Priorities Regulation 33, whether before or after the time when this order became effective, or under Housing Expediter Priorities Regulation 5 or other applicable regulation of the Housing Expediter, constitutes an authorization under this order to do the work for which priorities assistance or approval was given.

(i) Construction under authorizations. The following rules govern construction authorized under this order:

(1) Specific authorization. When a person is specifically authorized, either by approval of Form CPA–4423 or Form OHE 14–171 (formerly CPA–4423) or Form CPA–4386 or otherwise, to do work restricted by this order, he must observe the restrictions imposed on him by the authorization, and in doing the authorized work, he must not do any work of the kinds covered by the order unless it is specifically covered by the authorization. He may not, in connection with a job which has been specifically authorized, do additional work under the exemption given by Supplement 3 to VHP–1.

When an application on Form CPA–4423 or Form OHE 14–171 (formerly CPA–4423) has been approved a placard will be sent to the applicant stating that the construction has been approved under this order. The applicant must place in the placard the project serial number and must set up the placard in front of the project site in a conspicuous location within five days after construction has been started and he must keep the placard there until completion of the work.

If for any reason a builder wishes to abandon a project and another builder wishes to continue it, the new builder should apply to the appropriate office, attaching to his application a letter from the former builder joining in the request for the issuance of the new authorization.

(2) Automatic HPR authorization. If a person is automatically authorized under the Housing Permit Regulation to do work restricted by this order, he must observe the restrictions imposed on him by the Housing Permit Regulation, and in doing the authorized work he must not do any other work of the kinds covered by this order which is not included in his automatic authorization. He may not, in connection with a job which has been automatically authorized under HPR, do additional work under the exemption given by Supplement 3 to VHP–1.

(3) Authorizations not transferrable. No person to whom an authorization under VHP–1 has been issued shall transfer the authorization.

(j) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using material under priorities control, and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(k) Communications. All communications concerning this order, except communications about applications for residential construction, should be addressed to the appropriate District Construction Office of the Office of the Housing Expediter or to the Office of the Housing Expediter, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: VHP–1.

(l) Reports. All persons affected by this regulation shall file such reports as may be requested by the Office of the Housing Expediter, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

INTERPRETATION 1: Revoked July 2, 1946

PROHIBITED DELIVERIES

(a) Paragraph (g) of VHP–1 provides as follows: "(g) Prohibited deliveries. No person shall accept an order for, sell, deliver or cause to be delivered materials which he knows or has reason to believe will be used in work prohibited by this order." Paragraph (c) of PR–32 provides as follows: "(c) Restrictions on delivery. No person may deliver any Table 1 material if he knows or has reason to believe that acceptance of the delivery would be in violation of this section."

(b) The purpose of paragraph (g) of VHP–1 and paragraph (c) of PR–32 is to prohibit the sale or delivery of materials by a supplier if he knows or has reason to believe that the materials supplied will be used in violation of VHP–1 or are for use in a job for which authorization under VHP–1 should, but has not, been obtained. These provisions do not impose on a fabricator or supplier any duty to investigate whether a proposed construction job for which he is asked to supply materials will be begun or carried on in violation of VHP–1, or whether it is specifically authorized or is exempt under that order. Mere knowledge that the kind of work involved is a kind which ordinarily would require authorization under the order does not constitute reason to believe that the work will be begun or carried on in violation of the order, and, in the absence of information to the contrary, the supplier may rely on the builder to get an authorization if authorization is required.

(c) Neither paragraph (g) of VHP–1 nor paragraph (c) of PR–32 requires a supplier to get from his customer a certificate to the effect that the customer is not violating and will not violate VHP–1, or a certificate to the effect that the job for which the materials will be used is exempt under the order or has been authorized under the order. (As amended April 30, 1947)

PORTABLE AND PREFABRICATED STRUCTURES

(a) The erection of a "portable" or prefabricated building or other structure is construction and is restricted by Veterans' Housing Program Order 1, if the structure is placed on a foundation constructed on the site, or if the structure is connected to the ground by plumbing, wiring or other utility connection, or if the structure is placed on the ground on a spot where it is intended to remain for an undetermined time.

(b) Erection of a "portable" or prefabricated structure is not construction and is not covered by VHP–1 only if the structure is placed on a temporary site for the purpose of moving it from time to time, without any foundation or other connection with the ground. For example, the erection of a shelter to be moved around frequently for use on different parts of a farm from time to time is not construction, while the erection of a prefabricated or "portable" structure for use as a garage on a house lot is construction, and is restricted by VHP–1.

(c) If the erection of a "portable" or prefabricated building constitutes construction, as indicated above, the cost of the job must be computed in accordance with Supplement 3 to VHP–1. If the cost of the job exceeds the applicable allowance under that supplement, authorization for the job must be obtained.

SMALL JOB ALLOWANCES FOR INDUSTRIAL UTILITY AND TRANSPORTATION STRUCTURES

(a) Paragraph (b) (3) of Supplement 3 to VHP-1 provides for small job allowances for certain industrial, utility and transportation structures. The small job allowance for one of these structures (with certain exceptions specified in the paragraph) depends upon the floor area which the particular structure has or will have. If the floor area of the particular building being built or altered is or will be 10,000 square feet or more, the allowance for alterations or additions or new construction is $15,000. On the other hand, if the floor area of the structure involved is and will be less than 10,000 square feet, the allowance is $2,500. If the cost of the proposed job, figured in accordance with paragraph (g) of Supplement 3, exceeds the small job allowance, authorization under VHP-1 must be obtained before starting the job.

(b) The following examples will explain the effect of this provision:

(1) A person proposes to construct a building to be used primarily as a factory. The floor area will be 1,500 square feet. The allowance for the job is $2,500.

(2) Any person owns a building which is used primarily as a factory and which has a floor area of 6,000 square feet. He proposes to make an alteration in the building. The allowance for this job is $2,500.

(3) A person owns a building which is used primarily for a factory and which has a floor area of 6,000 square feet. He proposes to build a wing on the building which will add 1,000 square feet, making a total of 7,000 square feet. The allowance for this job is $2,500.

(4) A person owns a building which is used primarily for a factory and which has a floor area of 8,000 square feet. He proposes to build a wing on the building which will add 2,000 square feet, making a total of 10,000 square feet. The allowance for this job is $15,000.

(5) A person owns a building which is used primarily for a factory and which has a floor area of 10,000 square feet or more. He proposes to make an alteration to the building. The allowance for this job is $15,000.

(6) A person proposes to build a building which will be used primarily for a factory and which will have a floor area of 10,000 square feet or more. The allowance for this job is $15,000.

(c) The floor area of the particular building which is to be built, in which the alteration is to be performed or to which the addition is to be built (including the floor area of any proposed addition) is the only floor area to be considered. The floor area of any other buildings may not be counted toward the 10,000 square feet, even though they are situated near to the building involved and are used for the same purpose.

(d) A building is considered a separate building from the one in which the construction is being done, if there are outside walls or party walls between the two buildings, even though the two are to be used for the same purpose, even though the two have common services, even though the two are connected by common roofs, continuous foundations, connecting passageways, covered passages, bridges, arcades or the like and even though the two have doorways or other openings providing for communication between the two buildings.

(e) The small job allowances provided in paragraph (b) (3) do not apply to structures of the kinds listed in paragraph (b) (4), and do not apply under the circumstances covered by paragraph (c) of Supplement 3. (As amended June 1, 1947.)

INTERPRETATION 5

WORK COVERED BY AUTHORIZATIONS: TEMPORARY CONSTRUCTION BUILDINGS

(a) When an authorization is issued for the construction of a building or other structure described in the approved application, the builder may construct temporary structures on the site of the approved project which are necessary for its construction. For example, an authorization for a building includes authorization to put up temporary fences around the excavation, and temporary buildings for the purpose of storing materials for use as work rooms for architects or engineers on the job or to provide toilet facilities or dressing rooms for people working on the job or shacks for watchmen. These temporary buildings are covered by the authorization, whether or not they are placed upon temporary foundations or have lighting or plumbing connections.

(b) An authorization to construct a building or other structure does not give permission to put up buildings or other structures off the site of the approved project nor does it include permission to put up permanent buildings or other structures which will remain after the completion of the construction job, except those specifically covered by the authorization. This is true even though the structures are of a kind which were exempt from the order at the time the original authorization was issued and were, therefore, not included in the original application.

(c) Where temporary construction buildings are put up in the course of building something which itself is not covered by the order, such as a bridge or dam, the usual rules set forth in VHP-1, as explained in Interpretation 3, apply. Authorization must be obtained if the proposed structure is covered by VHP-1 even though the structure is temporary and is to be removed when the job is finished.

PART 809—VETERANS' HOUSING PROGRAM ORDERS

RECONSTRUCTION IN WOODWARD, OKLAHOMA

The following direction is issued pursuant to Veterans' Housing Program Order 1:

Until further notice, it is not necessary to get authorization under Veterans' Housing Program Order 1 for restoration jobs on buildings or other structures covered by VHP-1 in the Woodward, Oklahoma area, if the restoration is made necessary by damage caused by the tornado which occurred on April 9, 1947. This direction is limited to the restoration of structures to substantially the same size and condition as on April 8, 1947.

PART 809—VETERANS' HOUSING PROGRAM ORDERS

SMALL JOB ALLOWANCES

§ 809.4 (a) What this supplement does. Paragraph (d) of Veterans' Housing Program Order 1 provides an exemption from the order for one or more jobs on a structure, if the cost of each job does not exceed the allowance given for the kind of structure or the kind of job involved. This supplement sets forth the small job allowances generally applicable to individual structures of various classes and lists certain specific structures falling within each class. The supplement also lists exemptions applicable to a particular kind of job. In addition, this supplement explains the rules for computing the cost of a job for the purpose of determining whether it comes within the exemption given under this supplement.

(b) Classification of structures. The small job allowances given under this supplement are based in general upon the kind or size of structure in which the job is to be done. They are not based upon the use to which the part of a structure being altered is to be put, except as provided in paragraph (c) of this supplement. If the job involved consists of changing a structure from one class to another class, the small job allowance applicable to the conversion is the allowance for the structure after the conversion, except where the conversion is from residential purposes to nonresidential purposes, in which case the job is covered by paragraph (c) of this supplement. The allowance provided for in paragraph (c) is applicable to a job covered by that paragraph, even though done in a structure which, as a whole, would have a larger allowance under this paragraph. It is not necessary to have either specific authorization under VHP-1, or automatic authorization under the Housing Permit Regulation, to do any separate construction, repair, alteration or installation job the cost of which does not exceed the allowance given below (or, for certain jobs, the allowance given in paragraph (c) of this supplement) for the individual structure involved.

(1) The small job allowance under paragraph (b) of this supplement for a structure of the kind listed below is $1,000 per job.

Any individual house designed for occupancy by 5 families or less even though it is on the property of a commercial, utility, institutional or industrial concern and used for the purpose of housing employees of the commercial, utility, institutional or industrial concern.
A rectory or parsonage even though near a church and owned by a church.
A house on a campus owned by a college and occupied by a college official.
A boarding or rooming house designed for occupancy by 10 boarders or roomers or less.
A farmhouse or other housing accommodations on a farm (except a farm bunkhouse).

Row houses separated by party walls are considered separate houses.
All private structures situated near and used in connection with one to five family houses, such as garages, fences, tool sheds, greenhouses and the like even though these may be used in part or primarily for nonresidential purposes (except on farms, see paragraph (b) (2) of this supplement).

(2) The small job allowance under paragraph (b) of this supplement for a structure of the kinds listed below is $2,500 per job:

NOTE: Item "publicly owned pier not used for steamship or railway purposes" deleted Apr. 30, 1947.

A boarding or rooming house designed for occupancy by more than 10 boarders or roomers.

A commercial amusement pier.
A store.
A hotel.
An arena.
An apartment house or other residential building designed for occupancy by more than 5 families.
A bank.
A restaurant.

A frozen food locker plant.
A stadium.
A grandstand used for commercial or institutional purposes.
A church.
A hospital.
A school.
A college.
A publicly owned building used for public purposes.
A building used exclusively for charitable purposes.
A tailor's or dressmaker's establishment making, repairing or altering articles for individual customers.
Any other structure used for commercial or service purposes and not specifically covered by any other classification.

(3) The small job allowance under paragraph (b) of this supplement for a structure of any of the kinds listed below is $15,000 per job if the floor area of the structure is or will be 10,000 square feet or more. If the floor area of the structure is or will be less than 10,000 square feet, the small job allowance is $2,500 per job unless the list below indicates, by the use of an asterisk in front of items where the $15,000 small job allowance applies regardless of floor area, that the $15,000 allowance applies regardless of floor area.

NOTE: The allowance given in this paragraph does not apply to structures of the kinds listed specifically in paragraph (b) (4) below, which always have the small job allowance of $500 per job given in that paragraph, or to residential buildings, which always receive the applicable allowance given in paragraphs (b) (1) and (b) (2) above.

NOTE: The small job allowances provided by this paragraph apply only to buildings primarily used for the purposes listed below. See paragraph (d) below

*A building at a logging or lumber camp or at a mine, including a mine tipple.
*An industrial research laboratory or pilot plant.
*A building or other structure used directly for the operation of a railroad, street railway, commercial airline, busline or common or contract carrier by truck, such as a roundhouse, a building housing signal or interlocking installations, locomotive water facilities, freight yard offices, railroad workmen's washrooms and lockers, a garage or workshop for a bus company, a freight terminal for a common or contract carrier by truck, railway or steamship line or a hangar for a commercial airline.

A plant engaged in mixing and bottling syrups or soft drinks.
An off-farm slaughterhouse, bakery, butcher shop or other off-farm establishment where edible food products for humans or animals are prepared for the market by pasteurizing, bottling, mixing, coloring, preserving, washing, salting, packaging or freezing (not including the frozen food locker plant).
A plant primarily engaged in reconditioning or rebuilding articles or equipment for resale.
A scrap dealer's plant if it is primarily engaged in such processing operations as briquetting, pressing or baling light iron, cutting up heavy melting steel, breaking up heavy cast iron, detinning cans or smelting non-ferrous metals for the purpose of making the scrap available for further use.
A building used primarily for a station, waiting room for a railroad, a commercial airline or a busline, whether situated at an airfield, railroad or elsewhere.

(4) The small job allowance under paragraph (b) of this supplement for a structure of the kinds listed below is $500 per job.

A private bathhouse which is not situated near and used in connection with another structure.
A tourist cabin whether a single cabin or one of a group of separate cabins. A cabin is considered a separate cabin if it has independent outside walls even though the space between it and the next cabin is sheltered by a roof and is used as a garage. A management building used for operating the cabins is considered a commercial building under paragraph (b) (2) of this supplement.
A swimming pool.
A boardwalk.
A roller coaster or similar device of a kind ordinarily used in amusement parks.
Any other structure covered by the order and not coming within any other classification.

(5) The small job allowance under paragraph (b) of this supplement for a non-residential structure on a farm is $5,000 per job, if the farm on which the structure is or is to be situated has an area of 5 acres or more. However, the small job allowance for a non-residential structure on a farm is $1,000 per job if the farm on which the structure is or is to be situated has an area of less than 5 acres. A residential structure on a farm has the small job allowance applicable under paragraph (b) (1) or paragraph (b) (2) of this supplement, as the case may be. A bunkhouse on a farm for farm laborers is considered a non-residential structure for the purpose of determining the applicable small job allowance. A "farm" means a place used primarily for the purpose of raising crops, livestock, dairy products or poultry for the market. Chicken hatcheries, plants used to raise mushrooms or other food products, and greenhouses (except those on residential property) and farm or ranches for raising fur-bearing animals are considered farms. Buildings situated on a farm and used primarily to process the products of that farm and buildings situated on a farm and used primarily to process materials for use on that farm are considered non-residential farm structures under this paragraph.

(c) Small job allowances for conversion from residential purposes. Regardless of the small job allowance given under paragraph (b) of this supplement for a particular structure, the small job allowance applicable to a job consisting of conversion to non-residential purposes of any part (or all) of a building last used for residential purposes is $200.

(d) Structures used for more than one purpose. If a structure is used for more than one purpose and might, therefore, fall within more than one of the classes indicated above, the use to which the greatest part of the structure will be put (computed on the basis of the floor area where applicable) determines the allowance. For example, if a building has three apartments occupying three floors of the building and a store on the ground floor, it is primarily residential and falls under paragraph (b) (1) of this supplement. If a building is half residential and half commercial or industrial or half residential and half agricultural, it is considered primarily residential. When alterations are being made to a building, the applicable small job allowance is the allowance applicable to the building as a whole under paragraph (b). Except in cases covered by paragraph (c), the purpose for which the particular space being altered was or is to be used does not affect the amount of the allowance.

(e) Subordinate structures. Where a non-residential structure of any of the kinds listed in paragraph (b) (2) is situated, near and used in connection with, a structure having a $15,000 small job allowance under paragraph (b) (3), the same allowance applies to the subordinate structure if the floor area of the subordinate structure is or will be 10,000 square feet or more. This means that if an office building, warehouse or garage of this size is situated on the immediate premises of an industrial or utility structure having a $15,000 small job allowance and is used in connection with the operation of that structure, the office building, warehouse or garage also gets the $15,000 small job allowance. However, a "downtown" office building, even though used exclusively for one industrial or utility company, is always under paragraph (b) (2), regardless of its size, like other office buildings. All residential structures, however, always get the allowance applicable under paragraphs (b) (1) or (b) (2), and all structures specifically listed in paragraph (b) (4) always get the $500 small job allowance of that paragraph.

(f) Separate jobs. For the purpose of determining whether work is exempt from VHP–1 under this supplement, a related series of operations in a structure which are performed at or about the same time or as part of a single plan or program constitute a single job. No job which would ordinarily be done as a single piece of work may be sub-divided for the purpose of coming within the allowance given under this supplement. When a building or part of a building is being converted from one purpose to another all work incidental to and done in connection with the conversion must be considered as one job. So also if a building is being renovated, improved or modernized over an extended period all work done in connection with the modernization (other than the work done before the issuance of the order must be considered as part of one job, even though separate contracts are let for different parts of the work. However, if related work on two or more separate structures is performed, the work is not considered one job but the work done in each structure must be considered separately under the rules stated above. For example, if two or more related structures are to be built and the cost of each does not exceed the small job allowance applicable to each structure under paragraph (b) of this supplement, each of these structures may be built without getting an authorization under VHP–1. See paragraph (f) of Supplement 2 to VHP–1 for an explanation of what jobs are exempt from the order as having been started before it became effective.

(g) How to figure cost. For the purpose of determining whether a particular job is exempt from VHP–1 by this supplement, the "cost" of a job means the cost of the entire construction job as estimated at the time of beginning construction. (1) The cost of a job includes the following:

The cost or value of fixtures, mechanical equipment and materials incorporated in the structure, whether or not obtained without paying for them, except the items listed in paragraph (g) (2) below. (See Supplement 1 for definitions and illustrations of fixtures and mechanical equipment.)

The cost of paid labor engaged in the construction work, regardless of who pays for it, excluding, however, the cost of paid labor engaged in working on or installing fixtures, equipment or materials the cost of which need not be included in the cost of the job under paragraph (g) (2). If it is impracticable to allocate the labor specifically to exempt or non-exempt items, the cost of all paid labor may be divided between the work on the two different classes of items in proportion to the value of the two classes of items.

The amount paid for contractors' fees.

(2) The cost of a job does not include the following:

The cost or value of previously used fixtures, previously used mechanical equipment and previously used materials, when these have been severed from the same structure or another structure owned by the builder (the owner or occupant of the building) and are to be used without change of ownership.

The cost or value of materials used in repainting or repapering an existing structure or any unchanged part of a structure. However, this exception does not apply to painting a new structure or new parts of a structure which has been altered.

The cost or value of materials used in installing loose fill, blanket or batt insulation in existing buildings or in installing insulation on existing equipment or piping.

The cost or value of materials which were produced on the property of the owner or actual or proposed occupant of the structure, except where he is in business of producing these materials for sale (this exception does not include materials or products assembled by the builder from new or used materials not themselves excepted).

The value of unpaid labor and the cost of paid labor engaged in working on or installing fixtures, equipment or materials, the cost of which is exempt from the cost of the job.

The cost or value of machinery and equipment other than mechanical equipment.

Architect's and engineers' fees.

The cost of site preparation and other preparatory work which does not constitute beginning construction (Supplement 2 to VHP–1 contains illustrations of work which does not constitute beginning construction and the cost of which is not included in the cost of a job).

[Veterans' Housing Program Order 1, Supp. 5, as Amended June 1, 1947]

PREPARING AND FILING APPLICATIONS

§ 809.6 Supplement 5 to Veterans' Housing Program Order 1—(a) What this supplement does. This supplement explains what kinds of construction, repair work, and other work restricted by VHP-1 are covered by the Housing Permit Regulation. It also contains instructions for preparing and filing applications for specific authorization under Veterans' Housing Program Order 1 to do construction, repair work, or other work restricted by VHP-1 but not covered by the Housing Permit Regulation.

WHERE APPLICATIONS SHOULD BE FILED

(b) Construction covered by the Housing Permit Regulation. (1) The construction of the following kinds of new structures in which 75% or more of the floor space is to be used for residential purposes is covered by the Housing Permit Regulation:

(i) Any building, structure or other construction item to be used for family housing purposes, whether occupied all year round or seasonally, and any apartment hotel, boarding house, rooming house, dormitory or other residential accommodations occupied for substantial periods of time, whether by single persons or by families, including also all subsidiary buildings, structures or construction items and used for residential purposes, such as garages, tool sheds, greenhouses, swimming pools, walls, fences, bulkheads, and the like. This includes family housing accommodations, either one family houses or apartments, and permanent residential quarters for individuals, whether these are to be built and owned by private individuals, corporations, public organizations or educational or other institutions. It also includes prefabricated houses, permanently installed trailers, and the like. This paragraph does not include summer or winter camps or hotels, overnight guest houses, tourist cabins or other accommodations for transients. Restaurants, laundry rooms and toilet facilities built in connection with tourist cabins and trailer camps are not covered by this paragraph, except where the toilet facilities or laundry rooms are to be used by the occupants of permanently installed trailers.

(ii) Dormitories, and living facilities such as dining halls built and to be used exclusively in connection with a new dormitory, and subsidiary buildings for trailer camps such as laundry rooms, toilet facilities and the like, when they are built by an educational institution or a public organization and dormitories built under the sponsorship of an educational organization. "Educational institution" means a school, including a trade or vocational school, a college, a university or any similar institution of learning. "Public organization" means the United States government, a state, county, city, town, village or other municipal government, or an agency, instrumentality or authority of such a governing body.

(iii) Farm houses and other residential accommodations on farms, and bunkhouses for transient farm labor.

Paragraph (b) (1) does not include accommodations, the primary purpose of which is non-residential, such as wards or rooms for patients or inmates in hospitals, mental hospitals, insane asylums, orphanages, old people's homes, police barracks or cell blocks in jails. It also does not include housing accommodations constructed by or for the account of the U. S. Army or Navy.

(2) Regardless of the primary purpose for which a structure as a whole is used or is to be used, construction, alterations, additions or repairs in the structure are covered by the Housing Permit Regulation if 75% or more of the floor space involved in the proposed work will be used for residential purposes of the kinds described above.

(3) Applications for amendments to projects approved under Priorities Regulation 33 or Housing Expediter Priorities Regulation 5 should be filed in accordance with those regulations.

(4) The Housing Permit Regulation no longer requires that an application be filed for authorization to begin construction or other work of the kind covered by paragraphs (b) (1) and (b) (2) of this supplement. The Housing Permit Regulation now automatically authorizes certain persons to begin specified kinds of construction without filing any application or getting specific authorization.

Any person not authorized by the Housing Permit Regulation to do work covered by that order may file an appeal with the appropriate State or District Office of the Federal Housing Administration, except that appeals by educational institutions or by public organizations relating to any kind of residential accommodations to be built by them, and appeals relating to single person residential accommodations to be built or converted under the sponsorship of an educational institution, should be filed with the appropriate Regional Office of the Federal Public Housing Authority.

(5) Under paragraphs (b) (1) and (b) (2) the amount of floor space to be used for residential purposes and the amount to be used for other purposes will determine whether the work is covered by the Housing Permit Regulation. In computing floor area for these purposes, hallways and other public spaces should be excluded from the computation. Basement space should also be excluded even though used for storage space for stores or for apartments, except where all or part of the basement is used for an apartment or rooms for living purposes, or for selling or exhibition space for a store, or for a commercial garage which is open to the public.

(c) Applications to be filed with the OHE District Construction Offices. All applications for authorization under VHP–1 not covered by paragraph (b) should be filed on Form OHE 14–171 (formerly CPA–4423) with the appropriate OHE District Construction Office.

PREPARING APPLICATIONS FOR NON-HOUSING CONSTRUCTION

(d) Cost. Form OHE 14–171 (formerly CPA–4423) requires the applicant to state the estimated cost of the proposed construction job for which he is requesting authorization in Item 5. This item is broken down into two parts: the cost of the structure and the cost of fixtures (heating, plumbing, lighting and ventilating equipment).

(1) Under the cost of the structure in Item 5, the applicant should state the cost of the structure, excluding the cost of processing and service equipment and the cost of fixtures and mechanical equipment and also excluding the cost or value of the land or existing structures and architects' and engineers' fees.

The applicant should not include in this figure the cost or value of materials and labor which do not constitute part of the cost of the construction job under paragraph (g) of Supplement 3 to VHP–1. Paragraph (g) (2) of that supplement lists numerous specific items which are excluded from the cost of a job under VHP–1.

(2) Under the cost of fixtures (heating, plumbing, lighting and ventilating equipment), the applicant should include the cost of the items covered by paragraph (b) (1) of Supplement 1 to VHP–1 together with the cost of any items listed under paragraph (b) (3) of Supplement 1 which are so built as to become a part of the building. The applicant should not include in this item the cost of any items which are excluded from the cost of the job under paragraph (g) of Supplement 3 to VHP–1.

(3) The applicant should not include under Item 5 the cost of processing equipment or service equipment of the kinds listed and described in paragraph (b) (2) of Supplement 1 to VHP–1.

(e) Applicant. In reviewing an application to determine whether it should be approved, the Office of the Housing Expediter relies upon the statements and representations made in the application and in supplementary documents filed with the application. Severe criminal penalties may be imposed for making wilfully false statements or representations in connection with these applications. This imposes upon persons making statements and representations in connection with applications great responsibility for the correctness of these statements and representations. In addition, the granting of the authorization imposes upon the builder and others concerned with the project, the responsibility of carrying out the provisions of the authorization and the representations made. For this reason it is important that each of the statements and representations involved should be made by a person familiar with the facts and responsible for their correctness and truthfulness. Contractors and architects and landlords may be in a position to assume responsibility for the performance of the construction in accordance with the authorization but ordinarily they are not in a position to accept responsibility for the correctness of statements and representations as to the need for the building and the use to which it will be put. The application should be made and signed by the person who is to be responsible for the construction, normally the individual who, or a responsible officer of the corporation which, owns or is to own the building or other structure involved. If the person who signs the application is not personally familiar with the need for the proposed work and therefore is not in a position to assume responsibility for statements and representations with respect to the need for the building and the purpose to which it is to be put, these statements and representations should be made in a letter attached to the application signed by the prospective occupant of the building or a responsible officer of the corporation which is to occupy it, or any other person who is in a position to accept the responsibility for these statements.

(f) Compliance cases. If a builder wishes to complete construction of a project on which some work has been done, and on which construction has been stopped, this fact should be stated in the application. The applicant should give, either on the application or in a letter attached to the application, full information about the beginning of the construction, including a statement of the nature and cost of the work previously done and a statement as to when it was done and including also a statement as to the exact nature and the estimated cost of the work required for completion, together with a statement about the circumstances under which construction was stopped, referring particularly to any stop telegram, suspension order, consent order or injunction involved. If the application is approved, authorization will be given only for the work which has not yet been done.

§ 82.101 Proclamation of President, text of convention, and statutory provisions authorizing regulations. The proclamation of the President of the United States, containing the text of the convention between the United States and the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland relating to Federal estate taxes and the estate duties imposed in Great Britain and Northern Ireland (hereinafter referred to as the convention), is set forth below:

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

Whereas a convention between the United States of America and the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland for the avoidance of double taxation and the prevention of fiscal evasion with respect to taxes on the estates of deceased persons was signed by their respective Plenipotentiaries at Washington on April 16, 1945, the original of which convention is word for word as follows:

The Government of the United States of America and the Government of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland,

Desiring to conclude a convention for the avoidance of double taxation and the prevention of fiscal evasion with respect to taxes on the estates of deceased persons,

Have appointed for that purpose as their respective Plenipotentiaries:

The Government of the United States of America:

Mr. Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., Secretary of State, and

The Government of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland:

The Right Honorable the Earl of Halifax, K. G., Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary in Washington,

Who, having exhibited their respective full powers, found in good and due form, have agreed as follows:

ARTICLE I

(1) The taxes which are the subject of the present Convention are:

(a) In the United States of America, the Federal estate tax, and

(b) In the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, the estate duty imposed in Great Britain.

(2) The present Convention shall also apply to any other taxes of a substantially similar character imposed by either Contracting Party subsequently to the date of signature of the present Convention or by the government of any territory to which the present Convention applies under Article VIII or Article IX.

ARTICLE II

(1) In the present Convention, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) The term "United States" means the United States of America, and when used in a geographical sense means the States, the Territories of Alaska and of Hawaii, and the District of Columbia.

(b) The term "Great Britain" means England, Wales and Scotland, and does not include the Channel Islands or the Isle of Man.

(c) The term "territory" when used in relation to one or the other Contracting Party means the United States or Great Britain, as the context requires.

(d) The term "tax" means the estate duty imposed in Great Britain or the United States Federal estate tax, as the context requires.

(2) In the application of the provisions of the present Convention by one of the Contracting Parties, any term not otherwise defined shall, unless the context otherwise requires, have the meaning which it has under the laws of that Contracting Party relating to the taxes which are the subject of the present Convention.

ARTICLE III

(1) For the purposes of the present Convention, the question whether a decedent was domiciled in any part of the territory of one of the Contracting Parties at the time of his death shall be determined in accordance with the law in force in that territory.

(2) Where a person dies domiciled in any part of the territory of one Contracting Party, the situs of any of the following rights or interests, legal or equitable, which for the purposes of tax form part of the estate of such person or pass on his death, shall, for the purposes of the imposition of tax and for the purposes of the credit to be allowed under Article V, be determined exclusively in accordance with the following rules, but in cases not within such rules the situs of such rights and interests shall be determined for those purposes in accordance with the law relating to tax in force in the territory of the other Contracting Party:

(a) Rights or interests (otherwise than by way of security) in or over immovable property shall be deemed to be situated at the place where such property is located;

(b) Rights or interests (otherwise than by way of security) in or over tangible movable property, other than such property for which specific provision is hereinafter made, and in or over bank or currency notes, other forms of currency recognized as legal tender in the place of issue, negotiable bills of exchange and negotiable promissory notes, shall be deemed to be situated at the place where such property, notes, currency or documents are located at the time of death, or, if in transitu, at the place of destination;

(c) Debts, secured or unsecured, other than the forms of indebtedness for which specific provision is made herein, shall be deemed to be situated at the place where the decedent was domiciled at the time of death;

(d) Shares or stock in a corporation other than a municipal or governmental corporation (including shares or stock held by a nominee where the beneficial ownership is evidenced by scrip certificates or otherwise) shall be deemed to be situated at the place in or under the laws of which such corporation was created or organized;

(e) Monies payable under a policy of assurance or insurance on the life of the decedent shall be deemed to be situated at the place where the decedent was domiciled at the time of death;

(f) Ships and aircraft and shares thereof shall be deemed to be situated at the place of registration or documentation of the ship or aircraft;

(g) Goodwill as a trade, business or professional asset shall be deemed to be situated at the place where the trade, business or profession to which it pertains is carried on;

(h) Patents, trademarks and designs shall be deemed to be situated at the place where they are registered;

(i) Copyright, franchises, and rights or licenses to use any copyrighted material, patent, trademark or design shall be deemed to be situated at the place where the rights arising therefrom are exercisable;

(j) Rights or causes of action ex delicto surviving for the benefit of an estate of a decedent shall be deemed to be situated at the place where such rights or causes of action arose;

(k) Judgment debts shall be deemed to be situated at the place where the judgment is recorded;

Provided, That if, apart from this paragraph, tax would be imposed by one Contracting Party on any property which is situated in its territory and passes under a disposition not governed by its law, this paragraph shall not apply to such property unless, by reason of its application or otherwise, tax is imposed or would but for some specific exemption be imposed thereon by the other Contracting Party.

ARTICLE IV

(1) In determining the amount on which tax is to be computed, permitted deductions shall be allowed in accordance with the law in force in the territory in which the tax is imposed.

(2) Where tax is imposed by one Contracting Party on the death of a person who at the time of his death was not domiciled in any part of the territory of that Contracting Party but was domiciled in some part of the territory of the other Contracting Party, no account shall be taken in determining the amount or rate of such tax of property situated outside the former territory: Provided, That this paragraph shall not apply as respects tax imposed—

(a) In the United States in the case of a United States citizen dying domiciled in any part of Great Britain; or

(b) In Great Britain in the case of property passing under a disposition governed by the law of Great Britain.

ARTICLE V

(1) Where one Contracting Party imposes tax by reason of a decedent's being domiciled in some part of its territory or being its national, that Party shall allow against so much of its tax (as otherwise computed) as is attributable to property situated in the territory of the other Contracting Party, a credit (not exceeding the amount of the tax so attributable) equal to so much of the tax imposed in the territory of such other Party as is attributable to such property; but this paragraph shall not apply as respects any such property as is mentioned in paragraph (2) of this Article.

(2) Where each Contracting Party imposes tax by reason of a decedent's being domiciled in some part of its territory, each Party shall allow against so much of its tax (as otherwise computed) as is attributable to property which is situated, or is deemed under paragraph (2) of Article III to be situated,

(a) In the territory of both Parties, or

(b) Outside both territories,

a credit which bears the same proportion to the amount of its tax so attributable or to the amount of the other Party's tax attributable to the same property, whichever is the less, as the former amount bears to the sum of both amounts.

(3) For the purposes of this Article, the amount of the tax of a Contracting Party attributable to any property shall be ascertained after taking into account any credit, allowance or relief, or any remission or reduction of tax, otherwise than in respect of tax payable in the territory of the other Contracting Party or in any other country, and if, in respect of property situated outside the territories of both Parties, a Contracting Party allows against its tax a credit for tax payable in the country where the property is situated, that credit shall be taken into account in ascertaining, for the purposes of paragraph (2) of this Article, the amount of the tax of that Party attributable to the property.

ARTICLE VI

(1) Any claim for a credit or for a refund of tax founded on the provisions of the present Convention shall be made within six years from the date of the death of the decedent in respect of whose estate the claim is made, or, in the case of a reversionary interest where payment of tax is deferred until on or after the date on which the interest falls into possession, within six years from that date.

(2) Any such refund shall be made without payment of interest on the amount so refunded.

ARTICLE VII

(1) The taxation authorities of the Contracting Parties shall exchange such information (being information available under the respective taxation laws of the Contracting Parties) as is necessary for carrying out the provisions of the present Convention or for the prevention of fraud or the administration of statutory provisions against legal avoidance in relation to the taxes which are the subject of the present Convention. Any information so exchanged shall be treated as secret and shall not be disclosed to any person other than those concerned with the assessment and collection of the taxes which are the subject of the present Convention. No information shall be exchanged which would disclose any trade secret or trade process.

(2) As used in this Article, the term "taxation authorities" means, in the case of the United States, the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or his authorized representative; in the case of Great Britain, the Commissioners of Inland Revenue or their authorized representative; and, in the case of any territory to which the present Convention is extended under Article VIII, the competent authority for the administration in such territory of the taxes to which the present Convention applies.

ARTICLE VIII

(1) Either of the Contracting Parties may, on the coming into force of the present Convention or at any time thereafter while it continues in force, by a written notification of extension given to the other Contracting Party through diplomatic channels, declare its desire that the operation of the present Convention shall extend to all or any of its colonies, overseas territories, protectorates, or territories in respect of which it exercises a mandate, which impose taxes substantially similar in character to those which are the subject of the present Convention. The present Convention shall apply to the territory or territories named in such notification as to the estates of persons dying on or after the date or dates specified in the notification (not being less than sixty days from the date of the notification) or, if no date is specified in respect of any such territory, on or after the sixtieth day after the date of such notification, unless, prior to the date on which the Convention would otherwise become applicable to a particular territory, the Contracting Party to whom notification is given shall have informed the other Contracting Party in writing through diplomatic channels that it does not accept such notification as to that territory. In the absence of such extension, the present Convention shall not apply to any such territory.

(2) At any time after the expiration of one year from the entry into force of an extension under paragraph (1) of this Article, either of the Contracting Parties may, by written notice of termination given to the other Contracting Party through diplomatic channels, terminate the application of the present Convention to any territory to which it has been extended under paragraph (1), and in such event the present Convention shall cease to apply, as to the estates of persons dying on or after the date or dates (not being earlier than the sixtieth day after the date of such notice) specified in such notice, or, if no date is specified, on or after the sixtieth day after the date of such notice, to the territory or territories named therein, but without affecting its continued application to the United States, Great Britain or to any other territory to which it has been extended under paragraph (1) hereof.

(3) In the application of the present Convention in relation to any territory to which it is extended by the United States or the United Kingdom, references to "United States" or, as the case may be, "Great Britain," or to the territory of one (or of the other) Contracting Party, shall be construed as references to that territory.

(4) The provisions of the preceding paragraphs of this Article shall apply to the Channel Islands and the Isle of Man as if they were colonies of the United Kingdom.

ARTICLE IX

The present Convention shall apply in relation to estate duty imposed in Northern Ireland as it applies in relation to estate duty imposed in Great Britain, but shall be separately terminable in respect of Northern Ireland by the same procedure as is laid down in paragraph (2) of Article VIII.

ARTICLE X

(1) The present Convention shall be ratified and the instruments of ratification shall be exchanged at Washington as soon as possible.

(2) The present Convention shall come into force on the date of exchange of ratifications and shall be effective only as to

(a) The estates of persons dying on or after such date; and

(b) The estate of any person dying before such date and after the 31st day of December, 1944, whose personal representative elects, in such manner as may be prescribed, that the provisions of the present Convention shall be applied to such estate.

ARTICLE XI

(1) The present Convention shall remain in force for not less than three years after the date of its coming into force.

(2) If not less than six months before the expiration of such period of three years, neither of the Contracting Parties shall have given to the other Contracting Party, through diplomatic channels, written notice of its intention to terminate the present Convention, the Convention shall remain in force after such period of three years until either of the Contracting Parties shall have given written notice of such intention, in which event the present Convention shall not be effective as to the estates of persons dying on or after the date (not being earlier than the sixtieth day after the date of such notice) specified in such notice, or, if no date is specified, on or after the sixtieth day after the date of such notice.

In witness whereof the above-mentioned Plenipotentiaries have signed the present Convention and have affixed thereto their seals.

Done at Washington, in duplicate, on the 16th day of April, 1945.

For the Government of the United States of America:

For the Government of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland:

[SEAL] HALIFAX.

And Whereas the said convention has been ratified by both Governments, and the instruments of ratification of the two Governments were exchanged at Washington on the twenty-fifth day of July, 1946;

And Whereas it is provided in Article X of the said convention that on the date of the exchange of ratifications the convention shall be effective as to the estates of persons dying on or after such date, and as to the estate of any person dying before such date and after the thirty-first day of December 1944, whose personal representative elects, in such manner as may be prescribed, that the provisions of the said convention shall be applied to such estate;

Now, therefore, be it known that I, Harry S. Truman, President of the United States of America, do hereby proclaim and make public the said convention to the end that the same and every article and clause thereof may be observed and fulfilled with good faith by the United States of America, and by the citizens of the United States of America and all other persons subject to the jurisdiction thereof, the said convention being deemed to have effect as provided in Article X thereof, as aforesaid.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the United States of America to be hereunto affixed.

Done at the city of Washington this thirtieth day of July in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred forty-six and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and seventy-first.

[SEAL] HARRY S. TRUMAN

By the President:

DEAN ACHESON,
Acting Secretary of State.

Section 3791 of the Internal Revenue Code provides as follows:

(a) Authorization—(1) In general. • • • the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, shall prescribe and publish all needful rules and regulations for the enforcement of this title.

(2) In case of change in law. The Commissioner may make all such regulations, not otherwise provided for, as may have become necessary by reason of any alteration of law in relation to internal revenue.

(b) Retroactivity of regulations or rulings. The Secretary, or the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary, may prescribe the extent, if any, to which any ruling, regulation, or Treasury decision, relating to the internal revenue laws, shall be applied without retroactive effect.

§ 82.102 Scope of regulations. Sections 82.101 to 82.109, inclusive, pertain to the application of the Federal estate tax as modified under the provisions of the convention in the case of a decedent who at time of death was domiciled in either the United States or the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, or was a citizen of the United States, and whose death occurred:

(a) On or after July 25, 1946, the date of exchange of ratifications, or

(b) After December 31, 1944, and before July 25, 1946, if the person charged with the duty of filing the return elects that the provisions of the convention shall be applied. Such election shall be made in a written statement filed in duplicate with the collector of internal revenue at the time the return is filed or as soon thereafter as possible. (Article X (2) of the convention.)

Sections 82.101 to 82.109, inclusive, also pertain to related administrative matters and to the furnishing of information by the tax authorities of each country to such authorities of the other country which may be needed in carrying out the provisions of the convention or in preventing fraud or avoidance with respect to the taxes which are the subject of the convention. (Article VII of the convention.)

The provisions of the convention are restricted to the estate tax imposed by the United States, the estate duty imposed in Great Britain, and the estate duty imposed in Northern Ireland, and do not comprehend any of the estate, inheritance, legacy, and succession taxes imposed by the States, Territories, the District of Columbia, and possessions of the United States or the legacy and succession duties imposed in Great Britain and Northern Ireland. (Articles I and IX of the convention.)

The credits against the Federal estate tax, authorized by section 813 (a) and section 936 of the Internal Revenue Code for Federal gift taxes and by section 813 (b) thereof for estate, inheritance, legacy, or succession taxes paid any State, Territory, the District of Columbia, or possession of the United States, are not affected. (Article V (3) of the convention.)

In the application of the provisions of the convention the estate duty imposed in Great Britain and the estate duty imposed in Northern Ireland are to be separately considered, and the term "United Kingdom" as used in §§ 82.101 to 82.109, inclusive, may either refer to Great Britain or Northern Ireland, depending upon the circumstances of the particular case.

§ 82.103 Domicile and citizenship. Determinations with respect to the decedent's domicile and citizenship at time of death are required in order to ascertain whether the estate is within the scope of the convention, and if so, such determinations are necessary for two further purposes, i. e., first, in order to ascertain the property that may be included in the application of the tax, and, second, in order to ascertain the credit for death duties authorized by the convention. For such purposes, domicile and citizenship shall be determined in accordance with the laws of the contracting country which imposes the tax by reason of the decedent's being domiciled therein or a citizen thereof. Where in a particular case only one of the contracting countries asserts tax by reason of the decedent's being domiciled therein, the other contracting country is bound by such determination of domicile for all purposes of the convention, and will not, for instance, in the imposition of its tax on the basis of situs of property disregard the situs rules established by Article III by contending that the decedent was domiciled in a third country. (Article III (1), Article IV (2) (a) and Article V of the convention.)

For the purpose of determining whether the decedent was domiciled in either contracting country at time of death, the United States includes the States thereof, the Territory of Alaska, the Territory of Hawaii, and the District of Columbia, and the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland includes Great Britain (England, Wales and Scotland) and Northern Ireland. For this purpose the United Kingdom does not include the Channel Islands or the Isle of Man. (Article II (1) of the convention.)

§ 82.104 Situs of property. The determination of the situs of property is necessary for two purposes, i. e., first, in order to ascertain the property that may be included in the application of the tax if jurisdiction is based upon situs of property within the country, and, second, in order to ascertain the credit for death duties authorized by the convention since the crediting country only allows such credit under paragraph (1) of Article V with respect to property situated in the other contracting country and under paragraph (2) of Article V with respect to property situated outside both contracting countries or with respect to property deemed to be situated in both such countries. For such purposes, the convention provides rules of situs for specific classes of property as hereinafter set forth. These rules are applicable only in case the decedent was at time of death domiciled in the United States or the United Kingdom. The convention also provides that with respect to property not within the described classes, if the decedent was domiciled in the United States the situs thereof shall be determined in accordance with the law of the United Kingdom, or if the decedent was domiciled in the United Kingdom the situs thereof shall be determined in accordance with the law of the United States. The rules of situs provided by the convention are not applicable in the case of a deceased citizen of the United States who was not domiciled in either country. (Article III (2) of the convention.)

Specific applications of the foregoing principles are shown by the following:

(a) If one of the contracting countries taxes on the basis of domicile and the other on the basis of situs of property, the allowance of credit by the former and the imposition of tax by the latter are determined in accordance with the situs rules of the convention with respect to property of the described classes and in accordance with the situs rules under the law of the latter with respect to any property not within such classes.

(b) If the United States taxes on the basis of citizenship and the United Kingdom taxes on the basis of domicile (the United States not regarding the domicile of the decedent as having been in the United States), the allowance of credit by each country is determined in accordance with the situs rules of the convention with respect to property of the described classes and in accordance with the situs rules under the law of the United States with respect to any property not within such classes.

(c) If the United States taxes on the basis of citizenship and the United Kingdom taxes on the basis of situs of property (both contracting countries considering that the decedent was domiciled in a third country), the allowance of credit by the United States and the imposition of tax by the United Kingdom are determined in accordance with the situs rules under the law of the United Kingdom with respect to both the property of the described classes and the property not within such classes. In this case the situs rules of the convention are not applicable to any extent.

(d) If both contracting countries tax on the basis of domicile, the allowance of credit by the United States is determined in accordance with the situs rules of the convention with respect to the property of the described classes and in accordance with the situs rules under the law of the United Kingdom with respect to any property not within such classes, and the allowance of credit by the United Kingdom is determined in accordance with the situs rules of the convention with respect to the property of the described classes and in accordance with the situs rules under the law of the United States with respect to any property not within such classes. Rules of situs provided by the convention for specific clases of property follow:

(1) Real property and leaseholds. Immovable property shall be deemed to be situated at the place where the land involved is located. Immovable property comprises real property and leases of real property. The duration of the lease is immaterial. Immovable property does not include mortgages, liens or other right or interest in real or immovable property by way of security. Although for the purpose of this situs rule leaseholds are classed with real property, this provision of the treaty does not purport to extend the scope of the term "real property" as used in the first paragraph of section 811 of the Internal Revenue Code whereunder real property (but not a lease of real property) situated outside the United States is excluded from the gross estate. (Article III (2) (a) of the convention.)

(2) Tangible personal property. Tangible movable property (tangible personal property), except as hereinafter specifically provided in this paragraph with respect to ships and aircraft, shall be deemed to be situated at the place of physical location at the time of the decedent's death, or, if in transitu, at the place of destination. Tangible personal property includes bank notes and other forms of currency recognized as legal tender at the place of issue. (Article III (2) (b) of the convention.)

(3) Ships and aircraft. Ships and aircraft and fractional interests therein shall be deemed to be situated at the place of registration or documentation of such ships and aircraft. (Article III (2) (f) of the convention.)

(4) Bonds and other forms of indebtedness. Debts included as assets of the estate (credits), except as hereinafter specifically provided in this paragraph with respect to judgment debts and negotiable promissory notes and bills of exchange, shall be deemed to be situated where the decedent was domiciled at the time of his death. This rule refers to both secured and unsecured debts, and comprehends bonds, simple contract debts, and bank deposits characterized by the debtor-creditor relationship. Issues of stock, such as are common in the United Kingdom, which are evidences of debts and do not represent stockholders' proprietary shares are properly classifiable with bonds. Such issues include stock issued by municipal or governmental corporations, stock issued by public boards, and debentures or debenture stock of a corporation. (Article III (2) (c) of the convention.)

(5) Judgment debts. Judgment debts shall be deemed to be situated where the judgment is recorded. (Article III (2) (k) of the convention.)

(6) Negotiable promissory notes and bills of exchange. Negotiable promissory notes and bills of exchange shall be deemed to be situated at the place of the physical location of the documents at the time of decedent's death, or, if in transitu, at the place of destination. (Article III (2) (b) of the convention.)

(7) Stock. Shares of stock of a corporation shall be deemed to be situated at the place in or under the laws of which such corporation was created or organized. This rule comprehends shares of stock held by a nominee where the beneficial ownership is evidenced by scrip certificates or otherwise. This rule has no reference to issues of stock, such as are common in the United Kingdom, which are evidences of debts, do not represent stockholders' proprietary shares, and are properly classifiable with bonds. Such issues include stock issued by municipal or governmental corporations, stock issued by public boards, and debentures or debenture stock of a corporation. (Article III (2) (d) of the convention.)

(8) Life insurance. Proceeds of insurance on the life of the decedent shall be deemed to be situated where the decedent was domiciled at the time of his death. (Article III (2) (e) of the convention.)

(9) Goodwill. Goodwill as a trade, business or professional asset shall be deemed to be situated at the place where the business or profession, to which it pertains, is carried on (Article III (2) (g) of the convention.)

(10) Patents, trademarks and designs. Patents, trademarks and designs shall be deemed to be situated at the place where they are registered. (Article III (2) (h) of the convention.)

(11) Copyrights and licenses to use copyrights, patents, trademarks and designs. Copyrights, franchises, and rights or licenses to use any copyrighted material, patent, trademark or design, shall be deemed to be situated at the place where the rights arising therefrom are exercisable. (Article III (2) (i) of the convention.)

(12) Actions ex delicto. Rights or causes of action ex delicto surviving for the benefit of the estate of a decedent shall be deemed to be situated at the place where such rights or causes of action arise. (Article III (2) (j) of the convention.)

The rules whereunder property of certain classes shall be deemed to be situated at the place of the decedent's domicile are in effect rules exempting such classes of property from the tax imposed by reason of situs of property within each contracting State's jurisdiction.

Under a special proviso at the end of Article III of the convention, the foregoing rules of situs are not applicable in determining whether particular property may be subjected to tax by reason of its situs within the taxing country if (i) such property passes under a disposition not governed by its law, and (ii) such property is not subjected to the tax by the other contracting country for any reason other than the application of a specific exemption. In such case the situs of the property will be determined in accordance with the law of the taxing country.

This special proviso is particularly applicable to cases of settled property that come under the provisions of the estate duty statute of Great Britain or Northern Ireland. As an example of the operation of the special proviso under the estate duty statute, suppose the decedent's father established a trust governed by New York law under which the decedent was given a life estate with the remainder over absolutely to the trustor's grandson. The trustor, the life tenant and the remainderman were domiciled in and citizens of the United States. Under this special proviso, the corpus of the trust, consisting of shares of stock of a United States corporation evidenced by certificates in bearer form physically located in Great Britain, would be regarded as situated in Great Britain without the application of the situs rules of Article III and would be subjected to the estate duty reaching settled property since (i) such property passes under a disposition not governed by the law of Great Britain and (ii) such property is not subjected to the tax by the United States regardless of the $60,000 specific exemption.

Although the primary purpose of this special proviso concerns settled property under the estate duty statute of Great Britain or Northern Ireland, it is applicable under the Federal estate tax statute in some cases involving certain unusual circumstances. As an example of the operation of the special proviso under the Federal estate tax statute, suppose the decedent in contemplation of death established a trust for the benefit of his children, the property transferred by gift to the trust consisting of shares of stock of a British corporation evidenced by certificates physically located in the United States. The gift was made six years before the decedent's death and the decedent retained no possession or enjoyment or any other right in the property. The decedent and the beneficiaries were domiciled in Great Britain and the trust is governed by British law. Under the special proviso, the situs rules of Article III would be inapplicable and the shares of stock would be regarded as situated in the United States and subjected to the Federal estate tax since (i) such property passes under a disposition not governed by United States law and (ii) such property is not, regardless of any specific exemption, subjected to the estate duty imposed in Great Britain.

For the purpose of determining whether property is situated in either contracting country, the United States includes the States thereof, the Territory of Alaska, the Territory of Hawaii and the District of Columbia, and the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland includes Great Britain (England, Wales and Scotland) and Northern Ireland. For this purpose the United Kingdom does not include the Channel Islands or the Isle of Man. (Article II (1) of the convention.)

§ 82.105 Taxation on basis of domicile, citizenship, or the law governing disposition of property. Both the United States and the United Kingdom assume jurisdiction for the tax upon the basis of domicile within the taxing country. In addition, the United States, but not the United Kingdom, assumes jurisdiction for the tax upon the basis of citizenship, and the United Kingdom, but not the United States, assumes jurisdiction for the tax upon the basis of the law governing the disposition of the property. Thus, tax in Great Britain is imposed in respect of property passing under a disposition (such as a trust) governed by the law of Great Britain, even though the decedent was not domiciled in Great Britain and the property is not regarded as situated in Great Britain. (Article IV (2) (b) of the convention.)

The application of the tax (the Federal estate tax or the estate duty imposed in Great Britain or Northern Ireland, as the case may be) in any of the foregoing cases is not affected by the convention, except insofar as credit is authorized under Article V. The convention does not prohibit the subjection to tax in any of the foregoing cases, of any property (real or personal) situated outside the taxing country and in the other contracting country. However, by section 811 of the Internal Revenue Code, real property (but not a lease of real property) situated outside the United States is excluded from the gross estate. Under the present practice in the United Kingdom, immovables located outside the United Kingdom are, with rare exception, not subjected to estate duty.

§ 82.106 Taxation on basis of situs of property. In case jurisdiction to impose the tax by one of the contracting countries is based upon situs of property within such country and the decedent was at the time of death domiciled in the other contracting country, the convention provides that property situated outside the former shall not be taken into account in determining the amount or rate of such tax. (Article IV (2) of the convention.) For the purpose of determining what property is situated within the country and, therefore, subject to taxation on the basis of situs, the provisions of § 82.104 are pertinent. The rules of situs for certain classes of property prescribed by Article III of the convention and § 82.104 are applicable to the imposition of the Federal estate tax in the case of a decedent who at time of death was not domiciled in or a citizen of the United States, and who was domiciled in the United Kingdom. The rules that certain classes of property shall be deemed to be situated where the decedent was domiciled are in effect rules exempting such classes of property from taxation on the basis of situs.

The deductions from the gross estate in the case of a nonresident not a citizen of the United States authorized by section 861 of the Internal Revenue Code, including the specific exemption of $2,000 prescribed thereunder, are unaffected. (Article IV (1) of the convention.) The restrictions of the preceding paragraph do not affect what is referred to in section 861 (a) (1) of the Internal Revenue Code as the gross estate wherever situated, and utilized in ascertaining the proportionate deductions for administration expenses, debts, etc., as prescribed in § 81.52 of Treasury Regulations 105 (26 CFR 81.52).

§ 82.107 Credit for estate duties imposed in Great Britain and Northern Ireland—(a) General. In the case of the estate of a decedent who at time of death was domiciled in or a citizen of the United States, credit is authorized against the Federal estate tax for Great Britain or Northern Ireland estate duty computed in accordance with the provisions of the convention and paid in respect of property situated as hereinafter provided and subject to such taxes by both the United States and Great Britain or Northern Ireland. No credit is allowable for any interest or penalty paid in connection with the estate duty. (Article V of the convention.)

Real property situated in the United Kingdom is not subjected to the Federal estate tax. Also, Great Britain and Northern Ireland subject to estate duty trust property (as, for example, on the death of a life tenant who was not the settlor and who had no other interest in the property) which is not subjected to Federal estate tax. Credit is not allowable under the convention for estate duty paid in respect of such property, since the requirement of double taxation is not fulfilled.

If only a part of the property subjected to estate duty imposed in Great Britain or Northern Ireland meets both of the required conditions (i. e., as to situs and double taxation), it will be necessary to determine the portion of such estate duty attributable to such part. Such portion of the estate duty (provided all property is subjected to such estate duty at a uniform rate) is an amount, A, which bears the same ratio to B (the total amount of such estate duty) that C (the value of the property situated as hereinafter provided and subjected to such estate duty and to the Federal estate tax) bears to D (the value of all property subjected to such estate duty). The values used in this proportion are the net values determined for the purpose of the Great Britain or Northern Ireland estate duty. If for any reason property is subjected to such estate duty at other than a uniform rate, a separate computation is to be made with respect to property taxed at each rate.

As an example of the determination of the amount of United Kingdom estate duty attributable to specific property, assume that a deceased resident of the United States owned personal property in Great Britain, $12,000, and real property in Great Britain, $12,000, and owed debts (not charged on any particular property) of $4,000 to persons resident in Great Britain. Under the British statute, the estate duty is computed as follows:

	Net value
Net value of personal property ($12,000 less $4,000)	$8,000
Net value of real property	12,000
Total net value	20,000
Rate of estate duty (percent)	9.6
Estate duty	1,920

The amount of estate duty attributable to the personal property is $\frac{8,000}{20,000} \times $1,920$, or $768.

Similarly, the amount of the Federal estate tax attributable to the property which meets the required conditions (as to situs and double taxation) is an amount, A, which bears the same ratio to B (the Federal estate tax) as C (the value of the property situated as hereinafter provided and subjected to both the estate duty imposed in Great Britain or Northern Ireland and the Federal estate tax, or such value adjusted as hereinafter indicated) bears to D (the value of the gross estate, or such value adjusted as hereinafter indicated). The values used in this proportion are the values determined for the purpose of the Federal estate tax, and amounts C and D of the proportion are to be reduced by the amount of any deductions allowable under section 812 of the Internal Revenue Code in respect of such property (1) lost during the settlement of the estate, (2) identified as previously taxed property or (3) specifically bequeathed or devised for charitable, etc., uses.

The amount of the estate tax or estate duty attributable to specific property is, for the purposes of this section, the amount ascertained after the allowance of any applicable credit, remission or reduction of tax, other than, first, credit authorized under this convention and, second, (except as otherwise provided in paragraph (c) of this section) credit authorized under death duty conventions between the United States and any other country. In determining by proportion the amount of estate tax or estate duty attributable to property which meets the required conditions to the allowance of credit the following rules apply:

(i) If the credit (as, for example, the credit for State inheritance tax) does not pertain to specific property, the amount of tax ascertained after the allowance of such credit should be proportioned.

(ii) If the credit pertains to specific property, the tax ascertained before the allowance of such credit should be proportioned, and the amount of tax thus found to be attributable to the property which meets the required conditions should then be reduced by the amount of such credit pertaining to such property. Examples of credit pertaining to specific property are the Federal gift tax credit, credits under death duty conventions, the British quick succession allowance, the British allowance for colonial death duties, the British allowance for settlement estate duty, the British allowance for duties paid before August 2, 1894, and the remissions of British estate duty under the Killed in War Acts.

(It may be noted that in consequence of this rule the estate duty imposed in Great Britain or Northern Ireland is to be reduced by credit allowable against such duty for the tax paid in a British possession or in any other country only if such credit pertains to the same property in respect of which credit is allowable under this section.)

For the purpose of determining the situs of property in respect of which credit is claimed, the provisions of § 82.104 are pertinent.

If at the time the Federal estate tax return, Form 706, is filed, the estate duty imposed in Great Britain or Northern Ireland has not been determined and paid, credit therefor may be entered on the return in an estimated amount. The computation of the credit should be set forth on Form 706e, "Computation of Credit for United Kingdom Estate Duty," the supplemental form prescribed for the purpose.

However, before credit for Great Britain or Northern Ireland estate duty is finally allowed, a statement by an authorized official of the Estate Duty Office of Great Britain or Northern Ireland must be submitted certifying (a) the full amount of such estate duty (exclusive of any interest or penalties), as computed before allowance of any credit, remission or relief, (b) the amount of any credit, allowance, remission or relief and other pertinent information, including the nature of such allowance and a description of the property to which it pertains, (c) the net estate duty payable after any such allowance, (d) the date on which the estate duty was paid, or if not all paid at one time, the amount and date of each partial payment, and (e) a list of the property situated in Great Britain or Northern Ireland and subjected to the estate duty, showing the description of each item and the value thereof. The certificate shall also show that such amount of estate duty was computed in accordance with applicable provisions of the convention, and that no refund of such estate duty is pending and none authorized, or if any such refund is pending or has been authorized, the amount thereof and other pertinent information. The following information should also be certified whenever applicable:

(i) If any of the property subjected to such estate duty was situated outside Great Britain or outside Northern Ireland, as the case may be, the description of each item of such property and the value thereof.

(ii) If for any reason property is subjected to such estate duty at more than one rate, such information pertaining thereto as is necessary to determine the correct credit.

(iii) If payment of any portion of such estate duty has been postponed, a description of the property in respect of which such postponement was granted.

(iv) If paragraph (2) of Article V of the convention is applicable, such information pertaining to situs of property as is necessary to determine the correct credit.

Form 706f, "Certification of United Kingdom Estate Duty," is prescribed for the above purpose. The Commissioner may require the submission of any additional proof deemed necessary to establish the right to credit.

If subsequent to the allowance of credit for estate duty imposed in Great Britain or Northern Ireland, a refund is made of any overpayment of such estate duty, then the person to whom the refund is made is required to advise the Commissioner thereof and pay any further Federal estate tax resulting from any reduction in the credit.

(b) Decedent domiciled in or a citizen of the United States. In the case of the estate of a decedent who at time of death was domiciled in or a citizen of the United States, credit is authorized against the Federal estate tax for any Great Britain or Northern Ireland estate duty paid in respect of property situated in Great Britain or Northern Ireland and subjected to such taxes by both the United States and Great Britain or Northern Ireland. However, such credit is not allowable in respect of any such property for which credit is authorized under the provisions of paragraph (c) of this section and paragraph (2) of Article V of the convention. (Article V (1) of the convention.)

Great Britain subjects to estate duty property situated outside Great Britain on the death of the owner domiciled in Great Britain. Property which forms the subject of a British trust is subjected to estate duty, even though such property is situated outside Great Britain and passes on the death of a person domiciled outside Great Britain. Credit is not allowable under this paragraph for British estate duty paid in respect of such property, since the requirement of situs is not fulfilled.

For the purpose of determining what property was at time of death situated in the United Kingdom, the provisions of § 82.104 are pertinent. In the case of a decedent who was at time of death domiciled in either the United States or the United Kingdom (but not in the case of a citizen of the United States not domiciled in either the United States or the United Kingdom), the rules of situs for certain classes of property prescribed by Article III of the convention and § 82.104 are applicable in determining whether property was situated in the United Kingdom. If the decedent was domiciled in the United States and was not domiciled in the United Kingdom, such rules of situs are applicable not only for purposes of allowance of credit by the United States but also for purposes of imposition of tax by the United Kingdom (where jurisdiction to tax is based on situs of property), and credit is allowable only for United Kingdom estate duty computed in accordance with such rules of situs.

The credit is limited to the amount of the Great Britain or Northern Ireland estate duty attributable to property which is (1) situated in Great Britain or Northern Ireland and (2) subjected to both such estate duty and the Federal estate tax. The amount of the credit is also limited to the amount of the Federal estate tax attributable to such property.

Example (1). The decedent was domiciled in the United States at time of death. The gross estate consists of shares of stocks of United States corporations, $50,000, bonds issued by British corporations, $50,000, and shares of stocks of British corporations, $50,000. Debts and administration expenses total $10,000. Under the situs rules of the convention the only property subjected to the British estate duty comprises the shares of stocks of the British corporations. The amount of the British estate duty as converted into United States money is $3,000. The amount of the Federal estate tax, after allowance of the State inheritance tax credit, is $14,780. The credit cannot exceed

$$\frac{50,000 \text{ (British property)}}{150,000 \text{ (gross estate)}} \times $14,780 = $4,926.67 \left(\begin{array}{c} \text{amount of estate tax attributable to British property} \end{array} \right)$$

As the amount of the British estate duty is less than the latter amount, credit for British estate duty is allowed in the amount of $3,000.

Example (2). The facts are the same as in the preceding example except that $20,000 of the British stocks are specifically bequeathed to a charitable organization. The amount of the British estate duty attributable to the property doubly taxed is $3,000. The amount of the Federal estate tax is $9,340. The credit cannot exceed the amount of the Federal estate tax attributable to the British stocks which is

$$\frac{30,000 \text{ (value of British stocks adjusted)}}{130,000 \text{ (gross estate adjusted)}} \times $9,340 = $2,155.38$$

The value of the British stocks and the value of the gross estate are adjusted as explained in paragraph (a) of this section. As the amount of the Federal estate tax attributable to the property doubly taxed is less than the amount of the British estate duty so attributable, the credit is allowable in the amount of the former, $2,155.38.

Example (3). The facts are the same as in example (1) except that $20,000 of the United States stocks are specifically bequeathed to charity. The amount of the British estate duty attributable to the property doubly taxed is $3,000. The amount of the Federal estate tax attributable to the property doubly taxed is

$$\frac{50,000 \text{ (value of British stocks)}}{130,000 \text{ (gross estate adjusted)}} \times $9,340 = $3,592.31.$$

The credit allowable is the lesser of the two amounts, $3,000.

Due to conflicts between rules of situs, property which under paragraph (2) of Article III of the convention and § 82.104 of this subpart is deemed to be situated in Great Britain or Northern Ireland may be subjected to tax in some other country. In such case, (i) credit may be allowable against the Federal estate tax for estate duty imposed in Great Britain or Northern Ireland with respect to the property and (ii) credit may be allowable against such estate duty for tax paid to the third country with respect to the same property. Under these circumstances, the credit allowable against the Federal estate tax is limited to the amount of the Great Britain or Northern Ireland estate duty attributable to the property as computed after allowance of credit for the tax paid in the third country.

Example (4). The facts are the same as in example (1) except that the certificates of $10,000 of the stocks of the British corporations were in bearer form physically located in Eire, and were subjected to duty in that country. Credit for the duty paid in Eire is allowed against the British estate duty. The credit against the Federal estate tax is limited to the amount of the British estate duty applicable to the British stocks, $3,000, less the amount of credit allowed against such duty for the duty paid in Eire.

In case credit against the Federal estate tax is allowable under the convention with the United Kingdom and under death duty conventions with one or more other countries, such credits shall be combined and the aggregate amount shall be credited against the Federal estate tax. If because of any conflict in situs rules the same property of the gross estate is subjected to tax by two foreign countries, the total amount of both credits allowable in respect of such property is limited to the amount of the Federal estate tax attributable to such property. If for any reason it is necessary to ascertain, in any case in which this limitation applies, the proportion of the combined credit which is allowed under each death duty convention, the combined credit shall be divided in proportion to the amount of credit allowable (before application of this limitation) under each convention in respect of such property.

Example (5). The gross estate includes stocks of British corporations, represented by certificates in bearer form physically located in Canada. Under the situs rules of Canada the British stocks are regarded as situated in Canada (this rule not being changed by the United States-Canada convention), and under the situs rules of the United States-United Kingdom convention the British stocks are regarded as situated in Great Britain. The Federal estate tax attributable to the property taxed in the three countries is $4,800, and credits for British estate duty and Canadian succession duty are determined at $4,000 and $2,000, respectively, before application of the limitation on their combined amount. The combined credits are limited to $4,800, the amount of the Federal estate tax attributable to the stocks. The credits for British estate duty and Canadian succession duty are therefore limited to $3,200 and $1,600, respectively, which amounts are in the same proportion as $4,000 and $2,000.

Example (6). The facts are the same as in example (1) except that the gross estate includes $50,000 of stocks of Canadian corporations instead of $50,000 of bonds of British corporations. A nephew is the sole legatee. The Canadian succession duty is $2,823.33, in which amount credit is allowable against the Federal estate tax under the death duty convention between the United States and Canada. The amount of the British estate duty attributable to the British stocks is $3,000. The amount of the Federal estate tax attributable to the British stocks is

$$\frac{50,000 \text{ (British stocks)}}{150,000 \text{ (gross estate)}} \times $14,780 = $4,926.67$$

It may be noted the $14,780 is the amount of the Federal estate tax after allowance of State inheritance tax credit but before any allowance of the Canadian succession duty credit. The amount of the British estate duty credit is $3,000, and the total amount of the foreign tax credits allowable against the Federal estate tax under both the Canadian and British death duty conventions is $5,823.33. Since the Canadian succession duty and the British estate duty are not imposed in respect of the same property, the limitation illustrated in the preceding example does not apply.

(c) Decedent regarded as domiciled in the United States and in the United Kingdom. Whenever in any case it appears that both contracting countries have asserted or are contemplating the assertion of the tax on the basis of domicile, the evidence adduced with respect to the decedent's domicile will be carefully reviewed or facts pertaining thereto further investigated so that, if possible, both countries may agree upon the decedent's domicile. Since the basic principles of the law relating to domicile are alike in both countries, it is anticipated that such agreement will usually be reached.

However, if in a particular case the United States determines that the decedent was domiciled in the United States and asserts estate tax in accordance with such determination and Great Britain or Northern Ireland also determines that the decedent was domiciled in Great Britain or Northern Ireland and asserts estate duty in accordance with such determination, and no agreement is reached upon the decedent's domicile, then each contracting country will (in addition to any credit authorized under the provisions of paragraph (1) of Article V of the convention and paragraph (b) of this section) allow against its tax a credit in respect of property subjected to tax by both countries and deemed situated (1) in both countries or (2) outside both countries. The total of the credits authorized under this paragraph shall be equal to the amount of tax imposed with respect to such property by the country imposing the smaller tax, and shall be divided between the two countries in proportion to the amount of tax imposed by each of the two countries with respect to such property. (Article V (2) of the convention.)

Property deemed situated in both countries includes property which by the situs rules of paragraph (2) of Article III of the convention is deemed to be situated at the place where the decedent was domiciled at the time of his death. It also includes any property not within such rules which each country claims to be situated within its territory.

For the purposes of this paragraph the amount of the Federal estate tax attributable to property situated as herein provided and doubly taxed shall be the amount determined as provided in paragraph (a) of this section, reduced by the amount of any credit allowable in respect of such property under death duty conventions between the United States and any third country.

Example (1). After a careful review of the evidence the United States Government determines that the decedent was at time of death domiciled in the United States and the British Government determines that the decedent was at time of death domiciled in Great Britain. The gross estate consists of $200,000 of British stocks, $150,000 of United States stocks, and $50,000 of bonds, the certificates of which were at time of death located in the United States. Debts and charges are $20,000. The amount of the Federal estate tax, computed on the whole estate wherever situated, after allowance for State inheritance tax credit but before allowance for British estate duty credit is $81,940. The amount of the British estate duty, also computed on the whole estate wherever situated, before allowance for United States estate tax credit is $93,860. Under paragraph (1) of Article V of the convention, the United States allows credit for the British estate duty attributable to the $200,000 of British stocks which are regarded as situated in Great Britain under Article III of the convention. Such credit, computed as explained in paragraph (b) of this section, is $40,970. Similarly under paragraph (1) of Article V of the convention, Great Britain allows credit for the United States estate tax attributable to the $150,000 of United States stocks, the amount of such credit being $30,727.50. Since under Article III of the convention bonds are deemed to be situated in the country of the decedent's domicile, in this case the bonds are regarded as situated in both countries and with respect thereto credit is allowable by each country under the provisions of paragraph (2) of Article V of the convention. The amount of the Federal estate tax attributable to the $50,000 of bonds, as computed without allowance for British estate duty credit, is

$$\frac{50,000\text{ (bonds)}}{400,000\text{ (gross estate)}} \times $81,940\text{ (estate tax)} = $10,242.50$$

The amount of the British estate duty attributable to the $50,000 of bonds, as computed without allowance for United States estate tax credit, is

$$\frac{50,000\text{ (bonds)}}{400,000\text{ (gross estate)}} \times $93,860\text{ (estate duty)} = $11,732.50$$

Since $10,242.50 is the smaller of the two amounts, such amount is the total of the credits allowable by the two countries under paragraph (2) of Article V of the convention. The part thereof allowable by the United States is

$$\frac{10,242.50}{21,975.00} \times $10,242.50 = $4,774.01$$

The part allowable by Great Britain is

$$\frac{11,732.50}{21,975.00} \times $10,242.50 = $5,468.49$$

The taxes and credits for both countries are shown in the following summary:

United States

Tax before treaty credits	$81,940.00
Credit under V (1)	$40,970.00
Credit under V (2)	4,774.01
Total credits	45,744.01
Net tax payable	36,195.99

Great Britain

Duty before treaty credits	$93,860.00
Credit under V (1)	$30,727.50
Credit under V (2)	5,468.49
Net duty payable	57,664.01

It may be noted that the total of the taxes payable to the two countries, the sum of $36,195.99 and $57,664.01, equals $93,860, the amount of the tax (before allowance of the treaty credits) of the country which imposes the higher tax.

Example (2). The facts are the same as in example (1) except that the bond certificates were at the time of death located in Canada and under Canadian law deemed situated for succession duty purposes in Canada. The amount of the Canadian succession duty is $2,823.33. The amount of the Federal estate tax attributable to the bonds, as computed without allowance for either the Canadian succession duty credit or the British estate duty credit, is $10,242.50. Since under the convention with Canada credit of $2,823.33 is allowable, the amount of the Federal estate tax attributable to the bonds, as computed with allowance of the Canadian succession duty credit but without allowance of the British estate duty credit, is $10,242.50 less $2,823.33 or $7,419.17. The amount of the British estate duty attributable to the bonds, as computed without allowance for United States estate tax credit, is $11,732.50. Since $7,419.17 is the smaller of the two amounts, such amount is the total of the credits allowable by the United States and Great Britain under paragraph (2) of Article V of the convention. The part thereof allowable by the United States is

$$\frac{7,419.17}{19,151.67} \times $7,419.17 = $2,874.11$$

The part thereof allowable by Great Britain is

$$\frac{11,732.50}{19,151.67} \times $7,419.17 = $4,545.06$$

The taxes and credits for the three countries are shown in the following summary:

(Article VI (1) of the convention.)

An overpayment of estate tax due to the allowance of the credit or to the application of any other provision of the convention may be refunded except that no refund due to the allowance of credit may be made after the expiration of the applicable period hereinbefore designated for the allowance of credit, and no refund due to the application of any other provision of the convention may be made after six years from the date of the decedent's death, unless before the expiration of such period a claim therefor has been filed, or unless within such period a petition alleging the right to credit or to other relief under the convention has been filed with The Tax Court of the United States. Any claim for refund which does not comply with the requirements of the preceding sentence will not be considered for any purpose as a valid claim for refund. Claim for refund should be made on Form 843 and filed with the Collector of Internal Revenue, although a claim for refund will not be considered defective solely by reason of the fact that it is not made on such form or that it is filed with the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Any refund of estate tax due to the application of the provisions of the convention shall be made without interest. (Article VI (2) of the convention.)

§ 82.109 Information furnished by each contracting country to the other. The taxation authorities of the contracting countries shall exchange such information available under the taxation laws of the respective countries as is necessary for carrying out the provisions of the convention or for the prevention of fraud or the administration of statutory provisions against legal avoidance in relation to the taxes which are the subject of the convention. Information so furnished will be kept secret and not disclosed to any person other than those concerned with the assessment and collection of the taxes which are the subject of the convention. Such information shall not include any trade secret or trade process. (Article VII (1) of the convention.)

The term "taxation authorities" means, for the United States, the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or his authorized representative, for Great Britain, the Commissioners of Inland Revenue or their authorized representative, for Northern Ireland, the Minister of Finance or his authorized representative, and, for any territory to which the convention is extended under Article VIII the competent authority administering the tax to which the convention may be extended. TITLE 30—MINERAL RESOURCES

Chapter VIII—Coal Mines Administration, Department of the Interior

[Order CMAN-21]

APPENDIX TO PART 801—OPERATION OF COAL MINES UNDER GOVERNMENT CONTROL

DIRECTION CONCERNING ANNUAL VACATION PERIOD

Section 7 of the Agreement of May 29, 1946, between the Coal Mines Administrator and the United Mine Workers of America recognizes that an annual vacation period shall be the rule of the bituminous coal industry, and provides for vacation pay based on the qualifying period of June 1, 1945, to May 31, 1946, under the terms and conditions set forth therein. Approximately one year has elapsed since the end of the last vacation qualifying period for which payments were made. Previous contracts between the operators and the Union, as well as the Agreement of May 29, 1946, provided for a vacation period of ten days beginning on the last Saturday in June during which time coal production was to cease.

On May 16, 1947, the Coal Mines Administrator, in accordance with section 5 of the War Labor Disputes Act, filed an application with the Secretary of Labor requesting the approval, by a Special Board to be appointed by him pursuant to Executive Order 9809, of a proposal relative to vacation pay for the vacation qualifying period of June 1, 1946, to May 31, 1947, to be made to employees covered by the Agreement of May 29, 1946, at mines in Government possession under authority of Executive Orders 9728 and 9758. Such Special Board approved the changes in terms and conditions of employment relative to vacation pay set forth in said application, and the order of said Board was approved by the President on May 17, 1947.

Now, therefore, pursuant to section 5 of the War Labor Disputes Act and the order of said Board, each Operating Manager for the United States of mines in Government possession under authority of Executive Orders 9728 and 9758 is hereby ordered to make vacation payments for the vacation qualifying period of June 1, 1946, to May 31, 1947, to eligible employees covered by the Agreement of May 29, 1946, in accordance with the following:

The terms and provisions of section 7 of the Agreement of May 29, 1946, relating to vacation payments shall apply in all respects to the vacation qualifying period of June 1, 1946, to May 31, 1947, subject to the following:

a. Vacation payments shall be made on the last pay day occurring in the month of June 1947, but not later than June 27, 1947.

b. The vacation period for 1947 shall begin on June 28, 1947. The authority of the Coal Mines Administrator to operate the bituminous coal mines now in Government possession will expire on June 30, 1947.

c. In the event that a contract is concluded prior to June 27, 1947, between any private operator or operators and the United Mine Workers of America, which provides for or deals with any vacation payment based on the qualifying period of June 1, 1946, to May 31, 1947, this order shall cease to be effective insofar as it affects vacation payments to employees of the mine or mines covered by such contract.

Specific attention is directed to the fact that in applying this order each employee with a record of one year's standing (June 1, 1946, to May 31, 1947) is entitled to receive the sum of $100 as vacation payment, and that pro rata payments for the months they were on the pay roll shall be made to those mine workers who were given employment or left their employment during the qualifying period of June 1, 1946, to May 31, 1947.

This order shall be deemed to be a specific direction or order within the meaning of the Revised Regulations for the Operation of Coal Mines Under Government Control (11 F. R. 7567).

N. H. COLLISSON,
Captain, U. S. N. R.,
Coal Mines Administrator.

PART 16—REGISTRY SYSTEM: INSURANCE AND COLLECT-ON-DELIVERY SERVICES

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

In Part 16 (39 CFR) make the following changes:

1. Amend paragraph (f) of § 16.63 to read as follows:

§ 16.63 Insurance, collect-on-delivery service. * * *

(f) (1) Postal employees shall inquire as to whether parcels contain matter of a fragile, perishable or inflammable nature, except where patrons mail in quantities and have been instructed by the Postal Service regarding packing and endorsement. If the response is in the negative, and the parcel to all outward appearance is adequately prepared for mailing, no further inquiry as to contents or packing need be made. If the response is in the affirmative, detailed inquiry shall be made as to contents and method of packing so that the accepting employee may ascertain whether the contents are admissible to the mails and are adequately packed for safe transmission. Such parcels shall be indorsed "Fragile," "Perishable," etc.

(2) Any parcel which is not packed in accordance with the Postal laws and regulations or other instructions of the Department or which is not sufficiently prepared to withstand reasonable handling in transit must be refused. Unless there is doubt as to the adequacy of the packing, or as to the actual inclosures, parcels need not be opened and examined.

2. Amend § 16.67 by the addition of paragraphs (h) and (i), reading as follows:

§ 16.67 Payment of indemnity claims by postmasters. * * *

(h) (1) When the sender or addressee of a parcel insured at the minimum fee starts a claim therefor at other than the post office of mailing, the procedure outlined in this paragraph shall be followed:

(2) The person filing the claim shall be required to submit Form 3813–B or equivalent evidence of insurance such as the wrapper of the parcel. The postmaster shall certify in a marginal notation on the left side of page 1 of the Form 3812 reading substantially "On ----------, I examined the sender's insurance receipt (Form 3813–B) or the wrapper of the insured parcel described hereon which was mailed at ----------." The (Post office and State of mailing)
"Declaration of Postmaster—Mailing Office" on the Form 3812 shall be modified by striking out the words "Mailing Office" and substituting therefor the name of the post office and State where claim is made. The name of the mailing office shall be entered in item 38. Each applicable item in the declaration shall be completed, including, under item 9, the signature of the postmaster and the name of the office at which the claim is filed.

(3) The declaration of the sender or addressee (or both, if they are located at the office where claim is started) shall then be obtained. After the Form 3812 has been properly completed in accordance with existing instructions at the office where the claim is started, it shall be transmitted to the postmaster at the office which is to give the claim further attention. If the Form 3812 is sent by the postmaster at the office where it was started to other than the postmaster at the office where the parcel was mailed, appropriate notice shall be furnished to the mailing office so that record may be made of the claim.

(4) The postmaster at the office finally completing the Form 3812 shall transmit it for adjustment directly to the postmaster at the appropriate central accounting office for the State or section in which the parcel was mailed.

(i) (1) In claims for damage to insured or C. O. D. parcels containing articles of a fragile nature, or damage to (not spoiling of) articles of a perishable nature, the description of packing or wrapping should be in such detail as to enable the Department, or the paying postmaster, to determine whether reasonable care and effort were exercised by the sender to prepare the parcel for mailing as to assure its safe transmission in the mails. Where the container used was made of pasteboard, it should be stated whether it was made of heavy corrugated pasteboard, heavy ordinary pasteboard or merely light pasteboard. Where cushioning material was used, the statement should show in a general way the kind, quantity, and manner in which the cushioning material was used.

(2) Claims for indemnity involving damage to parcels containing articles of a fragile nature, or damage to (not spoiling of) articles of a perishable nature, should not be paid where the packing was inadequate and the sender deliberately or otherwise misrepresented the description of the packing or the contents.

TITLE 46—SHIPPING

Chapter I—Coast Guard: Inspection and Navigation

[CGFR 47-32]

PART 2—VESSEL INSPECTIONS

PART 3—MERCHANT MARINE PERSONNEL

NAVIGATION AND VESSEL INSPECTION LAWS, AND SHIPMENT AND DISCHARGE OF SEAMEN

By virtue of the authority vested in me by sec. 101, Reorganization Plan No. 3 of 1946 (11 F. R. 7875); Public Law 404, 79th Congress (60 Stat. 238); and, Public Law 27, 80th Congress, approved March 31, 1947, the following amendments to the regulations are prescribed and shall be effective on and after June 1, 1947:

1. Section 2.50-1 is amended to read as follows:

§ 2.50-1 Waivers—(a) Authority for and limitations on issuance. Compliance with certain of the navigation and vessel inspection laws may be waived by the Commandant under authority of the act of March 31, 1947 (Public Law No. 27, 80th Congress) in cases where such waiver is deemed necessary in the orderly reconversion of the merchant marine from wartime to peacetime operations. By the terms of Public Law No. 27 this authority to grant waivers expires April 1, 1948. Section 2 of Public Law 27 specifically prohibits the issuance of waivers on and after June 1, 1947 which would allow noncompliance with the statutory citizenship requirements governing the employment of licensed officers and crew members and limiting the employment of aliens with the following exception. The Commandant of the Coast Guard may, until April 1, 1948, grant a waiver of the statutory requirements limiting the number of aliens that may be employed in the steward's department of vessels authorized to carry in excess of 12 passengers. These waivers will be for individual vessels as explained in paragraph (b) of this section unless it is found necessary to issue a general waiver.

(b) Policy. It is the policy of the Coast Guard, in the current administration of the laws and regulations relating to navigation and vessel inspection, to further the orderly reconversion of the merchant marine from wartime to peacetime operations by simplifying the procedure involved therein, eliminating all causes of delay in the sailing of vessels, and by bringing about a proper balance between the factors of safety at sea and this orderly reconversion. Various orders have been issued since March 1, 1942, for the purpose of carrying out this policy. While it is not the policy of the Coast Guard to countenance wilful violations of the laws and regulations or negligence in meeting the requirements thereof, neither is it contemplated that masters who exercise all reasonable efforts to comply with the requirements in effect be cited for violations on technical grounds.

(c) Specific individual waivers. Applications for waivers affecting only one vessel in any one order are made on Coast Guard Form 2633. Application for Waiver Order, and the reverse side of the form is used for granting of the waiver. The application shall state the name of vessel, her employment, the requirements of law or regulations, waiver of which is requested, the reasons why waiver is necessary, and shall be signed by the master, owner, or agent of the vessel, or by the representative of any interested government agency. The waiver order describes the vessel, the requirements of law waived, the conditions to which waiver is subject, and the period of time for which the waiver is effective. Application for individual waivers may be made to Coast Guard District Commanders and their designated representatives in domestic ports and representatives of the Commandant in other than domestic ports at which Coast Guard officers are assigned to duty. Document CGFR-47-30 (12 F. R. 3249), published in the FEDERAL REGISTER for May 20, 1947 is an order of the Commandant outlining the procedures for application and effectuation of individual waivers.

(d) General waivers. Applications for waivers having general applicability should be addressed to the Commandant. Only the Commandant is authorized to issue general waivers which affect more than one vessel in one order.

2. Section 3.13-25 is amended to read as follows:

§ 3.13-25 Crew deficiencies—(a) Authority for making crew substitutions. The order dated May 14, 1947 identified as document CGFR-47-29 (12 F. R. 3248), published in the FEDERAL REGISTER for May 20, 1947 is a conditional waiver of manning requirements which permits masters who cannot obtain the quality of crew required to make substitutions therefor subject to certain restrictions.

(b) Restrictions on substitutions. (1) The waiver referred to in paragraph (a) of this section is applicable only to merchant cargo and tank vessels and does not authorize substitutions which would cause the statutory citizenship requirements for licensed officers and certificated crew members to be violated. This general waiver is intended to simplify to the utmost degree consistent with safety the procedure necessary when the required crew complement of a merchant cargo or tank vessel cannot be obtained by every reasonable effort up to the time of signing on. This waiver has the effect of relaxing the complement requirements of R. S. 4463, insofar as the quality of the crew is concerned by permitting substitutions in the filling of complements. Thus, if all the conditions of this waiver are met, a vessel may be navigated with licensed or rated positions occupied by officers or rated men of lower ranks and ratings than the complement calls for, but all positions specified in the complement must be occupied. In other words, while this waiver permits particular positions to be filled by men who do not hold the licenses or certificates contemplated by the complement for such positions, it does not permit a vessel to be navigated with less than the total number of crew members specified in the complement. This waiver has no application to the navigation of a vessel where vacancies in the complement occur after the filling of the complement but during the period for which the full crew has been signed on. That situation continues to be governed by R. S. 4463.

(2) In view of the limitations on the employment of aliens contained in Public Law 27, after June 1, 1947 no alien may serve as a watch officer on United States vessels and the procedure set up by the Coast Guard for approving aliens to serve under waiver as watch officers will become inoperative and all outstanding lists of approved aliens and individual letters of approval will be without force and effect.

(c) Reports of substitutions. The report required by the Coast Guard has to be made on Coast Guard Form 729, Crew Deficiency Report, which may be obtained upon request from any Officer in Charge, Marine Inspection. Three copies must be filed, two with the shipping commissioner who signed on the crew, or if the crew was not signed on before shipping commissioner to the nearest Officer in Charge, Marine Inspection, and one copy must be submitted to the Collector of Customs at time application for clearance of vessel is made.

(d) Crew shortages. (1) There is no waiver permitting a vessel to be navigated with less than the total number of crew members specified in its complement and this situation is governed by R. S. 4463.

(2) R. S. 4463 outlines the conditions under which a vessel may be navigated in situations where the vessel is deprived of the services of any number of her crew during the period for which the full crew has been signed on. In such cases if the vacancies are filled with replacements of the same grade or a higher rating the vessel may, of course, continue to be navigated just as though no vacancies had occurred. She may be navigated without all positions occupied by such replacements only if such services were lost through desertion or casualty; such services were lost without the consent, fault or collusion of the master, owner or any other person interested in the vessel; the master was unable to obtain replacements of the same grade or of a higher rating to fill the vacant positions; and, it is the judgment of the master that the vessel is sufficiently manned.

(3) For purposes of administration of R. S. 4463, the terms "desertion or casualty" shall be construed by the Coast Guard to include all circumstances beyond the control of the master, owner or any other person interested in the vessel which result in crew vacancies.

(4) No particular form is required by statute to be used in making reports of crew shortages. To reduce paper work and simplify the filing of reports Coast Guard Form 729 may be used. Masters using this form must make appropriate modification thereof to indicate that the report is a shortage report under R. S. 4463, enter thereon the name and license or certificate number of each member of the crew who left the vessel, state the cause of the shortage and the port at which it occurred, certify that no replacements of the same grade or of a higher rating were obtainable and that in his judgment the vessel was sufficiently manned, and file the same in duplicate with the Coast Guard Officer in Charge, Marine Inspection, within 12 hours of the arrival of the vessel at her destination.

SEC. 3. Expenses and assessments—(a) Expenses. The committee is authorized to incur such expenses as the Secretary finds may be necessary to carry out the functions of the committee pursuant to the provisions hereof during each fiscal year. The funds to cover such expenses shall be acquired by levying assessments as hereinafter provided.

(b) Assessment. (1) Each handler who first handles potatoes, shall, with respect to the potatoes so handled by him, pay to the committee, upon demand, such handler's pro rata share of the expenses which the Secretary finds will be necessarily incurred by the committee for its maintenance and functioning during each fiscal year. Such handler's pro rata share of such expenses shall be equal to the ratio between the total quantity of potatoes handled by him as the first handler thereof, during the applicable fiscal year, and the total quantity of potatoes handled by all handlers, as the first handlers thereof, during the same fiscal year. The Secretary shall fix the rate of assessment to be paid by such handlers.

(2) At any time during or after a fiscal year, the Secretary may increase the rate of assessment in order to secure sufficient funds to cover any later finding by the Secretary relative to the expense of the committee. Such increase shall be applicable to all potatoes handled during the given fiscal year. In order to provide funds to carry out the functions of the committee, handlers may make advance payment of assessments.

(c) Accounting. (1) If, at the end of a fiscal year, it shall appear that assessments collected are in excess of expenses incurred, each handler entitled to a proportionate refund of the excess assessments shall be credited with such refund against the operations of the following fiscal year, unless he demands payment thereof, in which event such sum shall be paid to him.

(2) The committee may, with the approval of the Secretary, maintain in its own name, or in the name of its members, a suit against any handler for the collection of such handler's pro rata share of the expenses of the committee.

SEC. 4. Regulation—(a) Marketing policy. At the beginning of each fiscal year, the committee shall prepare and submit to the Secretary a report setting forth its proposed policy for the marketing of potatoes during such fiscal year. In the event it becomes advisable to deviate from such marketing policy, because of changed demand and supply conditions, the committee shall formulate a new marketing policy and shall submit a report thereon to the Secretary. The committee shall notify producers and handlers of the contents of such reports.

(b) Recommendations for regulations. (1) It shall be the duty of the committee to investigate the supply and demand conditions for grade, size and quality of potatoes of all varieties. Whenever the committee finds that such conditions make it advisable to regulate the shipment of particular grade, size and quality of potatoes of any or all varieties during any period, it shall recommend to the Secretary the particular grade, size and quality of any or all varieties thereof deemed advisable to be shipped during such period.

(2) In determining the grade, size and quality of potatoes of all varieties deemed advisable to be regulated in view of the prospective demand therefor, the committee shall give due consideration to the following factors: (i) Market prices, including prices by grade, size and quality of potatoes of all varieties for which regulation is recommended; (ii) potatoes on hand in the market areas as manifested by supplies enroute and on track at the principal markets; (iii) available supply, quality, and condition of potatoes in Eastern South Dakota; (iv) supplies from competitive areas and regions producing potatoes; (v) the trend and level of consumer income, and (vi) other relevant factors.

(c) Issuance of regulations. Whenever the Secretary shall find, from the recommendations and information submitted by the committee, and from other available information, that to limit the shipment of potatoes to particular grade, size and quality of any or all varieties thereof would tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act, he shall so limit the shipments of potatoes during a specified period. Any specific regulation may be made applicable to any variety or varieties of potatoes. The Secretary shall notify the committee of any such regulation and the committee shall give reasonable notice thereof to handlers.

(d) Inspection and certification. During any period in which the Secretary has regulated the shipment of potatoes pursuant to this section, each handler shall, prior to making each shipment of potatoes, cause each shipment to be inspected by an authorized representative of the Federal-State Inspection Service. Promptly thereafter, each handler shall submit to the committee a copy of the inspection certificate issued thereon.

(e) Exemptions. (1) The committee shall adopt and announce the procedural rules pursuant to which certificates of exemption will be issued to producers.

(2) The committee shall issue certificates of exemption to any producer who furnishes adequate evidence to the said committee that by reason of a regulation issued pursuant to this section he will be prevented from having as large a proportion of potatoes shipped during the remainder of the shipping season, as the average of all producers. Such certificates of exemption shall permit such producer to have as large a proportion of his potatoes shipped as the average of all producers.

(3) If any producer is dissatisfied with the certificate of exemption granted to him pursuant to an application, said producer may file an appeal with the committee. Such an appeal must be taken promptly after the issuance of the certificate of exemption from which the appeal is taken. Any producer filing an appeal shall furnish evidence satisfactory to the committee, for a determination on the appeal. The committee shall thereupon reconsider the application, examine all available evidence, and make a final determination concerning the certificate of exemption to be granted. The committee shall notify the appellant of the final determination and shall furnish the Secretary with a copy of the appeal and a statement of considerations involved in making the final determination.

(4) The Secretary shall have the right to modify, change, alter, or rescind any procedural rules and any exemptions granted pursuant to this section.

SEC. 5. Regulation of surplus—(a) Recommendation. It shall be the duty of the committee to investigate supply and demand conditions of potatoes. Whenever the committee finds that a surplus of potatoes exists, it shall determine the extent of such surplus of potatoes or of any grade, size or quality thereof. If it is deemed advisable, the committee shall recommend the control and disposition of surplus potatoes and for equalizing the burden of surplus elimination or control among the producers and handlers thereof under uniform rules established by the committee and approved by the Secretary.

(b) Issuance of regulations. (1) Whenever the Secretary finds from the recommendations and information submitted by the Committee, or from other available information, that the control and disposition of surplus potatoes will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act, he shall control and dispose of such surplus potatoes and shall further provide for equalizing the burden of such surplus elimination or control among producers and handlers thereof.

(2) At any time during which the Secretary provides for the control and disposition of surplus potatoes, the committee is authorized to enter into contracts or agreements with any person, agency, or organization, for the purpose of facilitating the disposal of surplus potatoes. The Secretary may designate the committee as an agency to assist in and to effectuate the elimination or control of surplus potatoes under any governmental program.

SEC. 6. Potatoes not subject to regulation. Nothing contained herein shall authorize any limitation of the shipment of potatoes for any of the following purposes: (a) potatoes certified as seed potatoes by the Seed Department of the State of South Dakota, when such potatoes are shipped for seed purposes in containers bearing the official South Dakota Seed Potato tag; (b) potatoes shipped for consumption by charitable institutions or for distribution by relief agencies, and (c) potatoes shipped for manufacturing or conversion into by-products. The Secretary may, on the basis of the recommendations of the committee or other available information, determine that potatoes shipped for livestock feed or for other specified purposes shall also be exempt from the provisions hereof. The Secretary shall give adequate notice to the committee of any determination made pursuant to this section. The committee may prescribe adequate safeguards to prevent potatoes shipped for the purposes stated above from entering commercial channels of trade contrary to the provisions hereof.

SEC. 7. Reports. Upon the request of the committee, every handler shall furnish to the committee, in such manner and at such time as may be prescribed, such information as will enable the committee to exercise its powers and perform its duties hereunder. The Secretary shall have the right to modify, change, or rescind any reports requested pursuant to this section.

SEC. 8. Compliance. Except as provided herein, no handler shall ship potatoes, the shipment of which has been prohibited by the Secretary in accordance with provisions hereof, and no handler shall ship potatoes except in conformity to the provisions hereof.

SEC. 9. Right of the Secretary. The members of the committee (including successors and alternates), and any agent or employee appointed or employed by the committee, shall be subject to removal or suspension by the Secretary at any time. Each and every order, regulation, decision, determination, or other act of the committee shall be subject to the continuing right of the Secretary to disapprove of the same at any time. Upon such disapproval, the disapproved action of the said committee shall be deemed null and void, except as to acts done in reliance thereon or in compliance therewith prior to such disapproval by the Secretary.

SEC. 10. Effective time and termination—(a) Effective time. The provisions hereof shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may declare above his signature attached hereto, and shall continue in force until terminated in one of the ways hereinafter specified.

(b) Termination. (1) The Secretary may, at any time, terminate the provisions hereof by giving at least one day's notice by means of a press release or in any other manner which he may determine.

(2) The Secretary may terminate or suspend the operations of any or all of the provisions hereof whenever he finds that such provisions do not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(3) The Secretary shall terminate the provisions hereof at the end of any fiscal year whenever he finds that such termination is favored by a majority of producers who, during the preceding fiscal year, have been engaged in the production for market of potatoes: Provided, That such majority has, during such year, produced for market more than fifty percent of the volume of such potatoes produced for market; but such termination shall be effected only if announced on or before June 30 of the then current fiscal year.

(4) The Secretary shall terminate the provisions hereof at the end of any fiscal year, upon the written request of handlers signatory hereto who submit evidence satisfactory to the Secretary that they handled not less than sixty-seven percent of the total volume of potatoes handled by the signatory handlers during the preceding fiscal year; but such termination shall be effective only if announced on or before June 30 of the then current fiscal year.[1]

(5) The provisions hereof shall, in any event, terminate whenever the provisions of the act authorizing them cease to be in effect.

(c) Proceedings after termination. (1) Upon the termination of the provisions hereof, the then functioning members of the committee shall continue as trustees, for the purpose of liquidating the affairs of the committee, of all funds and the property then in the possession of, or under control of the committee, including claims for any funds unpaid, or property not delivered at the time of such termination. Action by said trusteeship shall require the concurrence of a majority of the said trustees.

(2) The said trustees shall continue in such capacity until discharged by the Secretary; shall, from time to time, account for all receipts and disbursements and deliver all property on hand, together with all books and records of the committee and of the trustees, to such person as the Secretary may direct; and shall, upon request of the Secretary, execute such assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to vest in such person full title and right to all of the funds, property, and claims vested in the committee or the trustees pursuant hereto.

(3) Any person to whom funds, property, or claims have been transferred, or delivered by the committee or its members, pursuant to this section, shall be subject to the same obligations imposed upon the members of the committee and upon the said trustees.

SEC. 11. Effect of termination or amendment. Unless otherwise expressly provided by the Secretary, the termination hereof, or of any regulation issued pursuant hereto, or the issuance of any amendment to either thereof, shall not (a) affect or waive any right, duty, obligation, or liability which shall have arisen, or which may thereafter arise in connection with any provision hereof, or any regulation issued hereunder, or (b) release or extinguish any violation hereof, or of any regulation issued hereunder, or (c) affect or impair any rights or remedies of the Secretary, or of any other person with respect to any such violation.

SEC. 12. Duration of immunities. The benefits, privileges, and immunities conferred upon any person by virtue hereof shall cease upon the termination hereof, except with respect to acts done under and during the existence hereof.

SEC. 13. Agents. The Secretary may, by designation in writing, name any person, including any officer or employee of the Government, or name any bureau or division in the United States Department of Agriculture, to act as his agent or representative in connection with any of the provisions hereof.

SEC. 16. Separability. If any provision hereof is declared invalid, or the applicability thereof to any persons, circumstances, or thing is held invalid, the validity of the remainder hereof, or the applicability thereof to any other person, circumstance, or thing shall not be affected thereby.

SEC. 17. Amendments. Amendments hereto may be proposed from time to time, by the committee or by the Secretary.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

PROPOSED CHANGES IN FM ALLOCATION PLAN

DEFERRING OF DECISION IN CERTAIN FM HEARING CASES

APRIL 15, 1947.

On April 10, 1947, the Commission instituted a proceeding in Docket No. 6768 looking toward a modification of its FM rules and standards and of its Tentative Allocation Plan for Class B FM Stations. The proposed changes, if finally adopted would have the effect of increasing the number of Class B FM channels available for assignment in certain communities, including Cleveland-Akron, Ohio; Dayton-Springfield, Ohio; Indianapolis, Indiana; Providence, Rhode Island; Atlanta, Georgia; Mansfield, Ohio; Baltimore, Maryland; San Diego, California; and Springfield, Massachusetts.

Hearings have been held upon applications for Class B FM channels in the foregoing cities, and in each proceeding, there have been more applicants than channels available under the Allocation Plan in its present form. Adoption of the proposed modification would provide enough channels so that in all but two of the cases now pending, grants could be made to all of the applicants if they are found to be qualified. In the two remaining cases, involving applicants for Class B FM channels in Cleveland-Akron, Ohio, and in Baltimore, Maryland, the proposed change in the Allocation Plan would permit a grant to at least one more qualified applicant than would be possible under the Allocation Plan in its present form.

In view of these circumstances, the Commission will defer further action in the cases on which hearings have been held for Class B FM channels in the foregoing cities, pending final disposition of the proceedings in Docket No. 6768. It will then dispose of the hearing cases in the light of the changes which will be made in the Tentative Allocation Plan for Class B FM Stations, thus affording the applicants involved in these hearing cases a greater opportunity to obtain grants than exists at present.

The changes proposed in the FM Allocation Plan would not provide additional channels for Boston, Massachusetts; Bridgeport, Connecticut; Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; or Los Angeles, California. Accordingly, decision in the hearing cases involving applications for channels in these cities will not be affected by such proposed change.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

MAY 27, 1947.

Notice is hereby given that on May 15, 1947, Hope Natural Gas Company (applicant), a West Virginia corporation having its principal place of business at Clarksburg, West Virginia, filed an amended application with the Federal Power Commission for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, to authorize applicant to construct and operate certain natural gas facilities subject to the jurisdiction of the Federal Power Commission, the description of which differs from that in the original application filed on October 29, 1946. The reason for the change of facilities, as stated in the amended application, is: "Hope has recently again modified its proposed plans, and in view of these several changes * * * restate, in the entirety, the proposed facilities and service * * *" as follows:

(a) Additions to Cornwell Compressor Station. Four 1,000 horsepower gas engine-driven compressor units, together with auxiliary equipment and buildings.

(b) Loop Line for H-192. 31 miles of 16-inch loop line paralleling the existing 12-inch high-pressure line No. H-192. This additional loop will commence at a point in Gilmer County, West Virginia, approximately 47 miles north of Cornwell Compressor Station, and will extend parallel with existing line H-192 to a point in Doddridge County, West Virginia, approximately 16 miles south of Hastings Compressor Station. This loop line will be known as Line No. TL-264.

(c) Booster Station (to be known as "Middle Island Station"). A Booster Station, to be known as "Middle Island Station," aggregating 6,000 horsepower, to be installed at a point in Doddridge County, West Virginia, on Lines H-192 and TL-264, including auxiliary equipment and buildings. This location will be approximately 63 miles north of Cornwell Compressor Station and 21½ miles south of Hastings Station. This new station will pump gas through lines H-192 and TL-264 to Hastings Station.

The application states that the facilities, proposed to be constructed in 1947, will constitute additions to Applicant's existing natural gas system in the State of West Virginia, and are to be constructed and operated to enable applicant to increase to 165,000 MCF per day the quantities of natural gas which it will purchase from Tennessee Gas and Transmission Company commencing during the year 1947. Hope is at present receiving approximately 115,000 MCF per day.

The application states further that under a supplemental agreement dated October 7, 1946, to the existing contract between applicant and Tennessee Gas and Transmission Company, Tennessee Gas and Transmission Company, Rate Schedule EPC No. 1 as supplemented, the volume of gas to be delivered by Tennessee Gas and Transmission Company to Applicant will be increased from 115,000,000 to 165,000,000 cubic feet per day, the additional volume to be delivered in increasing quantities during the years 1947 and 1948. Applicant states that the additional volume of natural gas is required to meet continuing increases in the requirements of its present customers, particularly The East Ohio Gas Company, The Peoples Natural Gas Company, The River Gas Company and New York State Natural Gas Corporation.

Applicant recites that the total cost of the facilities proposed to be installed during 1947 is preliminarily estimated at $3,004,507, the cost of which will be financed by the Hope Company from its cash resources augmented by the sale of capital stock to its parent, Consolidated Natural Gas Company.

Any interested State commission is requested to notify the Federal Power Commission whether the application should be considered under the cooperative provisions of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and, if so, to advise the Federal Power Commission as to the nature of its interest in the matter and whether it desires a conference, the creation of a board, or a joint or concurrent hearing, together with the reasons for such request.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to the application of Hope Natural Gas Company should file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., not later than fifteen days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, a petition or protest in accordance with the Commission's rules of practice and procedure.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN POWER CO., INC. ET AL

NOTICE OF FILING OF PLAN AND NOTICE OF AND ORDER RECONVENING HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania on the 28th day of May A. D. 1947.

In the matter of American & Foreign Power Company, Inc., Electric Bond and Share Company, File No. 54-111; Electric Bond and Share Company et al., respondents, File No. 59-12.

I. On October 26, 1944, American & Foreign Power Company Inc. (Foreign Power), a registered holding company, and its parent, Electric Bond and Share Company (Bond and Share), also a registered holding company, filed with the Commission a joint application for approval of a plan, proposed by Foreign Power and joined in by Bond and Share, pursuant to section 11 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, for the reorganization of Foreign Power (File No. 54-111). The stated purposes of said plan were to effectuate compliance with section 11 (b) (2) of the act through the elimination, among other things, of the presently outstanding preferred and second preferred stocks, common stocks, and option warrants of Foreign Power; the conversion of Foreign Power's present capital structure into a capital structure consisting of $119,281,000 principal amount of Debentures due 2030 and 2,500,000 shares of no par value common stock; the fair and equitable distribution of voting power among the security holders of Foreign Power; and the settlement and discharge of the various claims and counterclaims among Bond and Share, Foreign Power, and their respective security holders. The Commission on November 6, 1944, issued its notice of and order for hearing (Holding Company Act Release No. 5388) with respect to said plan and consolidated the proceedings with respect thereto with proceedings pursuant to section 11 (b) (2) of the act (File No. 59-12) instituted by the Commission and directed to, among others, Foreign Power and Bond and Share. Extensive hearings have been held on such matters from time to time.

II. Notice is hereby given that on May 22, 1947 Foreign Power and Bond and Share filed a joint application, pursuant to section 11 (e) of the act, for approval of a plan proposed by Foreign Power and joined in by Bond and Share amending the plan heretofore filed and described above.

All interested persons are referred to the aforesaid amended plan and the application in respect thereto (File No. 54-111) which are on file in the offices of the Commission for a full statement of the transactions therein proposed which may be summarized as follows:

Foreign Power will issue and sell to institutional investors $35,000,000 principal amount of its 3½% Sinking Fund Prior Debentures due 1968. The proceeds from the sale of these Debentures, together with such treasury cash as may be necessary, will be applied to redeem at the call price of 107½ the $50,000,000 principal amount of publicly-held Gold Debentures, 5% Series due 2030, of Foreign Power.

Foreign Power will issue $91,391,600 principal amount of 4¼% Sinking Fund Debentures due 1982 and 5,000,000 shares of new no par value Common Stock. Of these securities, the public holders of the Preferred Stock ($7), $6 preferred stock, Second Preferred Stock, Series A ($7) and Common Stock of Foreign Power will receive the following:

(a) For each share of Preferred Stock ($7) and any and all claims to accrued and unpaid dividends thereon, $110.00 principal amount of new 4¼% Debentures and 1½ shares of new Common Stock;

(b) For each share of $6 Preferred Stock and any and all claims to accrued and unpaid dividends thereon, $100.00 principal amount of 4¼% Debentures and 1¼ shares of new Common Stock;

(c) For each share of Second Preferred Stock, Series A ($7), and any and all claims to accrued and unpaid dividends thereon, 1⅕ shares of new Common Stock;

(d) For each share of old Common Stock 1/20 of a share of new Common Stock.

Bond and Share will receive for its holdings of $30,000,000 3% Serial Notes, 13,800 shares of Preferred Stock ($7), 65,809.10 shares of $6 Preferred Stock, 2,158,236 shares of Second Preferred Stock, Series A ($7) of Foreign Power, and $19,500,000 principal amount of 6% Debentures due 1948 of Cuban Electric Company, a subsidiary of Foreign Power, the following securities: $8,098,900 principal amount of the 4¼% Debentures and 3,354,266 shares of new Common Stock of Foreign Power. Bond and Share will surrender to Foreign Power for cancellation 881,500 shares of old common stock and 5,812,884 option warrants to purchase old Common Stock, of Foreign Power.

The outstanding Option Warrants for the purchase of Common Stock of Foreign Power and the Preferred Stock Allotment Certificates will be revoked, abrogated, and cancelled and will be accorded no participation in the amended plan.

The amended plan provides that the By-Laws of Foreign Power will be amended to require Foreign Power to solicit proxies with respect to annual meetings from all stockholders entitled to vote and also to require the securing of increased percentages of stockholder votes for certain designated corporate actions as long as 50% or more of the common stock is owned or controlled by one stockholder.

The 4¼% Debentures will mature not later than thirty-five years from their date, will be amortized commencing after the retirement of the 3½% Debentures through the operation of an annual sinking fund with provision under certain circumstances for accelerating the commencement of such amortization, will be redeemable in whole or in part at any time at a graduated premium not exceeding 4% will be subordinate as to principal and interest on default to the 3½% Debentures and may be subordinated under specified circumstances to certain other debt, will be subject to certain other pari passu debt, and will be required to be redeemed at a special lower premium after retirement of the 3½% Debentures by the use of all proceeds of any sales of investments of Foreign Power unless such proceeds or amounts equivalent thereto are used to purchase such 4¼% Debentures or to pay, purchase or redeem other equal or prior ranking funded debt, or for additional investments in existing or new subsidiaries or for property additions.

The net overall result of the action contemplated and proposed by the amended plan will be the elimination from the security structure of Foreign Power of its entire existing debt, its preferred stocks and second preferred stock and accumulated dividend arrearages on such preferred and second preferred stocks, its old common stock, its option warrants and its preferred stock allotment certificates, and any shares pertaining thereto, and the issuance, as the sole securities in the structure, of $35,000,000 principal amount of 3½% Sinking Fund Prior Debentures due 1968, $91,391,600 principal amount of 4¼% Sinking Fund Debentures due 1982, and 5,000,000 shares of no par value common stock. In exchange for its present claims against and interest in Foreign Power, as enumerated previously and the transfer to Foreign Power of the $19,500,000 principal amount of 6% Debentures due 1948 of Cuban Electric Company, Bond and Share is to receive $8,098,900 principal amount of the 4¼% Debentures and 3,354,266 shares (67.1%) of the new Common Stock of Foreign Power. The public holders of the $7 Preferred Stock and the $6 preferred Stock are to receive, in lieu of their present claims, $83,292,700 principal amount of 4¼% Debentures due 1982 and 1,099,309 shares (21.99%) of new Common Stock of Foreign Power. The public holders of the Second Preferred Stock, Series A ($7), are to receive, in lieu of their present claims, 493,980 shares (9.88%) of new Common Stock. The public holders of the Common Stock of Foreign Power are to receive, in lieu thereof, 52,445 shares (1.05%) of the new Common Stock.

Foreign Power proposes to create initially an Investment Reserve in the amount of $220,000,000 of which $196,736,650 is to be provided from Stated Capital and $23,263,350 from Earned Surplus. Upon consummation of the amended plan, the company proposes to reduce the stated value of its Investment Account in the amount of $35,497,066 by charges to the reserve. It is further proposed that the balance of $184,502,934 will remain in the reserve.

No Certificates for 4¼% Debentures in fractions of $100 or for fractional shares of Common Stock will be issued but scrip will be issued in lieu thereof, which will not be entitled to any debenture holders' or stockholders' rights except that when combined in lots aggregating respectively one or more full $100 principal amounts of 4¼% Debentures, or one or more full shares of Common Stock, such scrip may be exchanged for such 4¼% Debentures or shares, as the case may be, within a period of one year after the effective date of the amended plan. All 4¼% Debentures and shares of Common Stock reserved for issuance in exchange for scrip and not isued in connection therewith within the one-year period will be sold by Foreign Power in the open market within 60 days after the expiration of such one-year period and the sole rights of the holders of such scrip certificates thereafter shall be to their pro-rata shares of the respective proceeds of such sales without interest thereon.

Upon the expiration of six years following the effective date of the amended plan (subject to certain specified exceptions) any securities or cash held by Foreign Power or any of its agents which have not been claimed by any person entitled thereto or otherwise disposed of pursuant to the amended plan will, in the case of securities, be cancelled, retired or disposed of as the company's board of directors may determine and the proceeds therefrom, together with any cash so held, shall become a part of Foreign Power's general corporate funds. No stockholder who shall fail to claim the securities or cash to which he is entitled pursuant to the terms of the amended plan by the expiration of the six-year period, shall be entitled to receive any part of said securities or the proceeds thereof, or any other cash to which such stockholder may be entitled under the amended plan.

Foreign Power and Bond and Share request that there be a further hearing upon the amended plan on matters not already covered by the existing record. Foreign Power further requests that it be exempted from the competitive bidding provisions of the Commission's Rule U-50 as respects the issuance and sale of said 3½% Sinking Fund Prior Debentures, and both companies request, if the Commission approves the amended plan, that the Commission institute court proceedings for its enforcement as contemplated by section 11 (e) of the act.

The amended plan provides that its approval by the Commission, its confirmation by the court, and its consummation by the parties shall have the effect of a complete compromise, settlement, and discharge of all claims and counterclaims of the parties or their various security holders as such, against the parties and wholly owned subsidiaries including, but not limited to, those relating in any way to, arising out of, or involving service or construction fees or charges or the debt or security holdings of Bond and Share in Foreign Power and its subsidiaries or predecessors or the conduct or management of Foreign Power or its subsidiaries or predecessors to the effective date of the amended plan, including in such claims, but without limitation thereto, those specifically referred to in the amended plan which form the alleged basis for causes of action in stockholders' derivative actions specifically enumerated in the amended plan and any claims involved in the proceedings as enumerated in the amended plan which were instituted by and are pending before the Commission.

The Commission is petitioned, if it approves the amended plan to fix and determine the amounts of the payments, if any, to be made by Foreign Power to the plaintiffs or their attorneys or accountants in the court actions enumerated in the amended plan and to any other persons by way of reimbursement for disbursements or allowances for legal, accounting or other services, and Foreign Power undertakes to make such payments as may be determined, awarded, allowed, or allocated by the Commission, without prejudice, however, to its right to seek judicial review of any such determination, award, allowance, or allocation.

The amended plan also states that its effectuation is subject to obtaining from the United States Treasury Department a ruling or rulings as to the tax consequences of the transactions necessary to carry out the amended plan which will be satisfactory to the managements of the corporations affected, and subject to the Commission's reciting in its order that the relevant transactions of the amended plan are necessary or appropriate to the integration or simplification of the holding company system of which Foreign Power is a member and necessary or appropriate to effectuate the provisions of subsection (b) of section 11 of the act, all in accordance with the meaning and requirements of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended, including section 1808 (f) and Supplement R thereof.

III. The Commission being required by the provisions of section 11 (e) of the act before approving any plan thereunder to find, after notice and opportunity for hearing, that such plan, as submitted or as modified, is necessary to effectuate the provisions of subsection (b) of section 11 and is fair and equitable to the persons affected by such plan, and it appearing appropriate to the Commission in the public interest and in the interest of investors that hearings in these consolidated proceedings be reconvened for the purpose of considering said amended plan and to afford all interested persons an opportunity to be heard with respect thereto and that the application with respect to said amended plan shall not be granted except pursuant to further order of the Commission:

The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said act and to a hearing officer under the Commission's rules of practice.

It is further ordered, That, without limiting the scope of the issues presented in the consolidated proceedings, particular attention will be directed at the reconvened hearing to the following matters and questions:

7. Whether the accounting entries in connection with the amended plan are in conformity with the standards of the act and rules promulgated thereunder.

KENTUCKY UTILITIES CO. ET AL.

NOTICE OF FILING AND ORDER FOR HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 28th day of May A. D. 1947.

In the matter of Kentucky Utilities Co., Old Dominion Power Co., The Middle West Corp., File No. 70-1520.

Notice is hereby given that joint applications-declarations have been filed with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 by The Middle West Corporation ("Middle West"), a registered holding company, Kentucky Utilities Company ("Kentucky"), a subsidiary of Middle West and primarily a public utility company, and Old Dominion Power Company ("Dominion"), a subsidiary of Kentucky. Applicants-declarants designate sections 6, 7, 9, 10 and 12 of the act and Rules U-42, U-43, U-45 and U-50 of the General rules and regulations promulgated thereunder as being applicable to the proposed transactions.

All interested persons are referred to said applications-declarations, which are on file in the office of the Commission, for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, which may be summarized as follows:

Kentucky proposes to issue $24,000,000 in principal amount of First Mortgage Bonds, Series A --%, to be dated May 1, 1947, and to mature May 1, 1977, 130,000 shares of --% Preferred Stock, cumulative, par value $100 per share, and 1,130,000 shares of Common Stock of the par value of $10 per share.

The bonds will be sold at competitive bidding, and the interest rate and the price to be paid to the company, which shall be not less than 100% nor more than 102.75% of principal amount exclusive of accrued interest, will be determined by the bidding.

The --% Preferred Stock will also be sold at competitive bidding, subject, however, to an offer of exchange to the holders of the presently outstanding preferred stocks as summarized below. The dividend rate and the price to the company, which shall also be the initial public offering price and which shall not be less than 100% nor more than 102.75% of par, will be determined by the bidding. The Invitation for Proposals requires, among other things, that each bid specify the aggregate amount of compensation to be paid the bidder for his efforts in soliciting exchanges pursuant to the exchange offer and for purchasing the shares of new Preferred Stock not required under the exchange program.

After acceptance of a bid for the --% Preferred Stock, Kentucky proposes to offer, for a period of approximately ten days, to the holders (other than Middle West) of its presently outstanding preferred stocks, the right to exchange shares of such preferred stocks on the basis of one share of 6% Preferred Stock, par value $100 per share, or two shares of 7% Junior Preferred Stock, par value $50 per share, for one share of --% Preferred Stock. No fractional shares of --% Preferred Stock will be issued in effecting exchanges. Exchanging shareholders will receive an appropriate cash adjustment for the difference between the initial public offering price of the new Preferred Stock and the respective redemption prices of the shares of presently outstanding preferred stocks.

Kentucky will redeem all shares of 6% Preferred Stock and 7% Junior Preferred Stock, including the 3,041 shares of the latter held by Middle West, which are not acquired as a result of the exchange offer, for cash at the respective redemption prices of $110 and $55 per share.

The new Common Stock will be issued and sold to Middle West which holds all of the presently outstanding no par Common Stock of Kentucky. Of the 1,130,000 shares of new Common Stock to be issued, 480,311 shares will be issued in exchange for the 134,375 shares of presently outstanding Common Stock and 649,689 shares will be sold at par for a cash consideration of $6,496,890.

Kentucky also proposes to (1) advance to Dominion $1,500,000 to be evidenced by a ten year unsecured note, bearing interest at the rate of 3% per annum, payable semi-annually, (2) purchase from Dominion 6,000 shares of the capital stock of that company at the par value of $25 per share for $150,000, and (3) make a contribution of $850,000 to the capital surplus of Dominion. Dominion proposes to use the proceeds from these various transactions to call for redemption, at 100.5% of principal amount, its First Mortgage Gold Bonds, Series A, 5%, due May 15, 1951, now outstanding in the principal amount of $2,450,400.

The applications-declarations state that Kentucky will use the proceeds from the sale of its bonds, exclusive of accrued interest thereon, for the redemption, at 105% of principal amount, of its First Mortgage Bonds, 4% Series of 1970, due January 1, 1970, now outstanding in the principal amount of $21,000,000. It is stated that the balance of such proceeds will be used to reimburse Kentucky for the cost of additions and extensions to its properties. The proceeds from the sale of the new Preferred Stock and the Common Stock will be used by Kentucky to effectuate the retirement of the shares of preferred stocks not acquired as a result of the exchange offer, to increase, in accordance with the transactions outlined above, its investment in Dominion, and to pay a portion of the cost of necessary additions and extensions to its facilities.

In order to carry out the designated transactions, Kentucky proposes to amend its Articles of Incorporation to create an additional class of preferred stock, namely, --% Preferred Stock, cumulative, par value $100, which will be authorized in the amount of 200,000 shares. The Articles of Incorporation will also be amended to reclassify the present no par common stock into $10 par value common stock, and increase the authorized number of shares of common stock to 2,000,000. The proposed amendment provides that, so long as shares of __% Preferred Stock are outstanding, the shares of presently outstanding preferred stocks shall not be reissued after acquisition by the company.

Dominion presently has outstanding 6,735 shares of Preferred Stock with an aggregate stated value of $639,825 and 13,000 shares of no par Common Stock with an aggregate stated value of $715,000, all of which are held by Kentucky. Dominion proposes to amend its charter to change all of its shares of Preferred Stock without par value and Common Stock without par value into shares of capital stock of the par value of $25 a share, without increasing or decreasing the amount of capital represented by shares now outstanding. Kentucky proposes to surrender the shares of Preferred Stock and Common Stock of Dominion for 54,193 shares of Dominion's new $25 par value capital stock.

It is stated that the Public Service Commission of Kentucky, the Railroad and Public Utilities Commission of Tennessee and the State Corporation Commission of Virginia are the State Commissions having jurisdiction with respect to the proposed transactions, and that copies of the applications to such Commissions for the necessary approvals and the orders of said Commissions issued in connection therewith, will be filed by amendment.

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest and in the interests of investors and consumers that a hearing be held with respect to said applications-declarations and that said applications-declarations shall not be granted or permitted to become effective except pursuant to further order of the Commission;

It is ordered, That a hearing on said applications-declarations pursuant to the applicable provisions of the act and the rules and regulations thereunder be held on June 10, 1947, at 10:00 A. M., e. d. s. t., at the office of this Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia 3, Pennsylvania, in such room as may be designated on that day by the hearing room clerk in Room 318. Any person who desires to be heard or otherwise wishes to participate in this proceeding shall file with the Secretary of the Commission on or before June 9, 1947, a written request relevant thereto as provided by Rule XVII of the Commission's rules of practice.

It is further ordered, That Robert P. Reeder, or any other officer or officers of this Commission designated by it for that purpose, shall preside at such hearing. The officer so designated to preside at such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of the act and to a hearing officer under the Commission's rules of practice.

The Public Utilitfes Division of the Commission having advised the Commission that it has made a preliminary study of said application-declarations and that, upon the basis thereof, the following matters and questions are presented for consideration, without prejudice, however, to the presentation of additional matters and questions upon further examination:

1. Whether the proposed issuance and sale of securities by Kentucky and Dominion meet the applicable requirements and standards of the act.

2. Whether the acquisition of securities as proposed by Middle West, Kentucky and Dominion meets the applicable requirements of the act.

3. Whether the fees, commissions, or remuneration to be paid in connection with the proposed transactions are reasonable.

4. Whether the proposed accounting treatment of the transactions is proper and in conformity with sound accounting principles.

5. Generally, whether the proposed transactions comply with all of the applicable provisions and requirements of the act and rules and regulations thereunder, and whether it is necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors and consumers, or to prevent the circumvention of any provisions of the act or rules and regulations thereunder, to impose terms and conditions in connection with any of the proposed transactions.

It is further ordered, That particular attention be directed at said hearing to the foregoing matters and questions.

It is further ordered, That the Secretary of the Commission shall serve copies of this order by registered mail on Middle West, Kentucky, Dominion, the Federal Power Commission, the Public Service Commission of Kentucky, the Railroad and Public Utilities Commission of Tennessee and the State Corporation Commission of Virginia; and that notice of said hearing shall be given to all other persons by publication of this order in the FEDERAL REGISTER and by general release distributed to the press.

By the Commission.

PART 20—RETENTION PREFERENCE REGULATIONS FOR USE IN REDUCTIONS IN FORCE

LIQUIDATION

Effective June 15, 1947, § 20.12 is amended to read as follows:

§ 20.12 Special regulations on liquidation. Whenever it has been determined that all functions and all positions in an entire department, an entire governmental entity, or an entire competitive area are to be abolished within a specified time period, actions may be taken in regard to individual employees at different dates at administrative discretion: Provided, however, That no employee with veteran preference shall be relieved from active duty before any competing employee in a lower retention subgroup is relieved from active duty, where their positions are immediately interchangeable: Provided further, That notices to group A–1 and A–2 employees with competitive status shall be made to conform to the notice requirements of § 20.10.

NOTE: A mere limitation of authority to a specified date in the law which establishes, authorizes, or extends an agency is not a sufficient basis for the application of the provisions of this section.

In such cases, the employees of the particular department, entity, or competitive area shall be given individual notices in writing containing a statement of the law, Executive order, or authority which requires the liquidation of the department, governmental entity, or competitive area, and the time period in which the liquidation is to be accomplished, and informing them of their rights to appeal to the Commission if they feel that there has not been compliance with the provisions of the regulations in this part. The notices shall also inform employees of their rights to retention on the rolls for at least thirty days, or if a group A–1 or A–2 employee with competitive status, for the period provided for in § 20.10, of the procedures necessary to exercise any reemployment rights they may have to positions in other departments, governmental entities, or competitive areas, and of the procedures necessary to secure other employment.

A report of all liquidation programs shall be made to the Commission which shall include (a) a copy of the law, Executive order, or other authority for the liquidation of the department, governmental entity, or competitive area; (b) a certificate that no employee with veteran preference is being relieved from active duty before any competing employee in a lower retention subgroup is relieved from active duty where their positions are immediately interchangeable; and (c) a list of all retention group A employees with classified (competitive) civil service status who have not been transferred or assigned to other positions. This report shall be submitted within ten days after the first individual notices of separation are given to the employees affected.

Where it is necessary to liquidate a major activity which is not an entire competitive area, or which is a part of two or more competitive areas, the Commission will consider a request to establish such activity as a competitive area for the purpose of such liquidation.

§ 274.49 Handling of seeds. Seed dealers, cooperative associations, or others having adequate facilities for handling the seed who agree in Memorandum of Understanding with the county committee to provide certain services in connection with seed purchased under the program will assemble the seed and prepare it for delivery. Instructions for shipment of the purchased seeds will be issued by the office of the Grain Branch and transmitted to the dealers through the State PMA and county offices.

§ 274.50 Charges to be paid by producers. In the case of seed purchased by Commodity Credit Corporation, the producer shall pay all cleaning expenses and other expenses (including bagging and cost of bags), except analysis expense, whether covered in this section or not, which are necessary to prepare the seed to meet all eligibility requirements. Producers shall pay all charges (including charges for the issuance of reports) in connection with the sampling and analysis of seed which, by official test, is not of an eligible quality.

Chapter I—Production and Marketing Administration (Standards, Inspection, Marketing Practices)

PART 51—FRUITS, VEGETABLES AND OTHER PRODUCTS (GRADING, CERTIFICATION AND STANDARDS)

U. S. STANDARDS FOR POTATOES

By virtue of the authority (11 F. R. 7713) vested in me by the Secretary of Agriculture, I hereby approve the publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER of the following United States Standards for Potatoes which were issued September 10, 1941. These standards are currently in effect pursuant to the Department of Agriculture Appropriation Act of 1947 (Pub. Law 422, 79th Cong., 2d Sess., approved June 22, 1946).

§ 51.366 Potatoes—(a) General. (1) All percentages shall be calculated on the basis of weight.

(2) The tolerances for the standards are on a container basis. However, if the averages for the entire lot, based on sample inspection, are within the tolerances specified in the standards, the contents of individual packages in the lot may vary from the specified tolerances subject to the following limitations:

(i) When the tolerance specified is 10 percent or more, not over one-tenth of the individual packages in the lot may contain more than one and one-half times the tolerance except that at least one defective specimen shall be permitted in a package.

(ii) When the tolerance specified is less than 10 percent, not over one-tenth of the individual packages in any lot may contain more than double the tolerance specified, but no package may contain more than four times the tolerance for soft rot or wet breakdown except that at least one defective specimen shall be permitted in a package.

(b) Grades. (1) "U. S. Fancy" shall consist of potatoes of one variety or similar varietal characteristics which are firm, mature, bright, well shaped, free from freezing injury, blackheart, blight, shriveling, sprouting, wireworm injury, soft rot or wet breakdown, hollow heart, and internal discoloration, and free from injury caused by dirt or other foreign matter, sunburn, second growth, growth cracks, air cracks, cuts, scab, dry rot, rhizoctonia, other disease, other insects or mechanical or other means.

(i) The diameter of each potato shall be not less than 2 inches.

(ii) For long varieties such as Burbank, Russet Burbank, Early Ohio, Pride of Wisconsin, or other similar varieties, not less than 40 percent of the potatoes in any lot shall be 6 ounces or more in weight.

(iii) For round or intermediate shaped varieties such as Irish Cobbler, Bliss Triumph, Green Mountain, or other similar varieties, not less than 60 percent of the potatoes in any lot shall be 2¼ inches or larger in diameter.

(iv) The size of the potatoes may be stated in terms of minimum diameter or minimum weight, or of range in diameter or weight, or of a certain percentage over a certain size, following the grade name, but in no case shall the potatoes be below the sizes specified for this grade. (See Tolerance for Size.)

(v) Tolerance for defects: In order to allow for variations other than size incident to proper grading and handling, not more than 6 percent of the potatoes in any container may be below the requirements of the grade but not to exceed one-sixth of this amount, or 1 percent, shall be allowed for potatoes affected by soft rot or wet breakdown.

(2) "U. S. Extra No. 1" shall consist of potatoes of one variety or similar varietal characteristics which are fairly well shaped, fairly clean, free from freezing injury, blackheart, blight, and soft rot or wet breakdown and from damage caused by sunburn, second growth, growth cracks, air cracks, hollow heart, internal discoloration, cuts, shriveling, sprouting, scab, dry rot, rhizoctonia, other disease, wireworm, other insects or mechanical or other means.

(i) Unless otherwise specified, size of potatoes (See Size Classification and Tolerance for Size) shall be as follows:

(ii) The diameter of each potato shall be not less than 1⅞ inches.

(iii) For long varieties such as Burbank, Russet Burbank, Early Ohio, Pride of Wisconsin, or other similar varieties, not less than 60 percent of the potatoes in the lot shall be 6 ounces or larger, of which not less than one-half, or 30 percent, shall be 10 ounces or more in weight.

(iv) For round or intermediate shaped varieties, such as Irish Cobbler, Bliss Triumph, Green Mountain or other similar varieties, not less than 60 percent of potatoes in the lot shall be 2¼ inches or larger, of which not less than one-half, or 30 percent, shall be 2¾ inches or larger in diameter.

(v) Tolerance for defects: In order to allow for variations other than size incident to proper grading and handling, not more than 6 percent of the potatoes in any container may be below the requirements of the grade, but not to exceed one-sixth of this amount, or 1 percent, shall be allowed for potatoes affected by soft rot or wet breakdown. In addition, not more than 5 percent may be damaged by hollow heart, and internal discoloration.

(3) "U. S. No. 1" shall consist of potatoes of one variety or similar varietal characteristics which are fairly well shaped, free from freezing injury, blackheart, blight, and soft rot or wet breakdown, and from damage caused by dirt of other foreign matter, sunburn, second growth, growth cracks, air cracks, hollow heart, internal discoloration, cuts, shriveling, sprouting, scab, dry rot, rhizoctonia, other disease, wireworm, other insects or mechanical or other means.

(i) Unless otherwise specified the diameter of each potato shall not be less than $1\frac{7}{8}$ inches. (See Size Classification and Tolerance for Size.)

(ii) Tolerance for defects. In order to allow for variations other than size incident to proper grading and handling, not more than 6 percent of the potatoes in any container may be below the requirements of the grade but not to exceed one-sixth of this amount, or 1 percent, shall be allowed for potatoes affected by soft rot or wet breakdown. In addition, not more than 5 percent may be damaged by hollow heart and internal discoloration.

(4) "U. S. Commercial" shall consist of potatoes which meet the requirements of U. S. No. 1 grade except that they shall be free from serious damage by dirt and except for the increased tolerance for defects specified below.

(i) Unless otherwise specified, the diameter of each potato shall be not less than $1\frac{7}{8}$ inches. (See Size Classification and Tolerance for Size.)

(ii) Tolerance for defects: In order to allow for variations other than size and sprouting incident to proper grading and handling, not more than a total of 20 percent of the potatoes in any container may be below the requirements of this grade, but not more than 5 percent may be seriously damaged by hollow heart and internal discoloration and not over 6 percent may be below the remaining requirements of U. S. No. 2 grade, provided that not more than one-sixth of this amount, or 1 percent, shall be allowed for potatoes affected by soft rot or wet breakdown. In addition, not more than 10 percent of the potatoes may have sprouts over $\frac{3}{4}$-inch long but which are not seriously damaged by shriveling: Provided, That if all of the 20 percent tolerance is not used for other defects, the unused part of the tolerance may also be used for potatoes having sprouts over $\frac{3}{4}$-inch long but which are not seriously damaged by shriveling.

(5) "U. S. No. 2" shall consist of potatoes of one variety or similar varietal characteristics which are free from freezing injury, blackheart, and soft rot or wet breakdown and from serious damage caused by dirt or other foreign matter, sunburn, second growth, growth cracks, air cracks, hollow heart, internal discoloration, cuts, shriveling, scab, blight, dry rot, other disease, wireworm, other insects, or mechanical or other means.

(i) Unless otherwise specified the diameter of each potato shall be not less than $1\frac{1}{2}$ inches. (See Size Classification and Tolerance for Size.)

(ii) Tolerance for defects: In order to allow for variations other than size, incident to proper grading and handling, not more than 6 percent of the potatoes in any container may be below the requirements of the grade, but not to exceed one-sixth of this amount, or 1 percent, shall be allowed for potatoes affected by soft rot or wet breakdown. In addition, not more than 5 percent may be seriously damaged by hollow heart and internal discoloration.

(c) "Unclassified" shall consist of potatoes which have not been classified in accordance with any of the foregoing grades. The term "unclassified" is not a grade within the meaning of these standards but is provided as a designation to show that no definite grade has been applied to the lot.

(d) Size classification for all grades except U. S. Fancy. (1) When the potatoes are designated as "U. S. No. 1," "U. S. Commercial," or "U. S. No. 2" without specifying a size classification, it is understood that the potatoes meet the minimum size specified in the grade but that no definite percentage of the potatoes is required to be larger than this minimum size.

(2) When potatoes meet the requirements of either size A or size B as described below, the size classification may be specified in connection with any of the U. S. grades except Fancy, as: "U. S. No. 1, Size A"; "U. S. Extra No. 1, Size A"; "U. S. Commercial, Size B"; "U. S. No. 1, Size B"; "U. S. No. 2, Size A"; or "U. S. No. 2, Size B"; in accordance with the facts. When Size A or Size B is used in connection with the grade, it is not permissible to specify any smaller sizes than those specified under these designations.

(3) Size A: (i) For long varieties such as Burbank, Russet Burbank, Early Ohio, Pride of Wisconsin, or other similar varieties, the diameter of each potato shall be not less than $1\frac{7}{8}$ inches and not less than 40 percent of the potatoes in the lot shall be 6 ounces or more in weight.

(ii) For round or intermediate shaped varieties such as Irish Cobbler, Bliss Triumph, Green Mountain, or other similar varieties, the diameter of each potato shall be not less than $1\frac{7}{8}$ inches and not less than 60 percent of the potatoes in the lot shall be $2\frac{1}{4}$ inches or larger in diameter.

(4) Size B: For all varieties the size shall be from $1\frac{1}{2}$ inches to not more than 2 inches in diameter.

(5) Other sizes: When either of the above size designations is not used in connection with U. S. Extra No. 1, U. S. No. 1, U. S. Commercial, or U. S. No. 2 grades, it is permissible to specify any other minimum size such as "$1\frac{1}{2}$ inches minimum," "2 inches minimum"; or both a minimum and a maximum size as "$1\frac{7}{8}$ inches to 3 inches," "6 to 10 ounces"; or to specify a certain percentage over a certain size as "25 percent or more $2\frac{1}{4}$ inches and larger," "50 percent or more 6 ounces and larger."

(6) Tolerance for size: (i) In order to allow for variations incident to proper sizing, not more than 3 percent of the potatoes in any container may be below the specified minimum size except that a tolerance of 5 percent shall be allowed for potatoes packed to meet a minimum size of $2\frac{1}{4}$ inches or more in diameter, or 6 ounces or larger in weight. In addition, not more than 15 percent may be above any specified maximum size.

(ii) When a percentage of the potatoes is specified to be of a certain size and larger, no part of any tolerance shall be used to reduce such a percentage for the lot as a whole, but individual containers may have not more than 15 percent less than the percentage required or specified: Provided, That the entire lot averages within the percentage specified. For example, a lot specified as 25 percent $2\frac{1}{2}$ inches and larger may have containers with not less than 10 percent $2\frac{1}{2}$ inches and larger provided the lot as a whole averages 25 percent $2\frac{1}{2}$ inches and larger.

(e) Definitions. (1) "Mature" means that the outer skin (epidermis) does not loosen or "feather" readily during the ordinary methods of handling.

(2) "Bright" means practically free from dirt or other foreign matter, and that the outer skin (epidermis) has the attractive color normal of the variety.

(3) "Well shaped" means the normal shape for the variety and that the potato is not pointed, dumbbell-shaped, excessively elongated, or otherwise ill-formed.

(4) "Soft rot or wet breakdown" means any soft, mushy, or leaky condition of the tissue such as slimy soft rot, leak, or wet breakdown following freezing injury or sunscald.

(5) "Internal discoloration" means discoloration such as is caused by net necrosis or any other type of necrosis, stem-end browning, internal brown spot, or other similar types of discoloration not visible externally, except blackheart.

(6) "Injury" means any defect which more than slightly affects the shipping quality or the appearance of the individual potato or the general appearance of the potatoes in the container, or which cannot be removed without a loss of more than 2 percent of the total weight of the potato including peel covering defective area.

(7) "Diameter" means the greatest dimension at right angles to the longitudinal axis. The long axis shall be used without regard to the position of the stem (rhizome).

(8) "Fairly well shaped" means that the appearance of the individual potato or the general appearance of the potatoes in the container is not materially injured by pointed, dumbbell-shaped or otherwise ill-formed potatoes.

(9) "Fairly clean" means that from the viewpoint of general appearance the potatoes in the container are reasonably free from dirt or other foreign matter and that individual potatoes are not materially caked with dirt or materially stained.

(10) "Damage" means any injury or defect which materially injures the shipping quality or the appearance of the individual potato or the general appearance of the potatoes in the container, or which cannot be removed without a loss of more than 5 percent of the total weight of the potato including peel covering defective area. Loss of outer skin (epidermis) shall not be considered as damage unless the skinned surface is materially affected by very dark discoloration. Any one of the following defects or any combination of defects the seriousness of which exceeds the maximum allowed for any one defect shall be considered as damage:

(i) Second growth or growth cracks which have developed to such an extent as to materially injure the appearance of the individual potato or the general appearance of the potatoes in the container.

(ii) Air cracks which are deep, or shallow air cracks which materially injure the appearance of the individual potato or the general appearance of the potatoes in the container.

(iii) Shriveling when the potato is more than moderately shriveled, spongy, or flabby.

(iv) Sprouting when more than 10 percent of the potatoes have sprouts over three-fourths of an inch long.

(v) Surface scab which covers an area of more than 5 percent of the surface of the potato in the aggregate.

(vi) Pitted scab which affects the appearance of the potato to a greater extent than the amount of surface scab permitted or causes a loss of more than 5 percent of the total weight of the potato including peel covering defective area.

(vii) Rhizoctonia when the general appearance of the potatoes in the container is materially injured or when individual potatoes are badly infected.

(viii) Wireworm, grass root or similar injury when any hole, on potatoes ranging in size from 6 to 8 ounces, is longer than $\frac{3}{4}$-inch or when the aggregate length of all holes is more than $1\frac{1}{4}$ inches. Smaller potatoes shall have lesser amounts and larger potatoes may have greater amounts, provided that the removal of the injury by proper trimming does not cause the appearance of such potatoes to be injured to a greater extent than that caused by the proper trimming of such injury permitted on a 6 to 8 ounce potato.

(ix) Dirt when the general appearance of the potatoes in the container is more than slightly dirty or stained, or when individual potatoes are badly caked with dirt or badly stained; or other foreign matter which materially affects the appearance of the potatoes.

(11) "Serious damage" means any injury or defect which seriously injures the appearance of the individual potato or the general appearance of the potatoes in the container, or which cannot be removed without a loss of more than 10 percent of the total weight of the potato including peel covering defective area. Any one of the following defects or any combination of defects the seriousness of which exceeds the maximum allowed for any one defect shall be considered as serious damage:

(i) Dirt when the general appearance of the potatoes in the container is seriously affected by tubers badly caked with dirt; or other foreign matter which seriously affects the appearance of the potatoes.

(ii) Fairly smooth cuts such as are made by the digger or by a knife to remove injury when both ends are clipped, or when more than an estimated one-fourth of the potato is cut away, or, in the case of long varieties, when the remaining portion of the clipped potato weighs less than 6 ounces. Irregular types of cuts which seriously affect the appearance of the individual potato, or which cannot be removed without a loss of more than 10 percent of the total weight of the potato including peel covering defective area.

(iii) Shriveling when the potato is excessively shriveled, spongy, or flabby.

(iv) Surface scab which covers an area of more than 50 percent of the surface of the potato in the aggregate.

(v) Pitted scab which affects the appearance of the potato to a greater extent than the amount of surface scab permitted or causes a loss of more than 10 percent of the total weight of the potato including peel covering defective area.

(vi) Wireworm, grass root or similar injury when any hole, on potatoes ranging in size from 6 to 8 ounces, is longer than $1\frac{1}{4}$ inches or when the aggregate length of all holes is more than 2 inches. Smaller potatoes shall have lesser amounts and larger potatoes may have greater amounts; Provided, That the removal of the injury by proper trimming, does not cause the appearance of such potatoes to be injured to a greater extent than that caused by the proper trimming of such injury permitted on a 6 to 8 ounce potato.

(ii) At least sixty (60) percent, by count, of the total of such plums contained in any such pack measure, as aforesaid, not less than $1\frac{5}{16}$ inches in diameter; and

(iii) No plums contained in any such pack measure, as aforesaid, less than $1\frac{7}{16}$ inches in diameter.

(3) Each shipper, prior to making each shipment of Climax plums, shall, during the period set forth in sub-paragraph (1) of this paragraph, have the plums included in each such shipment inspected by a duly authorized representative of the Federal-State Inspection Service, heretofore designated by the Plum Commodity Committee and hereby approved; and each such shipper shall submit promptly, or cause to be submitted promptly, to the Plum Commodity Committee, Federal-State shipping point inspection certificates stating the grades and sizes of the Climax plums contained in each such lot or shipment: Provided, however, That in case the following conditions exist in connection with any such shipment:

(i) A request for inspection is made to the Federal-State Inspection Service not later than 5:00 p. m. of the day before the fruit will be available for inspection;

eral-State Inspection Service to make the inspection within the necessary time;

the shipper, by submitting, or causing to be submitted, such signed statement to the Plum Commodity Committee, may make the particular shipment without such inspection, but such shipper shall still be held responsible for conforming with all grade and size regulations applicable to such shipment.

(4) The determination in § 936.301 with respect to shipments of plums into, in, or through the San Francisco-Sacramento region and the Los Angeles region shall be applicable to this section.

(5) The terms "shipper," "ship," "shipping point," and "shipment" shall have the same meaning as when used in the amended marketing agreement and order. The term "serious damage" shall have the same meaning as set forth in the aforesaid United States Standards.

[Plum Order 6]

PART 936—FRESH BARTLETT PEARS, PLUMS AND ELBERTA PEACHES GROWN IN CALIFORNIA

GRADE

§ 936.307 Plum Order 6—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 36, as amended (7 CFR, Cum. Supp., 936.1 et seq.), regulating the handling of fresh Bartlett pears, plums, and Elberta peaches grown in the State of California, issued under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, and upon the basis of the recommendations of the Plum Commodity Committee, established under the aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the regulation of shipments of plums of the Amador, Apex, California Blue, Earliana, Emily, Improved Satsuma, Satsuma, Shiro, Splendor and Standard varieties (hereinafter referred to as "miscellaneous varieties of plums"), as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that compliance with the notice, public rule making procedure, and effective date requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act (Pub. Law 404, 79th Cong.; 60 Stat. 237) is impracticable and contrary to the public interest in that the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, is insufficient for such compliance.

(b) Order. (1) During the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., June 6, 1947, and ending at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., October 1, 1947, no shipper shall ship:

(i) Any package or container of miscellaneous varieties of plums containing plums which do not meet the requirements of U. S. No. 1 grade, or higher grade (as specified for such grades in the United States Standards for plums and prunes (fresh), 12 F. R. 2305), with a total tolerance of ten (10) percent for defects not considered serious damage, in addition to the usual tolerances permitted in said United States Standards.

(2) Each shipper, prior to making each shipment of miscellaneous varieties of plums shall, during the period set forth in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, have the plums included in each such shipment inspected by a duly authorized representative of the Federal-State Inspection Service, heretofore designated by the Plum Commodity Committee and hereby approved; and each such shipper shall submit promptly, or cause to be submitted promptly, to the Plum Commodity Committee, Federal-State shipping point inspection certificates stating the grades of the miscellaneous varieties of plums contained in each such lot of shipment: Provided, however, That, in case the following conditions exist in connection with any such shipment:

(i) A request for inspection is made to the Federal-State Inspection Service not later than 5:00 p. m. of the day before the fruit will be available for inspection;

(ii) The fruit is available for inspection between the hours of 7:00 a. m. and 8:00 p. m. of the day specified in the request for such inspection; and

(iii) The Federal-State Inspection Service furnishes the shipper with a signed statement that it is not practicable, under such conditions, for the Federal-State Inspection Service to make the inspection within the necessary time;

the shipper, by submitting or causing to be submitted, such signed statement to the Plum Commodity Committee, may make the particular shipment without such inspection, but such shipper shall still be held responsible for conforming with all grade regulations applicable to such shipment.

(3) The determination in § 936.301 with respect to shipments of plums into, in, or through the San Francisco-Sacramento region and the Los Angeles region shall be applicable to this section.

(4) The terms "shipper," "ship," "shipping," "shipping point," and "shipment" shall have the same meaning as when used in the amended marketing agreement and order. The term "serious damage" shall have the same meaning as set forth in the aforesaid United States Standards.

§ 10.1 Committee established—(a) Committee on Practice. A Committee on Practice is hereby created consisting of such number of members as shall be appointed by the Secretary of the Treasury. The Secretary shall designate a chairman of the Committee. The Secretary in his discretion may appoint a part-time member or members of the Committee, and, whenever in his judgment such action is necessary, the Secretary may appoint some person to serve temporarily as a substitute for a regular member of the Committee. The Committee shall have such powers to prescribe rules for its own government and procedure as are set forth elsewhere in the regulations in this part. The Committee shall meet at such times as it may designate or at the call of the chairman. Two members of the Committee shall constitute a quorum.

(b) Duties of the Committee. The Committee shall receive and act upon applications to be recognized as attorneys or agents before the Treasury Department; receive and act upon applications for reenrollment from attorneys or agents who have been disbarred; conduct hearings; make inquiries; and perform other duties as prescribed herein.

(c) Secretary of the Committee. The Secretary of the Treasury may appoint a person to act as secretary of the Committee or designate a member of the Committee to act as secretary. The secretary of the Committee shall keep and maintain its records, shall have custody of all its papers, records, rolls, and files, and shall perform such other duties reasonably incident to his office as the Committee shall direct. If no secretary is appointed or designated, the duties herein enumerated shall devolve upon the chairman of the Committee, or upon such person or persons as he may designate.

(d) Attorney for the Government. The Secretary of the Treasury shall appoint an attorney not a member of the Committee as Attorney for the Government to prepare and present all formal statements of charges against enrolled attorneys or agents, to supervise the gathering of evidence in support of such charges, including the taking of depositions, to represent the Government in all proceedings before the Committee, to represent the Government in all proceedings pursuant to § 10.7, and to perform other duties incident to his position.

§ 10.2 Rules and regulations relating to practice—(a) Eligibility to practice. (1) No attorney or agent shall be eligible to practice before the Treasury Department unless such attorney or agent is enrolled in accordance with the regulations in this part or prior regulations, except that any individual may appear, without enrollment, on his own behalf or in behalf of a member of his immediate family if such appearance is without compensation; and a member of a partnership, an officer of a corporation, or an authorized regular employee of an individual, partnership, corporation, or estate, may likewise appear, without enrollment, in any matter relating to such individual, partnership, corporation, or estate pending before the Treasury Department if he presents adequate identification to the officials of the Department. Enrollment is not required for appearances by trustees, receivers, guardians, administrators, and executors on behalf of trusts, receiverships, guardianships, or estates of which such persons are the trustees, receivers, guardians, administrators, or executors, if adequate identification is presented to the officials of the Department. This rule also applies to an individual, a partnership, an estate or trust, or a corporation with respect to the liability of the individual, partnership, estate or trust, or corporation as a transferee of property of a taxpayer and to a fiduciary with respect to the liability of the fiduciary under section 518 (a), 48 Stat. 760; 31 U. S. C. 192. No enrolled person or other person authorized to appear before the Treasury Department without enrollment shall represent a claimant before the Treasury Department in any matter to which the enrollee, as officer or employee of the United States, gave personal consideration or as to the facts of which he gained knowledge while in the Government service.

(2) No former officer, clerk, or employee of the Treasury Department shall act as attorney or agent, or as the employee of an attorney or agent within 2 years after the termination of such Treasury employment, in any matter pending in such Department during the period of his employment therein, unless he shall first obtain the written consent thereto of the Secretary of the Treasury or his duly authorized representative. This consent will not be granted unless it appears (i) that the applicant was not, during the period of 2 years immediately preceding the date of application, employed in the particular departmental or field section in which was pending the matter, to handle which consent is sought, provided that this requirement shall not apply to persons employed in an administrative capacity such as head of a unit, division, or section, or employed as a reviewer or conferee or in an advisory capacity; and (ii) that employment as an agent or attorney is not prohibited by section 5, 17 Stat. 202; 5 U. S. C. 99, or other law, or by the regulations of the Treasury Department. Such applicant shall be required to file a declaration to the effect that he gave no personal consideration to such matter and had no knowledge of the facts involved in such matter while he was employed in the Department and that he is not now associated with, and will not be associated with, any former employee who has gained knowledge of the case while employed by the Treasury Department, and that his employment is not prohibited by law, or by the regulations of the Treasury Department. The statements contained in such declaration shall not be sufficient if disproved by an examination of the files and records pertaining to the case. Applications for consent should be directed to the Committee on Practice on Form 901 and should state the former connection with the Department of the applicant and identify the matter in which the applicant desires to appear. The applicant shall be promptly advised as to his privilege to appear in the particular matter, and this notice shall be filed by him in the record of the case.

(3) Nor shall any enrolled person knowingly (i) assist a person who has been employed by a client to represent him before the Treasury Department in connection with any matter to which such person gave personal consideration or as to the facts of which such person gained personal knowledge while in the Government service, or (ii) accept assistance from any such person in connection with any such matter, or (iii) share fees with any such person in connection with any such matter.

(b) Scope of practice before the Department. Practice before the Treasury Department shall be deemed to comprehend all matters connected with the presentation of a client's interests to the Treasury Department, including the preparation and filing of necessary written documents, and correspondence with the Treasury Department relative to such interests. Unless otherwise stated the term "Treasury Department" as used in this paragraph and elsewhere in this part includes any division, branch, bureau, office, or unit of the Treasury Department, whether in Washington or in the field, and any officer or employee of any such division, branch, bureau, office, or unit.

(c) Knowledge of client's omission. Each enrolled attorney or agent who knows that a client has not complied with the law or has made an error in, or an omission from, any return, document, affidavit, or other paper, which the law requires such client to execute, shall advise his client promptly of the fact of such noncompliance, error, or omission.

(d) Duty of enrollees concerning violations. It shall be the duty of an enrolled attorney or agent, when requested by the Committee or the attorney for the Government, to give the Committee or the said attorney any information which he may have concerning violations of the regulations in this part or of the occurrence of any acts or omissions which would be grounds for suspension or disbarment, unless said information is privileged.

(e) Use of fictitious names. Every enrolled attorney or agent practicing as an individual shall use his legal name in the conduct of his legal, accounting, or other professional practice. The term "company," "associates," "accountants," "auditors," "engineers," or other plural forms suggesting a partnership, or language of similar import, used in connection with a name or title, or any fictitious title, or trade name, shall be used only by a bona fide partnership consisting of two or more members, and all stationery, listings, advertisements, and announcements of enrolled persons shall conform to the principles herein stated.

(f) Rights and duties of agents. An agent enrolled before the Treasury Department shall have the same rights, powers, and privileges and be subject to the same duties as an enrolled attorney: Provided, That an enrolled agent shall not have the privilege of drafting or preparing any written instrument by which title to real or personal property may be conveyed or transferred for the purpose of affecting Federal taxes, nor shall such enrolled agent advise a client as to the legal sufficiency of such an instrument or its legal effect upon the Federal taxes of such client: And provided further, That nothing in the regulations in this part shall be construed as authorizing persons not members of the bar to practice law.

(g) Certification of documents. Every claim, affidavit, written argument, brief, or statement of fact, prepared or filed by an enrolled attorney or agent in any matter pending before the Treasury Department, shall have affixed thereto a statement signed by such attorney or agent showing whether he prepared such document and whether or not he knows of his own knowledge that the statements of fact contained therein are true.

(h) (Revoked.)

(i) Enrollees as notaries. No enrolled attorney or agent as notary public shall take acknowledgments, administer oaths, certify papers, or perform any official act in connection with matters in which he is employed as counsel, attorney, or agent, or in which he may be in any way interested before the Treasury Department. Under the provisions of this paragraph an enrolled person who is a notary public is prohibited from taking any acknowledgment, oath, or certification as a notary public in connection with any tax return, protest, or other document which he has prepared or in the preparation of which he has assisted. (26 Op. Atty. Gen. 236)

(j) Unimpaired status required. It shall be incumbent upon each enrolled person (1) who is authorized to practice as a certified public accountant or as a public accountant to maintain unimpaired his right to practice as a certified public accountant or public accountant; (2) who is admitted to practice before any court to maintain unimpaired his right to practice before such court; and (3) who is enrolled or admitted to practice before another department or agency of the Government to maintain unimpaired his standing before such department or agency.

(k) Certain partnerships prohibited. No enrolled person shall maintain a partnership for the practice of law, accountancy, or other related professional service with a person who is under disbarment from practicing before the Treasury Department or any other Government department or agency, or with an unenrolled person who is neither an attorney legally practicing law nor a certified public accountant or a public accountant legally practicing accountancy.

(l) Practice by corporations prohibited. No enrolled person shall be connected with an accounting corporation either as officer, employee, or stockholder; nor shall any enrolled person, while employed as an officer, employee, attorney, or agent of any corporation, practice before the Treasury Department on behalf of such corporation as the representative of the officers, employees, directors, stockholders or members, customers or clients, of such corporation, except as permitted by § 10.5. The term "corporation" as used in this paragraph and elsewhere in this part shall be deemed to include associations, joint stock companies, and insurance companies. Nothing contained herein shall prevent an enrolled person from being employed by agricultural cooperative associations, on a nonprofit basis and not subject to Federal income taxes, to represent before the Treasury Department the groups or units constituting membership of such associations: Provided, That individuals may not be so represented.

(m) Clients of unenrolled persons. No enrolled person shall represent before the Treasury Department clients of an unenrolled person who is neither an attorney nor an accountant regularly engaged in the practice of accountancy nor a customhouse broker, or who to the knowledge of the enrolled person solicits business, obtains clients, or otherwise conducts his practice in a manner forbidden under the regulations in this part to enrolled persons.

(n) Assistance from unenrolled persons. No enrolled person shall in any Treasury Department matter knowingly and directly or indirectly:

(1) Employ or accept assistance from any unenrolled person whose application for enrollment shall at any time have been denied for a cause involving moral turpitude, or from a person who has been disbarred from practice before any department or agency of the Government or before any court of record, or who is under suspension from practice before any such department, agency, or court, or who has been deprived of his certificate as a certified public accountant or public accountant, or whose name after the effective date hereof has been stricken from the roll of attorneys and agents authorized to represent claimants before the Treasury Department in the course of disbarment proceedings against him, or

(2) Accept employment as associate, correspondent, or sub-agent, from, or share fees with, any such person, or any person who is not an attorney or a public accountant regularly engaged in the practice of accountancy, or who is not a licensed customhouse broker.

(o) Preparation of financial statements. Each enrolled person shall exercise due diligence in preparing financial statements for clients and in certifying to the correctness of the same.

(p) Diligence as to accuracy. Each enrolled person shall exercise due diligence to ascertain the correctness of any information which he imparts to a client with reference to any Treasury Department matter, and no enrolled person shall withhold information relative to any such matter from a client who is entitled to the information.

(q) Moneys received in trust. Each enrolled person shall promptly pay over to the Government when due all sums received for the payment of any duty, tax, or other debt or obligation owing to the Government, and shall promptly account to clients for funds received for them from the Government, or received from a client in excess of the charges properly payable in respect of the client's business.

(r) Endorsement of client's checks. No enrolled person shall without authority of his client endorse or accept any Government draft, check, or warrant drawn to the order of such client.

(s) Use of influence forbidden. No enrolled person shall attempt to influence the action of any official or employee of the Treasury Department in any Treasury Department matter by the use of threats, false accusations, duress, or by the offer of any special inducement or promise of advantage, or by the bestowing of any gift or favor or other thing of value.

(t) Production of records. No enrolled person shall neglect or refuse to produce records or evidence in any matter before the Treasury Department upon proper and lawful demand by a duly authorized agent of the Department, unless the attorney or agent has reasonable grounds to believe and does believe that the said demand is of doubtful legality; or shall otherwise interfere, or attempt to interfere, with any proper and lawful efforts by such Department or agent to procure such information.

(u) Attempting to obtain information. No enrolled person shall procure, or attempt to procure, directly or indirectly, from Government records or other Government sources information of any kind which is not made available by proper authority.

(v) Solicitation and advertising, direct or indirect, prohibited. No enrolled attorney or agent shall in any manner whatsoever solicit, directly or indirectly, or by implication, employment from persons not clients or friends in matters before the Treasury Department or in matters related thereto. Among other things the following shall be deemed to be prohibited by this paragraph:

(1) The publication of articles or the delivery of addresses on Federal tax questions by an enrolled person over the radio or elsewhere in connection with which the name of the firm of which he is a member, associate, or employee, or the address of the writer or speaker is given either by the writer, speaker, announcer, or publisher, provided that nothing herein shall be construed to prohibit the publication, by periodicals admitted to second-class mailing privileges, of such information concerning contributors of articles as is usually published in such periodicals.

(2) The mailing of circulars, letters, pamphlets, or other printed or written matter to persons not clients or friends of such enrolled person which contain no direct solicitation of employment but which do include the name and a description of the practice and address of such enrolled person.

(3) Advertising in one or more of the following forms: (i) Signs, printing, or other advertising matter, indicating previous connection with the Treasury Department; (ii) representation, orally, in writing, or in any other manner, of special influence with the officials or employees of the Treasury Department through acquaintance or otherwise; (iii) the use of any title or other description of the attorney or agent or his practice which tends to suggest some connection with the Treasury Department of the United States, and any title or description containing the words "United States" shall be presumed to carry such suggestion, except that there is no objection to the use of the words "Enrolled to practice before the United States Treasury Department"; (iv) distribution of bulletins, circulars, pamphlets, or so-called "tax services," to persons who are not clients or friends of the attorney or agent containing decisions or rulings of the Treasury Department, the Tax Court of the United States, or courts on Federal tax matters, or comment thereon by the attorney or agent; (v) distribution to persons not clients or friends of the practitioner of circulars or pamphlets advertising any business, educational, or social institution, or organization, which circular or pamphlet contains a card or advertisement of the practice of such attorney or agent.

(4) The following kinds of advertising will not be deemed to constitute a violation of this paragraph:

(i) Letterheads, professional cards, and the customary professional insertions in professional, telephone, and city directories, or in newspapers, trade or professional journals, or other publications admitted to second-class mailing privileges, provided they set forth only the name and address of the attorney or agent or the name of the firm of which he is a member or with which he is associated, a brief description of the nature of his practice, to wit, whether he practices as an attorney or accountant, and, if desired, any field of practice or service in which such attorney or agent may specialize;

(ii) The distribution by former officers or employees of the Government of cards briefly stating the fact of their former official status and announcing their new association: Provided, The cards are addressed only to personal or business acquaintances: And provided further, That such cards are distributed only once and within a reasonable time after severance of official connection with the Government and within 30 days after the formation of a new association.

(w) Preparation of documents by enrollees. Each enrolled person shall exercise due diligence in preparing or assisting in the preparation of, approving, and filing returns, documents, affidavits, and other papers relating to Treasury Department matters, and in otherwise representing clients before the Treasury Department; and no enrolled person shall unreasonably delay the prompt disposition of matters before the Treasury Department by neglecting to answer correspondence, by unreasonably delaying the filing of closing agreements, by filing frivolous claims for refunds, or otherwise.

(x) Duty to request name to be stricken upon accepting employment with the United States. It shall be the duty of every enrolled person who becomes a judge of any court of record or an officer or employee (1) of the United States, (2) of any corporation owned wholly by the United States, (3) of the District of Columbia, or (4) of any State or subdivision thereof whose duties disclose facts or information applicable to Federal tax matters, to request the Committee on Practice to place his name on the inactive list of Treasury Department practitioners during the period of such incumbency. Any person who on becoming an officer or employee of the Treasury Department requested that his name be stricken from the roll and surrendered his enrollment card to the Committee for cancellation and whose employment with the Department has been or shall be terminated in good standing shall be entitled upon his written request to have his name restored to the roll and his enrollment card returned to him.

(y) Fees; agreements. (1) No enrolled person shall exact from his client a manifestly unreasonable fee, whether contingent or otherwise, in any matter before the Treasury Department. The reasonableness of a fee in any case is within limits a matter of judgment and depends upon all the facts and circumstances thereof, including the complexity and difficulty of the case, the amount of time and labor required for its proper preparation and presentation, the amount involved, and the professional standing and experience of the attorney or agent.

(2) A wholly contingent fee agreement shall not be entered into with a client by an enrolled person unless the financial status of the client is such that he would otherwise be unable to obtain the services of an attorney or agent. Partially contingent fee agreements are permissible where provision is made for the payment of a minimum fee, substantial in relation to the possible maximum fee, which minimum fee is to be paid and retained irrespective of the outcome of the proceeding. Such minimum fee need not be paid in advance, if provision for its payment is made irrespective of the outcome of the case. The payment of or agreement to pay a nominal minimum fee will not satisfy the requirements of this subparagraph.

(3) Whenever an enrolled attorney or agent shall enter into a contract to represent a client before the Treasury Department on a wholly or partially contingent basis, he shall file with the Committee a signed statement to that effect, containing the terms of the contract as they relate to compensation.

(4) When a power of attorney is filed with the Treasury Department it shall be the duty of the attorney or agent filing the same to file therewith a statement as follows:

(Place) _____
(Date) _____

This is to certify that I (have not) (have) entered into a contingent or partially contingent fee agreement for the representation before the Department of _____ in the matter of _____ under the terms of a power of attorney filed with the Treasury Department on _____ and (in case a contingent or partially contingent fee agreement has been made) that a report of such fee agreement (has) (has not) been made to the Committee on Practice.

This requirement shall not be applicable to powers of attorney wherein the authority granted is limited to the filing of tax or information returns.

(z) Duty to observe canons of ethics. Each enrolled person shall conduct his practice in an ethical and professional manner and it shall be the duty of each enrolled attorney to observe the canons of ethics as adopted by the American Bar Association and of each enrolled agent to observe the ethical standards of the accounting profession. Among other forms of unethical and unprofessional conduct the following will be deemed to constitute such conduct: The use of intemperate and abusive language, the making of false accusations or statements knowing them to be false, or the circulation of malicious and libelous matter in connection with Treasury practice.

§ 10.3 Qualifications for enrollment. (a) (1) Persons of the following classes who are found, upon consideration of their applications, to possess the qualifications required by the regulations in this part may be admitted to practice before the Treasury Department as attorneys or agents respectively:

(i) Attorneys at law who have been admitted to practice before the courts of any State or Territory, or the District of Columbia, and who are lawfully engaged in the active practice of their profession.

(ii) Certified public accountants who have duly qualified to practice as certified public accountants in their own names, under the laws and regulations of any State or Territory, or the District of Columbia, and who are lawfully engaged in active practice as certified public accountants.

(2) Applicants who are employed by corporations on a full-time basis and who do not maintain offices apart from such employment with their services available to the general public will not be considered to be in active practice within the meaning of the term as used above.

(3) Applicants for enrollment to practice before the Treasury Department are required by statute to "show that they are of good character and in good repute, possessed of the necessary qualifications to enable them to render such claimants valuable service, and otherwise competent to advise and assist such claimants in the presentation of their cases." (5 U. S. C. 261) The burden is upon applicants to establish clearly their right to enrollment by showing that they possess (i) a good character and reputation, (ii) an adequate education, and (iii) a knowledge of the laws and regulations relating to tax matters and other subjects which they expect to handle before the Department and of the rules and regulations governing practice before the Department.

(4) Good character and good reputation are not identical requirements. The former is determined by the applicant's actual qualities; the latter depends upon the opinion entertained of the applicant by those who have had the opportunity of knowing him in the community in which he resides or in which he practices his profession. It follows that evidence of any act or omission which tends to establish lack of integrity or untrustworthiness or other qualities reprehensible in a professional man, is material as bearing upon the character of the applicant, notwithstanding there is clear proof that his reputation is good. An applicant must furnish as references the names and addresses of at least six persons who are acquainted with his reputation and with whom the applicant has come in contact in his profession or business.

(b) (1) Among the causes sufficient to justify denial of an application for enrollment are: Any conduct, or practices, or proposed practices, which would constitute a violation of any of the provisions of the regulations in this part if the applicant were enrolled or any other conduct which would be a ground for suspension or disbarment under the applicable law or laws; any conduct which would be deemed grossly unfair in commercial transactions by accepted standards; or a bad reputation imputing to an applicant conduct of a criminal, dishonest, or unethical kind.

(2) The Committee on Practice will endeavor to ascertain all the facts deemed necessary by it to pass upon any application without expense or undue inconvenience to the applicant. In the event, however, that the Committee is not satisfied with the information received, it may require the applicant to appear in person before the Committee or before some person or persons designated by it for the purpose of undergoing additional written or oral examination as to his fitness for enrollment. The Committee may grant a hearing on an application at the applicant's request.

(c) Application for enrollment may be denied in any case in which it appears that the applicant has terminated his employment with the Treasury Department in violation of an obligation assumed as a condition of such employment to remain in the service of the Department for a specified period or for a reasonable time.

(d) Only citizens of the United States over the age of 21 years are eligible for enrollment. A person who is unable for any reason to take the oath of allegiance, and to support the Constitution of the United States, as required of persons prosecuting claims against the United States by Title 31, section 204, United States Code cannot be enrolled.

(e) Corporations and partnerships are ineligible for enrollment.

(f) Officers and employees of any State, or subdivision thereof, whose duties require them to pass upon, investigate, or deal with tax matters of such State or subdivision, shall be ineligible for enrollment, provided such employment may disclose facts or information applicable to Federal tax matters.

(g) Judges of courts of record shall be ineligible for enrollment.

(h) All persons to whom section 198 or section 203 of Title 18 of the United States Code applies, all persons prohibited by other law from representing claimants against the United States, all persons regularly employed by corporations owned wholly by the United States, and all persons regularly employed by the District of Columbia shall be ineligible for enrollment.

(i) The qualifications for enrollment stated in paragraph (a) (1) (i) and (ii) are prerequisites for general enrollment for practice before the Treasury Department.

(j) Special enrollment. However, special enrollment for the presentation of matters before a particular bureau or division may be effected in the following manner. An applicant for such special enrollment shall present his qualifications to the Committee. The Committee shall prescribe an examination for such applicant. If the Committee is satisfied that the applicant is possessed of the qualifications necessary to enable him to render valuable services to claimants and other persons before the particular bureau or division before which he is seeking authorization to practice, it shall issue to the applicant an appropriate special enrollment card.

(k) Authority for a particular matter. Moreover, authority for the presentation of a particular matter before the Treasury Department may be effected in the following manner. An applicant for such authority shall present his qualifications to the Committee. If the Committee is satisfied that the applicant is possessed of the qualifications necessary to enable him to render valuable services to his principal in the presentation of the particular matter before the Treasury Department, it shall issue to the applicant an appropriate letter of authority. Such a letter of authority shall not be necessary, except in the case of matters before the Bureau of Internal Revenue, if the officer or employee of the bureau or division before whom appearance is made is satisfied that the person appearing is not under orders of suspension or disbarment from the Treasury Department and is so clearly qualified that application to the Committee would be a useless formality.

Nothing in paragraphs (j) and (k) shall authorize any procedure to permit a person to act as a customhouse broker without compliance with the requirements of Part 11 of this chapter, nor limit the rights granted by such Part 11 to customhouse brokers to represent their clients before the Treasury Department.

§ 10.4 Application for enrollment. Applicants for enrollment shall submit to the Committee an application in duplicate, properly executed on Form 23. Applications in any other form may not be considered. Members of the bar of an American court of record will apply for enrollment as attorneys; all other applicants will apply for enrollment as agents. All applications for enrollment must be individual. While members of a partnership should apply as individuals and not in the partnership name, an enrolled attorney or agent may represent clients before the Treasury Department in the name of the partnership of which he is a member or with which he is otherwise regularly connected. In case all of the members of a partnership are not enrolled, then the enrolled attorney or agent shall be responsible for any acts or omissions of the unenrolled partner or partners which are in violation of law or of the provisions of the regulations in this part, to the same extent as though the offending partner himself were enrolled.

§ 10.5 Customhouse brokers. Section 641 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (46 Stat. 759; 19 U. S. C. 1641), as amended, provides in part that the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe rules and regulations governing the licensing as customhouse brokers of citizens of the United States of good moral character, and of corporations, associations, and partnerships. The Department's regulations pursuant thereto are published in Part 11 of this chapter. A customhouse broker so licensed requires no further enrollment under the regulations in this part for the transaction, within the customs districts in which he is licensed, of any business relating specifically to the importation or exportation of merchandise under customs or internal-revenue laws. He is also entitled, without further license or enrollment, to represent claimants or other persons before the Treasury Department in Washington in any matter in which he acted as a customhouse broker in any district in which he is licensed. When serving in such capacity, a licensed customhouse broker shall, in addition to being subject to the provisions of section 641 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, and the rules and regulations thereunder, be subject also to all the provisions of the laws and regulations set forth in this part, as revised from time to time, and shall be responsible as specified in 31 CFR 11.7 (d) for violation of any such laws or regulations committed by his or its officers, employees, or authorized attorneys or agents, in connection with the prosecution on behalf of the principal of any business before the Treasury Department in Washington.

§ 10.6 Roster of enrollees; enrollment cards—(a) Roster of attorneys and agents. A roster of all attorneys and agents who make application for enrollment or who are enrolled, or whose applications have been denied, or who have been suspended or disbarred, will be kept in the office of the Committee on Practice. All bureaus, offices, and divisions of the Treasury Department subject to the exceptions in § 10.5 in the case of the Bureau of Customs, are prohibited from recognizing or dealing with any unenrolled attorney or agent as the representative of any person having a claim pending before the Department: Provided, That the Committee on Practice may grant, pending action upon an application, temporary recognition to an applicant not required to take an examination in connection with his application: And provided further, That an unenrolled person who has not been disbarred or suspended from practice before the Treasury Department may be permitted to make initial appearance in a particular case. Such permission shall in no case authorize an unenrolled person to appear before the Treasury Department in Washington, D. C., or to represent a claimant in any formal hearing. It shall be the duty of the Government official before whom such person appears to notify him that if he wishes to appear further in the case, or in any formal hearing, or before the Treasury Department in Washington, it will be necessary to file an application for enrollment.

(b) Information as to enrollment. The Committee will furnish upon request information as to whether any individual is enrolled. Other information will be made available to the various departments and agencies of the Government and to any person entitled to receive the same in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Treasury Department, and, except as prohibited by law, access to the files and records of the Committee will be granted to the Tax Court of the United States and its representatives.

(c) Enrollment cards. The Committee on Practice shall issue an enrollment card to every attorney or agent upon his enrollment. Unless advised to the contrary by the Committee on Practice, any officer of the Treasury Department may consider the holder of such an enrollment card as duly authorized to practice before the Department.

§ 10.7 Proceedings for disbarment, suspension, and reinstatement—(a) Proceedings for suspension and disbarment. If an officer or employee of the Treasury Department has reason to believe that an enrolled attorney or agent has violated any provision of the laws or regulations governing practice before the Treasury Department, or if a complaint concerning any enrolled attorney or agent is made to any such officer or employee, he shall promptly make a written report thereof to the attorney for the Government. If any other person has information of such violations, he may also make written report thereof to the said attorney. The attorney and the Committee will treat as strictly confidential the identity of the informant in any case in which the informant is other than an officer or employee of the Treasury Department, unless the informant in giving his information states that his identity and connection therewith are not confidential.

(b) Rules of procedure. The Attorney for the Government may, either on the basis of such information or upon his own motion where he has cause to believe that any enrolled attorney or agent has violated any provision of the laws or regulations governing practice before the Treasury Department, institute proceedings for suspension or disbarment against any enrolled attorney or agent, hereinafter called the respondent in this paragraph, by filing with the Committee a statement of charges signed by the Attorney for the Government. Subject to the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237), such proceedings shall be governed by the following rules:

(1) Opportunity to avoid proceeding. The Attorney for the Government shall, before a proceeding is instituted, give to the respondent notice in writing that:

(i) Transmits a copy of the proposed statement of charges, or a specification of the substance thereof;

(ii) Cites sections 5 (b) and 9 (b) of the Administrative Procedure Act;

(iii) Calls upon the respondent to show cause why the proceeding should not be instituted;

(iv) Informs the respondent that the notice affords him opportunity to make submissions and demonstrations of the character contemplated by the cited statutory provisions;

(v) Invites any negotiation that the respondent deems it desirable to enter into; and

(vi) Specifies a reasonable time for response to such notice: Provided, That, if prior to institution of the proceeding, the Attorney for the Government determines that the case is one in which such notice would be improper and unnecessary, he shall file his findings and his reasons therefor in the record, and such proceeding may be instituted without first giving notice.

(2) Service—(i) Service of notice and statement of charges. Notice of a proceeding for suspension or disbarment, signed by the Secretary or a member of the Committee, shall be served upon the respondent in the following manner:

(a) By delivery to the respondent personally, or

(b) By registered mail, with demand for a return card signed by the respondent: Provided, That, if an enrolled attorney or agent shall have signed and filed with the Committee on Practice his written consent to be served in some other manner it shall be sufficient if service is made in that manner. Where the service is by registered mail, the receipt of the return card duly signed shall be satisfactory evidence of service. The notice shall give the place and time within which the respondent shall file his answer, which time shall be not less than 20 days from the date of service of the notice, and shall contain or be accompanied by a statement of charges, which statement shall be signed by the Attorney for the Government.

(ii) Service of papers other than notice and statement of charges. Papers other than the original notice and statement of charges shall be served on the respondent as follows:

(a) By delivering the same to the respondent personally, or by registered mail; or

(b) By leaving them at his office with his clerk or with a person in charge thereof; or

(c) By depositing them in a United States post office or post office box, enclosed in a sealed envelope, plainly addressed to such respondent at the address under which he is enrolled or at his last address known to the Committee.

(d) When the respondent is represented by attorney, by service upon the attorney in the same manner as provided in subdivisions (a), (b) and (c) of this subdivision for service on the respondent.

(3) Examiner. There shall preside at the reception of the evidence an examiner, appointed as provided in the Administrative Procedure Act: Provided, however, That until examiners are appointed as provided in said act (but in no case initiated after June 10, 1947), the Committee shall act as examiner, and its action shall be taken by majority vote.

(4) Filing of papers. Whenever under this paragraph the filing of a paper in a proceeding is required or permitted, and the place of filing is not specified either by rule of the examiner in the particular proceeding or pursuant to this paragraph, the paper shall be filed with the Committee on Practice, Treasury Department, Washington, D. C.

(5) Extension of time. In any case in which the time for filing, pleading, making a submittal, or making an appeal, shall have expired, or shall be about to expire, to the prejudice of a party, the examiner shall have the power in his discretion and upon appropriate application and showing by the party prejudiced, to extend the time, as justice may be deemed to require.

(6) Negotiation. At any time prior to hearing by the examiner, the Attorney for the Government is authorized, in his sound discretion, to negotiate with the respondent for the purposes contemplated by sections 5 (b) and 9 (b) of the Administrative Procedure Act. The parties may at any time during the hearing limit the issues by stipulation. Any stipulations resulting from such negotiation shall be entered in the record.

(7) Resignation to avoid disbarment. If pursuant to negotiation (or otherwise) the respondent resigns to avoid possible institution of disbarment proceedings, or to avoid possible disbarment or suspension in a pending proceeding, the Committee may, upon motion of the Attorney for the Government, accept the resignation. If the Committee overrules the motion it shall enter a formal order which shall recite the findings of fact and conclusions of the Committee and which shall be made of record in the proceeding, if any, against the respondent before the examiner.

(8) Statement of charges. The statement of charges shall give a plain and concise description of the facts which it is claimed constitute grounds for suspension or disbarment, without a detailed description of such facts. A statement of charges which fairly informs the respondent of the charges against him so that he is able to prepare his defense shall be deemed sufficient. Different means by which a purpose may have been accomplished or different intents with which acts may have been committed may be alleged in the statement of charges in a single count in the alternative.

(9) Bill of particulars. If, in order to prepare his defense, the respondent desires additional information as to the time and place of the alleged misconduct, or the means by which it was committed, or any other more specific information concerning the alleged misconduct, he may present a motion in writing to the examiner asking that the statement of charges be made more specific, setting forth in such motion in specific manner in what respect the statement of charges leaves him in doubt and describing the particular language of the statement of charges as to which additional information is needed. If in the opinion of the examiner such information is reasonably necessary to enable the respondent to prepare his defense, the examiner shall direct the Attorney for the Government to furnish the respondent with an amended statement of charges giving the needed information.

(10) Answer. The respondent's answer shall be filed in writing within the time specified in the original notice unless on application the time is extended pursuant to subparagraph (5) of this paragraph. The answer shall be made under oath before a notary public or other officer authorized to administer oaths and shall be filed in duplicate with the Committe on Practice.

(11) Content of answer. In his answer the respondent should specifically admit or deny every material allegation of fact in the statement of charges. Every allegation in the statement of charges not denied shall be deemed admitted, unless the respondent shall state in his answer that he has no knowledge thereof sufficient to form a belief, which statement shall be considered a denial. In answer to a statement of charges, no enrolled person shall deny a material allegation of fact which he knows to be true, or state in such answer that he is without sufficient information to form a belief when in fact he possesses such information.

(12) Affirmative defense. In his answer the respondent may also state affirmatively special matters of defense, and shall not give in evidence any matters in avoidance or of defense, consistent with the truth of the allegations of the statement of charges, unless in his answer he states such matters specifically.

(13) Complaining witness. The Attorney for the Government may in his discretion furnish a complaining witness with a copy of the answer if in his opinion such action will aid in ascertaining the truth or falsity of the charges. The term "complaining witness" for the purposes of this provision shall include any officer or employee of the Treasury Department or any enrolled attorney or agent who may have reported the alleged misconduct to the Attorney for the Government, or any other person upon whose information the Attorney for the Government has instituted the proceeding.

(14) Reply to answer. If the answer contains affirmative matter in avoidance, consistent with the truth of the material allegations in the statement of charges, a reply by the Attorney for the Government admitting or denying the new matter set forth in the answer shall be filed and served upon the respondent.

(15) Supplemental charges. If it appears that a denial of a material allegation of fact in the statement of charges, or a statement that the respondent has no knowledge sufficient to form a belief, was made in bad faith in the answer; or that the respondent has knowingly introduced false testimony during proceedings against him for suspension or disbarment, the Attorney for the Government may thereupon file supplemental charges, which charges may be tried with the other charges in the case, provided the respondent shall be given due notice thereof and afforded an opportunity for preparing a defense thereto.

(16) Sufficiency of the pleadings. The examiner shall have authority to pass upon the sufficiency of the statement of charges, the answer, and all other pleadings. The parties may be heard upon the sufficiency of any pleadings whenever in the opinion of the Examiner a hearing thereon is necessary or desirable.

(17) Immaterial mistakes. The Examiner shall disregard an immaterial misnomer of a third person, an immaterial mistake in the description of any person, thing, or place or the ownership of any property, a failure to prove immaterial allegations in the description of the respondent's conduct, or any other immaterial mistake in the pleadings.

(18) Hearings. Subject to this paragraph the examiner may determine the time, place, and manner in which hearings shall be conducted; the form in which evidence shall be received; and may adopt rules of procedure and modify the same from time to time as occasion requires for the orderly disposition of suspension, disbarment, and reinstatement cases. Written notice of the time and place of all hearings shall be given the respondent in the manner provided in this paragraph for the service of papers. No hearing shall be held in less than 10 days from the date of service on the respondent of the notice of such hearing, except that the Examiner may postpone or adjourn hearings when necessary or desirable, on notice to the parties.

(19) Testimony. Unless the examiner shall otherwise direct, the testimony of witnesses at all hearings will be taken under oath and stenographically recorded and transcribed.

(20) Depositions. Depositions for use at a hearing may, with the written approval of the examiner, be taken by either the Attorney for the Government or the respondent, or their duly authorized representatives, upon oral or written interrogatories, before any officer duly authorized to administer an oath for general purposes, or an officer of the Internal Revenue Bureau authorized to administer an oath in internal revenue matters, upon not less than 10 days' written notice to the other party. Such notice shall state the names of the witnesses, and the time and place where such depositions are to be taken: Provided, That when depositions are taken as aforesaid, if both parties are present or represented at the time and place specified for the taking of the depositions, either party may, after the examination of the witnesses produced under the order of the Examiner, be entitled to produce and examine other witnesses; but in such case one day's notice must be given to the other party or his duly authorized representative there present, unless such notice is waived: And provided further, That the parties or their duly authorized representatives may agree in writing upon a time when and place at which such depositions are to be taken, without formal notice. When a deposition is taken upon written interrogatories, any cross-examination shall be upon written interrogatories. Copies of such written interrogatories shall be served with the notice, and copies of any written cross-interrogatories shall be mailed or delivered to the opposing party or his duly authorized representative at least 5 days before the time of taking the depositions.

(21) Documents. Whenever any book, document or paper is introduced as an exhibit in a proceeding, the examiner may authorize, upon such conditions as he may deem proper, the withdrawal of such exhibit upon the request of the Attorney for the Government, or of the respondent or his attorney.

(22) Proof; partial. If the examiner finds that a part of the charges in the statement of charges is not sufficiently proved but that the residue thereof is so proved, he may base his findings on any facts established by the evidence which are grounds for suspension or disbarment and which are substantially charged by the said residue of the statement of charges.

(23) Proof; variance. In the case of a variance between the allegations in the statement of charges and the evidence, the examiner shall have power to base his findings on any facts established by the evidence which are grounds for suspension or disbarment, and to order the amendment of the statement of charges to conform to the evidence: Provided, That the respondent has had or is given reasonable opportunity to present his defense to such amended charges, with such postponements of the hearing as may be reasonably necessary to permit the respondent to present such defense.

(24) Submittals. After the reception of evidence has been concluded, the Examiner shall by rule afford the parties a reasonable opportunity to submit proposed findings and conclusions and supporting reasons therefor. In the event that depositions are introduced on behalf of the Government at the hearing or in the event that oral testimony in support of the charges is produced by the Government at the hearing, the Attorney for the Government, as soon as possible after the hearing, shall prepare and file with the examiner proposed findings of fact based upon all the evidence in the case.

(25) Exceptions to proposed findings. Upon receipt of proposed findings and conclusions submitted by a party pursuant to subparagraph (24) of this paragraph, the Examiner shall forward to the other parties in the case or their attorneys a copy thereof together with a copy of the transcript of such oral testimony and depositions as may have been introduced. Such parties shall have not less than 10 days after receipt of such papers in which to submit in writing to the Examiner their exceptions, if any, to such proposed findings and conclusions. Neither such parties nor their attorneys shall have the right to receive any copies of exhibits introduced at the hearing or at the taking of the depositions. Such parties or their attorneys, however, shall have the right to examine all exhibits. Upon receipt of such exceptions, or after the time for filing such exceptions has expired if no such exceptions are filed, the Examiner shall make his findings and conclusions as required by subparagraph (26) of this paragraph.

(26) Decision by the examiner. After the parties rest, the examiner shall make his decision in the case, which decision shall include (i) findings and conclusions, as well as the reasons or basis therefor, upon all the material issues of fact, law, or discretion presented on the record and (ii) a recommended order of suspension or disbarment or his order to dismiss the charges, as the case may require. In making his findings and conclusions as to the truth of any charges which are duly put in issue by the papers in any case and upon which a hearing is had, the examiner shall be guided by the preponderance of reliable, probative, and substantial evidence. If at any hearing upon issues of fact raised by the papers in the case the respondent fails to put in any evidence, the examiner may base his findings upon the evidence submitted by the attorney for the Government.

(27) Effect of initial decision. If the decision of the examiner does not contemplate the suspension or disbarment of the respondent, such initial decision in the absence of an appeal pursuant to subparagraph (28) of this paragraph shall without further proceedings become the decision of the Secretary of the Treasury.

(28) Appeal. Any party adversely affected or aggrieved, within 30 days after the decision is filed with the Committee, has the right to appeal from such initial decision of the Examiner by filing notice of appeal and to submit exceptions to the decision and supporting reasons therefor, which submittals shall be included in the record of the case. Upon the expiration of said period, the entire record shall be transmitted to the Secretary of the Treasury.

(29) Submittals on recommended decision. If the recommended decision of the Examiner contemplates the suspension or disbarment of the respondent, any party has the right, within 30 days after the decision is filed with the Committee, to submit exceptions to such recommended decision and supporting reasons therefor, which submittals shall be included in the record of the case. Upon the expiration of said period, the entire record shall be transmitted to the Secretary of the Treasury.

(30) Decision by Secretary of the Treasury. The Secretary of the Treasury will make the agency decision in each case in which an appeal has been taken from the initial decision of the Examiner as provided in subparagraph (28) of this paragraph and in each case in which the decision of the Examiner contemplates the suspension or disbarment of the respondent. In making such decision, the Secretary of the Treasury, pursuant to the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act, will review the whole record or such portions thereof as may be cited by any party to permit limiting of the issues.

(31) Notice of decisions. Each decision (initial, recommended, or agency) shall promptly be filed in the record, and the Committee shall thereupon give notice thereof to the parties in the manner prescribed for the service of papers.

(32) Notice of suspension or disbarment. Upon issuance of an order of suspension or disbarment of an attorney or agent by the Secretary of the Treasury notice thereof shall be given by the Committee to the heads of all interested bureaus, offices, and divisions of the Treasury Department and to other interested departments and agencies of the Government in such manner as the Committee may determine. Such person will not thereafter be recognized during the period of suspension or disbarment as an attorney or agent in any matter before the Treasury Department. Notice in such manner as the Committee may determine may be given to the proper authorities in the State from which an enrolled attorney, certified public accountant, or public accountant derives his license to practice in the event that such attorney, certified public accountant, or public accountant is suspended or disbarred.

(33) Reopening. Any attorney or agent who has been suspended or disbarred may make written application to the Committee to have the order of suspension or disbarment vacated or modified upon the ground (i) of newly discovered evidence, or (ii) that important evidence is now available which the applicant was unable to produce at the original hearing by the exercise of due diligence. Every application for reinstatement shall be filed with the Committee in duplicate. Such application must set forth specifically the precise character of the evidence to be relied upon in its support and shall state the reasons why the applicant was unable to produce it when the original charges were heard. If the Examiner after due consideration of the application shall deem it sufficiently meritorious to warrant a hearing, he shall so advise the Committee, who shall set a time and place for such hearing and give due notice thereof to the applicant. Upon the conclusion of the hearing the Committee shall transmit the recommended decision of the Examiner to the Secretary of the Treasury for his approval or disapproval. In the event that the Secretary shall issue an order vacating or modifying the prior order of suspension or disbarment, notice thereof shall be given by the Committee to all those to whom notice of the original order of suspension or disbarment was sent. In all cases not covered by the foregoing provisions, a disbarred attorney or agent who desires to be restored to the roll must file a new application for enrollment and otherwise comply with the requirements of § 10.3.

(34) Saving provision. The regulations governing suspension, disbarment and reinstatement that were in force and effect March 31, 1947, are referred to in this subparagraph as the old rules. This paragraph as amended effective April 1, 1947, is referred to in this subparagraph as the new rules. The old rules shall continue to govern any proceeding that was instituted prior to March 31, 1947: Provided, however, That if in the course of the proceeding there is taken any action that is authorized by the old rules but that is not authorized by the new rules, said action shall not constitute grounds for disturbing any order thereafter made in the proceeding: (i) Unless it is shown that the action was in derogation of substantive rights, and not merely procedural rights; and (ii) unless upon occurrence of the action the respondent made timely objection supported by his reasons, and the objection was overruled: Provided further, That adherence may be had to the new rules pursuant to stipulation of the parties.

§ 10.8 Authority to prosecute claims. A power of attorney from the principal in proper form may be required of enrolled attorneys or agents in any case by heads of bureaus, offices, and divisions. In the prosecution of claims before the Bureau of Internal Revenue, involving the assertion of demands for payment of money by the United States, proper powers of attorney shall always be filed before an attorney or agent is recognized.

§ 10.9 Substitution of attorneys or agents; revocation of authority.—(a) Substitution of attorneys or agents. Where the power of attorney under which an enrolled attorney or agent is acting expressly confers the power of substitution, such attorney or agent may, by a duly executed instrument, substitute another enrolled attorney or agent in his stead: Provided, That such other attorney or agent will be recognized as such only after due notice in writing has been given the head of the bureau, office, unit, or division before which the matter is pending: And provided further, That where the enrolled attorney or agent designated in the power of attorney, with power of substitution, has himself by reason of his suspension or disbarment or his subsequent entry into Government service become ineligible further to represent before the Treasury Department the client who executed the power, the Treasury Department shall be under no obligation to recognize any substitute power of attorney executed at any time by such attorney or agent, authorizing some other enrolled attorney or agent to appear before the Department upon behalf of such client, and it will be necessary for such client to retain a new attorney or agent.

(b) Conflicting powers of attorney. Where there is a contest between members of a dissolved firm or between two or more attorneys or agents, acting under the same power of attorney, as to which one is entitled to prosecute a matter pending before the Treasury Department or to receive a draft, warrant, or check, the client only shall thereafter be recognized, unless the members or survivors of the dissolved firm, or the contesting attorneys or agents, file an agreement signed by all designating which of them shall be entitled to prosecute such matter or to receive the said draft, warrant, or check. In no case shall the delivery of a final draft, warrant, or check to the client be delayed more than 60 days by reason of failure to file such agreement.

(c) Revocation of powers. The revocation of an authority to represent a claimant before the Treasury Department shall in no case become effective, so far as the Department is concerned, until due notice in writing has been given the head of the bureau, office, or division before which such matter is pending, and the filing of evidence of notification of the revocation to the attorney whose power has been revoked.

§ 10.10 Disreputable conduct. (a) The Secretary of the Treasury may after due notice and opportunity for hearing suspend, and disbar from further practice before the Treasury Department any attorney or agent shown to be incompetent, disreputable, or who refuses to comply with the rules and regulations in this part, or who shall with intent to defraud, in any manner wilfully and knowingly deceive, mislead, or threaten any claimant or prospective claimant, by word, circular, letter, or by advertisement.

(b) Among other forms of disreputable conduct the following are deemed to constitute such conduct:

(1) Conviction of a crime involving moral turpitude.

(2) Making false answers in the application for enrollment with knowledge that such answers are false.

(3) Preparing or filing for himself or another a false Federal income tax return or other statement on which Federal taxes may be based, knowing the same to be false.

(4) Suggesting to a client or a prospective client an illegal plan for evading payment of Federal taxes, knowing the same to be illegal.

(5) Giving false testimony in any proceeding before the Committee on Practice, or in any other proceeding before the Treasury Department, or before any tribunal authorized to pass upon Federal tax matters, knowing the same to be false.

(6) Filing any false or fraudulently altered document or affidavit in any case or other proceeding before the Treasury Department, or procuring the filing thereof, knowing the same to be false or fraudulently altered.

(7) Using, with intent to deceive, false or misleading representations to procure employment in any case or proceeding before the Treasury Department.

(8) Giving, with intent to deceive, false or misleading information relative to a matter pending before the Treasury Department to any officer or agent of the Department.

(9) Preparing a false financial statement for a corporation, partnership, association, or individual, or certifying the correctness of such false statement, knowing the same to be false.

(10) Imparting to a client false information relative to the progress of a case or other proceeding before the Treasury Department, knowing the same to be false.

(11) False representations by an enrolled agent that he is an attorney or a certified public accountant.

(12) Preparing or assisting in the preparation of, or filing, a false claim against the United States, knowing the same to be false.

(13) Approving, for filing, a false income tax return prepared by some other person, knowing the same to be false.

(14) Misappropriation of sums received from clients for the purpose of payment of taxes or other obligations due the Government, or of funds or other property belonging to a client.

(15) Improper retention of a fee for which no services have been rendered.

(16) Obtaining or attempting to obtain money or other thing of value from a claimant by false representations, knowing the same to be false.

(17) Obtaining or attempting to obtain money or other thing of value from a claimant by duress or undue influence.

(18) Concealing or attempting to conceal assets in order to evade the payment of Federal taxes.

(19) Representing to a client or prospective client that the attorney or agent can obtain extraordinary favors from the Treasury Department or an officer or employee thereof or has access to unusual sources of information within the Department.

(20) Soliciting or procuring the giving of false testimony in any proceeding before the Committee on Practice or in any other proceeding before the Treasury Department.

§ 10.11 Striking names from roll. (a) On request of an attorney or agent, the Committee may strike his name from the roll, but before granting the request the Committee shall make inquiries to ascertain whether the request has been made in order to evade proceedings for suspension or disbarment, in which event the request shall be denied unless the Committee shall deem it to the best interest of all parties concerned to grant such request.

(b) The Committee may upon motion of the attorney for the Government or upon its own motion strike from the roll the name of any person who has failed to supply the information required by section 15 of Department Circular 230, revised October 1, 1934, provided that any attorney or agent whose name has been so stricken from the roll may have his name restored thereto by filing with the Committee such information and a statement showing that his failure to supply it within the time specified in such circular was not due to any fault on his part. Upon the receipt of such information and statement, the name of such attorney or agent shall be restored to the roll unless it shall appear that he is ineligible for enrollment, in which event he shall be advised of the fact and given 60 days within which to present to the Committee satisfactory evidence that he is eligible for enrollment.

§ 10.12 Application and effective date of regulations. The regulations in this part supersede the regulations promulgated by Treasury Department Circular No. 230 of October 1, 1934, relating to the recognition of attorneys, agents, and others, as heretofore amended and supplemented. This part shall apply to attorneys, agents, and licensed customhouse brokers representing claimants before any office of the Treasury Department, with such exceptions as to customhouse brokers as are set forth in § 10.5, and shall be effective from and after October 1, 1936. The regulations in this part shall also apply to all unsettled matters then pending in this Department or which may hereafter be presented or referred to the Department or offices thereof for adjudication, and shall be applicable to all those now enrolled to practice before the Treasury Department as attorney or agent, and all proceedings within the purview of section 3 of the act of July 7, 1884, 23 Stat. 258 (5 U. S. C. 261) after October 1, 1936, shall in all procedural matters be governed by the provisions of the regulations in this part and such supplementary rules as may from time to time be adopted pursuant to said regulations: Provided, That violations of the regulations committed prior to October 1, 1936, shall in all substantive matters be dealt with according to the provisions of the regulations in force at the time when the act or acts alleged to constitute such violations occurred.

§ 10.13 Withdrawal or amendment of regulations. The Secretary of the Treasury reserves the power to withdraw or amend or supplement at any time or from time to time all or any of the regulations in this part, and may make such special orders as he may deem proper in any case.

AUTHORITY: §§ 257.1 to 257.21, inclusive, issued under 52 Stat. 609; 43 U. S. C. 682a.

§ 257.1 Statutory authority; lands which may be leased or sold. The act of June 1, 1938 (52 Stat. 609), as amended by the act of July 14, 1945 (59 Stat. 467; 43 U. S. C. 682a), authorizes the Secretary of the Interior, in his discretion, to lease or sell to any person who is the head of a family, or who has arrived at the age of 21 years, and is a citizen of the United States, or who has filed his declaration of intention to become such citizen, as required by the naturalization laws, a tract of not exceeding 5 acres, in reasonably compact form, of any vacant, unreserved, surveyed public land, or surveyed public land withdrawn or reserved by the Secretary of the Interior for any purposes, or surveyed lands withdrawn by Executive Orders 6910 of November 26, 1934, and 6964 of February 5, 1935, for classification, which the Secretary may classify as chiefly valuable as a home, cabin, camp, health, convalescent, recreational, or business site. The act is applicable to lands in such areas as grazing districts, but is not applicable to lands withdrawn by the Secretary solely under delegated authority (e. g., under Executive Order No. 9337, of April 24, 1943) or to land in such reservations as national forests, national parks or national monuments, or to the revested Oregon and California railroad or the reconveyed Coos Bay wagon road grant lands, in Oregon. The lands cannot be leased or sold until classified for such purposes.

The act applies to public lands in Alaska, and permits employees of the Department of the Interior stationed in Alaska, in the discretion of the Secretary, to purchase or lease one tract in Alaska for any purpose under the act, except as a business site.

§ 257.2 Definitions. (a) "Secretary" means Secretary of the Interior.

(b) "Director" means Director, Bureau of Land Management.

(c) "Regional Administrator" means the Regional Administrator, Bureau of Land Management. Where there is no Regional Administrator, it means the Director, Bureau of Land Management.

(d) "Manager" means Manager of the District Land Office. Where there is no District Land Office, it means the Regional Administrator.

(e) "The act" means the act of June 1, 1938 (52 Stat. 609), as amended.

(f) Sites. (i) A "home site" is a site suitable for a permanent, year-round residence for a single person or a family.

(ii) A "cabin site" is a site suitable for a summer, weekend, or vacation residence.

(iii) A "camp site" is a site suitable for temporary camping and for the erection of simple or temporary structures and shelters, such as tents, tent platforms, etc.

(iv) A "health site" is a site suitable for the temporary or permanent residence of a single person or of a family for the prevention or cure of disease or illness.

(v) A "convalescent site" is a site suitable for residence of a single person or family for the purpose of recuperation from a disease or illness.

(vi) A "recreational site" is a site chiefly suitable for noncommercial outdoor recreation.

(vii) A "business site" is a site suitable for some form of commercial enterprise.

§ 257.3 Policy. It is the policy of the Secretary in the administration of the act of June 1, 1938, to promote the beneficial utilization of the public lands subject to the terms thereof, and at the same time to safeguard the public interest in the lands. To this end applications for sites will be considered in the light of their effect upon the conservation of natural resources and upon the welfare not only of the applicants themselves but of the communities in which they propose to settle.

Applications will not be allowed, for example, which would lead to private ownership or control of scenic attractions or water resources that should be kept open to public use. Nor will isolated or scattered settlement be permitted which would impose heavy burdens upon state or local governments for roads, schools, and police, health, and fire protection. Types of settlement, or business which might create "eyesores" along public highways and parkways will be guarded against.

No direct sale will be made of lands under the act. Use and improvement of the land under lease will be required before it will be sold. Leases of lands which are classified for lease and sale will contain an option permitting the lessee to purchase as provided in § 257.10. Lands which are classified for lease only will not be sold and leases of such land will not contain an option to purchase clause.

§ 257.4 Qualifications of applicants; restrictions on purchase and lease. An application to lease or purchase may be made by any person, including a married or single woman, who is a citizen, or has declared his or her intention to become a citizen, of the United States, and who is 21 years of age or, if under that age, the head of a family. Unless warranted by special circumstances, where a husband and wife are living together, only one of them may acquire a tract under the act.

Employees of the Department of the Interior stationed in Alaska may lease or purchase one tract in Alaska for any purpose under the act except business.

No person will be permitted to lease or purchase more than one tract under the act, except upon a satisfactory showing that such action is warranted. Where more than one tract is applied for under the act by the same person, except where otherwise authorized by the Regional Administrator, each tract must be the subject of a separate application, which must be complete in itself, must be filed in accordance with all of the applicable regulations, and must be accompanied by a showing that the allowance of more than one application is warranted by the circumstances.

In each application to purchase or lease, the applicant must furnish data sufficient to identify all other applications under the act, if any, filed by him or any member of his family. Such data should include the serial number and date of filing of each such application and the district land office at which it was filed.

§ 257.5 Execution and filing of applications. An application for lease under the act must be filed on Form 4-775. An application for sale should be made on Form 4-775a. All applications must be prepared with an original and one copy. The applicant must furnish all the information required by the form, including the declaration that he has personally examined the lands for which the application is filed. The application must be filed with the manager of the land office for the district within which the land is situated. If the land is in a State in which there is no district land office, the application must be filed with the Regional Administrator for the State in which the land is situated. The application need not be under oath but must be signed by the applicant.[1]

§ 257.6 Fee. An application for lease must be accompanied by a filing fee of $5, which will be carried as unearned, pending action on the application. If the application is rejected, the fee will be returned. If a lease is offered to the applicant, the fee will be considered as earned and will be retained. An application for sale need not be accompanied by a filing fee.

§ 257.7 Action on application by Manager. If an application is not properly executed or is not accompanied by the required fee, or is otherwise irregular, the manager will reject it.

§ 257.8 Classification of land. If the application is regular and the status of the land applied for warrants its consideration for classification under the act, the Regional Administrator, upon receipt of the application, will proceed to have such studies and investigations made as may be required for a determination as to whether or not it should be classified for small tract purposes. Where the land applied for has been withdrawn or reserved by the Secretary, the concurrence of the bureau having supervision over the land must be obtained before the land may be classified.

A single tract of 5 acres or less may be classified as suitable for one or more of the above types of sites specified in § 257.2 Each tract will be classified as available either for lease and sale or for lease only. Tracts which are classified for lease only will not be subject to sale.

The Regional Administrator may classify lands under the act either on his own motion or upon application. Where land is classified by the Regional Administrator on his own motion, prior to September 27, 1954, veterans of World War II have a preference right for 90 days, after the effective date of the classification of the lands, in which to file a small tract application. (Section 4, act of September 27, 1944; 58 Stat. 745; 43 U. S. C. 282).

[1] Title 18 U. S. C. sec. 80 makes it a crime for any person knowingly or wilfully to submit or cause to be submitted to any agency of the United States any false or fraudulent statement as to any matter within its jurisdiction.

No lease will be offered and no sale authorized prior to the classification of the land for such disposal.

§ 257.9 Occupancy; preference right of applicant; action on application. The filing of an application confers no right upon the applicant to settle upon, use or occupy the land and all persons are warned not to make such settlement, and not to use or occupy the land prior to the issuance of a lease. Any such unauthorized settlement, use or occupancy constitutes a trespass.

When an application is regularly filed pursuant to the regulations in this part prior to the time the manager is notified by the Regional Administrator that the area is under consideration for small tract classification, a preference right to lease or purchase will be accorded the applicant if the land is thereafter classified for the type of site for which application has been made and the application is made to conform to the area and dimensions specified in the classification order.

Applications filed subsequent to the receipt of such notice by the manager shall be acted upon and disposed of in accordance with the terms of the respective classification orders.

§ 257.10 Issuance of lease; option to purchase. The manager will act on applications for and may issue leases upon lands, for periods not exceeding five years, which are classified for any purpose specified in the act, other than business: Provided, That (a) the applicant, upon the issuance of such lease, will have only one tract under the act and (b) the application covers a tract as established by the order of classification. All other leases, including those for business sites, will be issued by the Regional Administrator.

Leases under the act will be prepared in quadruplicate on Form 4–776. A lease will be issued for a period of not more than five years, unless the character of the venture justifies a longer period. Each lessee will be required to pay the annual rental, in advance, to the manager of the proper district land office. If the annual rental does not exceed $10, the lessee will be required to pay the rental for the entire lease period in advance of the issuance of the lease. The advance rental will be considered as earned upon issuance of the lease and will be retained.

The lease will contain provisions relating to the improvements to be placed on the lands and such other conditions of occupancy as are set forth in the order of classification, including an appropriate set back of the improvements from the boundaries of the leased tract. Plans for improvements may be submitted to the Regional Administrator for approval in advance of construction.

All leases of tracts which are classified for lease and sale will contain a provision affording the lessee or his duly approved successor in interest an option to purchase the tract at or after the expiration of one year from the date the lease is issued, provided the improvements required by the lease have been made and the lessee or his successor in interest has otherwise complied with the terms and conditions of the lease, including the option to purchase clause. The option to purchase clause will set forth the appraised value of the unimproved land at the date the lease was issued. This value, together with the cost of survey, if any, necessary to describe the land properly, will constitute the price at which the land may be purchased. Any rental paid in advance for the lease period subsequent to the date that an application for sale is properly filed will be credited against the purchase price.

Leases of tracts which are classified for lease only will not contain an option to purchase clause.

§ 257.11 Renewal of lease; preference rights. The manager may act upon applications to renew leases which he is authorized to issue. (See § 257.10.) He may issue such renewal leases for periods not exceeding five years, provided the land then is classified for the purpose specified in the original lease. All other applications to renew leases will be acted upon, and renewal leases issued, by the Regional Administrator.

Upon the filing of an application for the renewal of a lease, not more than six months or less than 60 days prior to its expiration, the lessee or his duly approved successor in interest will be accorded a preference right to a new lease, upon such terms and for such duration as may be fixed by the appropriate officer designated above, if the terms of the lease have been complied with and it is determined that a new lease should be granted. No option to purchase clause may be placed in the renewal lease if it is not in the original lease unless the lands have been classified for sale.

§ 257.12 Assignment of lease; subleases of leased lands. The manager may approve assignments of leases and subleases of the lands subject to leases which he is authorized to issue (See § 257.10). All other assignments and subleases will be approved by the Regional Administrator.

Proposed assignments of leases, and proposed subleases of leased lands, in whole or in part, must be submitted, in triplicate, within 90 days from the date of execution for approval by the appropriate officer designated above. The proposed assignment or sublease must contain all of the terms and conditions agreed upon by the parties thereto, must be accompanied by the same showing by the assignee or sublessee as is required of applicants for a lease, and must be supported by a showing that the assignee or sublessee agrees to be bound by the provisions of the lease. No assignment or sublease will be recognized unless and until approved by the appropriate officer designated above.

§ 257.13 Cancellation or modification of lease. The Regional Administrator may modify or cancel any lease where the lessee has failed to comply with any of the terms, covenants and stipulations of the lease or to abide by any of the regulations in this part, and such default has continued for 30 days after written notice thereof.

§ 257.14 Sale. The Regional Administrator may authorize the sale of those tracts which have been classified for sale whenever, within the limitations of the lease and the regulations in this part, he may consider such action appropriate.

Lands will be classified for sale where found to be primarily suitable for use and occupancy as provided by the act, and where their disposal and use in private ownership will not interfere unduly with the use of private lands or other Federal lands. Tracts will be sold under the act when the lessee or his duly approved successor in interest has placed the improvements on the tract required by the lease and otherwise has complied with the terms and conditions of the lease but no sale may be made and no application for sale may be filed until the tract has been under lease to the sale applicant or his duly approved successor in interest for at least one year from the date the lease was issued. The sales price of the tract will be indicated in the option to purchase clause of the lease.

An application for sale should be made on Form 4–775a. When a sale is authorized, the applicant will be allowed sixty days from service of notice of such authorization to deposit either the full amount of the purchase price, or, if he desires, one-fourth thereof. If only one-fourth of the purchase price is paid, the balance may be paid in equal semi-annual instalments but must be paid within two years after the initial payment has been made. The applicant's right to the tract and the money he has paid will be forfeited if he fails to make full payment within that period.

Any advance rentals paid for the lease period subsequent to the date that the application for sale is properly filed will be credited against the purchase price.

If the applicant has paid the full purchase price and otherwise complied with the foregoing and no objection appears, cash certificate will be issued by the Manager, to be followed by patent.

§ 257.15 Minerals. Any lease or patent issued under the act will reserve to the United States (a) all deposits of coal, oil, gas or other minerals, together with the right to prospect for, mine, and remove the same under such regulations as the Secretary may prescribe, and (b) all fissionable source materials, together with the right to prospect for, mine and remove the same, in accordance with the Act of August 1, 1946 (60 Stat. 755). Any minerals subject to the leasing laws, in the lands patented or leased under the terms of the act may be disposed of to any qualified person under applicable laws and regulations in force at the time of such disposal. No provision is made at this time to prospect for, mine, or remove the other kinds of minerals that may be found in such lands, and until rules and regulations have been issued, such reserved deposits will not be subject to prospecting or disposition.

§ 257.16 Timber. A lessee will not be permitted to cut timber from the leased lands without first obtaining permission from the Regional Manager. Such permission will not be granted except where the timber is to be cut to clear the land or to make improvements.

§ 257.17 Rectangular tracts. The official township plats ordinarily provide the basis for descriptions of tracts, in compact form, in units of 5 acres or aliquot parts thereof. Where a tract, not exceeding five acres, can be conformed to legal subdivisions of the survey, no additional official survey will ordinarily be made by the Government beyond the identification of the quarter section corners.

§ 257.18 Supplemental plats. Where a tract is situated in the fractional portion of a sectional lotting, a supplemental plat may be required to afford a suitable description. The plat will be prepared at the time of the approval of the application. If the subdivision of the sectional lotting would result in narrow strips or other areas containing less than 2½ acres, not suitable for sale or lease as separate units, such excess areas, in the discretion of the Regional Administrator, may be included in the adjoining 5-acre tracts.

§ 257.19 Irregular tracts; cost of special survey. Where, in the opinion of the Regional Administrator, the rectangular form is not the most desirable plan for development of an area, tracts irregular in form, not in excess of 5 acres each, may be leased or sold in accordance with the regulations in this part. Applicants for such tracts will be required to submit a metes-and-bounds description sufficiently complete to identify the location, boundary, and area of the lands. Where a special official survey is required of an irregular tract for the purpose of patent or lease description, the cost thereof will be paid by the applicant. If there is a group of contiguous or closely associated tracts to be surveyed at one time the cost will prorated among the tracts on an acreage basis. The applicant will be required to make an advance payment to the manager, equal to the estimated cost of executing the survey, before the field work will be undertaken. He will be credited with any excess payments prior to the issuance of patent or lease.

§ 257.20 Tracts on unsurveyed land. Unsurveyed public lands are not subject to lease or sale under the act. Should an application be filed for such lands, the manager will reject it. However, if desired, the applicant may file a request for the survey of the lands with the Public Survey Office of the State in which the lands are situated or with the Regional Administrator of the region in which the lands are situated if the lands are not within an organized surveying district. The description must be sufficiently complete to identify the location, boundary, and area of the land. There should also be given, if possible, the approximate description or location of the land by section, township and range. A person who requests the survey of an area acquires no preferential right to apply for the land under the act upon the completion of the survey and the official filing of the plat. After the survey is completed and the official plat is placed on record, the surveyed area will be subject to the provisions of the act and application may then be filed.

§ 257.21 Appeals. An appeal pursuant to the rules of practice, Part 221, may be taken from any decision of the manager to the Regional Administrator, from the latter's decision to the Director, and, from his decision to the Secretary.

FRED W. JOHNSON,
Director.

Serial No. ----

LEASE UNDER SMALL TRACT ACT

Act of June 1, 1938 (52 Stat. 609, 43 U. S. C. Sec. 682a) as amended

This indenture of lease, entered into as of _____, by and between the United States of America, party of the first part, hereinafter called the Lessor, acting in this behalf by the _____ and _____ of _____, party of the second part, hereinafter called the Lessee, pursuant to the terms and provisions of the Act of June 1, 1938 (52 Stat. 609, 43 U. S. C. sec. 682a), as amended, and the regulations thereunder, all of which are made a part hereof.

Witnesseth:

That the Lessor, in consideration of the rents to be paid and the covenants to be observed as herein set forth, does hereby grant and lease to the Lessee an exclusive right and privilege of using for _____ the following described tract of land:

Section _____, Township _____ Range _____, Meridian _____, containing _____ acres, together with the right to construct and maintain thereon all buildings or other improvements necessary to the full enjoyment thereof for the purposes for which this lease is given, for a period of _____ years. Upon filing an application for renewal of the lease, not more than six (6) months or less than sixty (60) days prior to the expiration thereof, the Lessee or his duly approved successor in interest will be accorded a preference right to a new lease, upon such terms and for such duration as may be fixed by the officer signing this lease, if the terms of the lease have been complied with and such officer shall determine that a new lease should be granted.

The lessee or his duly approved successor in interest may purchase the above described land at or after the expiration of one year from the date of this lease, provided the improvements required hereunder have been made and he has otherwise complied with the terms and conditions of this lease. The purchase price shall be $____, plus the cost of survey, if any, necessary to describe the land properly. In no event may an application to purchase be filed prior to the expiration of one year from the date of this lease.

In consideration of the foregoing, the Lessee hereby agrees:

(a) To pay the Lessor, in advance, an annual rental of $_____.

(b) To construct upon the leased land, to the satisfaction of the Regional Administrator, improvements, which under the circumstances are presentable, substantial, and appropriate for the use for which the lease is issued. Plans for improvements may be submitted to the Regional Administrator for approval in advance of construction.

(c) To observe all State, county, and other laws and regulations which are applicable to the premises, including sanitary laws and regulations and laws relating to the cost and maintenance of partition fences, and to keep the premises in a neat and orderly condition.

(d) If pursuant to the lease, the site may be used in whole or in part for business, to conduct all business operations in an orderly manner and in accordance with the requirements of the laws of the State in which the land is located, as well as the laws of the United States, and not to discriminate against any employee or applicant for employment because of race, creed, color, or national origin, and that he will require an identical provision to be included in all subcontracts.

(e) Not to commit waste or injury to the land, or to devote it to any occupation or use other than the purposes for which this lease is issued.

(f) To take all reasonable precautions to prevent and suppress forest, brush, and grass fires.

(g) That neither he nor members of his family, or employees, will set fires that will result in damage, and that fires will be extinguished before the premises are left unattended.

(h) Not to cut timber from the leased lands without first obtaining permission from the Regional Manager. Such permission will not be granted except where the timber is to be cut to clear the lands or to make improvements.

(i) To take all possible precautions to prevent pollution of waters on and in the vicinity of this tract.

(j) To observe all laws and regulations for the protection of game animals, game birds, and nongame birds, and not to disturb such animals or birds unnecessarily.

It is further understood and agreed:

(k) That there is reserved to the United States all of the coal, oil, gas, and other mineral deposits in the leased land; that any deposits of coal, oil, gas, or other minerals subject to the leasing laws in the lensed land may be disposed of under applicable laws and regulations in force at the time of such disposal; that the right to prospect for, mine, and remove the other kinds of minerals that may be found in the leased land shall be subject to such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of the Interior and that until such rules and regulations have been issued such reserved deposits will not be subject to disposition or prospecting. That there is reserved to the United States, pursuant to the provisions of the Act of August 1, 1946 (Public Law 585, 79th Cong.), all uranium, thorium, or any other materials which are or may be determined to be peculiarly essential to the production of fissionable materials, whether or not of commercial value, together with the right of the United States through its authorized agents or representatives at any time to enter upon the land and prospect for, mine, and remove the same.

(l) That nothing contained in this lease shall restrict the acquisition, granting, or use of permits or rights of way under existing laws.

(m) That the Lessee will not enclose roads or trails commonly used for public travel.

That this lease is taken subject to the rights of others to cross the leased premises on, or as near as practicable to, the exterior boundaries thereof, as a means of ingress or egress to or from other lands leased under authority of this act.

Whenever necessary, the Regional Administrator may make final decision as to the location of right-of-way.

(n) That authorized representatives of the Department of the Interior at any time shall have the right to enter the leased premises for the purpose of inspection, and that Federal agents, including game wardens, shall at all times have the right to enter the leased area on official business.

(o) That the Lessee shall not sell or remove any timber growing on the leased land, for use elsewhere.

(p) That this lease is granted subject to valid existing rights.

(q) That this lease shall be subject to cancellation by the Regional Administrator for failure of the Lessee to timely make any required payment of annual rental, or for failure of the Lessee otherwise to perform or observe any of the terms, covenants, and stipulations hereof, or of any of the regulations issued under the Act of June 1, 1938, where such default has continued for thirty (30) days after written notice thereof by the Regional Administrator.

(r) That upon the cancellation of this lease for any reason, or upon its expiration, unless a renewal is requested, the Lessee will be allowed a reasonable time, to be determined by the Regional Administrator, within which to remove his improvements from the land, or to make other disposition thereof. Upon the failure of the Lessee to take such action, the improvements will become the property of the United States.

(s) That the Lessee will not assign this lease, or any interest therein, nor sublet any portion of the leased premises, without prior approval of the officer signing the lease, and will not speculate in the privileges herein granted. The approval of a transfer will be withheld, if it is for speculative purposes.

(t) It is further covenanted and agreed that each obligation hereunder shall extend to, and be binding upon, and every benefit hereof shall inure to, the heirs, executors, administrators, successors, and assigns of the respective parties hereto.

(u) That no Member of or Delegate to Congress, or Resident Commissioner, after his election or appointment, and either before or after he has qualified, and during his continuance in office, and that no officer, agent, or employee of the Department of the Interior, shall be admitted to any share or part in this lease or derive any benefit that may arise therefrom; and that the provisions of Section 3741 of the Revised Statutes (41 U. S. C. 22), and Sections 114, 115, and 116 of the Criminal Code, approved March 4, 1909 (35 Stat. 1109, 18 U. S. C. 204–206), relating to contracts, enter into and form a part of this lease, so far as the same may be applicable.

I declare, under penalty of law that I have examined the foregoing application and the lands described therein and to the best of my knowledge and belief the statements in the application are true, correct and complete.

(See footnote, paragraph 8)

FOOTNOTES

1. The application must be prepared with an original and one copy, and filed in the proper district land office. If the land is in a State in which there is no district land office, the application must be filed with the Regional Administrator for the State in which the land is situated. If the land is within a State with respect to which there is no Regional Administrator the application must be filed in the Bureau of Land Management, Washington, D. C. The application must be accompanied by a fee of $5.

2. An application may not be filed for unsurveyed land. If the land has not been classified under the Small Tract Act, the application also constitutes a petition for classification. The land, not in excess of 5 acres, must be described by aliquot parts of a legal subdivision or subdivisions, if possible. The official township plats ordinarily provide the basis for description of tracts, in compact form, in units of 5, 2½, or 1¼ acres. Where a tract, not exceeding 5 acres, can be conformed to legal subdivisions of the survey, no additional official survey will ordinarily be made by the Government. Plats showing the official surveys are available for public inspection at the land office for the district in which the lands are situated, at the office of the Regional Administrator for the State in which the land is situated, and in the Bureau of Land Management, Washington, D. C.

Where the rectangular form does not make the most desirable plan for development, a tract, irregular in form, may be applied for, not in excess of 5 acres. In such cases, a metes-and-bounds description (the direction and length of the connecting line from the the initial point on the boundary to the nearest public-land survey corner, and the direction and length of each boundary course), will be required in the application, sufficiently complete to identify the location, boundary, and area of the tract, which will be regarded as defining its maximum limits.

3. Leases will not be issued for periods of more than 5 years, unless the character of the venture justifies a longer period.

4. Applicant must state whether he is a citizen of the United States or has declared his intention to become such citizen. If not native born, he must give the date of his naturalization or declaration, the title and location of the court in which the proceedings were heard, and the number, if any, of the document.

5. If there are springs or water holes on the land, applicant should state the size thereof and give an estimate of the quantity of water in gallons they are capable of producing daily. If any part or parts of the land are irrigated, or are affected by constructed or proposed irrigation ditches or canals, their location, area, source of water supply, and other pertinent facts should be stated. The relation of the tract to surface streams or springs rising on or flowing across it or in its vicinity should be indicated. The location and depth of wells, elevation or water plane relative to the surface, and other pertinent facts which will disclose the quantity and quality of the water supply, obtainable from either ordinary or artesian wells on the land, should be given. If there are no wells thereon such information should be furnished as to any other wells in that vicinity.

6. A lessee will not be permitted to cut timber for the purpose of clearing the land, or to make improvements, without first submitting to the Regional Administrator a statement as to his plans and until after permission to cut the timber has been granted.

7. Applicant must state the purposes for which the tract is to be used, which may include one or more of the following: (a) A home site—a site suitable for a permanent, year-round residence for a single person or a family. (b) A cabin site—a site suitable for a summer, week-end, or vacation residence. (c) A camp site—a site suitable for temporary camping and for the erection of simple or temporary structures and shelters, such as tents, tent platforms, etc. (d) A health site—a site suitable for the temporary or permanent residence of a single person or of a family for the prevention of disease or illness. (e) A convalescent site—a site suitable for residence of a single person or family for the purpose of recuperation from a disease or illness. (f) A recreational site—a site chiefly suitable for noncommercial outdoor recreation. (g) A business site—a site suitable for some form of commercial enterprise. A tract may be designated as one or more of the above types of sites. For example, a business site may also be a home site. It is important that the application should specify all purposes for which it is intended or desired to use the land, which must be limited to the types of use herein specified.

8. The application need not be executed under oath. It should be noted, however, that 18 U. S. C. sec. 80 makes it a crime for any person knowingly, or willfully to submit or cause to be submitted to any agency of the United States any false or fraudulent statements in any matter within its jurisdiction.

9. A person may not file more than one application under the act of June 1, 1938, unless upon a satisfactory showing he is permitted to do so. When more than one application is filed each application must be complete in itself and in accordance with all applicable regulations.

An application for public lands surveyed into small tract units may not embrace more than one tract unless the restriction should appear unreasonable because of special conditions.

An applicant must furnish data sufficient to identify all prior applications, if any, filed by him under the act.

10. A veteran of World War II claiming a preferred right of application must furnish with his application a certified copy of his discharge, or an affidavit corroborated by two reputable and disinterested witnesses, showing when he entered the service, when discharged, and the organization in which he served.

(All applications must be prepared with an original and 1 copy. See footnote, paragraph 1.)

TITLE 47—TELECOMMUNICATION

Chapter I—Federal Communications Commission

[Order 137]

RATES AND CHARGES FOR GOVERNMENT COMMUNICATIONS BY TELEGRAPH

MAY 29, 1947.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C. on the 28th day of May 1947;

The Commission having under consideration the matter of rates and charges for Government communications by telegraph: It is ordered:

1. That the charges for telegraph communications between the several departments of the Government and their officers, relating exclusively to the public business in their transmission over the lines or circuits of any telegraph company subject to the Post Roads Act, approved July 24, 1866, Rev. Stats. Secs. 5263–5269 (U. S. C. Title 47), shall not exceed eighty (80) per centum of the charges applicable to commercial communications of the corresponding classification, of the same length, and between the same points in the United States, which shall be deemed herein to include Alaska, subject to the following: (a) The minimum charge for Day Messages (telegrams) shall be 25 cents, for Day Letters 45 cents, for Night Messages 20 cents, for Night Letters 30 cents, and for Serial messages 54 cents, unless any of these amounts shall be greater than the minimum for a corresponding commercial message in which event the provision set forth in paragraph 4 below shall apply; (b) A Day Letter shall be charged for as a Day Letter or a Day Message, according to which of these classifications shall produce the lower charge for the particular message; (c) an overnight message shall be charged for as a Night Message or a Night Letter, according to which of these two classifications shall produce the lower charge for the particular message; (d) when the first section of a Serial message is not followed by another on the same day, it shall be charged for as a Day Message; when more than one section is filed on the same day, the sections shall be charged for at the Serial rates or each section shall be charged for as a Day Message, according to which of these classifications shall produce the lower total charge; and (e) the provisions of this paragraph shall apply only to Government messages filed as Day Messages, Day Letters, Night Messages, Night Letters, and Serial messages.

2. That the rates and charges for telegraph communications between the several departments of the Government and their officers, relating exclusively to the public business between points in the United States and points in possessions of the United States, between points in different possessions, and between points in the United States including such possessions and points in foreign countries and ships at sea, transmitted by any carrier or carriers subject to the Post Roads Act, or subject to the terms of a permit or license granted by the President of the United States giving the Postmaster General authority to fix rates for Government communications by telegraph (such a carrier being hereinafter called a domestic carrier) shall, between all points embraced within the scope of such Act, permit or license, not exceed fifty (50) per centum of the full ordinary charges applicable to commercial communications of the same length and between the same points, except that charges for Government code messages shall not exceed fifty (50) per centum of the charges for like commercial code messages, subject to the following: (a) In cases where Government messages are transmitted between any of such points in part over the facilities of any domestic carrier and in part over the facilities of any other carrier, or administration, (hereinafter called a foreign carrier), the charges for Government communications shall not exceed the following: (1) For Government communications between points in the United States and Mexico or Canada; and (2) for Government communications between all other points, the amounts derived by applying the percentages specified in the first ordering paragraph herein and the percentages specified in this paragraph, respectively, to the full portion of the commercial charges accruing to the domestic carriers, plus the charges actually made for United States Government communications by foreign carriers: (b) the charges for Government ordinary messages between the following named points, shall be:

	Per word
Between Fisherman's Point, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba and Canal Zone	$0.09
Between Limon, San Jose, and Puntarenas, C. R., and Canal Zone	0.075

and the charges for Government code messages between the foregoing points shall be 60 per centum of the charges above specified for Government ordinary messages; and (c) with respect to Government messages to and from ships at sea the percentages specified shall not apply to the coastal station and ship station charges.

3. That if any new service shall be established, a supplementary order may be issued fixing the Government charge for such service.

4. That in no case shall the charge for a Government message exceed the charge for a corresponding commercial message; nor shall the portion of the through charges accruing to the domestic carriers for United States Government communications exceed the portion accruing to such carriers for like communications of any foreign government between the same points.

5. That in cases where the charge for a Government message, as determined herein, shall include a fraction of a cent, such fraction, if less than one-half, shall be disregarded, if one-half or more, it shall be counted as one cent; except that the charge for Government code messages shall be rounded up to the next higher half cent, if the fraction be less than one-half and to a full cent, if the fraction be more than one-half.

6. That every Government message shall have priority over all other messages of the same classification, and every Government day message, serial message, ordinary message and code message shall also have priority over all other messages regardless of the classification; and every Government message shall, unless otherwise provided herein, be subject to the classifications, practices and regulations applicable to the corresponding commercial communications.

7. That every domestic carrier which is subject to the Communications Act of 1934, shall immediately file with this Commission all schedules of charges applicable to Government communications established pursuant to this order, said schedules to be filed in full compliance with the requirements of section 203 of the Communications Act of 1934, and with Part 61 of the Commission's rules and regulations (Title 47—Telecommunications—Chapter I), to be constructed in such manner and form that the full charges for all Government messages from origins to destinations can be exactly and readily ascertained therefrom, and to name effective dates as of July 1, next ensuing: Provided, however, That in cases where charges in excess of those herein prescribed are collected because of conditions over which domestic carriers have no control such charges shall be shown in the schedules but the excess shall be refunded to the United States Government.

8. That in every case where any schedule containing charges applicable to commercial messages shall be changed, or the charges made by any foreign carrier shall be changed, the schedule containing the charges applicable to Government messages shall be correspondingly changed, effective on the same date.

9. That nothing herein contained shall apply to charges fixed by agreement between any department of the United States Government and the companies performing the service if such agreement be authorized in any statute of the United States.

10. That nothing herein contained shall be construed to give Government messages priority over radio communications or signals which are given a higher priority under section 321 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended; or under Article 26 of the General Radio Regulations (Cairo Revision, 1938) Annexed to the International Telecommunications Convention (Madrid; 1932).

This order shall become effective on the first day of July 1947 and shall continue in effect until June 30, 1948, both dates inclusive, unless changed by order of the Commission.

By the Commission.

In the event that a presiding officer deems himself disqualified and desires to withdraw from the case he shall notify the Commission of his withdrawal at least 7 days prior to the date set for hearing. Any party or any person who has been granted leave to be heard, or the General Counsel of the Commission, may in good faith request the presiding officer to withdraw on the grounds of personal bias or other disqualification. The person seeking disqualification shall file with the presiding officer an affidavit setting forth in detail the facts alleged to constitute grounds for disqualification, and the presiding officer may file a response thereto. Such affidavit must be filed within 5 days of the date set for hearing or within 2 days after the presiding officer is designated, whichever is later, but in no event later than the close of the first day of the hearing. If the presiding officer believes himself not disqualified he shall so rule and proceed with the hearing. If the person seeking disqualification excepts from the ruling of the presiding officer he shall so state at the time the ruling of the presiding officer is made and the presiding officer shall certify the question together with the affidavit and any response filed in connection therewith, to the Commission. The Commission may rule on the question without hearing or it may require testimony or argument on the issues raised. The affidavit, response, testimony and decision thereon shall be part of the record in the case. The failure to file an objection to the presiding officer designated by the Commission within the time required by this section, or to file an exception to the ruling of the presiding officer shall be deemed a waiver thereof by the parties to the proceeding.

6. Section 1.844 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1.844 Authority of presiding officers. The functions of all presiding officers shall be conducted in an impartial manner. They shall have authority, with respect to cases assigned to them, from the date of their designations as presiding officers to date of submission of their decisions and transfer of the cases to the Commission, subject to the published rules and regulations of the Commission and within its powers, to:

(a) Administer oaths and affirmations,

(b) Examine witnesses,

(c) Issue subpoenas authorized by law,

(d) Rule upon offers of proof and receive relevant evidence at any place in the United States designated by the Commission,

(e) Take or cause depositions to be taken whenever the Commission determines that the ends of justice would be served thereby,

(f) Regulate the course of the hearing, maintain discipline and decorum, and exclude from the hearing any person found guilty of contemptuous conduct,

(g) Hold conferences for the settlement or simplification of the issues by consent of the parties,

(h) Take any other action necessary under the foregoing and authorized by the published rules and regulations of the Commission, but no such officer shall be empowered to decide any motion offered in the course of a hearing to dismiss the proceeding or to decide any other motion which involves a final determination of the merits of the proceedings.

7. Section 1.847 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1.847 Certification of transcript. After the close of the hearing the complete transcript of testimony, together with all exhibits, shall be certified as to identity by the presiding officer and filed in the office of the Secretary of the Commission. Notice of such certification shall be served on all parties to the proceedings.

8. The last sentence of the footnote to § 1.849 is amended to read as follows: "Any party not directed to file proposed findings of fact and conclusions of law may so file, if he desires to do so, by notifying the Commission of his intention before the record is closed."

9. Section 1.851 (a) is amended to read as follows:

§ 1.851 Initial, recommended and proposed decisions. (a) Unless otherwise directed by the Commission the presiding officer shall prepare a recommended decision as provided for in paragraph (d) of this section, which shall be made public and filed in the docket of the case simultaneous with the issuance of the Commission's proposed decision.[1]

[1] In cases involving rule making and the issuance of initial licenses the presiding officer shall prepare a recommended decision only if the hearing in the case commenced on or after June 11, 1947.

10. Section 1.851 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) In such cases as the Commission shall consider appropriate therefor, the order or notice designating the presiding officer may specify that such presiding officer shall prepare an initial decision as provided for in paragraph (c) of this section.

11. Section 1.851 (d) is amended to read as follows:

(d) In cases where a recommended decision is prepared by the presiding officer, such decision shall contain findings of fact, conclusions, and the reasons or basis therefor, upon all the material issues of fact, law or discretion presented on the record; the appropriate rule, order, sanction, relief, or denials thereof; and recommendations as to what disposition of the case should be made. The recommended decision shall be transmitted to the Commission and shall not be made public until the Commission issues a proposed decision. After such transmission the case shall be transferred to the Commission and the presiding officer's jurisdiction over the proceedings shall cease.

12. Section 1.851 (e) as amended to read as follows:

(e) In all cases where a recommended decision is prepared by the presiding officer (or where no decision is prepared by a presiding officer), the Commission will issue a proposed decision containing its proposed findings and conclusions, as well as the reasons or basis therefor, upon all the material issues of fact, law, or discretion presented on the record; and the appropriate rule, order, sanction, relief, or denial thereof. If a recommended decision has been prepared by the presiding officer, the Commission will append it to its proposed decision and issue both simultaneously. The proposed decision will show the ruling of the Commission upon each relevant and material finding and conclusion proposed by the parties.

13. Section 1.851 (f) is redesignated as § 1.851 (g).

14. New § 1.851 (f) is adopted to read as follows:

(f) In the event that a presiding officer becomes unavailable to the Commission after the commencement of the hearing and before the receipt of testimony has been concluded, the Commission will designate a presiding officer from the Hearing Division and shall specify the type of decision, if any, which such presiding officer shall prepare in the case. In cases involving matters set forth in § 1.857 (b) such designee shall be bound by the provisions of § 1.857 (a). Where a presiding officer becomes unavailable to the Commission after the receipt of testimony has been concluded, the record shall be certified to the Commission for decision.

15. The first sentence of § 1.854 (a) is amended to read as follows:

§ 1.854 Exceptions: briefs, request for oral argument. (a) Within 20 days from the date of issuance of the Commission's initial decision by the presiding officer,

[1] See footnote to § 1.851 (a).

or the Commission's proposed decision (and presiding officer's recommended decision, if any), the parties to the proceeding, and the General Counsel of the Commission, may file a statement in writing setting forth such exceptions to said decisions or to any part of the record or proceeding (including rulings upon all motions or objections) as they rely upon. • • •

16. Section 1.857 (a) is amended to read as follows:

§ 1.857 Separation of functions. (a) For hearings involving the matters listed in paragraph (b) of this section, there shall be designated to preside therein one or more Commissioners or a presiding officer from the Hearing Division. Except as authorized by the provisions of section 5 (c) of the Administrative Procedure Act, no such officers shall consult or confer with any person or party on any fact in issue unless upon notice and opportunity for all parties to participate; nor shall such officers during such time, be responsible to or subject to the supervision or direction of any officer, employee, or agent engaged in the performance of investigative or prosecuting functions for the Commission. No officer, employee or agent engaged in the performance of investigative or prosecuting functions for the Commission in any case shall, in that or a factually related case, participate or advise in any decision arising out of a proceeding set forth in paragraph (b) of this section.

17. The first sentence of § 1.857 (c) is amended to read as follows:

(c) Every notice or order containing the Commission's designation of presiding officer shall indicate whether this section shall be applicable to the particular proceeding. • • •

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Production and Marketing Administration

[7 CFR, Part 972]

MILK IN TRI-STATE MARKETING AREA

NOTICE OF RECOMMENDED DECISION AND OPPORTUNITY TO FILE WRITTEN EXCEPTIONS THERETO WITH RESPECT TO PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO ORDER

Pursuant to the rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and orders (7 CFR Supps., 900.1 et seq.; 10 F. R. 11791; 11 F. R. 7737; 12 F. R. 1159) notice is hereby given of the filing with the Hearing Clerk of a recommended decision of the Assistant Administrator, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, with respect to proposed amendments to the order, as amended, and to a proposed marketing agreement, regulating the handling of milk in the Tri-State milk marketing area, to be made effective pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 1940 ed. 601 et seq.).

Interested parties may file exceptions to this recommended decision with the Hearing Clerk, Room 0308, South Building, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., not later than the close of business on the 10th day after the publication of this recommended decision in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Preliminary statement. A public hearing, on the record of which the proposed amendments to the order, as amended, and the proposed marketing agreement were formulated was called by the Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, following receipt of proposed amendments filed by the Huntington Interstate Milk Producers Association, Scioto County Milk Producers Association, Marietta Cooperative Milk Producers Association, and Athens Milk Sales, Inc. Additional proposals for consideration were submitted by the Dairy Branch, Production and Marketing Administration. The public hearing was held at Gallipolis, Ohio, March 7–8, 1947, upon notice issued on February 27, 1947 (12 F. R. 1400).

The principal issues developed at the hearing were concerned with the following:

1. Revising the Class I milk price differential over the basic formula price to provide a seasonal price pattern and increase the annual average level of the differential.

2. Revising the Class II milk price differential over the basic formula price to provide a seasonal price pattern and increase the annual average level of the differential.

3. Reviewing the provisions of the order relating to handler location adjustment deductions on producer milk for the purpose of modifying or deleting such provisions.

Findings and conclusions. The proposed findings and conclusions with respect to the issues presented at the hearing, together with the reasons therefor, are as follows:

1. The Class I milk price differential over the basic formula price should be revised to provide a seasonal price pattern (including "floor prices") and an increase in the annual average level of the differential.

There has been a maladjustment in the supply of regular producer milk in relation to the market demand for Class I milk and Class II milk in the Tri-State area. The utilization of Class I milk and Class II milk has been relatively uniform throughout the year, whereas the receipt of milk from producers varies greatly between the seasons of the year. The variation in the receipts of prdoucers milk between the flush production season and the short production season has become progressively wider for several years. Production varies seasonally to such an extent that in 1946 it was nearly twice as great in June as in December. The cost of producing milk is considerably higher during the fall and winter months than May and June. A price plan to induce an increase in milk production during the fall and winter seasons is urgent for the Tri-State market. A Class I price differential employing absolute floor prices in the seasonal pattern is required to assure a substantially higher price in the fall and winter months compared to the spring months and thus develop a more level annual pattern of production.

Producers need definite assurance of substantially higher prices during the fall and winter months if they are to produce more milk during these seasons. Absolute floor prices for the 1947 and 1948 season will give this assurance. If the basic formula produces a higher price for these fall and winter months it should prevail as a further guarantee that the Class I price will be more in line with the then current marketing conditions.

The record supports the adoption of a seasonal Class I price differential which compared to May and June, months of flush production, would be 10 cents higher for the 4 months of March, April, July, and August, and 25 cents higher for the 6 months of September through February. Normally the basic formula price will be from 20 to 40 cents higher during the short production months than for May and June. Also normally the percentage utilization of producers' milk for fluid purposes is higher during the fall and winter months, resulting in about 10 cents higher blend price compared to May and June. Adding these three factors together it is estimated the blend price for the short production months will exceed the May and June prices from 55 to 75 cents. Recent price plans employed in the Tri-State area have not provided as much seasonal variation in producer prices as was customary prior to the maximum price regulations during the war emergency. For this period of time farmers were induced to produce all the milk possible with little regard to the season or the requirements of the local market. Under these conditions maximum milk production shifted to the spring months when production costs are at their lowest level. To halt and reverse this trend, especially at a time when general milk market conditions are unsettled, will require definite assurance that the fall and winter prices will be substantially higher than for May and June. An absolute floor price for Class I milk will give farmers this assurance. It is concluded that such a price pattern will afford an incentive to shift milk production from spring to fall and winter months.

Furthermore, the level of production of regular producer milk has been insufficient to meet the needs of Class I milk and Class II milk in the Tri-State area. During the 18 month period (August, 1945–January, 1947) under the order the receipts of milk from regular producers was only 88 percent of the total milk utilized in Class I and Class II. It has been necessary for handlers to supplement producer milk in Class I and II with milk from other sources, usually not meeting the quality standard of regular producer milk.

General economic conditions and business activity indicate a continued good demand for milk and milk products.

The price of livestock and grains have advanced sharply in 1947 and, compared to decreasing milk prices, offer returns from alternative farm enterprises which will tend to discourage milk production if this relationship continues over an extended period of time.

Tri-State handlers compete with milk buyers in other areas for milk supplies to be used for fluid milk purposes. Milk dealers operating in Charleston, West Virginia, procure milk from farmers residing in the Tri-State milkshed. Some of these farmers were formerly producers for Tri-State handlers. Condenseries receiving both graded and ungraded milk in the Tri-State milkshed supply milk to fluid users in Charleston, West Virginia and eastern cities. The Charleston, West Virginia, market is located in a deficit milk production area and is a constant competitive outlet for milk supplies of the Tri-State market area. Charleston, West Virginia, buyers of milk are soliciting producers in the Tri-State area and were offering $5.60 per hundredweight during February, 1947, compared to $4.76 paid by Tri-State handlers in the other than Huntington area. The Waterford Creamery, Athens, Ohio, quoted a price of $5.60 for the last half of January, 1947. The Crowley Dairy of Jackson, Ohio, quoted $5.40 during February, 1947. Both of these quotations were for 4 percent butterfat Grade "A" milk to be shipped to eastern markets including Charleston, West Virginia. One Tri-State handler in Marietta, Ohio, is engaged in supplying milk procured in excess of his own fluid requirements to the Charleston, West Virginia, market.

The Class I differential over the basic formula price (18 midwest condenseries) was established November 1, 1946, when the basic formula price was relatively high compared to the prices paid by Southern Ohio condenseries and Charleston, West Virginia, handlers. Since that time the basic formula price and the resulting Class I price have decreased relatively lower than the prices paid by Ohio condenseries and Charleston handlers. The basic formula price declined 68 cents from November, 1946, to January, 1947. The Southern Ohio condensery average price declined 47 cents and the Charleston price remained approximately constant for the same period. Thus for January the Class I price was at a 21-cent lower level compared to competing Ohio condenseries and 68-cent lower level compared to Charleston prices than when the present differential was established. This relative difference in prices makes the Tri-State milk supply more vulnerable to competing markets.

The trend of the costs of feeds, labor, and supplies incurred by producers in the production of milk has been upward during 1946 and 1947. The price of 16 percent dairy ration, a representative dairy feed, has increased substantially for the first 3 months of 1947 as compared to the same period of 1946. The price of this feed decreased somewhat from July 1946 (the peak reached when ceiling prices were removed), until February 1947. During February and March 1947, the price of mixed dairy feeds advanced sharply and established a new upward trend. Attempting to find an index that will reflect many milk price making factors the order provides a basic formula price which is the price paid for manufacturing milk by a selected group of midwest condenseries. The basic price formula does not, however, reflect fully all the factors necessary at arriving at a price for Class I milk. The order therefor provides a differential that is added to the basic formula price to arrive at the Class I price. This differential is utilized to reflect various price making factors not fully covered by the basic formula and to balance the relative weights of such factors under current local economic conditions so that the Class I price will be at a level which will reflect, in addition to the price and availability of feeds, other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the marketing area and will insure an adequate supply of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest. The basic formula price has decreased 68 cents from November 1946 to January 1947, the last month reported in the hearing record. Farmers producing milk for fluid purposes must use feed, labor and supplies more extensively to maintain production at a more uniform and higher level than is required of manufacturing milk producers. Consequently, the increases in the prices which have taken place in those commodities affect the fluid milk producers more than the producers of milk for condenseries.

Handlers contend that since the present Class I differential was established, producer prices have advanced and some feed prices have declined, and for these reasons they urge that no change be made in the annual average level of the Class I differential. The present Class I differential of 95 cents and 75 cents for the Huntington and other than Huntington areas over the basic formula price was made effective November 1, 1946. The Huntington district Class I price for February, the latest price quoted in the record, was 99 cents less than the price for November. To continue the differential at the present level because some feed prices may have declined slightly since the differential was established would lose sight of the fact that whatever decline may have occurred in some feed prices has been accompanied by a considerably greater decline in milk prices and would ignore the other heretofore mentioned price-making factors and is therefore unwarranted. Handlers also minimize the competition between the Tri-State area and the Charleston, West Virginia, market and the local condenseries and assert that the "local condensery threat" is a fiction and that the Charleston threat is similar to that which has existed over a long period of time. However, the record shows that these competitive markets do have a substantial effect on the supply of milk in the Tri-State area and therefore must be considered in determining a Class I differential which will tend to procure and maintain an adequate supply of milk for the Tri-State market.

It is concluded that the proper weighing of the above-mentioned price-making factors—a shortage of producer milk in relation to fluid sales, a good demand for fluid milk, the increasing disparity between the prices of fluid milk and the prices of competing farm enterprises, the competition of other areas at higher prices for the Tri-State milk supply, and the disparity between local condenseries and basic formula prices—indicate the need for revising the level of the Class I price differential upward approximately 30 cents per hundredweight on an annual average. It is further concluded that the milk producers of the Tri-State area need at this time, when they are planning their fall and winter production program, more definite assurance as to the level of milk prices than is afforded by the basis formula. In order to obviate uncertainty inherent in the basic formula during abnormal postwar marketing conditions a "floor price" for Class I milk is established below which the price will not be permitted to go. The level of floor prices for the fall and winter months should be substantially higher than the prices prevailing during May and June to emphasize the seasonal factor of milk pricing and assure farmers of higher prices during the seasons when an increase in milk production is most needed by the market. A Class I floor price for the other than Huntington district beginning July 1, 1947 of $4.42 and increasing to $4.86 beginning September 1, 1947 (44 cents below November 1946) will recognize this seasonality and result in prices well above the current level of May and June prices.

These changes are accomplished by revising the present year-round Class I price differential of $0.95 and $0.75 for the Huntington and other than Huntington districts, respectively, above the basic formula price, to the following seasonal pattern:

Month	Huntington district	Other than Huntington district
May and June	$1.10	$0.80
March, April, July, and August	1.20	1.00
Other 6 months	1.35	1.15
Average	1.25	1.05

Provided, That for the months of July and August, 1947, the price for Class I milk shall not be less than $4.62 and $4.42 for the Huntington and other than Huntington district, respectively, and for the months of September, October, November and December, 1947, and January and February, 1948, such prices shall not be less than $5.06 and $4.86, respectively.

2. The Class II milk price differential over the basic formula price should be revised to provide a seasonal price pattern (including "floor prices") and an increase in the annual average level of the differential. The relationship between the present Class I and Class II differentials should be maintained month by month in the revised seasonal price pattern and in the floor prices.

The material facts with reference to revising the Class II price differential over the basic formula price to a seasonal pattern and a higher annual average level and the floor prices are the same as those set forth with respect to Class I.

3. The provisions of the order relating to handler location adjustment deductions on producer milk should be deleted.

Handlers do not receive milk from producers except at a "fluid milk plant" as defined in § 972.1 (h) (1) of the order. Producers retain title to milk until it is received by a handler at a fluid milk plant as defined in §972.1 (h) (1) of the order. No handler operates or has operated a fluid milk plant as defined in § 972.1 (h) (2) of the order and there is no evidence that such a plant will be operated. Location adjustments pursuant to § 972.8 (g) have not been made because producer milk was not received by a handler under such circumstances. Therefore § 972.1 (h) (2) and § 972.8 (g) are superfluous and should be deleted. These provisions of the order may be deleted without revising other provisions of the order.

Rulings on proposed findings and conclusions. Briefs were filed on behalf of the Producer Associations and various handlers subject to Order No. 72. The briefs contain statements of fact, conclusions, and arguments with respect to all of the proposals discussed at the hearing. Every point covered in the briefs was carefully considered, along with the evidence in the record in making the findings and reaching the conclusions hereinbefore set forth. Although all of the briefs do not contain specific requests to make proposed findings, it is assumed that the arguments and conclusions submitted were for this purpose and are treated accordingly. To the extent that such proposed findings and conclusions are inconsistent with the proposed findings and conclusions contained herein, the implied request to make such findings or to reach such conclusions are denied on the basis of the facts found and stated in connection with the conclusions in this recommended decision.

Recommended marketing agreement and amendments to the order. The following amendments to the order, as amended, are recommended as the detailed and appropriate means by which the foregoing conclusions may be carried out. The recommended marketing agreement is not included in this recommended decision because the regulatory provisions thereof would be the same as those contained in the order, as amended, and as proposed here to be further amended.

[Docket No. 8401]

UNIFORM SYSTEM OF ACCOUNTS FOR CLASS A AND CLASS B TELEPHONE COMPANIES

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

MAY 29, 1947.

1. Notice is hereby given of proposed rule making in the above-entitled matter.

2. The proposed amendment to the rules and regulations is set forth in this notice and provides, substantially, the following:

(a) An instruction as to the limited significance of the sequence in which the accounts are presented in the Uniform System of Accounts.

(b) The introduction of an account in which to record write-ups of plant and other plant adjustments not arising from acquisitions from predecessors.

(c) The introduction of a capital surplus account.

3. This proposed amendment is issued under the authority of sections 4 (i) and 220 (a) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

4. Any interested person who is of the opinion that the proposed amendment to the rules and regulations should not be adopted or should not be adopted in the form set forth may file with the Commission on or before June 16, 1947, a written statement or brief setting forth his comments. The Commission will consider these written comments before adopting the proposed rules and if comments are submitted which appear to warrant the Commission in holding an oral argument, notice of the time and place of such oral argument will be given.

Proposed amendment of Part 31 (Uniform System of Accounts for Class A and Class B Telephone Companies) of the Commission's rules and regulations, as revised to August 1, 1946.[1]

1. At page 8, column 1, following § 31.01–9, insert the following new instruction:

§ 31.01–9a Sequence of accounts. The order in which the accounts are presented in this system of accounts is not to be considered as necessarily indicative of the order in which they will be scheduled at all times in reports to the Commission.

2. At page 9, column 2, amend § 31.1–13 (b) to read as follows:

(b) The necessary adjustments for the difference between (1) the face amount of bonds and other evidences of debt that have been reacquired and (2) the amounts actually paid for them plus the amounts of expenses incurred in connection with their reacquisition shall be included, when a debit, in account 413, "Miscellaneous debits to earned surplus," and when a credit, in account 402, "Miscellaneous credits to earned surplus." In the case of refinancing, amounts that ordinarily would thus be charged or credited to earned surplus may be made subject to amortization upon approval by the Commission in the specific instance.

3. At page 9, column 2, following § 31.1–13, paragraph (b), add new paragraphs as follows:

(c) The necessary adjustments for the difference between (1) the face amount of bonds and other evidences of debt that previously have been reacquired and are resold and (2) the amounts actually received for them less the amounts of expense incurred in connection with their resale shall be included when a debit in account 413, "Miscellaneous debits to earned surplus," and, when a credit, in account 402, "Miscellaneous credits to earned surplus."

(d) The necessary adjustments for the difference between (1) the book amount of capital stock that has been reacquired and (2) the amount actually paid for it plus the amounts of expense incurred in connection with its reacquisition shall be included in account 179, "Other capital surplus," except that the excess of a debit adjustment over the balance in account 179, applicable to capital stock of the same class, shall be charged to earned surplus: And, provided further, That a credit adjustment shall be included in earned surplus to the extent that any previous charges to earned surplus on account of transactions in the same class of stock have not been offset by previous credits to earned surplus on account of such transactions.

(e) The necessary adjustments for the difference between (1) the book amount of capital stock that previously has been reacquired and is resold, and (2) the amount actually received for it less the amounts of expense incurred in connection with its resale shall be included in account 179, "Other capital surplus," except that the excess of a debit adjustment over the balance in account 179, applicable to capital stock of the same class, shall be charged to earned surplus: And provided further, That a credit adjustment shall be credited to earned surplus to the extent that any previous charges to earned surplus on account of transactions in capital stock of the same class have not been offset by previous credits to earned surplus on account of such transactions.

(f) The company's records shall be so maintained that in reports to the Commission there may be shown the extent to which the surplus accounts have been charged and credited in connection with transactions in each class of capital stock.

4. At page 10, column 1, amend paragraph (e) of § 31.1–14 to read as follows:

(e) When capital stock which has been actually issued or assumed by the company is reacquired the proportion (based upon the relation of the amount of stock reacquired to the total amount of that particular class or series of stock outstanding before its reacquirement) of the balance in the discount and premium account with respect to the stock reacquired shall be cleared to account 179, "Other capital surplus," except that any excess of a debit amount over the balance in account 179, applicable to capital stock of the same class, shall be charged to earned surplus: And provided further, That a credit amount shall be credited to earned surplus to the extent that any previous charges to earned surplus on account of transactions in capital stock of the same class have not been offset by previous credits to earned surplus on account of such transactions.

5. At page 11, column 1, following § 31.1–17, insert a new section as follows:

§ 31.1–18 Surplus. (a) The accounts designated as capital surplus accounts are designed to show (1) paid-in surplus (i. e., proprietary contributions in excess of the stated capital included in the capital-stock accounts), (2) donated surplus (including (i) surplus created by donations of stock or assets by proprietary interests, and (ii) contributions of assets or forgiveness of debt by others) when the intent of the donor or bondholder is to increase the company's invested capital, (3) surplus arising from reacquisition or resale of, or otherwise trading in, the company's own capital stock, and (4) surplus arising from the reduction of the stated value of capital stock due to such occasions as retirement, reorganization or recapitulation.

(b) The balance-sheet accounts designated as earned-surplus accounts are designed to show the accumulated undistributed surplus derived from the normal operations of the company and from all sources (including sales of fixed assets) other than those sources referred to in paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) Not later than April 1, 1948 (except as provided in note hereto), the company shall submit to the Commission a transcript of its capital-surplus account or accounts covering the entire period from inception to January 1, 1948, showing in detail the nature and amounts of charges and credits, respectively, and the balance that was or, if it had always been maintained, would have been in the account at the close of each year. The transcript shall be accompanied by a summary statement in which the charges and credits for the entire period covered by the transcript have been classified according to their nature and summarized to show the aggregate amount of each such classification as well as the aggregate amount of charges and credits, respectively, for the period and the resulting balance in the account or accounts at January 1, 1948.

NOTE: Where a segregation corresponding to account 179, "Other capital surplus," has not been maintained in the past and any credits which would have been made to that account are obviously exceeded by the charges which would have been made thereto, the company may file a certified statement, in lieu of the foregoing transcript and summary, specifying that as of December 31, 1947, the balance in account 181, "Unappropriated earned surplus," contained no capital surplus. For the purpose of this determination, write downs or write offs of valid intangible assets shall be considered to have been a charge against other capital surplus, except where conclusive evidence indicates that such action was intended to be made against earnings.

6. At page 12, column 1, following § 31.100:4, insert a new section as follows:

§ 31.100:7 Telephone plant adjustment. (a) This account shall include the difference between the original cost (note instruction 31.01–3 (x)), estimated if not known, and the book cost of telephone plant, as at December 31, 1947, to the extent that such difference is not properly includible in account 100:4, "Telephone plant acquisition adjustment," and for which disposition has not previously been made.

(b) The amounts included in this account shall be so classified as to show the nature of each amount and shall be disposed of as the Commission may approve or direct.

NOTE: The provisions of this account shall not be construed as approving or authorizing the recording of appreciation of plant.

7. At page 16, column 2, amend paragraphs (b) and (c) of § 31.134:2 to read as follows:

(b) When any issue of capital stock, or a portion thereof, is reacquired, there shall be credited to this account and charged to account 179, "Other capital surplus," the amount herein with respect to such stock, except that any excess of such amount over the balance in account 179 applicable to capital stock of the same class, shall be charged to earned surplus.

(c) The company may amortize or write off the balance carried in this account by credits hereto and concurrent charges to account 179, "Other capital surplus," or to earned surplus in case the amount exceeds the balance in account 179 applicable to the same class of stock.

8. At page 22, column 1, following § 31.174, insert a new section as follows:

§ 31.179 Other capital surplus. Among the amounts includible in this account are credits arising from the reacquisition and resale, from the retirement and cancellation, from a reduction of a stated value, and from the donation by stockholders of the company's capital stock; surplus arising from the forgiveness of debt of the company; surplus recorded upon the reorganization or recapitalization of the company; and amounts that become the property of the company as a result of a forfeiture by others of deposits on subscriptions to capital stock and of installments paid on capital stock.

NOTE: When the circumstances under which debt is forgiven indicate that its forgiveness is an adjustment of earned surplus, it may be treated as such upon the approval by this Commission in the specific instance.

9. At page 22, column 1, change the center caption "Surplus" to read "Earned surplus" and amend § 31.180, "Surplus reserved," to read as follows:

§ 31.180 Earned surplus reserved. (a) This account shall include the amount of earned surplus reserved or otherwise set aside for any purpose not provided for elsewhere. (Note § 31.3–31.)

(b) Separate subaccounts shall be maintained under such titles as will designate the purpose for which each reserve recorded hereunder was created.

10. At page 22, column 2, amend § 31.181, "Unappropriated surplus," to read as follows:

§ 31.181 Unappropriated earned surplus. An account under this title shall be maintained in the general books of the company. It shall include the balance of all earned surplus accounts (400 to 416, inclusive).

11. At page 39, column 2, amend § 31.402 to read as follows:

§ 31.402 Miscellaneous credits to earned surplus. This account shall include amounts creditable to earned surplus not provided for elsewhere. Among the items which shall be credited to this account are (Note § 31.01–8):

12. At page 40, column 1, amend § 31.413 to read as follows:

§ 31.413 Miscellaneous debits to earned surplus. This account shall include amounts chargeable to earned surplus not provided for elsewhere. Among the items which shall be charged to this account are (Note § 31.01–8):

UNIFORM SYSTEM OF ACCOUNTS

NOTICE OF RULE MAKING AND HEARING

MAY 27, 1947.

Amendment of Part 03, Substantive Rules, General Policy and Interpretations of Subchapter A, Chapter I, Title 18, Code of Federal Regulations: or amendment of Uniform System of Accounts Prescribed for Public Utilities and Licensees Subject to the Provisions of the Federal Power Act, or otherwise.

1. Notice is hereby given of proposed rule making in the above-entitled matter.

2. Under section 14 of the Federal Power Act, licenses for hydroelectric power projects of more than 100 horsepower installed capacity are required to carry as a condition the specific reservation of the right of the United States upon or after the expiration of the license to take over and thereafter to maintain and operate the project covered by the license and other property of the licensee dependent for its usefulness upon the continuance of the license, upon payment to the licensee of the "net investment" of the licensee in the project or projects taken, not to exceed the fair value of the property taken, plus severance damages, the term "net investment" being defined in section 3 (13) of the act. The "net investment" appears to be of importance not only in connection with the acquisition price at the end of the license period but also for other purposes during the period of the license.

3. Clarification of the administrative interpretation to be given to section 3 (13) of the act and the items to be deducted from the actual legitimate original cost of a project in determining the "net investment", including the method to be followed by a licensee in accounting for such costs and deductions, is desirable at this time.

4. Pursuant to the authority vested in it by the Federal Power Act, particularly sections 10 (g) and 309 thereof (49 Stat. 842, 858; 16 U. S. C. 803 (g), 825 (h)), the Commission proposes to consider, in connection with all licenses under the Federal Power Act heretofore or hereafter issued for hydroelectric projects of more than 100 horsepower capacity, either (1) by a rule added as an amendment to Part 03, Substantive Rules, General Policy and Interpretations, of Subchapter A, Chapter I of Title 18, Code of Federal Regulations, or (2) by amendment of the Uniform System of Accounts Prescribed for Public Utilities and Licensees (Part 101 of Subchapter C, Chapter I of Title 18 of said code), but to be applicable only to licensees holding license under the Federal Power Act for hydro-electric projects of more than 100 horsepower installed capacity, or (3) otherwise as may seem appropriate, a rule substantially in the following form:

§ 03.4 Uniform System of Accounts; Account 258.1 Amortization Reserve; Federal. During the entire period of any license under the Federal Power Act for a hydroelectric power project of more than 100 horsepower installed capacity, all project earnings in excess of a fair return upon the net investment in said project and which have not been appropriated to amortization, sinking fund, or similar reserves, shall be appropriated annually to a special reserve under Account 258.1, Amortization Reserve—Federal,[1] the credit balance in such special reserve to be applied annually as a deduction from actual legitimate original cost in determining net investment in accordance with section 3 (13) of the act.

5. A hearing on the above proposed rule will be held in the Commission's Hearing Room Hurley-Wright Building, 1800 Pennsylvania Avenue, N. W., Washington 25, D. C., beginning at 10 o'clock a. m. (e. d. s. t.), on the 28th day of July, 1947, and any person desiring to be heard may either testify at such hearing, make a statement with respect to the proposed rule, or deposit with the presiding officer during said hearing or with the Secretary within 30 days after the close of said hearing, written data, views, or arguments with respect to said proposed rule or any suggestions or recommendations for a substitute rule, with the reasons therefor. The Commission will consider any testimony, statements, comments, or arguments so submitted before acting on the proposed amendment.

Secretary.

[Docket No. R–106]

PRODUCTION OR GATHERING OF NATURAL GAS

INTERPRETATIVE STATEMENT OF COMMISSION'S JURISDICTION

MAY 27, 1947.

1. Notice is hereby given of proposed rule making in the above-entitled matter.

2. In view of the uncertainty which has been manifested among the State officials and the industries concerned, regarding the Commission's alleged intent to assert jurisdiction over those who only produce, gather and process natural gas and sell it upon completion of such operations, it is proposed to adopt a general rule embodying an interpretation by the Commission of its jurisdiction under the Natural Gas Act and the construction of the exclusionary provisions of section 1 (b) of that act with reference to "production or gathering." The rule is proposed to be issued pursuant to the authority permitted the Federal Power Commission by the Natural Gas Act, particularly section 16 thereof (52 Stat. 821–833; 830; 15 U. S. C. 717–717w; 717o).

3. In order to clarify as fully as possible the intent of this proposed rule, the terms "production," "gathering," and "transportation" are defined; however, as regards some complex situations, it must be recognized that appropriate distinctions between "gathering" and "transportation" cannot always be prescribed by mere definitions. The nature of the particular functions performed in essentially a question of fact, dependent in a borderline case upon a consideration of the particular circumstances presented. Therefore, while not every jurisdictional question may be resolved by the adoption of the proposed rule and definitions, the Commission is of the opinion that the status of persons concerned with the administration of section 1 (b) with reference to "production or gathering" will, in the great majority of instances, be completely clarified by their adoption.

4. The provisions of the rule proposed herein are substantially as outlined in the staff report on this subject relative to the Natural Gas Investigation in Docket No. G–580, entitled "Section 1 (b) of the Natural Gas Act with reference to Production and Gathering," which was submitted for comment to natural-gas companies and other interested parties under date of March 6, 1947, with replies requested as of April 1, 1947.

5. The Commission proposes to adopt and issue the rule as a new section of Part 03—Substantive Rules, General Policy and Interpretations, of Subchapter A, General Rules, Chapter I of Title 18 of the Code of Federal Regulations, such new section to read as follows:

§ 03.79 Production, gathering, and transportation; defined and distinguished. (a) The Commission is of the opinion that the exemption contained in section 1 (b) of the Natural Gas Act, to the effect that the provisions of the act shall not apply to the "production or gathering" of natural gas, was intended by Congress to exempt from the jurisdiction of the Commission all activities in producing and gathering natural gas—including sales made at arm's length—by those who only produce, gather or process natural gas exclusive of its transportation and subsequent sales in interstate commerce.

(b) To clarify further this determination and conclusion, the Commission adopts the following definitions:

(1) "Production" means the extraction of natural gas from wells or reservoirs and the recovery of residue gas from natural gas or casinghead (oil-well) gas by the removal of natural gasoline, propane, butane, or other hydrocarbons, and includes the arm's length sale of such natural or residue gas by the producer to a gatherer or transporter.

(2) "Gathering" means the collecting of natural gas from wells of the gatherer or of other producers, its movement to central points by means of pipe lines and other facilities used in connection therewith, its processing and compression as a part of gathering, and includes the arm's length sale and delivery of such natural gas by the gatherer, prior to the beginning of transportation in interstate commerce within the meaning of the act.

(3) As distinguished from gathering, "transportation" means the movement of natural gas after its gathering, through pipe lines and related facilities transmitting natural gas in interstate commerce to the point or points of local distribution for ultimate public consumption, or, after the completion of gathering, to the point or points at which such gas is sold in interstate commerce for resale.

6. Interested persons are given until July 7, 1947, to submit written statements or briefs setting forth their comments, views, and suggestions with respect to this proposed rule.

[SEAL] LEON M. FUQUAY,
Secretary.

NOTICE CONCERNING PROPOSED ASSIGNMENT OF LICENSE

The Commission hereby gives notice that on May 23, 1947, there was filed with it an application (BAL–831) for its consent under section 310 (b) of the Communications Act to the proposed assignment of license of AM Station WLNH, Laconia, New Hampshire, from Northern Broadcasting Company to Northern Broadcasting Corporation. The proposal to assign the license arises out of a contract of May 8, 1947, pursuant to which the seller agrees to sell and the buyer agrees to buy the entire physical assets used in the operation of WLNH for the sum of $6,339.28 plus the accounts receivable at their face value estimated to be $4,000, making a total of $10,339.28, which amount has been placed in escrow with the National Shawmut Bank of Boston. In addition Northern Broadcasting Corporation is purchasing the outstanding obligations of the assignor company from Charles S. Jenney of Brookline, Massachusetts, for the sum of $34,660.72 which has been placed in escrow with said bank. The total amount of $45,000 (less adjustments on accounts receivable, if any) is payable upon Federal Communications Commission consent to the assignment application. Further information as to the arrangements may be found with the application and associated papers which are on file at the offices of the Commission in Washington, D. C.

[1] Filed as part of the original document.

Pursuant to § 1.321 which sets out the procedure to be followed in such cases including the requirement for public notice concerning the filing of the application, the Commission was advised by applicant on May 23, 1947, that starting on May 26, 1947, notice of the filing of the application would be inserted in a newspaper of general circulation at Laconia, N. H., in conformity with the above rule.

In accordance with the procedure set out in said rule, no action will be had upon the application for a period of 60 days from May 26, 1947, within which time other persons desiring to apply for the facilities involved may do so upon the same terms and conditions as set forth in the above described contract.

FM AND TELEVISION ANTENNAS MOUNTED ON STANDARD BROADCAST ANTENNAS

INFORMATION TO APPLICANTS FOR BROADCAST FACILITIES

APRIL 17, 1947.

There is a growing amount of confusion among applicants for broadcast facilities which involve the use of standard broadcast antennas as supporting structures for FM and television antennas.

Commission rules governing FM and television broadcast stations require applicants to submit separate applications for a change of the standard broadcast antenna when a proposal involves placing an FM or television antenna on a standard broadcast tower. Generally, informal applications should be submitted entirely separate from the FM and television applications. In some cases where a substantial change of structure of a directional antenna system is involved, a formal application may be requested and required.

There are numerous applications on file involving combined AM and FM construction not apparent from either application. Some of these contain contradictory data with respect to the location of the tower, geographical coordinates, height and physical configuration. Applicants are asked to inspect all applications now on file for different classes of broadcast stations so as to ascertain that all are in agreement where combined construction is involved. As a suggestion: Use the same drawing of the antenna in applications for all three services, including dimensions and geographical coordinates.

The radiating system of the standard broadcast station includes all high frequency antennas supported thereby and their associated coupling equipment and should be included in the description and schematics of the standard broadcast construction permit, license, and antenna resistance measurement applications. The overall height includes high frequency antenna.

When a change in standard broadcast antenna is made due to the installation of an FM or television antenna, a request for the changes should be submitted on behalf of the standard broadcast station and authority can be granted to determine power by the indirect method and to operate with a temporary antenna where required. When erecting an FM antenna on an element of a directional antenna system, information should be furnished showing procedure to be used to eliminate the possibility of distorting the directional pattern and to insure protection to other stations.

Applications for license for any of the classes of broadcast stations should indicate provisions for other services on the same tower and should include data to show that there is no objectionable interaction between the several services.

After making changes in standard broadcast antenna systems, new antenna resistance measurements should be made and submitted on Form 306. Resistance should be measured with all high frequency adjuncts attached and connected in the normal operating condition.

STENOGRAPHIC REPORTS OF FCC HEARINGS

AVAILABILITY OF CHEAPER TRANSCRIPTS TO INTERESTED PUBLIC

MAY 21, 1947.

In inviting bids from stenographic reporting companies for reporting its hearings during the next fiscal year, the Federal Communications Commission is placing special emphasis upon the importance of lowering the cost of transcripts to the industry and other interested parties as much as possible.

It is endeavoring to accomplish this by foregoing the bonus which the stenographic reporting companies have paid the Government in the past for the exclusive privilege of doing this work, and by specifying that the cost to the public will be one of the important factors in award of the contract. These private firms depend upon transcript sales for their income. That the return from such sales must be considerable is indicated by the bonus which they have in the past offered for stenographic reporting contracts. In the case of the Federal Communications Commission, a bonus of $15,000 was paid for the privilege of reporting Commission hearings in Washington during the present fiscal year. The Commission is hopeful that the saving to interested parties resulting from these new bid specifications will be substantial.

Because of the tremendous growth of broadcasting and the continuing evolution of radio in its application to other services, an unprecedented number of hearings on the part of the Commission are required. Some important hearings continue a week or more, and run into thousands of pages of transcript. At the rate charged in the past by reporting companies, the price of the complete text becomes particularly burdensome on small groups or individuals with limited resources who may be concerned. It was this condition that prompted revision of the Commission's bid specifications to emphasize the importance of lowering transcript prices as much as possible.

BOULDER CITY BROADCASTING CO., BOULDER CITY, NEV.

NOTICE CONCERNING PROPOSED TRANSFER OF CONTROL [1]

The Commission hereby gives notice that on May 15, 1947, there was filed with it an application (File No. BTC–552) for its consent under section 310 (b) of the Communications Act to the proposed transfer of control of Boulder City Broadcasting Company, Boulder City, Nevada, permittee of AM Station KELN, Ely, Nevada, and licensee of AM Station KBNE and Relay Station KBNH, Boulder City, Nevada, from J. C. Manix, Don Ashbaugh, C. C. Applegate, P. S. Webb and C. A. Savage to Edward J. Jansen, Melvin O. Larson and Truman B. Hinkle. The proposal to transfer control arises out of a contract of April 1, 1947, pursuant to which above indicated transferors agreed to sell all of their 300 shares of the $100 par value common voting stock of the licensee to the purchasers for $30,000. Purchasers are to deliver to sellers their individual promissory notes bearing 5% interest per annum payable in 24 equal monthly installments, the first payment to be due one year from date of approval of the transfer by the Commission. Under the plan the licensee company proposes to issue to the same purchasers of the outstanding stock an additional 300 shares at par to provide $30,000 for working capital.

Further information as to the arrangements may be found with the application and associated papers which are on file at the offices of the Commission in Washington, D. C.

Pursuant to § 1.321, applicants advised the Commission on May 23 that starting on May 28, 1947, notice concerning the application would be published in a newspaper of general circulation, both at Boulder City and Ely, Nevada.

In accordance with the procedure set out in said rule, no action will be had upon the application for a period of 60 days from May 28, 1947, within which time other persons desiring to apply for the facilities involved may do so upon the same terms and conditions as set forth in the above-described contract.

Pursuant to section 3 of the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237, 238), the following interpretation is issued:

§ 3.2 Notice to packers and shippers of shelled peanuts. Investigations by the Food and Drug Administration have shown that a number of interstate shipments of shelled peanuts in bags holding from approximately 100 to 125 pounds each have failed to bear labeling as required by the terms of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

Shelled peanuts in sacks, whether or not shipped in carload lots, should bear the following information required by the law on food in package form:

(a) The name of the product.

(b) An accurate statement of net weight.

(c) The name and place of business of the packer or distributor.

This information should be conspicuously set forth. It may be printed or stenciled on each bag or, if desired, placed on tags which are securely attached to each bag.

The net weight marked on the bags must be the correct net weight of the peanuts at the time they are delivered to the carrier for interstate shipment. The tare weight of the bag should not be included in the weight declaration. (Sec. 3, Pub. Law 404, 79th Cong., 60 Stat. 238)

Chapter VII—Sugar Rationing Administration, Department of Agriculture

[3d Rev. RO 3[1] Amdt 51]

SUGAR

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

[1] 11 F. R. 177, 14281.

Third Revised Ration Order 3 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 19.1 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 19.1 Provisional allowance for fish (including pickled and cured); shellfish and poultry products—(a) General. An industrial user may get a provisional allowance of sugar for curing, processing or packing (1) fish, including pickled and cured, (2) shellfish and (3) poultry products.

(b) How to apply. (1) A provisional allowance for curing, processing or packing the products listed in paragraph (a) is granted for three-month periods corresponding to the quarterly allotment periods for industrial users. An application for such provisional allowance for any period may be made at any time from the 1st day of the month preceding such period to the end of that period. On or before application for a provisional allowance for these purposes is made, however, the industrial user must file a written report with the Sugar Branch Office with which he is registered stating with respect to each of the products listed in paragraph (a):

(i) The total number of pounds of each products cured, processed or packed by him during 1941;

(ii) The total amount of sugar used by him for such purposes during 1941;

(iii) The average amount of sugar which he used per 100 pounds (unprocessed) of that product for such purposes during 1941.

(2) The application must be made on SRA Form R-359 to the Sugar Branch Office with which the industrial user is registered. The applicant must give all the information required by that form for each product for which he applies.

(c) Action on application. (1) The Sugar Branch Office shall grant the application if it finds that the applicant is entitled to receive a provisional allowance under this section and that he has made the report required in subparagraph (1) of paragraph (b) and that the applicant has given all the information required by SRA Form R-359.

(2) The amount of the provisional allowance of sugar for use in curing, processing or packing the products listed in paragraph (a) shall be computed, separately for each product listed, in the following way:

(i) For each listed product the number of 100 pound units (unprocessed) which the applicant expects to cure, process or pack from the date of the application to the end of the quarterly period for which application is made is multiplied by 70 per cent of the average number of pounds of sugar which he used per 100 pounds (unprocessed) cured, processed or packed by him during 1941;

(ii) The resulting figures for each listed product are added together and the result is his provisional allowance for curing, processing or packing fish, including pickled and cured, shellfish and poultry products. The Sugar Branch Office shall authorize the issuance of a check to him for the amount of his provisional allowance less any unused balance of his last provisional allowance of sugar issued for these purposes.

(d) Restriction on use. If an industrial user receives a provisional allowance under this section for curing, processing or packing any product listed in paragraph (a), he may use that provisional allowance only for the purpose of producing that product. He may not for any such product use more sugar per 100 pounds (unprocessed) than 70 percent of the average number of pounds of sugar he used per 100 pounds (unprocessed) for that product in 1941. Any sugar or sugar ration evidences issued for use during a quarterly period under the provisions of this section and which are unused at the end of that quarterly period may not be used during any other quarterly period until an application on SRA Form R-359 for permission to use such sugar or sugar ration evidences has been granted.

(e) Records and reports. An industrial user who, during a calendar month, has sugar for curing, processing or packing any product listed in paragraph (a) must, before the sixteenth day of the following month, file with the Sugar Branch Office with which he is registered, a report on SRA Form R-359A giving all of the information required by that form. If the industrial user uses sugar in more than one plant for the purposes covered by this section he must file a report on SRA Form R-359A for each plant separately as well as a consolidated report for all of his plants. He must keep a copy of each report at his principal business office as long as this order remains effective.

2. Section 19.2 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) How to apply. A provisional allowance to cure, process or pack the meat products listed in the supplement to this order is granted for three-month periods corresponding to the quarterly allotment periods for industrial users. An application for such provisional allowance for any period may be made at any time from the 1st day of the month preceding such period to the end of that period. The application must be made on SRA Form R-359 to the Sugar Branch Office with which the industrial user is registered. The applicant must give all of the information required by that form separately stated for each kind of meat product he will cure, process or pack.

3. Section 19.2 (c) (1) is amended to read as follows:

(1) The Sugar Branch Office shall grant the application if it finds that the applicant is entitled to receive a provisional allowance for curing, processing, or packing meat and that the applicant has given the information required by SRA Form R-359.

4. Section 19.2 (c) (2, (ii) is amended to read as follows:

(ii) The resulting figures for each kind of product are added together and the result is his provisional allowance for curing, processing or packing meat. The Sugar Branch Office shall authorize the issuance to him of a check for the amount of his provisional allowance less any unused balance of his last provisional allowance of sugar issued for these purposes.

5. Section 19.2 (d) (2) (ii) is amended by substituting the words "Sugar Rationing Administration, Department of Agriculture" for the words "Office of Price Administration" wherever they appear therein.

6. Section 19.2 (d) is amended by adding a new subparagraph (3) to read as follows:

(3) Any sugar or sugar ration evidences issued for use during a quarterly period under the provisions of this section and which are unused at the end of that quarterly period may not be used during any other quarterly period until an application on SRA Form R-359 for permission to use such sugar or sugar ration evidences has been granted.

7. Section 19.2 (e) is amended to read as follows:

(e) Records and reports. An industrial user who, during a calendar month, has sugar for the purposes covered by this section, must, before the sixteenth day of the following month, file with the Sugar Branch Office with which he is registered, a report on SRA Form R-359A giving all of the information required by that form. If the industrial user uses sugar in more than one plant for the purposes covered by this section, he must file a report on SRA Form R-359A for each plant separately as well as a consolidated report for all of his plants. He must keep a copy of each report at his principal business office as long as this order remains effective.

8. Section 19.3 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) How to apply. A provisional allowance for the production of frozen fruit is granted for three-month periods corresponding to the quarterly allotment periods for industrial users. An application for such provisional allowance for any period may be made at any time from the 1st day of the month preceding such period to the end of that period. The application must be made on SRA Form R-359 to the Sugar Branch Office with which the industrial user is registered. The applicant must give all of the information required by that form separately stated for each kind of fruit he will freeze.

9. Section 19.3 (c) (1) is amended to read as follows:

(1) The Sugar Branch Office shall grant the application if it finds that the applicant is entitled to receive a provisional allowance to produce frozen fruit and that the applicant has given the information required by SRA Form R-359.

10. Section 19.3 (c) (2) (ii) is amended to read as follows:

(ii) The resulting figures for each kind of fruit are added together and the result is his provisional allowance for freezing fruit. The Sugar Branch Office shall authorize the issuance to him of a check for the amount of his provisional allowance less any unused balance of his last provisional allowance of sugar issued for these purposes.

11. Section 19.3 (d) is amended by adding a sentence to read as follows: "Any sugar or sugar ration evidences issued for use during a quarterly period under the provisions of this section and which are unused at the end of that quarterly period may not be used during any other quarterly period until an application on SRA Form R-359 for permission to use such sugar or sugar ration evidence has been granted."

12. Section 19.3 (e) is amended to read as follows:

(e) Records and reports. Any industrial user who, during a calendar month, has sugar to freeze fruit must before the sixteenth day of the following month, file with the Sugar Branch Office with which he is registered a report on SRA Form R-359A giving all of the information required by that form. If the industrial user uses sugar in more than one plant for the purposes covered by this section, he must file a report on SRA Form R-359A for each plant separately as well as a consolidated report for all of his plants. He must keep a copy of each report at his principal business office as long as this order remains effective.

13. The second and third sentences of section 19.4 (b) (1) are amended to read as follows: "An application for such provisional allowance for any period may be made at any time from the 1st day of the month preceding such period to the end of that period. (i) The number of 100 pound units of that type of dried bean the applicant expects to use in producing canned, frozen, bottled or dehydrated cooked beans from the date of application to the end of the quarterly period for which the application is made is multiplied by the average number of pounds of sugar which he used per 100 pounds of that type of dried bean so used in 1941.

(ii) The result is his provisional allowance for cooked beans. The Sugar Branch Office shall authorize the issuance to him of a check for the amount of his provisional allowance less any unused balance of his last provisional al-

Any sugar or sugar ration evidences issued for use during a quarterly period under the provisions of this section and which are unused at the end of that quarterly period may not be used during any other quarterly period until an application on SRA Form R–359 for permission to use such sugar or sugar ration evidences has been granted.

17. Section 19.4 (e) is amended to read as follows:

(e) Records and reports. An industrial user who, during a calendar month, has sugar for cooked beans, must, before the sixteenth day of the following month, file with the Sugar Branch Office with which he is registered, a report on SRA Form R–359A giving all of the information required by that form. If the industrial user uses sugar in more than one plant for the purposes covered by this section, he must file a report on SRA Form R–359A for each plant separately as well as a consolidated report for all of his plants. He must keep a copy of each report at his principal business office as long as this order remains effective.

18. Section 19.5 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 19.5 Provisional allowance for canned and bottled fruit juices—(a) General. An industrial user may get a provisional allowance of sugar for canning and bottling fruit juices. (For the purpose of this section, fruit juice means single strength juice extracted from ripe fruit without the addition of water.)

(b) How to apply. (1) A provisional allowance for canning and bottling fruit juices is granted for three-month periods corresponding to the quarterly allotment periods for industrial users. An application for such provisional allowance for any period may be made at any time from the 1st day of the month preceding such period to the end of that period. On or before application for a provisional allowance for these purposes is filed, however, the industrial user must file a written report with the Sugar Branch Office with which he is registered showing separately for each kind of fruit juice he will can or bottle:

(i) The total number of gallons of that kind of fruit juice produced by him during 1941;

(ii) The total amount of sugar used by him for that kind of fruit juice during 1941;

(iii) The average amount of sugar which he used per gallon of that kind of fruit juice during 1941.

(2) The application must be made on SRA Form R–359 to the Sugar Branch Office with which the industrial user is registered. The applicant must give all the information required by that form separately stated for each kind of fruit juice.

(c) Action on application. (1) The Sugar Branch Office shall grant the application if it finds that the applicant is entitled to receive a provisional allowance for canned or bottled fruit juices, that he has made the report required in subparagraph (1) of paragraph (b) and that the applicant has given all of the information required by SRA Form R–359.

(2) The amount of the provisional allowance of sugar for use in canning or bottling fruit juices shall be computed in the following way separately for each kind of fruit juice.

(i) For each kind of fruit juice the number of gallons of that kind of fruit juice which the applicant expects to make from the date of application to the end of the quarterly period for which application is made is multiplied by 90 percent of the average number of pounds of sugar which he used per gallon for that kind of fruit juice during 1941;

(ii) The resulting figures for each kind of fruit juice are added together and the result is his provisional allowance for canning and bottling fruit juices. The Sugar Branch Office shall authorize the issuance to him of a check for the amount of his provisional allowance less any unused balance of his last provisional allowance of sugar issued for these purposes.

(d) Restriction on use. If an industrial user receives a provisional allowance under this section for canning and bottling any kind of fruit juice, he may use that provisional allowance only for the purpose of canning and bottling that kind of fruit juice. No industrial user may use more sugar in canning or bottling any fruit juice than 90 percent of the average amount of sugar he used per gallon for that kind of fruit juice in 1941. Moreover, he may not use sugar for a packing season in excess of the average rate provided in computing his allowance. Any sugar or sugar ration evidences issued for use during a quarterly period under the provisions of this section and which are unused at the end of that quarterly period may not be used during any other quarterly period until an application on SRA Form R–359 for permission to use such sugar or sugar ration evidences has been granted.

(e) Records and reports. An industrial user who, during a calendar month, has sugar to can or bottle any kind of fruit juice must, before the sixteenth day of the following month file with the Sugar Branch Office with which he is registered a report on SRA Form R–359A giving all of the information required by that form. If the industrial user uses sugar in more than one plant for the purposes covered by this section, he must file a report on SRA Form R–359A for each plant separately as well as a consolidated report for all of his plants. He must keep a copy of each report at his principal business office as long as this order remains effective.

19. Section 19.6 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) How to apply. (1) A provisional allowance for soup is granted for three-month periods corresponding to the quarterly allotment periods for industrial users. An application for such provisional allowance for any period may be made at any time from the 1st day of the month preceding such period to the end of that period. On or before application for a provisional allowance for these purposes is made, however, the industrial user must file a written report with the Sugar Branch Office with which he is registered showing:

(i) The total number of cases of 24 No. 2 cans (or equivalent) of each kind of soup produced by him during 1941;

(ii) The total amount of sugar used by him for each kind of soup during 1941;

(iii) The average number of pounds of sugar which he used per case of 24 No. 2 cans (or equivalent) of each kind of soup during 1941.

(2) The application must be made on SRA Form R–359 to the Sugar Branch Office with which the industrial user is registered. The applicant must give all the information required by that form separately stated for each kind of soup.

20. Section 19.6 (c) is amended to read as follows:

(c) Action on application. (1) The Sugar Branch Office shall grant the application if it finds that the applicant is entitled to receive a provisional allowance for soup, that he has made the report required in subparagraph (1) of paragraph (b) and that the applicant has given the information required by SRA Form R–359.

(2) The amount of the provisional allowance of sugar for soup shall be computed in the following way separately for each kind of soup:

(i) For each kind of soup, the number of cases of 24 No. 2 cans (or equivalent) of soup which the applicant expects to can or bottle during the quarter is multiplied by the average number of pounds of sugar which he used for each case of 24 No. 2 cans (or equivalent) during 1941.

(ii) The resulting figures for each kind of soup are added together and the result is his provisional allowance for soup. The Sugar Branch Office shall authorize the issuance to him of a check for the amount of his provisional allowance less any unused balance of his last provisional allowance of sugar issued for these purposes.

21. Section 19.6 (d) and (e) are amended to read as follows:

(d) Restriction on use. If an industrial user receives a provisional allowance under this section for making any kind of soup he may use that provisional allowance only for the purpose of making that kind of canned or bottled soup. He may not use more sugar for any case of 24 No. 2 cans (or equivalent) of that kind of canned or bottled soup than the average number of pounds of sugar he used for each case of 24 No. 2 cans (or equivalent) of that kind of soup during 1941. Any sugar or sugar ration evidences issued for use during a quarterly period under the provisions of this section and which are unused at the end of that quarterly period may not be used during any other quarterly period until an application on SRA Form R–359 for permission to use such sugar or sugar evidences has been granted.

(e) Records and reports. An industrial user who, during a calendar month has sugar for making canned or bottled soup must, before the sixteenth day of the following month, file with the Sugar Branch Office with which he is registered, a report on SRA Form R–359A giving all the information required by that form. If the industrial user uses sugar in more than one plant for the purposes covered by this section, he must file a report on SRA Form R–359A for each plant separately as well as a consolidated report for all of his plants. He must keep a copy of each report at his principal business office as long as this order remains effective.

22. Section 19.7 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 19.7 Provisional allowance for canning or bottling tomato catsup and chili sauce—(a) General. An industrial user may get a provisional allowance of sugar for canning or bottling tomato catsup and chili sauce.

(b) How to apply. (1) A provisional allowance for canning or bottling tomato catsup and chili sauce is granted for three-month periods corresponding to the quarterly periods for industrial users. An application for such provisional allowance for any period may be made at any time from the 1st day of the month preceding such period to the end of that period. On or before application for a provisional allowance for these purposes is made, however, the industrial user must file a written report with the Sugar Branch Office with which he is registered showing:

(i) The total number of cases of 6 No. 10 cans (or equivalent) of tomato catsup and chili sauce produced by him in 1941;

(ii) The total amount of sugar used by him for tomato catsup and chili sauce during that period;

(iii) The average number of pounds of sugar which he used per case of 6 No. 10 cans (or equivalent) during 1941.

(2) The application must be made on SRA Form R–359 to the Sugar Branch Office with which the industrial user is registered. The applicant must give all the information required by that form.

(c) Action on application. (1) The Sugar Branch Office shall grant the application if it finds that the applicant is entitled to receive a provisional allowance for canning or bottling tomato catsup and chili sauce, that he has made the report required by subparagraph (1) of paragraph (b) and that the applicant has given the information required by SRA Form R–359.

(2) The amount of the provisional allowance of sugar for canning or bottling tomato catsup and chili sauce shall be computed by taking the number of cases of 6 No. 10 cans (or equivalent) of tomato catsup and chili sauce which the applicant expects to make from the date of application to the end of the quarterly period for which application is made and multiplying that figure by the average number of pounds of sugar which he used for each case of 6 No. 10 cans (or equivalent) during 1941. The result is his provisional allowance for canning or bottling tomato catsup and chili sauce. The Sugar Branch Office shall authorize the issuance to him of a check for the amount of his provisional allowance less any unused balance of his last provisional allowance of sugar issued for these purposes.

(d) Restriction on use. If an industrial user receives a provisional allowance under this section for canning or bottling tomato catsup and chili sauce, he may use that provisional allowance only for the purpose of canning or bottling tomato catsup and chili sauce. The average amount of sugar he may use per case of 6 No. 10 cans (or equivalent) of tomato catsup or chili sauce may not exceed the average amount he used per case for such pack in 1941. Any sugar or sugar ration evidences issued for use during a quarterly period under the provisions of this section and which are unused at the end of that quarterly period may not be used during any other quarterly period until an application on SRA Form R–359 for permission to use such sugar or sugar ration evidences has been granted.

(e) Records and reports. An industrial user who, during a calendar month, has sugar for making tomato catsup and chili sauce, must, before the sixteenth day of the following month, file with the Sugar Branch Office with which he is registered, a report on SRA Form R–359A giving all of the information required by that form. If the industrial user uses sugar in more than one plant for the purposes covered by this section, he must file a report on SRA Form R–359A for each plant separately as well as a consolidated report for all of his plants. He must keep a copy of each report at his principal business office as long as this order remains effective.

23. Section 19.9 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 19.9 Provisional allowance for producing canned and bottled vegetables, including spiced and pickled—(a) General. An industrial user may get a provisional allowance of sugar to can or bottle vegetables, including spiced and pickled, listed in Table III in the supplement to this order.

(b) How to apply. A provisional allowance for canning or bottling vegetables, including spiced and pickled, is granted for three-month periods corresponding to the quarterly allotment periods for industrial users. An application for such provisional allowance for any period may be made at any time from the 1st day of the month preceding such period to the end of that period. The application must be made on SRA Form R–359 to the Sugar Branch Office with which the industrial user is registered. The applicant must give all the information required by that form separately stated for each kind of vegetable, including spiced and pickled, which he will can or bottle.

(c) Action on application. (1) The Sugar Branch Office shall grant the application if it finds that the applicant is entitled to receive a provisional allowance to can or bottle vegetables and that the applicant has given the information required by SRA Form R–359.

(2) The amount of the provisional allowance of sugar for use in canning and bottling vegetables, including spiced and pickled, shall be computed in the following way separately for each kind of vegetable:

(i) The number of cases of 24 No. 2 cans (or equivalent) of each kind of vegetable the applicant expects to can or bottle from the date of application to the end of the quarterly period for which application is made is multiplied by the allowance for that kind of vegetable listed in Table III of the supplement to this order.

(ii) The resulting figures for each kind of vegetable are added together and the result is his provisional allowance for canning or bottling vegetables, including spiced and pickled. The Sugar Branch Office shall authorize the issuance to him of a check for the amount of his provisional allowance less any unused balance of his last provisional allowance of sugar issued for these purposes.

(d) Restriction on use. If an industrial user receives a provisional allowance under this section for canning or bottling any kind of vegetable, including spiced and pickled, he may use that provisional allowance only for packing that kind of vegetable and only in an amount not to exceed the quantities allowed by Table III in the supplement to this order for the purpose of canning or bottling that kind of vegetable. Any sugar or sugar ration evidences issued for use during a quarterly period under the provisions of this section and which are unused at the end of that quarterly period may not be used during any other quarterly period until an application on SRA Form R–359 for permission to use such sugar or sugar evidences has been granted.

(e) Records and reports. An industrial user who, during a calendar month, has sugar for canning or bottling vegetables, including spiced and pickled, must, before the sixteenth day of the following month, file with the Sugar Branch Office with which he is registered a report on SRA Form R–359A giving all the information required by that form. If the industrial user uses sugar in more than one plant for the purposes covered by this section, he must file a report on SRA Form R–359A for each plant separately as well as a consolidated report for all of his plants. He must keep a copy of each report at his principal business office as long as this order remains effective.

24. Section 19.10 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 19.10 Provisional allowance for canned and bottled fruit, including spiced and pickled—(a) General. An industrial user may get a provisional allowance of sugar for canning and bottling fruits including spiced and pickled. (Jams, jellies, preserves, marmalades, fruit butter, toppings, fruit parfaits and fountain fruit are not items for which a provisional allowance may be obtained. Furthermore, persons or associations (including cooperatives) who can or bottle fruit to be used by the members for home use are not eligible for a provisional allowance for such purpose.)

(b) How to apply. (1) A provisional allowance for canning and bottling fruit, including spiced and pickled, is granted for three-month periods corresponding to the quarterly allotment periods for industrial users. An application for such provisional allowance for any period may be made at any time from the first day of the month preceding such period to the end of that period. On or before application for a provisional allowance for these purposes is made, however, the industrial user must file a written report with respect to each kind of fruit he will can or bottle:

(i) The total number of cases of 24 No. 2½ cans (or equivalent) of each kind of fruit, including spiced and pickled, produced by him during 1941;

(ii) The total amount of sugar used for such fruit in 1941;

(iii) The average amount of sugar which he used per case of 24 No. 2½ cans (or equivalent) of each kind of fruit, including spiced and pickled, during 1941.

(2) The application must be made on SRA Form R–359 to the Sugar Branch Office with which the industrial user is registered. The applicant must give all the information required by that form separately stated for each kind of fruit, including spiced and pickled.

(c) Action on application. (1) The Sugar Branch Office shall grant the application if it finds that the applicant is entitled to receive a provisional allowance for canned or bottled fruit, including spiced and pickled, that he has made the report required by subparagraph (1) of paragraph (b) and that the applicant has given all the information required by SRA Form R–359.

(2) The amount of the provisional allowance of sugar for use in canning or bottling fruit, including spiced and pickled, for each kind of fruit, shall be computed in one of the following ways, whichever is applicable.

(i) The number of cases of 24 No. 2½ cans (or equivalent) of that kind of fruit which the applicant expects to pack from the date of application to the end of the quarter is multiplied by the average number of pounds of sugar which he used per 24 No. 2½ cans (or equivalent) for that kind of fruit during 1941; or

(ii) If 100 percent of 1941 use per case is less than the amount specified in the Table in subparagraph (iii), his provisional allowance is computed by taking for each kind of fruit the number of cases of 24 No. 2½ cans (or equivalent) which the applicant expects to pack from the date of application to the end of the quarter and multiplying it by the amount of sugar per case for that kind of fruit specified in the table in subdivision (iii).

(iii) Canned and bottled fruits, including spiced and pickled.[1]

The Sugar Branch Office shall authorize the issuance to him of a check for the amount of his provisional allowance less any unused balance of his last provisional allowance of sugar issued for these purposes.

(d) Restriction on use. If an industrial user receives a provisional allowance under this section for canning or bottling fruits, including spiced and pickled, he may use that provisional allowance only for packing that kind of fruit and only in an amount not to exceed the average rate provided in computing his allowance under the provisions of paragraph (c). Any sugar or sugar ration evidences issued for use during a quarterly period under the provisions of this section and which are unused at the end of that quarterly period may not be used during any other quarterly period until an application on SRA Form R–359 for permission to use such sugar or sugar ration evidences has been granted.

(e) Records and reports. An industrial user who, during a calendar month, has sugar for canning or bottling fruit, including spiced and pickled, must, before the sixteenth day of the following month, file with the Sugar Branch Office with which he is registered, a report on SRA Form R–359A giving all the information required by that form. He must keep a copy of each report at his principal business office as long as this order remains effective.

25. Sections 19.11 and 19.12 are redesignated sections 19.12 and 19.13 respectively and a new section 19.11 is added to read as follows:

SEC. 19.11 Provisional allowance for pickling cucumbers, cauliflower, onions or watermelon—(a) General. An industrial user may get a provisional allowance of sugar for pickling cucumbers, cauliflower, onions and watermelon.

(b) How to apply. (1) A provisional allowance for pickling cucumbers, cauliflower, onions and watermelon is granted for three-month periods corresponding to the quarterly allotment periods for industrial users. An application for such provisional allowance for any period may be made at any time from the 1st day of the month preceding such period to the end of that period. On or before application for a provisional allowance for these purposes is filed, however, the industrial user must file a written report with the Sugar Branch Office with which he is registered stating with respect to each of the products listed in paragraph (a):

(i) The total number of pounds of each product he packed without sugar in 1941;

(ii) The total number of pounds of each product he packed with sugar in 1941;

(iii) The total number of pounds of sugar used by him in 1941 in packing each product;

(iv) The average amount of sugar which he used per pound for each product during 1941. (The average amount of sugar is determined by dividing the number obtained in (iii) by the sum of the numbers obtained in (i) and (ii)).

(2) The application must be made on SRA Form R–359 to the Sugar Branch Office with which the industrial user is registered. The applicant must give all of the information required by that form. In addition, the applicant must state the total number of pounds of each product to be packed during the period covered by the application. That is, the number of pounds of each product to be packed with sugar plus the number of pounds of that product to be packed without sugar.

(c) Action on application. (1) The Sugar Branch Office shall grant the application if it finds that the applicant is entitled to receive a provisional allowance for pickling cucumbers, cauliflower, onions, or watermelon, that he has made the report required in subparagraph (1) of paragraph (b), and that the applicant has given the information required by subparagraph (2) of paragraph (b).

(2) The amount of the provisional allowance of sugar for use in pickling cucumbers, cauliflower, onions or watermelon, for each of these products, shall be computed in the following way:

(i) For each listed product, the number of pounds which the applicant expects to pickle from the date of the application to the end of the quarterly period for which application is made is multiplied by the average number of pounds of sugar which he used per pound for that product during 1941.

(ii) The resulting figures for each listed product are added together and the result is his provisional allowance for pickling cucumbers, cauliflower, onions and watermelon. The Sugar Branch Office shall authorize the issuance to him of a check for the amount of his provisional allowance less any unused balance of his last provisional allowance of sugar issued for these purposes.

(d) Restriction on use. If an industrial user receives a provisional allowance under this section for pickling any product listed in paragraph (a), he may use that provisional allowance only for the purpose of pickling that product. He may not use for any such product more sugar per pound than the average number of pounds of sugar he used per pound for that product in 1941. Any sugar or sugar ration evidences issued for use during a quarterly period under the provisions of this section and which are unused at the end of that quarterly period may not be used during any other quarterly period until an application on SRA Form R–359 for permission to use such sugar or sugar ration evidences has been granted.

(e) Records and reports. An industrial user who, during a calendar month, has sugar for pickling cucumbers, cauliflower, onions or watermelon, must, before the sixteenth day of the following month, file with the Sugar Branch Office with which he is registered, a report on SRA Form R–359A for each plant separately as well as a consolidated report for all of his plants. He must keep a copy of each report at his principal business office as long as this order remains effective.

26. A new section 19.14 is added to read as follows:

SEC. 19.14 General restrictions on the use of provisional allowance sugar. (a) A product which is being processed with sugar granted under the provisions of this article may not be transferred until such product is completely processed. That is, such product may not be transferred while it is in an intermediate stage of such processing. (For example, a locker plant operator custom freezing fruit for a consumer may not transfer to a consumer or place in a consumer's locker fruit containing provisional allowance sugar which has been granted for freezing fruit, prior to the time that the fruit is completely frozen.)

This amendment shall become effective June 2, 1947.

NOTE: The reporting and record-keeping requirements of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 28th day of May 1947.

CLINTON P. ANDERSON,
Secretary of Agriculture.

Rationale Accompanying Amendment No. 51 to Third Revised Ration Order 3

Present provisions. 1. An industrial user may, for each 100 pounds of dried beans he will process, obtain and use 90 percent of the average amount of sugar he used in 1941 in processing 100 pounds of that type of dried beans.

2. An industrial user may, for each case of 24 No. 2 cans (or equivalent) of soup which the applicant will bottle or can during the quarter, obtain and use 100 percent of his average use of sugar for each case of 24 No. 2 cans (or equivalent) during the period from August 1, 1943 to June 30, 1944 inclusive.

3. An industrial user may, for each case of 24 No. 2½ cans (or equivalent) of fruit that he will pack, obtain and use over a packing season 90 percent of the average amount of sugar he used per case for that kind of fruit in 1941.

Proposed amendment. 1. For processing dried beans, an industrial user may obtain and use for each 100 pounds of dried beans he will process 100 percent of the average amount of sugar he used in 1941 in processing 100 pounds of that type of dried beans.

2. An industrial user may, for each case of 24 No. 2 cans (or equivalent) of soup which the applicant will bottle or can during the quarter, obtain and use 100 percent of his average use of sugar for each case of 24 No. 2 cans (or equivalent) during 1941.

3. An industrial user may obtain for each case of 24 No. 2½ cans (or equivalent) during his packing season, a provisional allowance of sugar for canning or bottling fruits in amounts equal to the higher of the following:

(a) 100 percent of the average number of pounds of sugar which he used per case of 24 No. 2½ cans (or equivalent) during 1941; or

(b) The amount per case specified in a table in the supplement to the order.

4. An industrial user may, for each case of 24 No. 2 cans (or equivalent) of each kind of vegetable, including spiced and pickled, as set forth in the table in the supplement to the order, which the applicant will can or bottle during the quarter, obtain and use the increased amount of sugar per case for that kind of vegetable, as specified in the table.

5. An industrial user may, for each pound of cucumbers, cauliflower, onions or watermelon which he will pickle during a quarter, obtain and use 100 percent of the average number of pounds of sugar which he used per pound of that product during 1941.

6. An industrial user who used provisional allowance sugar in processing a particular product in more than one plant must file a report on SRA Form R–359–A of his use of sugar for each plant separately as well as a consolidated report for all of his plants.

7. Other clarifying and technical changes are made by this amendment, such as changing references to District Offices to read Sugar Branch Offices, changing designations of forms R–359 and R–359A from OPA Forms to SRA forms, making it clear that a product which is being processed with sugar granted under the provisional allowance provisions may not be transferred until such product is completely processed, and that a provisional allowance is not granted for making jams, jellies, preserves, marmalades, fruit butter, toppings, fruit parfaits or fountain fruit.

Reasons for change. Under present marketing conditions, it is not feasible for canners to pack large quantities of fruit in water or in light sirup since the outlets for such packs are declining. It is felt, therefore, that since sugar allocations have increased this year and since it is expected that the 1947 pack will be smaller than the record 1946 pack, that packers of fruit should be permitted to utilize their normal 1941 quantity of sugar per case and that those packers, who have an abnormally low 1941 use, or no 1941 use at all, should be permitted to utilize sufficient sugar per case to enable them to pack their fruit so that it will be salable under present conditions. This amendment, therefore, provides that an industrial user may now obtain for canning or bottling fruit, 100 percent of his 1941 use of sugar per case for each type of fruit or 95 percent of the industry average use of sugar per case for that type of fruit.

At the same time, provisional allowance users may now obtain increased amounts of sugar for dried beans, frozen fruits and canned vegetables, since this increase is in line with other proposed provisional allowance increases and such amounts have been granted previously during rationing.

For some time, picklers have been encountering difficulties in finding outlets for large stocks of cucumbers which have been held in brine. At the present time, dill and sour pickles are apparently flooding the market and it is impossible for picklers to attempt to pack any more dill or sour pickles since at present there is no market for this type of pickle unless sweet pickles can be sold at the same time. As a result, it is impossible for the picklers to empty their vats which now contain large stocks of cucumbers in brine and it will be exceedingly difficult for the growers to market the cucumber crop during the coming months unless some relief is forthcoming in order to alleviate the present situation. At the present time, sugar for processing pickles is granted on an allotment basis and the amount obtainable for such purposes is limited by 75% of the amount used for such purpose in 1941. Persons who did not use sugar for processing pickles in 1941 may not, under present provisions, obtain a base for such purpose except under the provisions of Revised General Ration Order 18 and General Ration Order 19. This amendment, therefore, permits an industrial user to obtain a provisional allowance of sugar for pickling cucumbers, cauliflower, onions or watermelon in an amount which will permit him to use 100 percent of the average number of pounds of sugar which he used per pound for that product during 1941. Since we are granting a provisional allowance for pickling these particular items, it is felt advisable to permit industrial users to obtain a provisional allowance for pickling or spicing any of the vegetables for which provisional allowances are granted. These vegetables would include pickled beets and sweet-sour cabbage.

At the time the base period (August 1, 1943 through June 30, 1944) for determining the amount of provisional allowance for canning or bottling soup was established, packers of soup were restricted by M–81 (tin order) from packing ready to eat soups. Many packers, now that the tin restrictions have been lifted, have either started to pack this item or to resume packing of such soups. This amendment establishes the base period use for canning soup as the year 1941, which will permit many packers to obtain a provisional allowance for many kinds of soups for which there is no historic usage from August 1, 1943 through June 30, 1944.

Industrial users who use provisional allowance sugar in processing a product in more than one plant are now required to file a report on SRA Form R-359A on their use of sugar for each plant separately as well as a consolidated report for all of their plants since otherwise Sugar Branch Offices located in states other than the one in which the industrial user is registered are unable to determine whether or not the provisional allowance sugar is being used for the purpose for which it was granted and at the rate permitted. A greater knowledge of the operations of such users and a better control of the use of sugar granted under provisional allowance provisions can be accomplished if production reports are given for each plant separately.

SUBPART A—THE ADMINISTRATOR

§ 1305.510 Authority of the Price Administrator; directing and approval powers of the President and other Federal agencies with respect to price control and rationing. The Office of Price Administration, under the direction of a Price Administrator, was created by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, with basic authority to establish maximum prices for commodities (including services in connection with commodities) and maximum rents for defense area housing accommodations. The act specifies legal standards governing the exercise of this authority, and grants supplementary powers, including the power to delegate authority, necessary for its administration and enforcement. Regulations establishing maximum prices and maximum rents are subject to review by the Emergency Court of Appeals in accordance with procedures prescribed by the act.

(a) The Stabilization Act of 1942, as amended, granted broad economic stabilization powers to the President, including authority to prescribe policies governing the Office of Price Administration and other agencies. The President has delegated to the Office of Economic Stabilization in the Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion this power to issue directives on policy.

(b) With respect to agricultural commodities and food or feed products derived in whole or substantial part therefrom, actions by the Price Administrator must be previously approved in writing by the Secretary of Agriculture. In addition (after September 1, 1946), no maximum price may apply to any such commodity unless the Secretary has certified that it is in short supply. The Secretary has authority to make binding recommendations to the Price Administrator for the adjustment of maximum prices on such commodities which the Secretary determines are not important in relation to business costs or living costs. Whenever the Secretary determines that such a commodity from which control has been removed is in short supply, and should be subjected to price control, he may, with the written consent of the Price Decontrol Board (see below), make a binding recommendation to the Price Administrator for the reestablishment of maximum prices for that commodity.

(c) The Price Decontrol Board was established by the Emergency Price Control Act (as amended in July 1946 by the Price Control Extension Act of 1946) to act upon the petitions of industry advisory committees for the decontrol of commodities, where such petitions have been presented to and denied by the Price Administrator, in the case of nonagricultural commodities and food or feed products derived in whole or substantial part therefrom. With respect to certain commodities, from which price control was removed by Congress until August 21, 1946, and for which the Board, pursuant to its powers under the amended act, did not, prior to August 21, 1946, order recontrol, the Board has authority to direct the Administrator to reestablish price controls.

(d) The rationing authority of OPA is derived from delegations of the President's power to allocate materials and facilities under the Second War Powers Act of 1942. This power has been delegated through the War Production Board (succeeded by Civilian Production Administration) in the case of other commodities.

(e) The Price Administrator is authorized by the Emergency Price Control Act, as amended, to make subsidy payments under certain conditions. Funds have not been provided for the direct exercise of this power by the Administrator. In the case of commodities designated by the President as strategic or critical, the subsidy powers granted by the act must be exercised by or through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. Where the Reconstruction Finance Corporation conducts subsidy programs under this authority, the Price Administrator cooperates in the administration of related price controls. The Corporation, like the Price Administrator, is subject to the directive powers of the Office of Economic Stabilization.

(f) All functions of the Price Administrator are vested in the Temporary Controls Administrator by Executive Order 9809.

(g) All delegations of authority made by or under the authority of the Price Administrator or by any other authorized official of the Office of Price Administration, and which were in effect on December 12, 1946, were adopted, ratified, confirmed, and validated by the Temporary Controls Administrator in OTC Regulation 2 (11 F. R. 14704) and by Executive Order 9809, and remain in full force and effect until they expire by their terms or are revoked or amended.

(h) Delegation of regulatory authority shall be made by a general order or as part of another official document. Redelegation of regulatory authority shall be made by a delegation order approved and signed by the person to whom the power is delegated and filed with the executive officer of the appropriate operating department or office.

(i) The Temporary Controls Administrator delegates to the Commissioner of Price Administration administrative authority to act for the Administrator in all matters relating to the Office of Price Administration except those heretofore specifically reserved to the Price Administrator which were transferred to the Temporary Controls Administrator by Executive Order 9809. Delegation or redelegation of administrative authority by the Commissioner of Price Administration shall be made by publication in the OPA Manual in accordance with the provisions of Administrative Order No. 90, revised.

(j) The office of the Temporary Controls Administrator will notify the office of the Secretary, Office of Price Administration, Office of Temporary Controls, when an appointment of Acting Administrator is made, stating the time during which the appointment is to be effective.

(k) Delegations of regulatory authority shall be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

SUBPART E—DELEGATIONS OF FINAL AUTHORITY

§ 1305.760 Nature of delegations. In addition to the general functions exercised by national and field offices described above, certain functions are exercised by virtue of delegations of final authority under OPA regulations or orders. Delegations to field offices may be made directly by regulation or order or may be made pursuant to conditions set forth in the regulation or order. Where authorized by regulation or order, redelegation of authority may be made to a subordinate level of field offices by order of the chief executive officer of the officer receiving the delegation. Specific delegations and redelegations made pursuant to price, rationing and rent regulations and orders are described below.

§ 1305.761 Price delegations to continental offices. The following information is given for each delegation of authority:

(a) Regulation or order number, section containing authority delegated, and the FEDERAL REGISTER citations.

(b) The title and/or a brief description of the authority delegated.

(c) An indication as to whether the regional administrator can redelegate authority to directors in branch offices (formerly district offices).

(d) The branch offices (formerly district offices) to which authority has been delegated by the regional offices. As listed below (e), each of the eight regions is designated by a Roman numeral and each branch office (formerly district offices) by an Arabic numeral. These numbers are used in place of the names of the regional and branch offices in showing redelegations. For example "II—1, 2" indicates that the specific authority has redelegated by the New York regional office to the Baltimore and Newark branch offices (formerly district offices) only: "III–All" indicates that the Cleveland regional office has redelegated the authority to all of the branch offices (formerly district offices) in Region III; "IV–None" indicates that the Atlanta regional office has not delegated the authority to any of the branch offices in Region IV.

STANDARD OF FILL OF CONTAINER AND DEFINITION AND STANDARD OF IDENTITY FOR CANNED OYSTERS

NOTICE OF HEARING

In the matter of proposals to amend the standard of fill of container and to promulgate regulations fixing and establishing a definition and standard of identity for canned oysters.

Notice is hereby given that the Administrator of the Federal Security Agency, in accordance with the provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (secs. 401, 701, 52 Stat. 1046, 1055; 21 U. S. C. 341, 371), upon application of a substantial portion of the interested industry, and upon his own initiative, will hold a public hearing commencing at 10:00 a. m. eastern daylight saving time, July 10, 1947, in room 5544, Federal Security Building, Independence Avenue and Fourth Street SW., Washington, D. C., and at such other places outside the city of Washington, D. C., to which the same may be adjourned on authorization of the Administrator, upon applicants' proposal that the standard of fill of container for canned oysters (21 CFR, 1944 Supp., 36.6) be amended to reduce the drained weight now required, and upon proposals by the Administrator that a regulation be promulgated fixing and establishing a definition and standard of identity for canned oysters, and to amend the standard of fill of container for canned oysters so that it is applicable to all canned oysters as defined in the definition and standard of identity for canned oysters.

For the purpose of giving general notice of the subject and issues involved, and for giving direction to the hearing, a proposed definition and standard of identity for canned oysters is:

§ 36.5 Canned oysters; identity; label statement of optional ingredients. (a) Canned oysters is the food prepared from one or any mixture of two or more of the optional oyster ingredients specified in paragraph (b) of this section and a packing medium. The packing medium is water, or the liquid draining from oysters before or during processing, or any mixture of water and such liquid. The food may be seasoned with salt and is sealed in containers and so processed by heat as to prevent spoilage.

(b) The optional oyster ingredients referred to in paragraph (a) of this section are: Whole oysters, diced oysters, sliced oysters, pieces of oysters, prepared from live oysters of the species Ostrea gigas, Ostrea lurida, or Ostrea virginica. Each form of unit of each species is an optional oyster ingredient. The oysters are removed from their shells and washed, and may be blanched. Shell oysters may be steamed to facilitate removal from the shell.

(c) The names of the optional oyster ingredients are:

(1) Where the oysters are whole, the name is "Oysters" or "Cove Oysters", when such oysters are the species Ostrea virginica; "Pacific Oysters" when of the species Ostrea gigas; and "Olympia Oysters" when of the species Ostrea lurida.

(2) When the oysters are not whole oysters, the name of the optional oyster ingredient is the name by which the oysters of the species are designated in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, preceded by the word "Diced" if the units are diced oysters, or by the word "Sliced" if the units are sliced oysters, or by the words "Pieces of" if the units are pieces of oysters.

(d) The name prescribed is the name or names of the optional oyster ingredients used as given in paragraph (c) of this section.

For the purpose of giving notice on the subject and issues involved and for giving direction to the hearing, a proposed amended standard of fill of container for canned oysters is:

§ 36.6 Canned oysters; fill of container; label statement of substandard fill. (a) The standard of fill of container for canned oysters is a fill such that the drained weight of the oysters taken from each container is not less than __ percent of the water capacity of the container. (The actual percent of fill to be fixed on the basis of evidence taken at the hearing.)

(b) Water capacity of containers is determined by the general method provided in § 10.1 (a) of this chapter (21 CFR, Cum. Supp., 10.1).

(c) Drained weight is determined by the following method: Keep the unopened canned oyster container at a temperature of not less than 68° or more than 95° Fahrenheit for at least 12 hours immediately preceding the determination. After opening, tilt the container so as to distribute its contents evenly over the meshes of a circular sieve which has been previously weighed. The diameter of the sieve is 8 inches if the quantity of the contents of the container is less than 3 pounds, and 12 inches if such quantity is 3 pounds or more. The bottom of the sieve is woven-wire cloth which complies with the specifications for such cloth set forth under "2380 Micron (No. 8)", in Table I of "Standard Specifications for Sieves", published March 1, 1940, in L. C. 584 of the U. S. Department of Commerce, National Bureau of Standards. Without shifting the material on the sieve, so incline the sieve as to facilitate drainage. Two minutes from the time drainage begins, weigh the sieve and the drained oysters. The weight so found, less the weight of the sieve shall be considered to be the drained weight of the oysters.

(d) If canned oysters fall below the standard of fill of container prescribed in paragraph (a) of this section, the label shall bear the general statement of substandard fill specified in § 10.2 (b) of this chapter (21 CFR, Cum. Supp., 10.2), in the manner and form therein specified, followed by the statement, "A can of this size should contain ____ oz. of oysters. This can contains only ____ oz.," the blanks being filled in with the applicable figures.

An examiner will be designated as presiding officer to conduct the hearing in the place of the Administrator, with full authority to administer oaths and affirmations and to do all other things appropriate to the conduct of the hearing. The presiding officer is required to certify the entire record of the proceedings to the Administrator for initial decision.

The hearing will be conducted in accordance with the rules of practice provided therefor.

At the hearing evidence will be restricted to testimony and exhibits that are relevant and material to the matter contained in the proposals.

The proposals are subject to adoption, rejection, amendment, or modification by the Administrator, in whole or in part, as the evidence adduced at the hearing may require.

Dated: June 2, 1947.

GOODYEAR TIRE & RUBBER CO.

CONSENT ORDER

1. The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company, hereinafter referred to as the "Company," is a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Ohio, with its principal place of business at Akron, Ohio. The Company is engaged in the manufacture of tires, tubes and other rubber products, including products in the manufacture of which foamed latex is used.

2. The Civilian Production Administration pursuant to its Rubber Order R-1, authorized the Company to consume specified quantities of natural rubber latex in specified products during the period embraced in the 3rd and 4th calendar quarters of 1946 and the first calendar quarter of 1947, to wit, from July 1, 1946 through March 31, 1947, inclusive.

3. During the period July 1, 1946 through March 31, 1947, the Company violated Rubber Order R-1 in that (a) the Company diverted a net total of more than 500,000 pounds of natural rubber latex from the manufacture of the products for which its consumption had been authorized, and consumed the same in the manufacture of foamed latex products for which its consumption had not been authorized; (b) the Company in its applications for authority to consume natural rubber latex specified that certain amounts of latex were required for consumption in pneumatic tire cord dip but actually used none of the latex in tire cord dip; (c) during certain periods in 1945 and 1946 the Company failed to consume certain quantities of natural rubber latex authorized for consumption in specified months and quarters and thereafter carried over and consumed the same in months and quarters during which its consumption had not been authorized.

4. The Company, by its duly authorized officer, has heretofore stated to the Department of Commerce (a) that it admits the violation of Rubber Order R-1 as recited in paragraph (3) above; (b) that it does not desire to contest the fact of the said violation, and (c) that it consents to and agrees to the issuance of this Consent Order No. C-1.

5. Wherefore, pursuant to said agreement by the Company, It is hereby ordered, That:

(a) The supplemental authorization by the Civilian Production Administration to the Company dated April 29, 1947, on Form CPA 4562, authorizing the consumption by the Company during the 2d calendar quarter of 1947, to wit from April 1, 1947 through June 30, 1947, of a specified poundage of natural rubber latex for use in the products and in the amounts specified in said authorization, said poundage being 150,000 pounds below the amount which would otherwise have been authorized to the Company for said calendar quarter pursuant to Rubber Order R-1, is hereby confirmed.

(b) In making authorizations to the Company for the consumption of natural rubber latex during the 3d calendar quarter of 1947, to wit, from July 1, 1947 through September 30, 1947, which said authorization will be made by the Department of Commerce, the amount of natural rubber latex to be so authorized for consumption in said calendar quarter shall be 210,000 pounds below the amount which would otherwise be authorized to the Company for said calendar quarter pursuant to Rubber Order R-1; and the amount of natural rubber latex to be so authorized for the 4th calendar quarter shall be 140,000 pounds below the amount which would otherwise be authorized for said calendar quarter pursuant to Rubber Order R-1, said reductions to be made 70,000 pounds in October 1947 and 70,000 pounds in November 1947.

(c) Nothing in this order contained shall be deemed to relieve the Company from any restriction, prohibition or provision in any other order or regulation of the Department of Commerce, except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(d) The provisions of this Consent Order No. C-1, shall apply to and be binding on the Company, its successors and assigns, and all persons acting on its behalf.

OFFICE OF HOUSING EXPEDITER

[C-38]

CONSENT ORDER

Harry Millman who resides at 242 Rounds Street, New Bedford, Massachusetts, filed an application with the Federal Housing Administration for permission to construct a dwelling at Slocumb Road, North Dartmouth, Massachusetts. Authorization, based upon the application and plans submitted showing a floor area of under 1500 square feet, was issued February 13, 1947. Sometime thereafter, Harry Millman and Sullivan-Foster, Inc., of New Bedford, Massachusetts, the contractor, began construction under this authorization of a building to contain about 2800 square feet with space for two bathrooms and two lavatories, together with a garage containing one full bathroom. This construction was based upon a different plan from that submitted with the application for authorization. The construction of a building in excess of the limitations and requirements of Housing Permit Regulation under which the authorization was issued constitutes a violation of Veterans' Housing Program Order 1 and HPR.

Harry Millman and Sullivan-Foster, Inc., admit the violations as charged and consent to the issuance of this order.

Reference JUN 11 47

Wherefore, upon the agreement and consent of Harry Millman and Sullivan-Foster, Inc., the Regional Compliance Director, and the Regional Compliance Attorney, and upon the approval of the Compliance Commissioner, It is hereby ordered, That:

(a) The temporary suspension orders issued by the Office of the Housing Expediter by telegram dated April 11, 1947, addressed to Harry Millman and also to Sullivan-Foster, Inc., are hereby revoked.

(b) Neither Harry Millman nor Sullivan-Foster, Inc., their successors or assigns, nor any other person shall do any further construction on the project located on Slocumb Road, North Dartmouth, Massachusetts, without specific authorization in writing from the Office of the Housing Expediter.

(c) The provision of paragraph (b) above shall not apply to work specifically authorized in writing by the Office of the Housing Expediter under Serial No. 1-1-4871, dated May 13, 1947, which work was authorized to prevent deterioration of materials already incorporated into the structure.

(d) Harry Millman and Sullivan-Foster, Inc., shall refer to this order in any application or appeal which they may file with the Office of the Housing Expediter or any other Federal Agency to do any further construction on this project.

(e) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Harry Millman and Sullivan-Foster, Inc., their successors or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Office of the Housing Expediter, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File Nos. 54-75, 70-726]

COMMONWEALTH & SOUTHERN CORP. (DELAWARE)

ORDER PERMITTING DECLARATION TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 28th day of May 1947.

The Commonwealth & Southern Corporation ("Commonwealth"), a registered holding company, having filed a declaration pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, particularly section 12 (c) thereof and Rule U-46 thereunder, regarding the proposed payment of a dividend of $3.00 per share, or an aggregate of $4,323,741 on the outstanding shares of its preferred stock, payable on the 28th day after the date of the order of the Commission permiting the payment of such dividend or on July 1, 1947, whichever date is later, to stockholders of record at the close of business on the 10th day after the date of such order (or if such 10th day is not a business day, the first business day following such 10th day) or on June 10, 1947, whichever date is the latter; and

The Commission having heretofore instituted proceedings under sections 11 (b) (1) and 11 (b) (2) of the act with respect to Commonwealth and its subsidiaries; and

Commonwealth having filed a plan for compliance with such sections of the act, providing, among other things, for the liquidation of Commonwealth; and

Commonwealth having stated in the instant declaration that "The Board * * * recognizes that, in view of the pending proceedings, the 'Earned Surplus' account may be so qualified that, under the rules and practice of the Commission, payment of said dividend is subject to the requirement of Commission authorization under the provisions of section 12 (c) of the act and Rule U-46 in spite of the fact that, as authorized by section 34 of the Delaware General Corporation Law, the source of payment of such dividend under such Law is Commonwealth's net profits for the current and preceding fiscal years."; and

The instant declaration having been filed on May 13, 1947, and notice of said filing having been duly given in the form and manner prescribed by Rule U-23 promulgated pursuant to said act, and the Commission not having received a request for a hearing with respect to said declaration within the period specified in the said notice, or otherwise, and not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The Commission deeming that it would not be necessary or appropriate to deny effectiveness to the declaration under the standards of section 12 (c) of the act and Rule U-46 if it should be found that the proposed payment were to be made out of capital and that, therefore, it is unnecessary for the Commission to determine whether said proposed payment is being made out of capital; and

The Commission therefore deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers to permit said declaration to become effective insofar as section 12 (c) and Rule U-46 are applicable to the proposed payment; and

Commonwealth having requested that the Commission's order be issued herein on or before May 29, 1947, and become effective forthwith so that Commonwealth may pay the proposed dividend not later than July 1, 1947, and the Commission deeming it appropriate to grant such requests:

It is hereby ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of the act and subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24, that the aforesaid declaration be, and the same hereby is, permitted to become effective forthwith: Provided, however, That this order shall not be construed as a determination that such dividend payment is or is not taxable to the recipient pursuant to the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code: And provided further, That Commonwealth accompany the dividend checks with a statement to the effect (1) that Commonwealth filed the declaration regarding the proposed dividend payment pursuant to section 12 (c) and Rule U-46 by reason of its uncertainty as to whether the "Earned Surplus" account may be so qualified that, under the rules and practice of the Commission, payment of the proposed dividend is subject to the requirement of Commission authorization under the act and the rules thereunder and that the Commission permitted the declaration to become effective without determining whether the proposed payment is being made out of capital and (2) that the Commission's action in permitting the declaration to become effective should not be construed as a determination that such dividend payment is or is not taxable to the recipient pursuant to the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code.

By the Commission.

[SEAL] ORVAL L. DUBOIS,
Secretary.

[Lemon Reg. 225]

PART 953—LEMONS GROWN IN CALIFORNIA AND ARIZONA

LIMITATION OF SHIPMENT

§ 953.332 Lemon Regulation 225—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement and Order No. 53 (7 CFR, Cum. Supp., 953.1 et seq.), regulating the handling of lemons grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, and upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the Lemon Administrative Committee, established under the said marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of the quantity of such lemons which may be handled, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that compliance with the notice, public rule making procedure, and effective date requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act (Pub. Law 404, 79th Cong., 2d Sess.; 60 Stat. 237) is impracticable and contrary to the public interest in that the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, is insufficient for such appliance.

(b) Order. (1) The quantity of lemons grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona which may be handled during the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., June 8, 1947, and ending at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., June 15, 1947, is hereby fixed at 650 carloads, or an equivalent quantity.

(2) The prorate base of each handler who has made application therefor, as provided in the said marketing agreement and order, is hereby fixed in accordance with the prorate base schedule which is attached hereto and made a part hereof by this reference. The Lemon Administrative Committee, in accordance with the provisions of the said marketing agreement and order, shall calculate the quantity of lemons which may be handled by each such handler during the period specified in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph.

(3) As used in this section, "handled," "handler," "carloads," and "prorate base" shall have the same meaning as is given to each such term in the said marketing agreement and order. (48 Stat. 31, 670, 675, 49 Stat. 750, 50 Stat. 246; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.)

[Orange Reg. 181]

LIMITATION OF SHIPMENTS

§ 966.327 Orange Regulation 181—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the provisions of Order No. 66 (7 CFR, Cum. Supp., 966.1 et seq.) regulating the handling of oranges grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, and upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the Orange Administrative Committee, established under the said order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of the quantity of such oranges which may be handled, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that compliance with the notice, public rule making procedure, and effective date requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act (Pub. Law 404, 79th Cong., 2d Sess.; 60 Stat. 237) is impracticable and contrary to the public interest in that the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, is insufficient for such compliance.

(b) Order. (1) The quantity of oranges grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona which may be handled during the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., June 8, 1947, and ending at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., June 15, 1947, is hereby fixed as follows:

(i) Valencia oranges. (a) Prorate District No. 1, unlimited movement; (b) Prorate District No. 2, 1650 carloads; and (c) Prorate District No. 3, unlimited movement.

(ii) Oranges other than Valencia oranges. (a) Prorate District No. 1, no movement; (b) Prorate District No. 2, unlimited movement; and (c) Prorate District No. 3, no movement.

(2) The prorate base of each handler who has made application therefor, as provided in the said order, is hereby fixed in accordance with the prorate base schedule which is attached hereto and made a part hereof by this reference. The Orange Administrative Committee, in accordance with the provisions of the said order, shall calculate the quantity of oranges which may be handled by each such handler during the period specified in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph.

(3) As used in this section, "handled," "handler," "carloads," and "prorate base" shall have the same meaning as is given to each such term in the said order; and "Prorate District No. 1," "Prorate District No. 2," and "Prorate District No. 3" shall have the same meaning as is given to each such term in § 966.107 of the rules and regulations (11 F. R. 10258) issued pursuant to said order. (48 Stat. 31, 670, 675; 49 Stat. 750, 50 Stat. 246; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.)

TITLE 10—ARMY: WAR DEPARTMENT

Chapter IX—Transport

PART 903—TRANSPORTATION OF INDIVIDUALS

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

Part 903, Chapter IX, Title 10 Code of Federal Regulations is amended as follows:

1. Present § 903.5a is rescinded and the following substituted therefor.

§ 903.5a Cadets discharged from the United States Military Academy. Cadets of the United States Military Academy upon being discharged from the service are not entitled to mileage (AR 35–3070), but are entitled to transportation in kind from the academy to their home, except that a cadet discharged for physical disability while in a hospital under orders is entitled to transportation in kind from the hospital to his home (1 Comp. Gen. 356), and that a cadet who is in a status of leave of absence from the United States Military Academy awaiting the result of a re-examination, and who is found deficient upon re-examination and ordered to be discharged, may be furnished transportation in kind from the point at which he receives notice of discharge to his home: Provided, That the cost of such transportation in kind is no greater than that from West Point, New York, to his home.

2. Section 903.5b is added to read as follows:

§ 903.5b Military personnel separated from active service under conditions other than honorable. "Any member of the military forces * * * who is hereafter separated from active service under conditions other than honorable may be furnished transportation in kind at Government expense from the place of separation from active service to the place at which he entered upon active service or home of record: Provided, That no transportation will be furnished under this section to any person who is in confinement pursuant to sentence of a civil court at the time of separation from active service." Sec. 1, act of April 27, 1946. (Pub. Law 368, 79th Cong., 60 Stat. 126)

3. Present § 903.6 is rescinded and the following substituted therefor:

§ 903.6 Remains—(a) For whom transportation authorized and expenses allowable. See AR 30–1830 and §§ 306.51 to 306.53 inclusive (8 F. R. 12124).

(b) From points outside continental limits of United States, including Alaska, to ports of debarkation in continental limits of United States, exclusive of Alaska, for interment therein. See paragraph (c) of this section.

(1) Remains. Government means of transportation will be utilized wherever possible for the shipment of remains from points outside the continental limits of the United States, including Alaska, to ports of debarkation in the continental limits of the United States, exclusive of Alaska. For any distance that the foregoing prescribed means of transportation cannot be used or is considered impracticable shipment may be made by the most economical means of commercial transportation.

(2) Attendants—(i) Relative. Subject to subparagraph (3) of this paragraph transportation including berth when an extra charge is made therefor may be furnished one relative in the capacity of an attendant to the remains of each person from the place of death or an intermediate point to the port of debarkation in the continental limits of the United States exclusive of Alaska and return to point at which such attendant assumed the custody of remains.

(ii) Persons in military service. No military attendant will be furnished for any portion of the journey where a relative acts in that capacity. In any case where the relative attendant will not accompany the remains for the entire distance, a military attendant will be furnished to accompany the remains for that portion of the journey where the remains will not be accompanied by such relative, except as provided in the exception stated below.

Exception: Where the remains are to be shipped by Army facilities for any portion of the distance to the port of debarkation in the continental limits of the United States, exclusive of Alaska, and the commanding officer at the place of death does not have a military attendant available for the complete journey, he will provide a military attendant only to the port of embarkation outside the continental limits of the United States, including Alaska, at which trans-shipment is made on the Army facility. The attendant will deliver the remains and all accompanying papers to the Army representatives at the port who will be responsible for delivering them to the ship transportation agent aboard the Army vessel, or to the flight clerk aboard the Army aircraft when such mode of transportation is utilized. In the event that there are no United States Army representatives at the port, the custody and responsibility of the remains and all accompanying papers will remain with the attendant until such time as he can deliver them to the ship transportation agent, or to the flight clerk, as the case may be.

(3) Dependents of certain deceased. Where transportation is furnished for dependents when specifically authorized under the provisions of § 903.1 (a), the commanding officer will determine in each case whether a dependent can act in the capacity of an attendant to the remains. If a dependent acts in that capacity, no other attendant will be furnished. See subparagraph (2) of this paragraph.

(c) From ports of debarkation or place of death to place of interment all within continental limits of United States, exclusive of Alaska—(1) Methods. (i) By express, without an attendant (AR 55–155); or

(ii) As baggage on a transportation request, with an attendant.

(2) By whom method determined. The method of shipment will be determined by the commanding officer having jurisdiction of the place at which death occurs or of the port of debarkation, who will conform as far as practicable to the wishes of the relatives.

(3) When shipped as baggage on transportation request—(i) Attendants—(a) Relative. Subject to paragraph (b) (3) of this section, transportation and authorized sleeping-car or similar accommodations prescribed in TM 55–525 and § 903.15, may be furnished to a relative in the capacity of an attendant to the remains of each person from place of death or the port of debarkation, or an intermediate point, to the place of interment within the continental limits of the United States, exclusive of Alaska, and return to point at which such attendant assumed the custody of remains.

(b) Persons in military service. When no relative is furnished transportation from the place of death or the port of debarkation in the United States, one military attendant to the remains of one or more persons to the same destination will be provided from such place or port to the place of interment within the continental limits of the United States, exclusive of Alaska, or to an intermediate point from which a relative will act as attendant for the remaining journey. The selection of the military attendant will rest with the commanding officer, but will in general be of a status corresponding to the former status of the deceased, that is, the attendant for a commissioned officer will be an officer; for a cadet, United States Military Academy, a cadet; for a member of the Army Nurse Corps, an Army nurse; for an enlisted man, an enlisted man, etc.

(ii) Transfers en route. The transportation request for remains and attendant will be issued through from point of origin to destination regardless of any transfers involved between carriers' stations en route, but no indorsement will be made on the transportation request to cover such transfers of the remains. The carrier's agent will check the remains through from origin to destination. The baggage agent will make the arrangements for transfer. The attendant will sign a receipt to the baggage agent covering the transfer service, but the attendant will not pay therefor. The bills, if a charge is made for the transfer service, supported by these receipts will be submitted by the accounting department of the carrier to the Finance Officer, U. S. Army, Transportation Division, Washington 25, D. C., for payment of any amount properly due.

(4) Local delivery at destination. See AR 30–1830 and §§ 306.50 to 306.53 (8 F. R. 12123).

(d) Between points outside continental limits of United States, including Alaska, where through journey involves debarkation and embarkation at ports in continental limits of United States, exclusive of Alaska—(1) From place of death to port of debarkation in continental limits of United States, exclusive of Alaska. All the provisions of paragraph (b) of this section will apply except those set forth in subparagraph (3) of paragraph (b) with respect to dependents. Where transportation is furnished for dependents when specifically authorized under the provisions of the "Missing Persons Act" (see § 2.113 Subtitle A, 10 CFR) and AR 55–121 in connection therewith, the commanding officer will determine in each case whether a dependent can act in the capacity of an attendant to the remains. If a dependent acts in that capacity, no other attendant will be furnished.

(2) From port of debarkation to port of embarkation, all within continental limits of United States exclusive of Alaska. Upon receipt of particulars from the commanding officer at the place of death, the commanding officer of the port of debarkation in the continental limits of the United States, exclusive of Alaska, will make request on the Chief of Transportation for instructions with respect to shipment of the remains to the port of embarkation in the continental limits of the United States, exclusive of Alaska, for further shipment. Upon receipt of instructions from the Chief of Transportation, the commanding officer of the foregoing port of debarkation will issue necessary orders covering the shipment. The commanding officer of the foregoing port of debarkation will furnish the commanding officer at the foregoing port of embarkation with all particulars and request that further orders be issued covering further shipment from that port.

(3) From port of embarkation in continental limits of United States, exclusive of Alaska, to place of interment outside continental limits of United States, in- cluding Alaska. All the provisions of paragraph (e) of this section will apply, substituting the words "the commanding officer of the port of embarkation in the continental limits of the United States, exclusive of Alaska" for the words "the commanding officer at the place of death" wherever the latter words as quoted appear therein.

(e) Between points outside continental limits of United States, including Alaska, where through journey does not involve debarkation and embarkation at ports in continental limits of United States, exclusive of Alaska—(1) Remains. Government means of transportation will be utilized wherever possible for shipment of remains. For any distance that the foregoing prescribed means of transportation cannot be used, or are considered impracticable, shipment may be made by the most economical means of commercial transportation.

(2) Attendants. An attendant will be furnished for the complete journey.

(i) Relative. Subject to subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, transportation, including berth when an extra charge is made therefor, may be furnished one relative in the capacity of an attendant to the remains of each person from the place of death or an intermediate point to the place of interment, and return to point at which such attendant assumed the custody of the remains.

(ii) Persons in military service. A military attendant will be furnished for any portion of the journey where a relative does not act in that capacity.

(3) Dependents of certain deceased. Where transportation is furnished for dependents when specifically authorized under the provisions of the "Missing Persons Act" (see § 2.113 Subtitle A, 10 CFR) and AR 55-121 in connection therewith, the commanding officer will determine in each case whether a dependent can act in the capacity of an attendant to the remains. If a dependent acts in that capacity, no other attendant will be furnished for that portion of the journey.

Chapter II—United States Tariff Commission

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

Under the authority of section 332 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (sec. 332, 46 Stat. 698; 19 U. S. C. 1332), and the Administrative Procedure Act (Pub. Law 404, 79th Cong., approved June 11, 1946), and in pursuance of Executive Order 9832, dated February 25, 1947, the rules of practice and procedure of the United States Tariff Commission (11 F. R. 177A-741 et seq.; 11 F. R. 10822; 12 F. R. 4; 12 F. R. 3562; 19 CFR Ch. II) are hereby amended as follows:

PART 200—ORGANIZATION AND FUNCTIONS

1. Section 200.1 is amended to read as follows:

§ 200.1 Creation and authority. The United States Tariff Commission was created by act of Congress approved September 8, 1916 (39 Stat. 795) for the purpose of supplying the Congress and the President with information regarding the position of the United States industries in competition with imports, regarding the administration and operation of the United States customs laws, and regarding commercial policies of foreign countries. The Tariff Act of 1922 (42 Stat. 858) increased its functions by providing for investigation and report by the Tariff Commission before action by the President under the authority given him by that act to change duties when found necessary to equalize differences in costs of production in the United States and foreign countries and also before action by him embargoing imports pursuant to the provision declaring unfair methods of competition in the import trade to be unlawful. Title III, Part II, of the Tariff Act of 1930 (46 Stat. 696; 19 U. S. C. 1330-41) provided for a reorganization of the Tariff Commission and reenacted substantially all the previous provisions regarding its powers and duties. The Trade Agreements Act of June 12, 1934 (48 Stat. 943; 19 U. S. C. 1351-54) names the Commission as one of the advisory agencies in the negotiation of reciprocal trade agreements. (See Part II of Executive Order 9832, dated February 25, 1947, 12 F. R. 1364). The Agricultural Adjustment Act (of 1933), as amended (7 U. S. C. 624), designates the Tariff Commission as the agency to conduct investigations to determine whether imports are interfering with certain agricultural programs undertaken by the Government. The Philippine Trade Act of 1946 (Pub. Law 371, 79th Cong.) imposes upon the Tariff Commission the function of conducting investigations and reporting to the President in connection with the administration of the provisions of that act respecting quotas on imports of Philippine articles. Part I of Executive Order 9832 (12 F. R. 1363) provides for investigation and report to the President by the Tariff Commission regarding injury to domestic producers resulting from trade-agreement concessions.

2. Paragraph (f) of § 200.4 is amended to read as follows:

(f) Foreign trade agreements—(1) Negotiation. The Trade Agreements Act of June 12, 1934 (sec. 4, 48 Stat. 945; 19 U. S. C. Sup. 1354) designates the Tariff Commission as a source of information and advice to the President in the negotiation of foreign trade agreements made under that act. The Tariff Commission is represented on the Committee for Reciprocity Information (Executive Orders 6750 and 9647) and on the Interdepartmental Committee on Trade Agreements (Part II, Executive Order 9832). In addition to its function of advising the President on all aspects of the trade agreements program, the Tariff Commission has the special function under paragraph numbered 6 of Executive Order 9832 in supplying to the President information prior to trade agreement negotiations as follows:

With respect to each dutiable import item which is considered by the Interdepartmental Committee for inclusion in a trade agreement, the Tariff Commission shall make an analysis of the facts relative to the production, trade, and consumption of the article involved, to the probable effect of granting a concession thereon, and to the competitive factors involved. Such analysis shall be submitted in digest form to the Interdepartmental Committee. The digests, excepting confidential material, shall be published by the Tariff Commission.

The Commission is also represented on the various subcommittees of the Interdepartmental Committee on Trade Agreements.

(2) Investigations regarding injury. Under Part I of Executive Order 9832 (12 F. R. 1363), the Commission investigates to determine whether domestic producers are being injured or are threatened with injury resulting from the granting of trade-agreement concessions; it reports its findings to the President for his consideration in connection with the reservations of the right to withdraw or modify concessions in cases where injury or threat of injury is found to result from trade-agreement concessions.

PART 201—RULES OF GENERAL APPLICATION

1. Section 201.1 is amended to read as follows:

§ 201.1 Applicability of general rules. The Tariff Commission rules of general application apply to investigations under the provisions of sections 332, 336, and 337 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (46 Stat. 698, 701, 703; 19 U. S. C. 1332, 1336, 1337), to investigations under section 22 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act (of 1933), as amended (sec. 31, 49 Stat. 773; sec. 5, 49 Stat. 1152; sec. 1, 50 Stat. 246; 54 Stat. 17; 7 U. S. C. 624), to investigations under section 504 of the Philippine Trade Act of 1946 (Pub. Law 371, 79th Cong.), and to investigations under Part I of Executive Order 9832 (12 F. R. 1363). Rules having specific application to investigations under sections 336 and 337 of the Tariff Act of 1930, under section 22 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, under section 504 of the Philippine Trade Act, and under Part I of Executive Order 9832, respectively, appear separately in Parts 202 to 206, inclusive, of this chapter. In case of inconsistency between a rule of general application appearing in Part 201 and a rule of special application in the other parts mentioned, the rule in Parts 202 to 206 is controlling. No rules governing investigations under section 338 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (46 Stat. 704; 19 U. S. C. 1338) are issued because such investigations, which concern questions of possible discrimination by foreign countries against the commerce of the United States, are of a nature requiring their conduct under cover of secrecy.

2. The heading of § 201.8 and paragraph (a) of § 201.8 are amended to read as follows:

§ 201.8 Applications for investigation under section 336 of the Tariff Act of 1930, under section 504 of the Philippine Trade Act of 1946, and under Part I of Executive Order 9832, and complaints under section 337 of the Tariff Act of 1930. (a) All applications for investigations under section 336 of the Tariff Act of 1930, under section 504 of the Philippine Trade Act of 1946, or under Part I of Executive Order 9832, and complaints under section 337 of the Tariff Act of 1930, must be filed with the Secretary, United States Tariff Commission, Washington 25, D. C.[1] However, requests for information concerning such matters may be filed with the New York office as well as with the Washington office.

3. Section 201.10 is amended to read as follows:

§ 201.10 Public notice of investigations. Public notice will be given of every investigation ordered by the Commission under sections 336 and 337 of the Tariff Act of 1930, under section 22 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act (of 1933), as amended, under section 504 of the Philippine Trade Act of 1946, and under Part I of Executive Order 9832, by posting a copy of the notice at the principal office of the Commission at Washington, D. C., and at its office in New York City, and by publishing a copy of the notice in Treasury Decisions and in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Subsequent notices will be given in the same manner. Copies of notices will also be sent to press associations, trade and similar organizations of producers, and to importers known to the Commission to have an interest in the subject matter of the investigation.

4. Paragraph (a) of § 201.11 is amended to read as follows:

§ 201.11 Public hearings. (a) Hearings are required by law only in the case of investigations under sections 336 and 337 of the Tariff Act of 1930, under section 22 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, under section 504 of the Philippine Trade Act of 1946, and under Part I of Executive Order 9832. No public hearing is required in general investigations under section 332 of the Tariff Act of 1930; however, when determined by the Commission to be appropriate and feasible, hearings will be held in such investigations.

PART 206—INVESTIGATIONS OF INJURY TO DOMESTIC PRODUCERS RESULTING FROM TRADE-AGREEMENT CONCESSIONS

Add a new Part 206 to Chapter II of Title 19 of the Code of Federal Regulations to read as follows:

Sec.
206.1 Applicability of rules under Executive Order 9832.
206.2 Purpose of investigation.
206.3 Applications.
206.4 Confidential information.
206.5 Public notice of investigation.
206.6 Public hearings.
206.7 Reports.

AUTHORITY: §§ 206.1 to 206.7 issued under Part I, E. O. 9832, Feb. 25, 1947, 12 F. R. 1363.

§ 206.1 Applicability of rules under Executive Order 9832. The rules under part 206 are specifically applicable to investigations for the purposes of Part I of Executive Order 9832 dated February 25, 1947 (12 F. R. 1363) and apply in addition to the pertinent rules of general application set forth in part 201 of this chapter.

§ 206.2 Purpose of investigation. The purpose of an investigation under Part I of Executive Order 9832 is to determine whether, as a result of unforeseen developments and of a concession granted on any article by the United States in a trade agreement containing a clause such as that prescribed in paragraph 1 of Part I of Executive Order 9832,[1] such article is being imported in such increased quantities and under such conditions as to cause or threaten serious injury to domestic producers of like or similar articles.

§ 206.3 Applications. (a) Applications for an investigation for the purposes of Part I of Executive Order 9832 may be made by any interested person, partnership, association, or corporation, and must be filed with the Secretary, United States Tariff Commission, Washington 25, D. C. Receipt by the Commission of an application for investigation, properly filed, will be acknowledged by the Secretary, and public notice of such receipt will be posted at the principal office of the Commission in Washington, D. C., and at its New York office, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER, and in the weekly Treasury Decisions of the Treasury Department. Copies of notices will also be sent to press associations, trade and similar organizations of producers, and to importers known to the Commission to have an interest in the subject matter of the application. Such applications, except for material accepted in confidence under § 206.4 will be available for public inspection at the office of the Commission in Washington, D. C., or in the New York office of the Tariff Commission, Room 513 Customhouse, New York City 4, N. Y., where they may be read and copied by persons interested. If the Tariff Commission orders an investigation, notice of such order will be posted and published in accordance with § 206.5. Notice of decision not to order an investigation will be posted and published in the same manner as notice of receipt of an application under this section. The Commission will notify the applicant of its decision to order or not to order the investigation requested.

(b) Applications for investigations should be typewritten or printed, and must be submitted in triplicate but need not be drawn in any particular form and need not be under oath. Applications must be signed by or on behalf of the applicant and should state the name, address, and nature of business of the applicant.

(c) Applications must clearly state that they are requests for investigations and must name or describe the commodity or commodities concerning which an investigation is sought. They must also refer to the trade-agreement provision or provisions applicable to such commodity.

(d) The applicant must file with his application such supporting information as may be in his possession or is readily available. The filing of such information is required to aid the Commission in determining whether the circumstances warrant an investigation under Executive Order 9832, and does not render unnecessary the investigation itself. In other words, the application is preliminary to and not a substitute for the investigation which the Tariff Commission is required to make in appropriate circumstances. As far as practicable, information of the character indicated in this paragraph should be furnished:

(1) Information on imports, production, sales, and exports, of the product covered by the application, by months, for the years 1937, 1939, and 1946, and subsequent periods.

(i) Imports (quantity and value).
(ii) Production (quantity).
(a) By the applicant.
(b) By the domestic industry.
(iii) Sales (quantity and value).
(a) By the applicant.
(b) By the domestic industry.
(iv) Exports (quantity and value).
(a) By the applicant.
(b) By the domestic industry.

(2) Direct labor engaged in the domestic production of the product covered by the application, including the number of persons employed during a normal period of operation in a representative prewar year, in 1946, and at the time application is filed:

(i) By the applicant.
(ii) By the industry as a whole.

(3) Relation of income from the sales of product covered by the application to total receipts from all products produced by the applicant for a representative prewar year and for 1946 and subsequent period.

(4) Comparability of the domestic and the foreign article and the degree of competition between them both prior and subsequent to the effective date of the trade-agreement concession.

(5) The nature and extent of injury to the domestic producer which is alleged to be caused or threatened by reason of unforeseen developments and the concession in the trade agreement.

(6) Geographic areas in which the competition between the domestic and the foreign article is most intensive.

(7) Additional information of factual character, such as: profits and losses; changes in price structures, tax burden; wages and other costs; effects of subsidies, and price-support programs; and similar data that show the applicant's competitive position.

(e) Upon acceptance of an application by the Commission, the facts set forth therein will be carefully considered together with other pertinent information which the Commission may have available in its files, or which it may obtain from other sources, in order to determine whether an investigation is warranted.

(f) The Commission encourages informal conferences either with members of the Commission or its staff with regard to filing applications under Executive Order 9832 as well as any other matters. Such conferences can be arranged by addressing a request to the Secretary of the Commission at its office in the Tariff Commission Building, Washington 25, D. C., stating the subject matter of the proposed conference and the reasons for the request. Most of the statistical material relating to United States production and trade referred to in paragraph (d) of this section may be found in publications of the United States Departments of Agriculture, Commerce, Interior, and Labor, which are generally available both at the Washington headquarters and at the field offices of those Departments, as well as in the larger public libraries and university and state libraries.

§ 206.4 Confidential information. All information submitted with an application which it is desired shall be treated as confidential should be submitted on separate pages clearly marked "Confidential." The determination regarding the confidential character of such information is a matter within the discretion of the Commission.

CROSS REFERENCE: For general rule regarding confidential information, see § 201.6 of this chapter.

§ 206.5 Public notice of investigation. Public notice of an investigation ordered by the Commission under Part I of Executive Order 9832 will be given by posting a copy of the notice at the principal office of the Commission at Washington, D. C., and at its office in New York City; by publishing a copy of the notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER; and by an announcement regarding the notice in Treasury Decisions. Copies of notices will also be sent to press associations, trade and similar organizations of producers, and to importers known to the Commission to have an interest in the subject matter of the investigation.

§ 206.6 Public hearings—(a) Public notice. In the course of an investigation ordered for the purpose of Part I of Executive Order 9832, the Commission will hold public hearings. Public notice will be given of the time and place set for all hearings, in the same manner as notice is given of an order instituting investigations. Announcement of hearing will ordinarily be made 30 days in advance of the date set.

CROSS REFERENCE: For rule regarding conduct of public hearings, see § 201.14 of this chapter.

(b) Type of information to be developed at hearing. Without excluding other factors, but with a view to assisting parties interested to present information necessary for the formulation of findings and recommendations required by Part I of Executive Order 9832, the Commission will expect attention in the hearing to be concentrated upon the facts relating to:

(1) The competitive strength of the foreign and domestic article in the markets of the United States during a representative period prior and subsequent to the granting of the trade-agreement concession.

(2) Costs of production of the foreign and domestic article during a representative period prior and subsequent to the granting of the trade-agreement concession, and costs of importation of the foreign article during similar periods.

(3) Developments since the granting of the trade-agreement concession which constitute advantages or disadvantages in competition between the domestic and the foreign article in the markets of the United States.

Finally, parties interested appearing at public hearings are expected to present definite information rather than generalities and conjectures.

§ 206.7 Reports. If the Commission finds in its investigation that, as a result of unforeseen developments and of a concession granted in a trade agreement, imports are in such increased quantities and under such conditions as to cause or threaten serious injury to domestic producers, it will report its findings to the President with appropriate recommendations for the withdrawal or modification of the concession to the extent found necessary for the prevention of such injury. Such report is submitted for the President's consideration "in the light of the public interest." Presidential authority to increase duties and impose such additional import restrictions as are required or appropriate to carry out a foreign trade agreement is provided for in the Trade Agreements Act of 1934, as amended. (Section 350, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, 19 U. S. C. Sup. 1351.) In the absence of such a finding by the Commission, notice of dismissal of the investigation will be published in the same manner as the notice ordering the investigation under § 206.5 of this chapter. The Commission will also issue a statement of the reasons for the dismissal.

PART 807—SUSPENSION ORDERS

JOSEPH LIEBERMAN

Joseph Lieberman, 10427 Wilshire Boulevard, Los Angeles, California, on or about December 6, 1946 began and thereafter carried on construction of a seven room residence and garage at 10325 Greendale Drive, West Los Angeles, California, at an estimated cost of approximately $20,000, without authorization therefor having first been secured from the Federal Housing Administration. On October 23, 1946 and December 19, 1946, respectively, Joseph Lieberman applied an HH rating with priority number, issued to his son by the Federal Housing Administration for the son's use in construction of a different residence, to orders for building materials for use in Joseph Lieberman's residence. The beginning and carrying on of such construction and the application of an HH priority rating to purchase orders for building materials for use in connection with construction of an unauthorized project constitute a wilful violation of the Veterans' Housing Program Order 1. This violation has diverted critical materials to uses not authorized by the Office of the Housing Expediter. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 807.32 Suspension Order No. S-32. (a) Neither Joseph Lieberman, his successors or assigns, nor any other person, shall do any further construction on the premises located at 10325 Greendale Drive, West Los Angeles, California, including completing, putting up or altering of any structure located thereon, unless specifically authorized in writing by the Federal Housing Administration.

(b) Joseph Lieberman shall refer to this order in any application or appeal which he may file with the Office of the Housing Expediter or the Federal Housing Administration for authorization to carry on construction.

(c) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Joseph Lieberman, his successors or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Office of the Housing Expediter, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

Issued this 6th day of June 1947.

CHARLES ALLARIO, ORESTE ALLARIO AND JOHN WEBER

Charles Allario and Oreste Allario, as owners, and John Weber, as contractor, about January 20, 1947, without authorization, began and thereafter carried on construction until February 27, 1947, of a commercial structure to be used as a farmers' market and hardware supplies store, at the corner of Arquez Street and Old San Francisco Road, Sunnyvale, California, at an estimated cost of $25,000. This was in violation of Veterans' Housing Program Order 1 and has diverted critical materials to uses not authorized by the Office of the Housing Expediter. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 807.43 Suspension Order No. S-43. (a) Neither Charles Allario, Oreste Allario nor John Weber, their successors or assigns, nor any other person shall do any further construction on the project located at the corner of Arquez Avenue and Old San Francisco Road, Sunnyvale, California, including putting up, completing, or altering the structure unless hereafter authorized in writing by the Office of the Housing Expediter, or until the control of the Housing Expediter expires.

(b) Charles Allario and Oreste Allario and John Weber shall refer to this order in any application or appeal which they may file with the Office of the Housing Expediter for authorization to carry on construction.

(c) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Charles Allario or Oreste Allario or John Weber, their successors or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Office of the Housing Expediter, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

§ 853.1 Appeals procedure—(a) What this section does. This section, the Housing Expediter Appeals Order, explains the procedure for appealing from:

(1) Any regulation or order of the Housing Expediter issued under the Veterans' Emergency Housing Act of 1946 (except Veterans' Housing Program Order 1 and those regulations and orders which provide for appeals to be addressed elsewhere than to the Housing Expediter or the National Housing Agency), and

(2) Administrative actions of the Housing Expediter or of persons or offices acting under a delegation from him, taken under the Veterans' Emergency Housing Act of 1946 (except issuance of suspension orders, other compliance actions, and denial of applications for construction authorizations).

DEFINITIONS

(b) Definitions. For the purpose of this section:

(1) "Regulation" or "order" means a published document which is applicable generally to all persons or to a class of persons described in such document.

(2) "Administrative action" means any action under a regulation or order, taken with respect to a particular person.

(3) "Appeal" means a request for relief from the provision of a regulation or order or for review of an administrative action.

(4) "Person" means an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of any of the foregoing, or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing.

(5) "Appellant" means a person filing an appeal as provided in this section.

(6) "This section" means this Housing Expediter Appeals Order.

FILING OF APPEALS

(c) Who may file. Any person affected by a regulation, order, or administrative action of the kind described in paragraph (a) of this section may file an appeal on the ground:

(1) That the regulation, order, or administrative action works an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him.

(2) That the regulation, order, or administrative action improperly discriminates against him.

(d) Preparation of appeals. Appeals must be in writing. Unless otherwise provided in a regulation or order appealed from, all appeals and accompanying material shall be filed in triplicate. (If the submission of three copies of all accompanying documents or exhibits would place an undue burden on the appellant, waiver of this rule may be requested at the time the appeal is filed.) An appeal must be clearly marked in accordance with paragraph (e) and shall be in letter form unless the regulation or order appealed from provides otherwise.

All appeals must state clearly (1) the provision of the regulation or order, or the administrative action appealed from, (2) the grounds for the appeal, and (3) the relief requested by the appellant. The various grounds for the appeal shall be separately stated and numbered, with a clear and concise statement of all facts alleged in support of each ground.

If a request for an oral hearing before the Appeals Board is made as provided in paragraph (h) (2) of this section, it must be in writing and should be filed with the appeal.

(e) Where to file. All appeals shall be addressed to the Housing Expediter, Washington 25, D. C. They shall be marked "Ref: Appeals," followed by an indication of the regulation or order (or administrative action thereunder) appealed from, unless otherwise provided in the regulation or order.

PROCESSING OF APPEALS

(f) Establishment of Appeals Board. The Appeals Board of the Office of the Housing Expediter has been established as an impartial body to consider appeals. The Board consists of three members appointed by the Housing Expediter, or their alternates, one of whom acts as Chairman.

(g) Consideration of appeals by Office of the Housing Expediter officials. Unless an appellant expressly requests in writing consideration of his appeal by the Appeals Board, the appeal will be referred to appropriate officials of the Office of the Housing Expediter for determination.

(h) Consideration of appeals by the Appeals Board. The Appeals Board will consider appeals as follows:

(1) Consideration requested by appellant. The Board will consider an appeal if the appellant requests further consideration by the Appeals Board after an appeal has been initially determined by an Office of the Housing Expediter official in accordance with paragraph (g) of this section, unless the relief requested has already been granted. The Appeals Board will also consider an appeal initially upon specific written request of the appellant unless the relief request has already been granted.

(2) Oral hearings. Any person filing appeals with the Appeals Board may request an oral hearing which will be held at Washington, D. C. A date will be set and notice of the time and place of the hearing will be given the appellant by the Appeals Board at least five days before the date set for the hearing.

Such hearings will be informal, and the appellant need not be represented by counsel unless he so wishes. The Board shall not be bound by the rules of evidence. No oath will be administered to witnesses, but misrepresentations are punishable under the Federal statutes.

(i) Records. Complete records concerning each appeal will be maintained by the Office of the Housing Expediter and will be available to inspection by persons properly and directly concerned, unless the records contain confidential business information or are considered confidential by the Housing Expediter.

DISPOSITION OF APPEALS

(j) Appeals incorrectly made. An appeal not prepared or filed substantially as provided in this section, or in the applicable regulation or order in connection with which the appeal is filed, may be returned to the appellant without action.

(k) Decisions. All appeals will be considered and decided within a reasonable time after they are filed. An appeal may be granted or denied, in whole or in part. Before reaching a decision an opportunity may be provided for the appellant to present additional evidence. Determinations by the Appeals Board will be made in accordance with pertinent instructions and policies, and shall be final. The determination of an appeal will be communicated to the appellant in writing.

TITLE 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

PART 707—RATIONING OF SUGAR

[3d Rev. RO 3,[1] Amdt. 53]

SUGAR

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Third Revised Ration Order 3 is amended in the following respects:

1. The second sentence of section 1.6 (a) is amended to read as follows: "However, a consumer may apply for evidences to replace the sugar which was lost, damaged, destroyed, stolen or taken away only if he has given up valid evidences to acquire such sugar or if he acquired such sugar under the provisions of section 1.4."

2. Section 1.6 (a) (3) is amended to read as follows:

(3) That he gave up valid evidences for the sugar which was lost, damaged, destroyed, stolen or taken away or acquired such sugar under the provisions of section 1.4.

This amendment shall become effective June 7, 1947.

Issued this 2d day of June 1947.

CLINTON P. ANDERSON,
Secretary of Agriculture.

Rationale Accompanying Amendment No. 53 to Third Revised Ration Order 3

The present regulations provide that a consumer whose sugar is lost, damaged, destroyed, stolen, or taken away by legal process or order of a court, may apply for evidences in an amount required to replace such sugar. However, such replacement is limited to those cases in which the consumer has given up valid evidences for the sugar he wishes to replace.

Under the provisions of Section 1.4 of Third Revised Ration Order 3, a consumer who produces sugarcane or sugar beets and delivers them to a primary distributor for processing into sugar may, without giving up ration evidences, acquire sugar in certain stated amounts from the primary distributor. However, the regulations do not provide for the replacement of sugar so obtained if it is lost, damaged, destroyed, stolen, or taken away, as in those cases where the consumer gave up valid evidences for the sugar he wishes to replace. Since like relief is warranted for sugarcane and sugar beet growers, this amendment extends the replacement provisions to cover sugarcane and sugar beet growers who obtain sugar under the provisions of Section 1.4 without giving up evidences.

310.9 Leave.
310.10 Medical attention and injury claims.
310.11 Discipline and dismissal.
310.12 Scope and effect of §§ 310.1 to 310.12, inclusive.

AUTHORITY: §§ 310.1 to 310.12, inclusive, issued under 36 Stat. 1353, 50 Stat. 621, 54 Stat. 1236, 55 Stat. 247, 55 Stat. 607; sec. 202, Pub. Law 492, 60 Stat. 501; 34 U. S. C. and Supp. 1121–1123e; E. O. 9083, Feb. 28, 1942, E. O. 9198, July 11, 1942, 3 CFR Cum. Supp.

§ 310.1 Definitions. For the purposes of §§ 310.1 to 310.12, inclusive:

(a) "Commission" means the United States Maritime Commission.

(b) "Chairman" means the chairman, United States Maritime Commission.

(c) "Director" means the Director of the Training Division, United States Maritime Commission.

(d) "Training Division" means the Training Division, United States Maritime Commission.

(e) "Superintendent" means the Superintendent of the State Maritime Academy and "Commanding Officer" means the Commanding Officer of the training ship.

(f) "Officers" means all officers and instructors connected with the State Maritime Academy or the training ship, except part time civilian instructors.

(g) "Maritime Service" means the United States Maritime Service.

(h) "Supervisor" means the Supervisor of State Maritime Academies, Training Division, United States Maritime Commission.

§ 310.2 Federal aid and finances—(a) Annual grant and loan of training vessel. An annual grant of $50,000.00 if funds therefor are appropriated by the Congress, and such additional sums as the Congress may authorize and appropriate, will be paid to each of the State Maritime Academies and to such others as may be authorized by law and approved by the Commission, and the Commission will furnish to each such school a training vessel as provided by statute and § 310.4, subject to the following terms and conditions:

(1) Such school shall under appropriate authority agree to conform to such minimum standards in regard to students' entrance requirements, the staff of instructors, and courses of and facilities for training, as the Commission shall approve (including §§ 310.1 to 310.12, inclusive).

(2) The State shall appropriate and spend each year for the purpose of maintaining such school, an amount not less than that received from the Federal Government for such year for the same purpose.

(3) The Federal grant shall be spent in the operation of the training vessel and in the maintenance and operation of a shore base.

(4) The Superintendent and the finance officer of the State Maritime Academy shall be responsible for financial matters pertaining to the academy and to the training ship; they shall be bonded in accordance with requirements established by the state.

(5) Each such academy, as a condition to receiving any portion of such monetary aid in excess of $25,000, shall agree under appropriate authority to and shall admit students resident in other states who meet such academy's eligibility requirements and who are approved for such admission by the Commission, Provided, That:

(i) No academy shall be compelled to accept out-of-state students if the full quota can be obtained within the state.

(ii) The number of students so admitted from other states shall not exceed one-third of the total student capacity of such academy.

(iii) The per capita cost of such students shall be paid out of the Federal funds provided for in this section and shall be computed annually. To determine this cost, the total number of state cadets will be divided into the total operating expense, less the grant. Vouchers, Standard Form 1034, will be submitted monthly covering the per capita cost of cadets at the academy, accompanied with a list of the cadets who have been nominated.

FOR EXAMPLE: Assuming that the per capita cost for cadets is $650.00 and 20 cadets were nominated from out-of-state to an academy, the voucher submitted would be:

$54.17 × 20 cadets equals $1,083.40

$1,083.40 being the amount for which the voucher is submitted.

The above voucher would then be made out monthly and submitted to the Supervisor for the duration of the cadets' training. If the per capita cost of the cadets is $650.00, no more than 38 cadets can be assigned by the Training Division to any one academy. Also if 38 candidates were nominated to any academy, no more candidates could be approved by the Training Division until these men had graduated from that academy.

(b) Accounting for $195.00 clothing and textbook allowance. In the case of cadets presently enrolled at State Maritime Academies who received the $195.00 clothing and textbook allowance, the following applies:

(1) When such a cadet is disenrolled from a State Maritime Academy before the termination of his course and the Superintendent declares him so disenrolled, the Superintendent shall require him forthwith to surrender all distinctive articles of uniforms (including devices, insignia, caps, raincoats, overcoats, uniform coats and trousers (except dungaree and khaki trousers) and any other items that were paid for from such allowance and textbooks; shall cause such effects to be inventoried, and, together with a copy of the inventory, turned over to the supply officer for safe keeping; and may in his discretion, require reimbursement by the cadet for all such articles as are not so surrendered.

At any time after 15 days from the date of such disenrollment, such effects shall be disposed of as follows:

(i) Unstencilled clothing having the appearance of new articles shall be taken into inventory in the clothing account and gain by returned clothing for reissue at regular prices.

(ii) Used outer clothing, if in satisfactory condition, shall be cleaned, renovated, and taken into inventory in the clothing account as gain by returned clothing for reissue at 60% of regular price.

(iii) Names on such clothing will be cancelled by stencilling in large letters over the original stencil, the letters "D. C."

(iv) Re-usable textbooks and insignia shall be taken into inventory for resale at 60% of the regular price.

(v) Such effects considered unsuitable for reissue shall be sold at auction and the proceeds deposited to the credit of Miscellaneous Receipts, United States Treasury.

(2) Upon graduation of each class, each being considered as a separate unit for accounting purposes, an accounting for the following shall be furnished:

Funds expended for uniforms.
Funds expended for textbooks.
Funds remaining on hand.
Uniforms purchased, number and cost.
Textbooks purchased, number and cost.
Uniforms issued.
Textbooks issued.
Uniforms remaining unissued.
Textbooks remaining unissued.
Uniforms repossessed, number and issue price.
Textbooks repossessed, number and issue price.
Repossessed uniforms taken into inventory for resale at regular price.
Repossessed uniforms taken into inventory for resale at 60% of the regular price.

Wherever possible, such rules and regulations shall follow those prescribed by the Commission for the administration of the Federal academies.

One from the State Board of Education or other State department, bureau, or agency; and One representative of the Commission designated by the Chairman.

§ 310.4 Training ship. The Commission will loan a training vessel, if such is available, to each of the State Maritime Academies. If such a vessel is not available, adequate cruising facilities will be arranged if possible. The loan of the training ship shall be subject to the following terms and conditions:

(a) General provisions. (1) The State shall exercise due diligence to safeguard the interests of the Commission and avoid loss and damage of every nature. (b) Termination of loan. The Commission may terminate the loan of a vessel:

(1) By substituting another vessel therefor.

KENTUCKY NATURAL GAS CORP.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

JUNE 2, 1947.

Notice is hereby given that on May 19, 1947, Kentucky Natural Gas Corporation (applicant), a Delaware corporation having its principal place of business at Owensboro, Kentucky, filed an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, authorizing applicant to sell natural gas to Indiana Gas & Chemical Corporation through an existing connection south of the City of Terre Haute, Indiana.

Applicant recites that Indiana Gas & Chemical Corporation is engaged in manufacturing 570 Btu coke oven gas for resale to its wholly owned subsidiary, Terre Haute Gas Corporation, which in turn distributes gas to consumers in Terre Haute, West Terre Haute, Brazil and Clinton, Indiana. From 1932 to 1940 applicant delivered natural gas to Indiana Gas & Chemical Corporation for underfiring its coke ovens.

According to the application, Indiana Gas & Chemical Corporation requires a supply of natural gas for underfiring its coke ovens and for mixing with manufactured gas; it being proposed to increase the heating value of the gas sold to Terre Haute Gas Corporation from 570 Btu to 750 Btu, by such mixing, in order to meet increased demands of consumers which it is alleged cannot be met with existing gas manufacturing facilities.

Applicant states that the peak day requirement of Indiana Gas & Chemical Corporation for the coming winter will be 3,400 Mcf of natural gas, and the annual requirement will be 405,278 Mcf.

No new construction is involved, so that there is no financing involved.

Any interested State commission is requested to notify the Federal Power Commission whether the application should be considered under the cooperative provisions of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and if so, to advise the Federal Power Commission as to the nature of its interest in the matter and whether it desires a conference, the creation of a board, or a joint or concurrent hearing, together with reasons for such request.

The application of Kentucky Natural Gas Corporation is on file with the Commission and is open to public inspection. Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to the application shall file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., not later than fifteen days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, a petition to intervene or protest. Such petition or protest shall conform to the requirements of the rules of practice and procedure (effective September 11, 1946), and shall set out clearly and concisely the facts from which the nature of the petitioner's or protestant's alleged right or interest can be determined. Petitions for intervention shall state fully and completely the grounds of the proposed intervention and the contentions of the petitioner in the proceeding so as to advise the parties and the Commission as to the specific issues of fact or law to be raised or controverted, by admitting, denying, or otherwise answering, specifically and in detail, each material allegation of fact or law asserted in the proceeding.

Notice is hereby given that on May 19, 1947, Northern Indiana Public Service Company (applicant) an Indiana corporation having its principal place of business at Hammond, Indiana, filed an application pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, seeking permission and approval to discontinue service and to abandon facilities subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission.

Applicant recites that it has been purchasing natural gas from Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company (Panhandle) for resale to Indiana Gas & Water Company, Inc. (Indiana Gas) for distribution in the City of Huntington, Indiana, and its environs.

Applicant states that on March 24, 1947, Panhandle, Indiana Gas and Applicant entered into a tripartite agreement whereby it is proposed that Panhandle will serve Indiana Gas directly the natural gas requirements for Huntington, Indiana,[1] and applicant will cease to so serve Indiana Gas. Applicant recites that the discontinuance of the service as aforesaid will necessitate the abandonment of approximately 750 feet of 4-inch pipe located in U. S. Highway 24 together with meter station and all appurtenant facilities of said meter station, all located in section 11, Township 28 North, Range 9 East, Huntington County, Indiana.

Applicant proposes to sell to Indiana Gas the following:

(a) Approximately .02448 acre of land in the Southeast Quarter of said Section 11, Township 28 North, Range 9 East, Huntington County, Indiana;

(b) Approximately 2,195 feet of 4-inch pipe, together with two 4-inch valves, and certain gas mains, all located in the Southeast Quarter of said Section 11, as aforesaid;

(c) The service pipe to a customer in said Section 11, as aforesaid; and all as more particularly described in the application.

Any interested State commission is requested to notify the Federal Power Commission whether the application should be considered under the cooperative provisions of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure and, if so, to advise the Federal Power Commission as to the nature of its interest in the matter and whether it desires a conference, the creation of a board, or a joint or concurrent hearing, together with reasons for such request.

The application of Northern Indiana Public Service Company is on file with the Commission and is open to public inspection. [1] Application filed on May 19, 1947. In the Matter of Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company, Docket No. G-903.

[Docket No. G-903]

PANHANDLE EASTERN PIPE LINE CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

JUNE 2, 1947.

Notice is hereby given that on May 19, 1947, Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company (applicant), a Delaware corporation with its principal offices at Kansas City, Missouri, and at Chicago, Illinois, filed an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, authorizing the construction and operation of a metering and regulating station at the point of connection of the 8-inch leased pipe line of Indiana Gas and Water Company Inc. (Indiana Gas) with applicant's 22-inch main line in the west half of the Southeast Quarter of Section 34, Preble Township, Adams County, Indiana, approximately one-half mile east of Magley, Indiana, for the purpose of serving said Indiana Gas natural gas for distribution in the City of Huntington, Indiana, and its environs.

Applicant recites that it has been supplying Northern Indiana Public Service Company (Northern Indiana) the natural gas requirements for resale to Indiana Gas for distribution in the City of Huntington, Indiana. Applicant states that to enable Indiana Gas to render more adequate and efficient service in said city and its environs, particularly on peak days, a tripartite agreement was entered into March 24, 1947 between Applicant, Indiana Gas and Northern Indiana, whereby the gas requirements for said city of Huntington and environs are to be supplied directly by applicant to Indiana Gas.

The application states that in order to effectuate the delivery of the gas at the town border of Huntington, Indiana, Indiana Gas has made a lease agreement with The Buckeye Pipe Line Company, an Ohio corporation covering the use of an existing 8" pipe line, heretofore utilized for the transportation of petroleum products; said line extends from the proposed point of connection with applicant's pipe line, in a westerly direction, a distance of approximately twenty miles to the town border of Huntington.

Applicant recites that under the tripartite agreement, from and after the first delivery of gas by applicant to Indiana Gas thereunder, applicant shall no longer be obligated to supply Northern Indiana with natural gas for resale to Indiana Gas for distribution in the City of Huntington, Indiana. Applicant states it is not intended under the proposed new plan of delivery of gas to Indiana Gas, to increase the total volume of gas to be delivered by applicant either to Northern Indiana or Indiana Gas, so that no impairment of service will result to applicant's other customers on its pipeline system.

Applicant estimates the overall cost of construction will total $5,000, to be advanced by applicant out of current funds. Indiana Gas has agreed, as a contribution in aid of construction, to reimburse applicant for all costs incurred by applicant in connection with the construction of the facilities involved herein.
